Startling Discovery.

The discovery by the inhabitants of a locality hitherto unvisited by the pestilent scourge of fever and ague, that it exists in their very midst, is decidedly startling. Such discoveries are made at every season, in every part of the Union. Subsequently, when it is ascertained, as it invariably is at such times, through the valuable experience of some one who has been benefitted and cured, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a thoroughly efficacious eradicator of the malarial poison, and a means of fortifying the system against it, a feeling of more security and tranquility reigns throughout the whole neighborhood. Besides the febrile forms of malarial disease, dumb ague and ague cake are removed by the potent action of the bitters, to which science gives its sanction as a remedy for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, debility, kidney troubles, and all diseases impairing the organs of digestion and assimilatiod.

A farmer and his wife were murdered, and the murderer was lynched, at Santa Anna, Cal.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. They are not only a postive cure, but a sure preventive if taken when the approach is felt. Carter's Little Liver Pills act directly on the liver and bile, and in this way remove the cause of disease without first making you sick by a weakening purge. If you try them you will not be disappointed.

AT THE SYRUP FOUNTAIN.

Non-Alcoholic Drinks which Sizzle from the Faucets of a Druggist.

"Give me the newspaper man's drink," said a nervous stranger this morning to a dainty clerk in a Park row drug store.

The dainty clerk promptly turned a silver faucet of the big syrup fountain, and there sizzled forth a frothy liquid of a dull buff color. The stranger raised the liquid to his lips and swallowed it in two gulps. A bitter taste was left on his palate, and he made several wry faces. "What's that stuff made of, anyhow?" he asked the clerk.

"Phosphorus, iron, quinine and strychnine."

"Strychnine?" gasped the stranger.

"Exactly; but don't be alarmed. The quantity of strychnine is very small—just enough to brace the nerves; and the iron vitalizes the blood, the quinine is for the liver and the phosphorus brightens the brain."

The clerk reeled this off like a man that had often said it before.

For a minute the stranger's face wore a pensive look. Then he smiled. A feeling of gentle exhilaration was creeping through his frame. His blood was sensibly quickened. His nerves grew strong and steady.

The fountain from which the syrup was extracted is a mammoth affair. Within its marble walls are forty receptacles containing the usual fruit syrups and Moxie's nerve food, essence of oats, orgeat, beef tea, pepsoline, chicken broth, imperial elixir and carbonated waters. The carbonated waters are generated by the action of sulphuric acid on marble dust.

A dashing Spaniard, with his senorita linked to his elbow, entered the store and called for orgeat. "Orgeat?" said the stranger. "What is orgeat?"

"That's the temperance drink of the New York Frenchmen and Spaniards. It is made of sweet and sour almonds grown in the Mediterranean countries. These almonds are pounded to paste in a mortar. The paste is then put into a towel and all the milk twisted out. To this milk is added pulverized sugar and orange flower water. Then you have orgeat."

While the druggist was speaking a sickly looking man walked in and critically eyed everybody in the store. Some bottles of patent medicine, wearing yellow top coats, held his attention several minutes.

"Give me a drink of pepsoline if it's good for dyspepsia. If it ain't I don't want it." He got his pepsoline and hurried out, banging the door after him.

"He's one of our dyspeptic patients," smiled the druggist. "We have about 200 of them. They come in every day, eye the patent medicine awhile, and then call for the fountain syrup, pepsoline."

Then a handsome and richly dressed lady walked in and contracting her lips to a pucker called for "syrup of essence of oats."

"The girl of the period," continued the druggist, "always asks for chocolate—cold chocolate in the summer, hot chocolate in the winter, chocolate the year round. The dandy darkey takes strawberry every time. Lady typewriters, in the offices near by, prefer coffee in summer and chicken broth in winter. School girls love lemon and nectar, and the old men are partial to beef tea. Our country cousins call for 'sody' with no qualification, and when asked what syrup they prefer in it, 'oh they haint partic'lar anything 'll dew.'"—New York Evening Sun.

Indians Fifty Years Ago.

"What kind of people were the Indians in those days?" was asked.

"The best people I ever saw," was the prompt reply. "They never knew any wrong except what the whites taught them. They naturally taught each other all the evil they knew. They were honest as the day and faithful unto death when they had professed a friendship for you. I have known Indians who professed friendship for me to kill other Indians who wanted to do me harm. Brother would kill brother. No book ever written or anything else ever published has done justice to the Indian character. The vice and devilry of the whites have made them what they are.—Omaha Herald.

A Wonderful Grapevine.

Mr. A. F. Tift has upon his place in Key West, Fla., a wonderful grapevine covering a great trellis. This vine bears four crops every year. The grapes grow in exceedingly compact clusters, many of them weighing as much as eight pounds, and the vine is literally loaded with bunches. It is a native of the West India islands, probably of Jamaica. As an illustration of the dense nature of the bunches, the grapes grow so thick upon them that the center grapes frequently cannot reach the sunlight to mature. The outside grapes can be picked off as needed, and the mass of grapes beneath the outside layer left to ripen.—Chicago Times.

Students Trick a Spectator.

At one of the city colleges last week, while a class was busy anatomizing the body of a colored pauper, a visitor made himself obnoxious by his inquisitiveness. To get even with him one of the students cut off an ear and surreptitiously placed it in the visitor's pocket. A few minutes later the bell signaled the close of the evening's work, and as the victim of the joke put his hand in his pocket for his gloves he grasped, instead, the cold, clammy ear of the subject he had been watching. With a look of horror he flung it on the dissecting table and broke for the door amid the laughter of the class.—Indianapolis Journal.

Democratic Regard for the Adopted Citizen.

The democrats in Congress propose to unseat Capt. White, representative from Indiana, who was elected by a majority of 2484 votes, because he cannot show the court record of his naturalization, and they deny his right to prove his citizenship by other than record evidence.

It is stated that several prominent democrats in the house agree with the republican minority of the committee on this point, and that they will both speak and vote in his favor when the case shall be submitted for discussion. One of them was heard to say that the judgment of the majority of the committee was not only bad in law, but that the effect of it would be injurious to the democratic party, which always has professed the greatest solicitude in behalf of the rights of naturalized citizens. He regarded this case as a peculiarly strong one, and one which ought to appeal to the sympathies of every man of foreign birth who has become a citizen of the United States.

Naval Intelligence.

Lieut. Wm. Little is detached from the New Hampshire, and ordered to the army and navy hospital at Hot Springs, Ark.

Medical Director Thomas J. Turner is detached from duty in charge of the museum of hygiene at Washington, and granted one year leave of absence.

Medical Inspector Henry M. Wells is ordered to the museum of hygiene.

Asst. Surgeon George M. Pickrell is ordered to the receiving ship New Hampshire.

Asst. Surgeon R. P. Crandall is ordered to the Minnesota.

Passed Asst. Engrs. Burdette C. Going, Absalom Kirby, James Entwistle and Nathan P. Towne have been confirmed to be chief engineers.

Paymaster John J. Coyle, attached to the training ship Portsmouth, died at Norfolk, Va., Jan. 19th.

Engineer-in-Chief Melville, Chief Engr. E. S. De Valin, Chief Naval Constructor Theodore D. Wilson and Naval Constructor Philip Hichborn have been appointed a board by Secretary Whitney, for the purpose of instituting a careful inquiry into the facilities and capabilities possessed by the city of Richmond, Va., for turning out marine work such as is now required for naval purposes.

Poor Uncle Sam.

The signal-service operatives at the sub-stations have decided that notwithstanding the fact that the federal government is too poor to pay them for their work, they will continue to post telegrams, and in some cases hoist signals at their respective stations until July 1st. The financial condition of the weather department has got to so low a stage that even the $3 a week allowance for keeping the Boston office clean has had to be discontinued. No night operators are employed at all now.

Death of Rear Adm. Wells.

Rear Admiral Clark H. Wells, U. S. N., retired, died in Washington Jan. 28th, in the 66th year of his age. He entered the service in 1840, served in the Mexican war, and had an especially good record for service in the war of the rebellion. In 1868, '69 and '70 he was attached to the Portsmouth navy yard, being then a commander. He was promoted to be commodore in 1880, and rear admiral in 1884.

Disastrous Fire.

Four immense business blocks on Broadway, N. Y., from 545 to 553, were burned Jan. 30th. The firms burned out were heavy dealers in trimmings, laces, feathers and flowers, clothing, etc. Loss $2,500,000. One fireman was killed.

There was a time a few years ago, while Mr. Boucicault was playing the part of Conn in the "Shaughraun" in London, England, (which part he plays here next Thursday evening at Music hall,) that other companies were playing the piece simultaneously in New York city, San Francisco, and Melbourne, Australia. As the time of day varies widely in these places, it so happened that at every hour of the twenty-four an audience somewhere in the world was intently listening to a performance of the "Shaughraun."

Samuel P. Barger of South Newmarket has been granted a pension.

The city authorities say they "mean business" in their action of Monday afternoon regarding the clearing of snow and ice from the sidewalks, and that the ordinance is to be enforced regardless of whom it may hit.

A marriage notice as follows: "In York, Jan. 14th, Thomas J. Wilson of Eliot and Miss Alice Preble of York," was recently sent to the Biddeford Times, in the form of a communication signed by the initials of the young lady's father. There being nothing to indicate that the missive was not what it pretended to be, the Times of course published the marriage notice, which was copied into other papers, this one among them. It turns out that the letter was a silly hoax—a lie and forgery, in fact—and the funny fellow who executed it, should the efforts of the young lady's father and the Biddeford newspaper man result in fixing it upon him, may learn that the commission of a state prison offence is not such a brilliant joke after all.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time established her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Cartright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go th ough the summer."

Municipal Affairs.

A called meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen was held on Monday afternoon, Mayor Hodgdon in the chair, to consider the condition of the highways outside the compact part of the city.

The mayor made a statement regarding the matter, and a vote was passed instructing the surveyors of the several districts to employ all the teams and men needed to put the roads in good condition in the shortest possible time.

The condition of the sidewalks of the city was also considered, and the city marshal was directed to proceed at once, and with vigor, to enforce the ordinance regarding the clearing of snow and ice from sidewalks, and the penalty provided for those who fail to observe its provisions.

Another Link Broken.

The Portsmouth correspondent of a Boston paper refers to the recent decease of Mrs. Hannah F. Libbey of this city in the following terms:

Another of the links connecting this once prominent importing port with its traditions of former greatness in that line has just been broken by the death of Mrs. Hannah F. Libbey, widow of Captain Daniel Libbey, at the age of eighty-two years. Mrs. Libbey was a cousin of the late James T. Fields and was a lady of rare excellence. She was a sailor of extended experience, having accompanied her husband on twenty-four voyages across the Atlantic, and was a skillful navigator. Captain Libbey for many years commanded the ship Fortitude, a noted ship in her day and a monster for size, registering 566 tons. She was built on Badger's island, in this harbor, by Thomas Lydston in 1835 for Charles Cushing, Horton D. Walker, Samuel Cleaves, Elisha Crane and Captain Libbey, all now dead, and was commanded by the latter until she was sold, in 1851, when he retired from the sea after forty years' service as master, his wife having sailed with him throughout her entire married life up to that time. The old Fortitude was known to Portsmouth seamen all over the world as a home for all Portsmouth men in every port where she might happen to be, they being always sure of a hearty welcome from Captain Libbey and his wife, it making no difference whether they were green hands on their first voyage or master mariners. The old ship was lost on the coast of Honduras several years after her sale to go under a foreign flag in 1851, but while under the stars and stripes she was one of the notedly successful ships of the world as well as of this port.

Mrs. Libbey was a woman of most lovable personal qualities and kindness of heart, and although she belonged to a former generation will be sadly missed by more than one who had cause to know of how little effect advancing years were in chilling her womanly sympathies and generous impulses.

Give Us a New Schoolhouse.

Editor of Chronicle: An article in the Times last week calls attention to the needs, feasibility and economy of building a new school-house, more particularly to the latter on account of the large amount expended annually in repairs and rents of the old school houses.

I am of the opinion that the needs far out-weigh the economy, although there are many other arguments which bear out the economy side of why we ought to have a new school building. The present mode of carrying on the details of the school work, such as heating, cleaning and caring for the school houses and the outbuildings connected therewith, ought to receive the condemnation of all interested in the results to be obtained from our schools. The principal part of our school buildings are heated with the old fashioned box stoves, which require wood for fuel, and notwithstanding the janitor may fill the wood box previous to the opening of the morning session, long before the close of the school day pupils are required to carry wood up one or more flights of stairs to replenish the same, much to the disgust of parents who dress their children in a little better clothes to attend school than they do to chore around. The old box stoves should be a thing of the past, and the baking of children nearest the stoves, while those in the rear of the room are allowed to suffer with cold, should cease. By all means give us modern heating arrangements in our schools.

The board of health are trying to make some progress by condemning the Jones school, for which they ought to receive the thanks of every parent obliged to send children to that building. Let them go a little further, and oblige the committee to have the different school rooms washed oftener than once a year, for while the rooms are swept generally twice each week, they go unwashed and without dusting, except once each year during the long vacation. The outbuildings of the present school houses are usually to be found in a filthy condition, causing children of the better class and modest instincts to suffer any inconvenience until they reach home after school rather than visit such places, reeking with filth and with walls covered with characters such as are a disgrace to the authors.

In a new building of such a size as to accommodate at least twelve schools, there would be a remedy for some of these evile, for there would be a master in charge at all hours. The care of the twelve rooms would keep a janitor constantly employed, and with modern heating apparatus he would not only find time to sweep the rooms but wash and dust them as often as the judgment of the superintendent thought proper. He would have charge of the sanitary arrangements of the building, and could see thot they were at all times in a cleanly condition. The saving in fuel would be quite a large item, to say nothing about the satisfaction guaranteed to the patrons in knowing that their children were not contaminated with the many unfit things about the present system, for which the school board cannot justly be held responsible. MET.

Maritime Notes.

The Boston Post of Monday reports Boston harbor as worse choked with ice than for many years.

The schooner Sarah E. Babson picked up and brought into this port, Saturday night, with their faces and hands frozen, Asa Beckman and Sewall B. Fowle, two fishermen who got astray from their vessel Friday night, and suffered the terrible experience of being exposed for twenty-four hours to a zero temperature, with no shelter or food, and drifting at the mercy of the waves.—Times, Jan. 30th.

Railroad Items.

The "beach train" over the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, leaving Manchester for this city at 11:15 A. M., and this city for Manchester at 1:00 P. M., was discontinued on Monday, Jan. 30th. In previous years this train has been discontinued about Oct. 1st, but this winter it has been kept running up to the present time, and possibly might have been maintained right along had it not been for the blizzard and snow blockade.

One of the Maine Central trains from Portland to Bangor left the rails last Friday afternoon between Newport and Etna. Two passenger coaches rolled over on their sides, bruising some of the passengers. The road was cleared in a short time, and other trains went on without delay. A man named Thomas Porter, who was bruised in the accident at Etna, was shortly afterward walking on the track in Bangor when a delayed train struck and killed him.

Navy Yard Notes.

The Army and Navy Journal of Jan. 28th says: "Work on the old Kearsarge, now at Portsmouth, N. H., will now be pushed as rapidly as the limited amount of money available will permit. Extensive repairs are needed to hull and engines. She will have new boilers, and probably a pair of new engines capable of using higher pressure than those at present on board."

The U. S. S. Swatara, at Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard, will be ready for commission about Feb. 15th, when her machinery will be tested. This vessel has received a new set of boilers, but the machinery is the same as was erected on board when built. The ship is in excellent condition, and will be commissioned not later than Feb. 20th. Rumor has it that the Swatara will join the North Atlantic station, but this is by no means certain, the probability being that a foreign station will be her destination.—Army and Navy Journal.

The south end boys were having a big time Monday afternoon, coasting—"sliding down hill" it used to be—down Marden's hill, on the southerly side of the south pond. Starting from the top of the hill they would reach its bottom and go like a flash clear across the pond in a few moments, and then take fifteen minutes to haul their sleds back to the starting point. But their cheeks were red, and they were breathing in lots of pure air.

The condition of the highways in the suburbs of the city is said to be worse than at any time for many years.

The city's expenditures for rents and repairs of school houses during the past eighteen years foot up $49,154.84.

The sidewalks of the city were never in a worse state than at present. Many persons who ordinarily clear their sidewalks of snow made no attempt in that direction during the storms of last week, and their sidewalks are of course in a very bad condition; and where such attempts were made the condition is still worse, the walks being covered with a coating of ice having an alligator-back ridge along the middle, just the thing to capsize the unwary pedestrian, or the wary one either, for that matter.

Charles A. Pearson, an employe at the Jones brewery, while engaged on Saturday in melting ice from one of the buildings by hot water thrown through a hose, missed his footing, and was severely scalded.

The seventeenth anniversary of Damon Lodge, K. of P., of this city, will be celebrated by a concert and ball at Franklin hall, and a supper in Mechanics' hall, this evening.

All the available teams in the city, and a large gang of extra men, were on Monday engaged under the street commissioner in removing snow from the most important thoroughfares of the city.

The great temperance drama "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" will be played at Franklin theatre this evening; also an amusing farce. The play is finely staged, and those who have seen the company in any of their performances do not need to be assured that it is finely acted.

Mr. Henry H. Ham, Jr., for some years past a clerk in the employ of the Portsmouth Machine Co., was on Saturday presented with a substantial purse by the employes as a mark of their good will.

Dr. F. E. Potter's team undertook a runaway Monday forenoon, but was stopped by Mr. Thomas J. Flannagan at no little risk to himself.

Music hall was packed on Monday evening, when the Nonpareil Associates Minstrels gave their first public entertainment, which was well received by the audience, some of the numbers being of especial excellence. We have not room to particularize in this issue.

Harley S. Moulton was on Jan. 25th appointed postmaster at Wells, vice Daniel Clark, removed.

Grand clearance sale of dress goods at Lewis E. Staples.' Greatly reduced prices for two weeks. Remnants marked way down.

The Purpose of Pain.

It is not conceivable—we offer it as a suggestion to be considered, and not as a theory to be accepted—that the object with which pain is sent into the world is not the development of man's moral nature so much as the development of his energy. Man can do one thing which God, from his very perfec ness, cannot do, and that is, make an effort: and whatever the grand concealed purpose, a part of it must be that man should strive. We may not see what he can do by striving, or how he can add by striving to the store of force in the universe; but if he were not intended to strive, to develop will, and display energy and make exertions, the world would surely have been made a very different one from what it is. It is always whipping him up, him and the animals, too.

There are only two forms of pain which are absolutely universal among sentient creatures, which men feel as strongly as women, and animals more keenly than both, and which human beings, whether refined or degraded, absolutely refuse to endure; and those two are hunger and thirst, the two grand impelling forces of the world. Without those two pains, there would be no world such as we know it. The wild animals would saunter away life doing nothing; the useful beast, released alike from hunger and the whip, would be worthless to man; and man himself, though he might reflect as well as saunter, would scarcely be brought to work.—The Spectator.

A Story About Jenny Lind.

I was too young to be an analyst of a voice or to know why one pleased me. But this I remember, that Jenny Lind afforded me a new and delicious sensation. Her singing so affected me that I burst out crying, and as it was thought that I cried because I was sleepy, I was (being too shamefaced to explain my feelings) sent to bed.

There was so little sleepiness in me and I was so vexed at the summary judgment passed upon me that I went on crying when I was in my cot. Jenny Lind, at the hour when the company was to go away, came into the room where I was. She saw me wide awake, and asked if I was the little sleepy child; then came over to me and whispered, "Why did you cry?" "Because your voice is so nice." She laughed and said, "That can't be. We only cry when things are ugly and unpleasant." I, thinking she considered me a little fibster, cried again, and then was able to get out, "The Babes in the Wood' is very nice to read, yet it makes me cry so fearfully that grandmamma has taken it from me and locked it up." Jenny Lind said, "You're a dear child. When I come back I'll bring you such a pretty toy, and sing on purpose for you." She never did come back, and so I never got the toy.—Cor. London Truth.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. They are not only a positive cure, but a sure preventive if taken when the approach is felt. Carter's Little Liver Pills act directly on the liver and bile, and in this way remove the cause of disease without first making you sick by a weakening purge. If you try them you will not be disappointed.

BILIOUSNESS.

This very common complaint, which is caused by a dormant or inactive liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

MRS. DUDLEY CHANDLER, of Melrose, Mass., says: "I had suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the pulsations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and earnestly recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

A Journalist's Note Book.

In regard to subjects, I have found it a very wholesome and inexpensive plan to carry a little note book around in my pocket. You will find this a very worthy device. Set apart a pocket sacredly to its use, and always have it there. If you wake up at a quarter of 9, and have to be at the office at 8, and must needs economize on your dressing time, just let your suspenders and collar buttons go, but be sure to have the book. Don't leave your room without it.

Into this book put every odd, whimsical or suggestive thing that you run across, whether you see it, hear it, read it, or whether it comes popping into your head without apparent cause or reason. You'll soon find that you have subjects enough to last the whole family for six months. Then all you have to do, when you feel the divine afflatus creeping down your spine, and hear the inviting murmur of the muse, is to seize your book, run your finger down its pages till you find a theme to suit your mood—humorous, religious, philosophical or Walt Whitmaniacal, as the case may be, and then, putting your best foot forward, follow it up with equally good feet till the thing is done. You will find, by adopting this plan and putting in your odd moments, and an evening or two, you can average one or two pieces of rather so-so verse every week.—John P. Lyons in The Writer.

A Banking Trial.

It's the hardest thing in all legal practice to convict a banking criminal. While the jury may be convinced that he's a rascal and deserves conviction, there are so many ways in which every questionable banking transaction may be made to look business like that the attorneys of the swindling defendant can easily make it appear to a conscientious jury that there is at least a reasonable doubt in the case, and the prisoner goes free. It is difficult, too, to make a jury understand the points in a banking case. The clearing house is the greatest puzzler of all.

In one banking trial I had I put a St. Louis banker on the stand to explain the clearing house system to the jury, and although he did it in what might have appeared to bankers a most lucid manner, you never saw twelve men worse muddled than these jurymen were when he finished. That trial, by the way, was one of those in which the criminal escaped. After hard work, I convicted the man on five counts, but the supreme court saved him by deciding that the law he had violated did not apply to private banks.—Bank Attorney in Globe-Democrat.

Whites on the Congo.

The engineer on the Congo who has been writing his experiences in Blackwood's Magazine assures his readers that with ordinary good care white men can live there at least as conveniently and in as good health as in Jamaica, and he expresses the opinion that when they have more home comforts they may enjoy life with as much ease and safety as now in India. The white men on the Congo within the past two years have become convinced that the great mortality during the early years of Stanley's enterprise was largely due to the privations and hardships that his followers had to undergo. It is a noteworthy fact that at Boma, on the lower Congo, which Stanley years ago described as a pest hole, the sanitary condition has been so far improved that it is now the seat of government of the Congo state. Among the thirty or forty traders and agents of the Congo state who are living at Boma, not a death has thus far been reported this year.—New York Sun.

Switzerland's Milch Cows.

Switzerland has 660,000 milch cows, all of native breed, and divided into two sharply defined races, the brown and the spotted. The former color varies from deep fawn to mouse gray, the latter shade being held in the most esteem. The brown race is short horned and considered as the original type. It corresponds to the remains found on the sites of the Roman cities of the Third century of our era. The skulls of this race, furthermore, are identical with those found in the Swiss lake dwellings. The spotted race, peculiar to Berne and Fribourg, is believed to be of Scandinavian origin. From the milking point of view there is not very much difference between either race. The average daily yield is about two gallons, or twelve gallons per 112 pounds of live weight. The percentage of butter to the milk varies from 2 3-4 to 4 3-4 per cent.—Chicago Times.

A Hohenzollern Statute.

According to its family statutes, no member of the house of Hohenzollern is to undergo an operation dangerous to life, save on the battlefield or under like urgent circumstances, without the formal consent of the king of Prussia for the time being and his ministry of state. This is the reason of the state council, which was held at Berlin to consider the case of the crown prince, at which the prince regent of Brunswick and the grand duke of Baden were present, Count Stolberg-Wernigerode, minister of the household, presiding. The Emperor William and Prince Bismarck have, of course, requested the crown prince to act as he pleases.—New York Tribune.

An Old-Timer Gone.

A San Francisco despatch of Jan. 29th says: "Captain Henry F. Eastham, an old pioneer, died yesterday at his home in East Oakland at the ripe age of seventy-six. When the gold fever broke out Eastman was in command of a New Bedford whaler, then at Honolulu. He came here in June, 1848, in the brig Louis Perry, with an assorted cargo. He was the first captain to pilot his vessel up the Sacramento river to the present site of the capital. Since then he was captain and pilot of bay and river crafts until a few years ago, when he retired. He knew the shifting shoals of the Sacramento river better than any other pilot. He was at the wheel of the steamer Washoe when she blew up, and, though badly injured, brought the vessel to bank. Captain Eastham was an active member of both vigilance committees. He was a native of Exeter, N. H. After his arrival here he was never outside of the state."

Death of W. W. Hanscom.

The following tribute to the memory of W. Wallace Hanscom, (son of the late Hon. Isaiah Hanscom,) who was born in Eliot, Me., went to San Francisco in 1854, and died in the latter place on Monday, Jan. 16th, 1888, we take from the San Francisco Examiner of Jan. 22d:

The Workmen of this city and those of the jurisdiction were startled and saddened on Monday to learn of the sudden and unexpected death of the above-named true and energetic brother, at his residence in this city, from the effects of a congestive chill. To the day of his death he was an earnest worker in the field of fraternity, being a life member of California Lodge, No. 1, F. & A. M., a P. M. W. of Fidelity, No. 186, A. O. U. W., and a past dictator of Confidence Lodge, No. 2262, K. of H.

In the cause of A. O. U. W. in this state he did most excellent work as a deputy under Grand Master Taylor, also at many sessions of the grand lodge, and by service upon the finance committee. His face and voice were well known in the subordinate lodge rooms, and his visit to the recent installation of Hercules Lodge upon a cold and unpleasant night had much to do with the causes that led to his untimely death. At the funeral of Father Upchurch in St. Louis he was present, and represented this jurisdiction most acceptably.

Past Master Hanscom was born in Maine in 1839, but came in boyhood to this coast with his father, who was in early days naval constructor at Vallejo. The son inherited the mechanical genius of his parent, and a number of inventions are the result of his busy mind. He went abroad a few years ago to build a cable road in London, discharging the responsible duty satisfactorily to all concerned.

He has "gone on," but leaves an honorable record that can be commended as an example. His place may be vacant, and his voice no longer heard in the councils of fraternity, but "his good deeds live after him."

Maritime Notes.

Five American fishing vessels have arrived at Halifax, Nova Scotia, from the fishing banks, in distress. Two of them, the John G. Whittier, from Western bank, and the Midnight, from La Have, have 10,000 lbs. of fresh fish on board. Both are badly damaged, and will have to be docked. As their fish will spoil before the repairs can be completed, request has been made for permission to sell on the spot, or ship home, the fares, but this the Canadian government has flatly refused. This indicates that the Canadians propose to revive their policy of refusing all commercial privileges to American fishermen, with improvements which shall include the refusal of such privileges to vessels in distress as even the South Sea savages would grant. In the meantime British Minister West will instruct President Cleveland as to what is proper to be done, and Secretary Bayard will request the democratic members of the ways and means committee to "allow no bills to be reported to Congress which may prove irritating to Canada." We may have an American administration again, one of these days."

Mr. Frank W. Hidden, well known in the Piscataqua region as a crack oarsman in a dory, and Mr. William Perry of New York, a sturdy young fellow who is said to have pulled away from everybody who has competed with him from New York bay down to Cape May, have arranged for a dory race on this river on the 4th of July next, to decide the question of superiority between them. They are both members of the crew of the schooner Starry Flag, now fishing out of this port, and are warm friends; so the race, if it comes off as per programme, will be a friendly one in every sense, but each contestant will do his level best to defeat his competitor.

The barque Lizzie Perry, wrecked on Barbadoes about the middle of December, had on board two of the crew of the American ship Alfred Watts, the only survivors of twenty-seven men. The Alfred Watts was capsized in a hurricane on Oct. 18th, two days from Philadelphia for Yokohama with a cargo of petroleum. Twenty-two of her crew perished at once, but five managed to save themselves on some floating wreckage; three soon died from exposure and privation, but after being four days adrift the two survivors succeeded in again boarding the ship, which had in the meantime righted, full of water. On the wreck they found fresh water, codfish and salt pork, which sustained life until Nov. 20th, when they were taken off by the Lizzie Perry, to be again wrecked on Barbadoes.

A York correspondent of the Times says: "J. P. Norton at York Corner is to build a centre-board schooner on York river, near his brick yard. She will carry about ninety thousand bricks. It is more than twenty years since a vessel was built in York, the last one being built by C. C. Barrell, near Barrell's mill, in '69, Mr. Augustus Stevenson master builder. She was called the Velocipede, and was at one time engaged in the fishing business, running for Harding & Doane at Newcastle."

A Famous Doctor

Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open. Had this eminent physician lived in our day, and known the merits of Ayer's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing.

The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for "Intermittent Fevers."

Dr. I. E. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."

Dr. Mayhew, of New Bedford, Mass., says: "Having prescribed many thousands of Ayer's Pills, in my practice, I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use."

The Massachusetts State Assayer, Dr. A. A. Hayes, certifies: "I have made a careful analysis of Ayer's Pills. They contain the active principles of well-known drugs, isolated from inert matter, which plan is, chemically speaking, of great importance to their usefulness. It insures activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. Ayer's Pills contain no metallic or mineral substance, but the virtues of vegetable remedies in skillful combination."

Bartlett took a dose which threw him into severe spasms, and there is slight hope of his recovery."

Alabama has ten dailies and thirteen weekly papers which favor protection. Among the dailies are some of the strongest papers in the state, such as the Mobile Register, the Montgomery Dispatch and the Birmingham Age. Such little facts as these are hornets that keep the ways and means committee of Congress in a very uneasy state of mind.—Lewiston Journal.

TUESDAY, Jan. 31st.

Edward H. Goodwin, for drunkenness, was given sixty days at Brentwood, costs being taxed at $6.90. "Eppy Doodah" is a regular boarder at Brentwood a good part of the time.

Sylvester P. Brackett, of Great Falls, did not deny the charge of having been overcome in a contest with Portsmouth fluids, although an old seaman. He said he wasn't a bad kind of a man, and as he did not appear to be, and promised to leave town at once if permitted to depart, he was allowed to go on probation.

Such Fun.

During the sliding down Marden's hill, on the southerly side of the south pond, Tuesday night between nine and ten o'clock, two big double-runners when near the bottom of the hill were in danger of collision, and in their endeavors to avoid each other both were capsized, and one struck a boat hauled up on the shore of the pond for the winter, knocking her bow to pieces, and having one of its own sides torn out. There were seven or eight young persons on each sled, several of them being girls; the latter escaped harm, but one of the young men had a leg so badly hurt that he had to be hauled home on a sled, and several others received scrapes and bruises.

Not Much Left.

The secretary of war, in a report of the balances of appropriations for improvement of rivers and harbors on hand Nov. 1st, 1887, says the sums named are held for slight expenditures for emergencies which may arise, or are too small to make it worth while continuing operations until further appropriations are made. Some of the balances are as follows:

Portsmouth harbor, $1064; Little harbor, (harbor of refuge,) $385; Cocheco river, $528; Saco river, $351; Saco river, (breakwater at entrance,) $336; Kennebunk river, $336.

A Butterfly Tea.

The ladies of the Universalist Social Circle, famous for the novelty and popularity of their entertainments, are to give a Butterfly Tea at their vestry Tuesday evening, Feb. 7th. There will be in addition to the "tea" an interesting and amusing programme of musical and dramatic novelties. Fancy articles, and the usual variety of refreshments, will be for sale both before and after tea and the stage presentations. Tea will be served from 6:30 to 8:30, at the reasonable price of twenty-five cents. The tea tables will be supplied with a great variety of good cheer, and an abundance of light, white, hot biscuit will enable their guests to make the butter-fly.

At Franklin theatre, this evening, the sterling drama "Rip Van Winkle" will be performed.

The Knights of Pythias ball in Franklin hall on Tuesday evening was a perfect success, the attendance testing the capacity of the hall; the concert by Misud's Salem Cadet band was very fine, as was the dancing music afterward furnished; and a choice supper was served in Mechanics' hall by Mr. C. P. Garvin.

The plan of Music hall for Thursday evening was marked nearly all over on Tuesday, the first day tickets were put on sale for Boucicault's appearance in "The Shaughraun," and the audience will be an immense one.

At the entertainment by the Nonpareil Associates Minstrels in Music hall, Monday evening, some of the best jig and clog dancing ever seen on that stage was given. Fifty members of the Athletic club attended in a body, and presented the performers with an immense floral star bearing the letters "P. A. C. to P. N. A."

The hours of labor on the navy yard change to-day, Feb. 1st, and are now from eight o'clock to noon, and from one to five o'clock P. M. This is the regular summer arrangement, and goes into effect six weeks earlier than ever before.

Col. J. Horace Kent, warden of the New Hampshire state prison, is reported as being seriously ill with nervous prostration, but improving.

Rev. Lewis W. Phillips, pastor of the Christian church at Rye, on Sunday last tendered his resignation of the pastorate on account of ill health. A meeting of the society was held Monday evening to act upon the resignation, and it was unanimously voted not to accept it. Mr. Phillips has not only strengthened the church by his faithful ministration during his pastorate, but has won the esteem and love of the people of the society and the town. Both he and his father (also a clergyman) served in the army during the war, and his present trouble as to his health is owing to disease incident to the hardships and exposures of the service.

The Monument committee met in the city rooms on Monday evening, but without transacting any business adjourned to next Monday evening, at the same place and hour.

Mrs. Charles Robinson, formerly of this city, is passing a few weeks with Mrs. John Stavers, of State street.

Manager C. E. Cook, of the Maud Banks combination, has cancelled the date of that lady's appearance in Music hall, which was booked for Feb. 10th, as the company will play in Boston that week.

It is with great pleasure that we announce that our valued Kittery correspondent "Sub Rosa"—who if he would take half the care of his own health that he does to have correct all items of news he furnishes, would get along a good deal easier than he has of late—after several weeks of serious illness is again able to be on deck.

Grand clearance sale of dress goods at Lewis E. Staples.' Greatly reduced prices for two weeks. Remnants marked way down.

Eliot Items.

NORTH ELIOT, ME., Jan. 30th.

The largest gathering of the season was at the house of Mr. and Mrs. John Moulton on Wednesday evening, Jan. 25th. Between sixty and seventy of the Congregational society, with Rev. James Lade, their pastor, met there in the afternoon and evening, and after partaking of a very nice supper, such as Mrs. Moulton is noted for getting up, the tables were cleared away, and the company had a very nice time playing games, music, etc., and all thought the evening too short when it came to a close, and all wended their way homeward through the snow,—hoping they would all meet again on Wednesday evening, Feb. 8th, at the house of Charles Foye near the Congregational church.

The Cocheco river is frozen so that teams pass to and from Dover to Eliot with perfect safety, over the ice.

The people are doing quite a business around Sturgeon creek this winter in the way of teaming. Nine two-horse teams are daily hauling wood for H. P. Abbott, Elie W. Rowe, and Moses Morrell & Son, getting ready for another season for brick making. Charles Morrell has bought a part of the Stephen Jenkins farm, and intends starting a brick yard there as soon as spring opens.

Mr. F. P. Hodgdon has purchased the Stacy farm, on what is called the Toad Lane road, where Willard E. Raitt and family are now living.

George W. Nason, son of W. F. Nason, has been at home a few days from Boston, Mass., where he is working at his trade, brick laying.

Mrs. Henry P. Abbott is in Kansas City visiting her son, Charles Abbott, who went there two years ago, and engaged in the brick business.

Capt. J. B. Freeman is handling a two-horse team this winter, while the schooner Clara B. Kennard is hauled up.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Jan. 27th.

Editor of N. H. Gazette: We ask for space to sound our horn just once more. To —, our little man of the Biddeford Journal: Well, well, then! my scattering shot evidently found a bad flaw in your armor plating. Your return fire we see was meant to sweep the editor, and Jotto as well, into the briny deep or some other place (what is a poke?) The family papers that you and Jotto illumine have too many educated and refined subscribers to make it a matter of interest or policy to open their columns for a local quarrel. Jotto has been washed by spray too often to care a red herring for half words or whole ones, but there are young men and women just commencing their life work, whom they may harm. Now suppose we meet at some public place and the strongest fend off—for lastly and finally, we are not afraid of you or any ink-slinger alive.

JOTTO.

The opening article in "The American Magazine" for February is by the well-known naturalist, C. F. Holder. He takes his readers into "The Heart of the Sierra Madre," leading them through dense forests and gloomy canons, to climb steep precipices by narrow ledges where a misstep means instant death. Here are the resorts of a variety of game, and the favorite haunt of the mountain lion—presumably the king of American beasts. J. Macdonald Oxley contributes to the same number an interesting and valuable resume of the results obtained by expeditions which the Canadian government has recently sent to explore Hudson's bay. The object of the explorations is to determine the feasibility of a northwest passage to the Northwest itself. Mr. Oxley adds an entertaining account of the natives dwelling on the margin of "The Inland Ocean of the North." This magazine is taking a place in the front ranks, to which it is entitled by the variety and judicious selection of its numerous articles.

Miss Loudie Heustis, an Alabama girl now studying art in Paris, ranks first in a class of three hundred students.

The oldest arm-chair in the world is the throne of Queen Hatafu, who flourished in Egypt 1,600 years before Christ. It is made of ebony, and is beautifully carved. It is now in the British museum.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, Jan. 30th.

The churches are not well filled this season. A stormy Sabbath is far preferable to the extreme cold of the last two.

This evening a concert by the Park family of Boston will be the 8th entertainment in the lyceum course.

The Odd Fellows give one of their popular dramas next Thursday evening; they are sure of a full house.

Many people fear dogs; we certainly do not wish to see any more sun dogs, if such rough weather follows them. It is unpleasant to think of the suffering there must be among the poorer class all through the country.

Last Saturday evening a young man was found intoxicated, lying on the snow; one ear was frozen and his face bruised. It is a disgrace to the Granite state that the liquor law is not more stringently enforced.

The shoe factory cost $12,000, and the proprietor finds fault in many respects. The chimney was only fifty feet high; it should have been seventy, consequently a flue was put in last week, twenty-three inches in diameter. The masons and tinsmith worked three of the cold nights last week. The water tank must be moved, and other alterations made. There are about one hundred persons employed, and the finest furnished dwellings are filled with boarders. Very few natives have secured work as yet in the manufactory.

The Philadelphia Ledger remarks: "Since the mayor of Argonia, Kansas, Mrs. Salter, has been so successful in keeping whiskey and gambling out of that city, it may be that Dover's new horse railway president, Mrs. Dow, will be equally happy in keeping water out of the stock."

An exchange remarks that "the best teachers are those who learn something new themselves every day," so we announce this day that several thousand important cures have been made by the use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

J. N. Heath, who recently lost an arm in the paper mill at Franklin Falls, has since died.

R. Fellows, M. D., of Hill, N. H., says that he has made use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry for several years, and it has proved to be very reliable and efficacious in the treatment of severe and long-standing coughs. He says it saved the life of at least one of his patients.

A child of V. A. Grant of Pitsfield was killed by falling from a high chair, Jan. 27th.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. Only one pill a dose. Try them.

Major J. B. Whittemore of Hillsborough Bridge has been appointed a post-office inspector.

Croud, whooping cough, sore throat, sudden cold, and the lung troubles peculiar to children, are easily controlled by promptly administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This remedy is safe to take and certain in its action.

Complaint is made in Wakefield that the black bass that have been placed in four ponds in that town are destroying all the other fish.

"My Kingdom for a Horse."

But if he suffers from scratches, cracks, cuts, galls or wounds of any kind, Veterinary Hop Ointment is warranted to cure. Never fails. $1.00 a box. At all druggists.

Fred Davis of Warner, aged fourteen, was recently given laudanum in place of rhubarb, and died in a few hours.

No room for doubt when the Hop Plaster pleases every man that ever tried one.

George E. Bates of Milford has been chosen president of the senior class at the University Law school in Boston.

For the relief and cure of the inflamation and congestion called a "cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm then in anything else it is possible to prescibe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail.

A slight smashup occurred at Meriden, Jan. 27th, by a passenger train running into a snowplow train that was stuck in a drift. One man was badly burned, and several injured. Several froze their feet in walking to the hotel.

A standard article universally recommended, is James Pyle's Pearline, which is claimed to be the best thing ever invented for making washing easy, in hard or soft water, without harm to fabric or hands. No soap is required and the work is done thoroughly without it. The genuine is sold by all grocers, and purchasers should beware of imitation.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began taking Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

Startling Discovery.

The discovery by the inhabitants of a locality hitherto unvisited by the pestilent scourge of fever and ague, that it exists in their very midst, is decidedly startling. Such discoveries are made at every season, in every part of the Union. Subsequently, when it is ascertained, as it invariably is at such times, through the valuable experience of some one who has been benefitted and cured, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a thoroughly efficacious eradicator of the malarial poison, and a means of fortifying the system against it, a feeling of more security and tranquility reigns throughout the whole neighborhood. Besides the febrile forms of malarial disease, dumb ague and ague cake are removed by the potent action of the bitters, to which science gives its sanction as a remedy for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, debility, kidney troubles, and all diseases impairing the organs of digestion and assimilation.

Solomon Lowenberg, an aged and wealthy citizen of Oakland, Cal., committed suicide on account of opposition by his family to his intended marriage to a young lady, which was to have taken place on the day of the suicide.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. They are not only a positive cure, but a sure preventive if taken when the approach is felt. Carter's Little Liver Pills act directly on the liver and bile, and in this way remove the cause of disease without first making you sick by a weakening purge. If you try them you will not be disappointed.

A PARADISE FOR THIEVES.

They Hold High Carnival in the Empire of the Czar—"Thieves' Markets."

There is so much thievery in Russia that all the principal cities have what is known as "thieves' markets." They are conducted openly, and little if any effort is made to trace an article which goes in that direction. Travelers, in their exasperation, often declare that the authorities, the thieves and the vendors of stolen articles are banded together, and that the profits are divided on a fixed scale. Be that as it may, there is more stealing in this than in any other country, unless probably Egypt is excepted.

Here the thieves' market is two blocks deep, four long, and gives commercial transactions to thousands of persons. The goods are carried in by the pillagers, burglars and footpads, sold to the shop keepers openly, and no secret is made of the fact that the goods were stolen. The buildings are mostly of brick, located in a quarter remote from the most respectable portion of the city, and the shop keepers live in the second stories. The rooms are all filthy, covered with vermin, filled with nauseous odors, and the goods are dusty. The lazy men and women sit in front of the entrances in the narrow streets, play chess or cards, smoke and drink tea, and show a shocking degree of depravity. They are mostly Greeks, although many are Tartars, Jews and Egyptians. The Jews are said to be the most cleanly, honorable and intelligent.

The thieves' market flourishes most on a Sunday morning, although Sunday is not generally observed here, and street improvements, building of every character and trade go forward. But many people take a holiday on Sunday and spend it here. To this point I wended my way one Sunday morning, and saw a throng such as Five Points, New York, would have been shocked at in her palmiest days. In a window I saw some fine old chinaware, bearing the private mark of Alexander I, the crown and seal of the empire. Immediately the shopkeeper, a woman, informed me that the goods were stolen from the winter palace; she knew it, because she got them directly from the thief, and she had handled his property before.

In the center of each block is a hollow square, about 150 feet in diameter. These were filled with men, women and children, behind improvised counters, selling or making almost everything. Second hand boots are the most popular goods, and scores of men and boys can be seen repairing them in the open air, while others go about selling them. The ground is bowldered and covered with sand and fleas. Pigeons and crows, both sacredly protected, hop about everywhere. The crows are dark gray, with little black coats. Great big Siberian hounds, muzzled, stalk about with the multitude and give zest to the scene.

Train loads of old iron, copper and leather, hoops, cast off and new clothing, jewelry, watches, clocks and silverware, furs, everything that furnishes houses, man, woman child and beast, in confusion and profusion, just like a heap of stuff a burglar drops when hotly pursued. It is said the thieves linger here after disposing of their plunder, and often succeed in regaining the property when it is purchased, and that goods are stolen and restolen a number of times in a single day or night. The scenes about the thieves' market here are duplicated in four or five places in the empire. They are as old as the cities, and the markets having become fixed institutions, no attempt is made to frustrate them.

So helpless are the honest natives when robbed that they often seek witches to trace the direction of the stolen property. The witch proceeds by peculiar means. She summons all the neighbors whom she suspects, gets a pail of water, makes a little roll of dough to represent each one present, and begins in the presence of the party to drop the balls into the water, the theory being that when she names the thief they will all sink. Nine times out of ten the witch forces a confession. It is a waste of time to appeal to the authorities. The superstitions of the people are thus turned to advantage. They believe it is far worse to be detected in crime than to make a free confession. In nearly every bedroom I have occupied in the Russian hostelries I have found a tiny shrine. Some are over the doors, others high up in the corners next to the ceiling, while a few are stowed away on top of wardrobes. The presence of the shrine is not only a satisfaction and a solace to the occupant of the room, should he be a Russian, but a protection to the landlord, for it has not been frequent that thefts are perpetrated in the presence of shrines. The thieves fear shrines more than lawful retribution.—P. S. Heath in New York Mail and Express.

Heated by Chemical Foot Warmers.

I once brought a good deal of ridicule upon myself by asserting in these columns that I traveled on an English train heated by chemical foot warmers. When these things got cold you shook 'em up and they give out heat again. I never got any one to believe this story, and yet it was true. I have found out since that the chemical used was some sort of soda affair, and I understand that the fact that this compound of soda will give out heat has caused it to be used as an engine for running street cars. I believe that they are going to use the soda motor on a Chicago street car line. I don't know whether any of the soda foot warmers are used in England now or not. I couldn't find any on the little island when I was there last winter, though urged by my unbelieving friends to do so for the sake of my own reputation for veracity.—Luke Sharp in Detroit Free Press.

Barnes, Hengerer & Co's great dry goods house in Buffalo, N. Y., took fire at 11:40 A. M. on the 1st inst., and in a few moments the whole building was in flames; four girls employed in the store lost their lives. Loss on stock, $1,000,000; on store, $250,000.

A despatch of Jan. 31st from St. John, N. B., says: "For several days the Dominion fishery cruiser Dream has been frozen in St. Andrew's bay, and Maine fishermen have taken advantage of her misfortune to fish inside the three-mile limit. Reports from the bay state that a large fleet of American vessels are fishing in Canadian waters, and that there is an abundance of fish. The local fishermen complain that through the severity of the cruiser's captain in carrying out his instructions they have suffered great loss, and say they would much rather have Americans fish in their waters than that the cruiser should get clear of the ice."

An old-time and reliable resident of Eliot informs us that for four days preceding Thursday, Jan. 26th, the ice jam in the river down as far as Boiling rock was so solid that parties crossed without difficulty day after day to the New Hampshire shore—something previously unknown to him, and he is one of the elder, if not of the oldest, inhabitants of the town.

Work is driving on the repairs of the dry dock at the navy yard, about a hundred men being employed, and excellent progress being made. The appropriation available for the work, $28,000, is ridiculously small and insufficient, but all that can be made of it will be.

The stock room at the Portsmouth shoe factory was shut down on Wednesday, the 1st inst., for the day, having got a day ahead of the rest of the departments.

What valid reason can be given for not putting the compound called "rough on rats" under the same restrictions as strychnine or arsenic as to its sale, we cannot imagine. Hardly a day passes that some suicide or murder is not reported, in which this deadly poison is the agent employed; and in case of murder it is impossible to trace it to the place of purchase, as it is sold without question in grocery stores as well as drug stores, to any person, either man, woman or child, who may call for it. Much the larger proportion of murders by poison committed during the past dozen years have been done with "rough on rats," and though its extensive sale is no doubt highly profitable to the manufacurer, its unrestricted exposure for sale should be stopped.

A Boston firm is extensively advertising the "assistant dresser," an inexpensive machine which it is claimed will enable any lady or gentleman to don outside garments without other aid, and almost without knowing it, so easily is it done. What a average man would be made happier b would be an inexpensive machine whereby he could procure the outer garment for himself or wife, so easily that his pocketbook would hardly find it cut.

The "Daily News Almanac and Political Register of 1888," published by the Chicago Daily News, is full of valuable information. We detect one inaccuracy. The governor of New Hampshire is put down as "H B Sawyer." Can it be possible that in consequence of the governor's veto, the Chicago statistician got it into his head that the name of New Hampshire's governor is "Hazen Bill Sawyer?"

Of the 103 members of the national house of representatives who voted for the election of General Banks to the speakership of the Thirty-fourth Congress, only twenty-two are known to be alive. It was the second day of February, 1856, when Gen. Banks, the first republican to hold the position, was elected to the speaker's chair. Two of the twenty-two survivors of that memorable contest, of such far-reaching results, are Aaron H Cragin and James Pilse of this state.

The Dover city councils on the night of Jan. 31st voted the annual appropriations for the current year. The total amount is $130,997, against $111,675 last year; rate of taxation $15 50, against $14 per $1000 last year. The councils voted to adopt the free text book system for public schools. The increase of taxation is due to many much needed improvements.

—Here are four sentences said to be taken from a composition written by a Philadelphia pupil after hearing a lecture on physiology: "The human body is made of the head, the thorax, and the abdomen. The head contains the brains when there is any. The thorax contains the heart and the lungs. The abdomen contains the bowels, of which there are five, A, E, I, O and U, and sometimes W and Y."

—A Pennsylvania clergyman says that several years ago, when he was preaching in a South Carolina town, the colored people of the town were considerable disturbed by the building of a Unitarian church, which they called a "no-hell church." One night it burned down, and there was a great rejoicing among the orthodox brethen. "Now dem wicked sinners will done come into de fol'," they said; "If dey can't stop de fish in dis worl' dey can't stop it in de nex'."

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

Mr. William Conn, the State street butter merchant, is on a brief visit at Hillsborough.

"Our Irish Visitors" Coming.

"Our Irish Visitors" at the Union Square. The audience at the Union Square last night was treated to the comedy, "Our Irish Visitors." From the beginning to the end they were in a continual uproar, especially when Mr. Thomas E. Murray, Mr. Mark Murphy, Mr. Charles W. Young and Mr. James Reilly formed into a quartette of ballet dancers in real ballet style. The kissing song, by May Templeton, was enjoyed very much, especially by the boys in the gallery, who helped her in the kissing-sound part of it. The rest of the company were praiseworthy.—New York Herald.

At Music hall on Monday evening, Feb. 6th; tickets on sale at Goodrich's on and after Friday.

Democratic Incompetency.

The Concord Monitor, in an article under the above heading, calls attention to the narrow policy and needless parsimony of the democratic admistration, as compared with previous republican ones,, in the matter of furnishing mail communications, weather reports, storm signals, etc., for the benefit of the public. In regard to the stopping of the storm signals it says:

At Portsmouth, for instance, it is well known that a large fleet of fishing vessels daily go out to sea for bay fishing, and bring in large quantities of fish which are sent by rail all over the United States and to Canadian markets. A large body of hardy fishermen man these crafts, and just at this inclement season, when the business is at its height and the fisherman thinks of his harvest, derivable from the lenten season, comes the order, that this great country, with its immense sums in its treasury lying idle and useless as far as the industries of the country are concerned, nay, causing those very industries to cease their employment of workmen, and to frame and endeavor to calculate how far the democratic plan of the president may be able to succeed in its efforts to aid the foreign manufacturer to paralyze the interests of the country,—just at this time, it appears, there are no funds with which the administration can safely engage to pay the generous sum of $15 a month to the signal men for displaying flags for the benefit of the seamen and fishermen at our New England ports! It appears that when the treasury department sent to Congress last year, the estimates for this important but inexpensive necessity, some representative democratic demagogue of the Holman-Randall school moved to reduce the sum recommended, and the great party, which their leaders controlled by a nod, at once bowed, and "in the interest of economy" paid over the appropriation.

It has been thus ever since the party came into power. In the endeavor to make political capital for democratic use in the west, where the wants of seaboard states in cases like the one we have quoted are quite likely not to be understood, it will be an open thing for some Holmanic orator to prate as to his labors in the interest of reform! Thus has our penny-wise administration gone on. The early blunders committed in this direction are repeated each year, and yet there are men who thought that the republican party had been kept in power long enough, and at the last presidential election "it was time to have a change." If there has been gained to the country one single advantage in its political or business career, by substituting democracy for republicanism in the councils of the nations, it yet remains an undiscovered quantity.

Maritime Notes.

The schooner Katie J. Barrett, McLeod master, from Baltimore for this port with coal, and the four-master C. B. Church, also from Baltimore for this port, arrived at Vineyard Haven on Monday of this week. The former lost an anchor and seventy-five fathoms of chain in Chespeake bay.

The schooner Thomas B. Garland, of Dover, Crosby master, was reported fast in the ice at Hyannis, Mass., Jan. 31st, about a mile from the breakwater, and in a good position.

The schooner Waybent, of and from Parrsboro, N. S., for Newburyport, Mass., with a cargo of coal, took fire two miles west of Seal island, and was burned to the water's edge. The crew succeeded in reaching Seal island in a half frozen condition. They were landed at Yarmouth, N. S., Jan. 31st, by a tug.

The four-masted schooner Clara Goodwin, Wyman master, which left this port for Baltimore about two weeks ago, and after arriving at Vineyard Haven was towed back to Boston in a leaky condition, having been badly damaged by ice, arrived at Portland on Monday, Jan. 30th, in tow of tug L. A. Belknap, to go into the dry dock for repairs.

Sewell B. Fowler and Asa Beckman, fishermen of Seabrook, who started out in their dories the morning of the day before the great storm, expecting to return in the evening, have not since been heard from, and are supposed to be lost.

The steam tug L. F. Warren arrived at this port from Portland on Wednesday morning, Feb. 1st, and left again for Portland in a short time, having in tow a four-masted schooner to load at Portland for the West Indies.

The schooner Anna H. Mason was lifted on Wednesday, the 1st inst., from the position off Randall & Caswell's wharf occupied by her since she sank there when towed in after sinking another schooner some days ago. She will be temporarily patched up on this side, and then taken to the Kittery railway for thorough repairs.

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY, ME., Jan. 31st.

Mr. Thomas M. Brown and wife, (formerly Miss Ella Ruth Shapleigh, daughter of Hon. Thomas C. Shapleigh of Crookston, Minn.,) who were married Dec. 28th ult., are east on their weddirg tour, and have been visiting relatives in North Kittery, York and South Eliot. They started on their journey homeward on Monday last, and will take up their residence in Grand Forks, Dakota. Mr. Brown declared before leaving that in his twenty years of western life he has never experienced worse weather than he has here in the past two weeks. He likes New England people, but is thoroughly disgusted with its climate. In this he differs a little from Artemas Ward, who having on one occasion "worried down two or three glasses of your rum," told the people of New England that "I admire your thrift, your energy and your schoolhouses, but your favorite beverage I disgust."

The eclipse was witnessed by all courageous enough to keep out of doors,—and by such only, for there was too much frostwork on the windows to allow of peeping through.

The roads in Kittery and Eliot are said to be in a worse condition, both for man and beast, than at any time for many years. The oldest inhabitant does not know the time before when the Post road was not open to travel as soon as the storm was over, except the last one.

It seems to me that the imagination of a writer recently quoted in a Portsmouth paper needs a little tempering, or else it should be devoted to Dime Novels. Gov. Benning Wentworth has laid in an honorable grave too many years to be the accessory of a cruel deed even in the imagination of a skilled writer, and it cannot be pleasant reading for his many connections, notwithstanding they know it is groundless.

The friends of Mr. Elmer Lewis and wife of North Kittery, who were recently married, called on them one evening lately and presented them with an elegant easy chair. A collation was served, and all enjoyed themselves.

Rev. John A. Hainer of Portsmouth will supply the pulpit of the 2d Christian church next Sunday afternoon. He is an extempore speaker, and is brilliant in his pulpit work.

Rev. E. E. Colburn supplies at Salisbury Point, Mass., next Sunday.

We acknowledge and appreciate the pleasant reference to Sub Rosa by "You Knew," the Eliot correspondent of the Penny Post, in connection with our recent indisposition; we are pleased to assure him that through careful and skillful nursing we are again fit for duty—and hope it will be long before we have to mention "You Know" as being under the weather.

Mr. William F. Bartlett of North Kittery, and Miss Emma Berry, daughter of Moses G. Berry of Kittery Point, were married on Wednesday evening, the 25th inst., at the home of the bride, by Rev. Otis Holmes. The happy couple were intending to make a wedding trip to Hartford, Conn., (weather permitting,) after which they would return to reside in North Kittery. Not being able to attend, and owing to the inclemency of the weather, we are unable to give further particulars, or a description of the presents, which were numerous and valuable.

The Park Concert company of Boston will give an entertainment in Trefethen hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 2d, under the management of Rev. J. B. Merrill and Rev. E. E. Colburn. Admission twenty-five cents, reserved seats thirty-five cents. This is a first-class company, and worthy of patronage.

Dr. Geo. L. Peirce and his nephew, G. Percy Stewart, of Brooklyn, N. Y., were in town on a flying visit to their relative, D. M. Shapleigh, one night last week, on their way to Manchester, N. H.

SUB ROSA.

This evening, at Music hall, the noted actor and prolific playwright, Dion Boucicault, will appear in "The Shaughraun," supported by his own company. The advance sale of reserved seats has been very great, and the agent thinks there "will be more money in the house" than at any entertainment for years. A few seats can still be secured at Goodrich's.

Parties walked on the ice from the first Newcastle bridge to the Wentworth at Newcastle on Wednesday.

Startling Discovery.

The discovery by the inhabitants of a locality hitherto unvisited by the pestilent scourge of fever and ague, that it exists in their very midst, is decidedly startling. Such discoveries are made at every season, in every part of the Union. Subsequently, when it is ascertained, as it invariably is at such times, through the valuable experience of some one who has been benefitted and cured, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a thoroughly efficacious eradicator of the malarial poison, and a means of fortifying the system against it, a feeling of more security and tranquility reigns throughout the whole neighborhood. Besides the fertile forms of malarial disease, dumb ague and ague cake are removed by the potent action of the bitters, to which science gives its sanction as a remedy for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, debility, kidney troubles, and all diseases impairing the organs of digestion and assimilatod.

William Estes recently shot and killed William Blakely at a church in Wallace, Mo.

The effects after taking Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam are a soothing and controlling influence over any cough or cold, promoting rest, allaying the tickling sensation in the throat, and causing a healthy expectoration. All our drug stores have sold it for twenty years.

Several Russian soldiers while fishing near the Prussian border recently crossed the line, and were ordered back by Prussian guards. They refused, and fired at the guards, wounding one man. They captured one Prussian and took him away.

Always avoid harsh purgative pills. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

A society has been formed at Ottawa, Ont., to prosecute persons who contribute funds for the Irish.

More cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

A young fellow in Missouri disapproved of his sister's eighteen-year-old lover, and signified his disapproval in the usual manner of that section, by shooting him.

Gray hair is made to resume its youthful color and beauty by the use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair renewer the best preparation known to science.

From Hot Springs, Arkansas, it is reported that at a ball there lately a young lady, her mother, grandmother and great-grandmother danced in the same set.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. They are not only a postive cure, but a sure preventive if taken when the approach is felt. Carter's Little Liver Pills act directly on the liver and bile, and in this way remove the cause of disease without first making you sick by a weakening purge. If you try them you will not be disappointed.

Senator Sawyer, from the post-office committee, has reported back adversely to the senate the proposition to reduce letter postage to one cent.

A DISTRESSING COUGH.

How many, especially during the Fall and Winter months, are troubled with a Cough, sometimes dry and hacking, sometimes loose causing the sufferer to raise a large amount of offensive matter; this can soon be cured by using Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs.

Cured her Cough.

MRS. JEREMIAH CLARK, Lowell, Mass., says: "Twelve years ago I first took a bottle of your Throat and Lung Specific. I had been troubled with a very bad Cough for months. A 50-cent bottle cured my Cough. Since then I have not been without it. I can heartily recommend it to any one who has a bad cough."

Saved his Life.

CHAS. A. WAITT, says: "No language can express the value I attach to your Specific. I believe it saved my life."

We would cite other testimonials did we think it necessary, but a trial bottle will convince you that it is all we represent. Give it a trial.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

AFTER THE SUPPER AND TALK.

After the supper and talk—after the day is done,
As a friend from friends his final withdrawal prolonging,
Goodby and goodby with emotional lips repeating
(So hard for his hand to release those hands—no more will they meet,
No more for communion of sorrow and joy, of old and young,
A far stretching journey awaits him, to return no more),
Shunning, postponing severance—seeking to ward off the last word ever so little,
Even at the exit door turning—charges superfluous calling back—even as he descends the steps,
Something to eke out a minute additional—shadows of nightfall deepening,
Farewells, messages lessening—dimmer the forthgoer's visage and form,
Soon to be lost for aye in the darkness—loth, O loth to depart!
Garrulous to the very last.
—Walt Whitman in Lippincott's.

COLD AIR AND COLD WATER.

Dangers of Keeping the Windows of a Bedroom Open During Sleeping Hours.

There are doctors who tell us that we should always sleep with one window partly open, no matter how cold, how damp or how stormy the weather may be. Some fanatics go still further, and insist that all the windows in a bedroom should be open to a considerable extent during sleeping hours.

The answer to this is that we do not keep the window open when we are up and dressed, active, moving about, with a fire in the room, when our bodies are even warmer than when we are in bed. When we go out into the cold or damp we put on additional wraps and protect our heads. When we are in the house every one knows how delightful it is to gather around an open fire, with none of the freezing atmosphere to course in currents down the spine or against the chest, bringing colds, influenzas, coughs and rheumatism. And yet we are bidden by cold-air extremists to sleep not only in a cold room, but to open the window or windows in order to breathe pure air, and thus live to be 100 years old.

Of course every room while it is not occupied should be ventilated as frequently as possible. This being done, quite enough air makes its way through the small apertures between the sashes to maintain a constant renovation. Let any one stand near a closed window in winter time, and he will feel a small but constant current. This current becomes imperceptible when he is away from the window in a warm room, but it is this, in connection with full ventilation at appropriate times, that keeps the air of a room pure enough, other things being equal, to maintain a fair degree of health. Civilized persons cannot enjoy a savage hygiene.

The complaint, but by no means truly scientific cold air teachers have the same extreme ideas about cold water. They tell you that a cold sponge bath in the middle of winter is a perfect preservative against colds, and that if you do nothing more than splash your throat and chest every morning with cold water, you will be saved from tonsilitis, bronchitis, and all affections of the throat and chest. Never was anything more untrue; medical men who teach such things as universal facts, without making a good many exceptions and a good many careful qualifications, are not fit for their profession. These heroic measures, so called, are utterly unsuited to many of us.

By all but those in robust health, the same principles are to be applied to cold water in cold weather. In some cases delicate constitutions may very gradually be made hardier, so as to bear, and even finally to improve by, much cold air, and much cold water. It is the universal and unqualified application that we are denouncing. Doctors who profess to make the weak strong and the sick well by such means are either fanatics or pretenders.—A. E. Lancaster in The Epoch.

The Davy Lamps Not Safe.

It is a shock to all our youthful prejudices, but it is undoubtedly a fact, that the Davy lamp no longer figures among the safety apparatus of our mines. The recent mines regulation act settles that point. An alteration made in the bill when it was before the house of lords left us doubtful whether the Davy lamp had been finally condemned; but Mr. A. H. Stokes, one of the government inspectors, has declared in round terms before the Chesterfield and Midland Counties Institution of Engineers that the lamp is doomed. At the same meeting the faint praise was heard of the lamp that in a mine where only candles had been previously employed it might be used to examine the workings for gas; but, as the royal commission had held that the lamp is unsafe in a current with a velocity of six feet per second, Mr. Stokes thinks that it is excluded from mines by the fact that the combined rate of the miners walk and the ventilation of the mine will constitute at least that rate of speed in the air passing the lamp. He adds his evidence that explosions have been caused and men killed in consequence of the use of the Davy lamp. The discovery is useful, but it is a case of goodby to another illusion.—London News.

Making the Most of It.

"You seem to be enjoying yourself, Bobby," remarked one of the guests at a dinner party.

"Yes," assented Bobby, with his mouth full, "I am makin' the most of it, 'cause after pa an' ma give a big dinner like this, it's always cold pickin' for the next thirty days."—Harper's Bazar.

Lord Tennyson's Income.

Lord Tennyson receives an income of from $20,000 to $25,000 a year from the sale of his books, but not a cent of it comes from an American publisher, despite the fact that his poetry is nearly as popular here as in England.—Chicago Herald.

The Only Remedy

FOR

Contagious Blood Poison.

MR. D. R. Adams, Union, South Carolina, writes: "I was afflicted with a terrible case of blood poison for about thirteen months. I was treated by the best physicians, and used various kinds of remedies, but received no substantial relief. I finally tried the Swift Specific, and about four bottles cured me sound and well."

Col. R. H. Kieser, editor and proprietor of the Opelika, Ala., Times, under date of August 3, 187, writes: "When I was a young man, through indiscretion, I contracted a disease which has stuck to me for years. Some five or six years since I was troubled with a rash, so as to make it difficult for me to walk. Having advertised the S. S. S. in my paper for several years, I concluded I would try it to see if there was any efficacy in the medicine. I commenced using it, according to directions and used half dozen bottles. I was once at a way station and, finding I left, I walked the seven miles and have never felt any return of the old malady. After experiencing the good effects I must say I am satisfied with the result. I am sixty-eight years of age and I feel now like a young man and can go to the case when necessary and set up from six to eight thousand ems without any inconvenience. I send you this without solicitation.

Mr. F. Woehl, 211 Noria Avenue, Chicago, under date of June 12, 186, writes: "I deem it my duty to thank you for the cure I received from your excellent medicine. I contracted a very severe case of blood poisoning about two years ago. Hearing of your medicine, I went to a drug store, the proprietor of which persuaded me to buy a preparation of his own, which he said was a sure cure. I used six bottles of his stuff and grew worse all the time. At last I got disgusted and despaired of a cure. I met a friend who told me that your medicine had cured him. I went to the same druggist again and demanded your medicine. He reluctantly sold me twelve bottles, and I am now perfectly cured. I write this for the benefit of sufferers, to prevent their being deceived by false representations. I thank you again for the benefit derived from your medicine."

Dr. J. N. Cheney, a prominent physician, residing in Kinsville, Schley County, Georgia, in a letter recounting the infallible success he has in curing contagious blood poison cases in his extensive practice, writes: "Those who know the direct inevitable, permanently dangerous effects of mercury will welcome your discovery of S. S. S. as a boon to humanity. The medical profession, always wary of proprietary medicines, is coming slowly, and in some cases secretly, to the use of S. S. S. in cases of blood disorder. Of course a medicine that cures poisoning in its worst form must purify the blood of every disorder."

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

Grand Army Encampment.

The annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of New Hampshire, was held at Concord on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 1st and 2d. On the 2d the election of officers occurred, with the following result: For department commander, Ai B. Thompson of Concord; senior vice commander, Fred H. Foss; junior vice commander, James F. Grimes; medical director, Hadley B. Fowler; chaplain, James R. Ewer.

A Democratic Burden.

The Portland Argus says: "Let the tariff on bituminous coal be removed, and the poor will no longer be at the mercy of the coal barons." Who put the coal tariff on? The first tariff of fifty-six cents per ton was levied in 1789; increased to $2 50 in 1812. In 1862 a terrible "war tax" of $1.00 was put on; in 1873 it was reduced to seventy-five cents, and in 1882, when the republicans proposed to reduce it to fifty cents per ton, they were defeated by democratic congressmen from Maryland and West Virginia! Under the last democratic tariff in 1846 bituminous coal was taxed $1.30 per ton, nearly double what it is to-day, and "all other coal" at the same rate.—Biddeford Journal.

Unfortunate Business.

Eight girls in a Cincinnati shoe factory having been overpaid $12 65 on piece work, the firm notified them that the amount would be withheld from succeeding payments. The shop committee failing to secure a conference with the firm, the 450 hands in that shop left work. The Manufacturers' Association then ordered a general lockout, and 3500 people are thereby thrown out of employment.

The senate has passed the joint resolution proposing an amendment to the United States constitution, providing that the term of office of the president and the Fiftieth Congress shall continue until the 30th of April, 1889, at noon, and that senators whose existing term would otherwise expire on the fourth of March, 1889, shall continue in office until the 30th of April succeeding such expiration, and that the 30th of April, at noon, shall hereafter be substituted for the fourth of March as the commencement and termination of the official term of the president, vice president, senators and representatives.

Mr. John D. Parker, president of the Collateral Loan company, of Boston, died in that city on the 2d inst. at the Revere house, after a long illness. He was born in this city but went to Boston as a boy, and entered the dry goods store of Henry Rice, in which house he afterward became a partner. A period of business activity was spent subsequently in Savannah, Ga., and then Mr. Parker, returning to Boston, founded the house of Parker, Barnes & Merriam. From that firm he retired in 1864, and since then has been president of the Collateral Loan company, acting also as president of the Saco Water Power Machine Shop and of the Boston & Sandwich Glass company, and director of the Vassalborough Woollen mills, the Naumkeag Steam Cotton company of Salem, and the Traders' National bank of Boston. A widow and one son survive him.

A Famous Case Ended.

The California supreme court has filed its decision in the celebrated Sharon divorce case, in which the lower court granted to Sarah Althea Sharon a divorce from the late United States Senator William Sharon, and allowed alimony and a large amount of money as counsel fees. The supreme court affirms the decision of the lower court, but reverses the order relating to counsel fees. The amount of counsel fees allowed was $55,000, and the amount of alimony $7500 and an annual allowance of $2500. The supreme court fixes the alimony at $1500 and an annual allowance of $500. Three of the seven supreme judges filed dissenting opinions, finding that Sharon and Sarah Althea Hill were never legally married.

This decision virtually settles the case, as Sharon's heirs will not enter an appeal on the face of the case when a majority of the supreme court believes there was a marriage. The whole case rested on the validity of this marriage contract, and the actual marital relations of Sarah Althea Hill and Senator Sharon. Sarah claimed that the marriage contract was executed in November, 1881, and that it was kept a secret in order that it might not hurt Sharon's chances in the pending Nevada election. Sharon claimed that Sarah was merely his mistress, and that the contract was a forgery. When the case was closed the judge's decision was in favor of Sarah, giving her one half of the senator's property and liberal alimony and counsel fees.

The decision drove Sharon nearly crazy. The long excitement of the trial and his crowning chagrin of defeat brought him to his bed, and he died a few months later. With his last breath the ex-senator told his heirs never to pay a penny. His property is valued at $10,000,000, and consists largely of real estate and mining property. All of Sarah Althea's lawyers took her case on a contingency, and each put up coin for the expenses of the trial. Judge Terry is the only one who got any substantial reward, and his fee came in the shape of the plaintiff, who married him about six months after the famous trial ended.

The British steamer Galgate, from Calcutta for New York, has been burned at sea. Her crew escaped in the boats, and were picked up by another vessel.

A communication from the public printer was read in the house on the 1st inst., in reply to a resolution calling for information in regard to discharges in his department. The reply was not deemed sufficient, and an investigation by the committee on printing was ordered.

Five masked robbers terribly burned a wealthy cattleman's hands in Indian territory, to make him tell where his money was. They got but a small sum, and at last accounts were being hunted down by lynchers.

A Famous Doctor

Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open. Has this eminent physician lived in our day, and known the merits of Ayer's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing.

The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for "Intermittent Fevers."

Dr. D. E. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."

Dr. Mayhew, of New Bedford, Mass., says: "Having prescribed many thousands of Ayer's Pills, in my practice, I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use."

The Massachusetts State Assayer, Dr. A. A. Hayes, certifies: "I have made a careful analysis of Ayer's Pills. They contain the active principles of well-known drugs, isolated from inert matter, which plan is, chemically speaking, of great importance to their usefulness. It insures activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. Ayer's Pills contain no metallic or mineral substance, but the virtues of vegetable remedies in skillful combination."

The Children's Home.

The annual meeting of the trustees of the Chase Home for Children was held on the evening of the 1st inst. From reports rendered the home is shown to be in a good condition, and doing an excellent work. While the income from all sources has been about $1800, the expenses have been increased during the past year, owing to the unusually large number of children cared for during that period; but notwithstanding this, all the bills have been paid and a balance is now in the treasury. T. Salter Tredick was elected president for the ensuing year; John S. Rand, secretary and treasurer; Miss Kate H. Hooper, treasurer of current expenses; Miss Lizzie M. Ayers, matron.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

THURSDAY, Feb. 2d.

Julia Carey, for drunkenness, was fined $5, costs $6.90, with a residence at the county farm in case the same should not be paid.

Charles H. Sides was complained of for a violation of the sidewalk ordinance, in neglecting to remove the snow from the sidewalk at the "circus field" on Middle street; there was no dispute as to the facts, and Mr. Sides was fined $3, costs being taxed at $5.76. He appealed, and gave bonds in the sum of $100 to prosecute the appeal.

First Remove the Beam From Thine Own Eye.

Mr. Editor: The city authorities, with commendable zeal, promise to see that all private individuals clean off their sidewalks, and have commenced by bringing a reputable citizen before the court and fining him for not cleaning the snow off a place where there never was a sidewalk. Would it not be well for the city to bring itself before the court, for not breaking out the streets? Broad street has been impassible for teams ever since the big storm, and milkmen serving customers on that street have to leave their teams on Lincoln avenue, and walk through to South street with a milk can and measure in their hands. In case of fire in that section, how would the fire engines reach the spot? B. S.

[Note. So far as the services of fire engines in that section are concerned, it makes no difference whether they can move around there or not. There are hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of combustible property in the "new part of the city," but not even a frog pond into which a suction hose could be put. A fire engine without water is of no especial value.—Ed.]

"Our Irish Visitors" Coming.

Our genial friends, Murray and Murphy, opened at Union Square for a week, September 18th, before a large and well-pleased audience. "Our Irish Visitors" has been somewhat changed since last seen here. It has been polished up in many ways, and is now fuller than ever with bright things. The fun went fast and furious, and the plaudits of the audience were hearty and frequent. The specialities secured marked attention. Murray and Murphy were at their best, and that means rollicking fun without measure. Marie Louise Day was seen to advantage. Addie Boos introduced a pleasing cornet solo, and Charles W. Young and James Reilley specialized cleverly.—New York Clipper.

Fairbanks, assignee, vs. Amoskeag National bank: appeal from District court. Case heard on motions to dismiss the appeal, on part of complainant, and for writ of certiorari, on part of defendant. The record of the District court having been produced by the complainant, the arguments were confined to the motion to dismiss. Decision reserved. Ward (of New York) for Fairbanks; Morrison, Briggs & Huse, for bank.

A Surprised Official.

On Friday forenoon, Jan. 27th, four tramps arrived at Dover in company, during the blizzard and snow blockade, and went to the police station in search of something to eat. Marshal Fogerty fed them on the best the place afforded, and after their hunger was appeased he was thunderstruck at their asking if he thought they could get work shovelling snow! He thought they could, and before noon all were hard at work, either for the city or on the railroad. That night they returned to the station for lodging, having bought their meals at the restaurants about town. The next day the same programme was continued, and so on up to Wednesday evening of this week, the tramps all working hard every day, and returning to the station to sleep. Wednesday evening the remarkable tramps told the marshal that they intended to leave Dover the next morning, they having saved some money, and work in their line having become dull. The marshal asked them if they intended to travel by rail, to which they replied that railroad travel was dangerous, and they considered it far safer to walk; so they walked,—leaving behind a city marshal whose astonishment has not yet wholly evaporated; it all seems like a dream to him.

Maritime Notes.

Capt. David R. Grogan, keeper of White Island light-station, came into port on Wednesday, the 1st inst., in the station boat. On the way in he spoke the British barque Maggie M., Haley master, bound from Provincetown for her home port, St. John, N. B., all well, and desirous of being reported. The barque was towed into Provincetown last September, waterlogged, and was condemned and sold to pay salvage claims and expenses; her former owners have since come into possession again, and she is now making her way home with what caution she may. She is out of water like a house, and is carrying nothing higher than her topsail yards.

The Gloucester fishing schooner Restless, engaged in the Georges bank fishery, foundered Jan. 28th; crew saved, and landed at Yarmouth, N. S.

The fishing vessels arriving at Gloucester all report severe weather on the banks for the past four weeks. The Lottie S. Morton lost mainboon, anchor and cable; the Everett Peirce, an anchor and most of her fishing gear; the Maud M. Story, anchor and cable; the Augusta H., dories and an anchor—all on Georges. The Lizzie J. Greenleaf lost two anchors and part of her cable; the Ralph F. Hodgdon, one anchor and seventy fathoms of cable; the Anna B. Cannon, two anchors and 300 fathoms of cable; the Laura Nelson, a dory and one anchor,—all on Grand bank.

The steamer Hampshire has arrived at New York from Yokohama, and reports having passed a number of huge logs, one of which struck her rudder, disabling it for several hours. Part of the Leary raft, probably.

Mr. Boucicault has no reason to complain of the size or quality of the throng which greeted him at Music hall on Thursday evening, nor at the manner in which they received the performance of the drama, "The Shaughraun," by his company. The house was filled with a representative Portsmouth audience, and the closest attention was paid to the play from beginning to end. There was no stop in the steady movement of the piece throughout the performance, although a large quantity of special scenery was used; the acting was all good, and much of it of a very high order of merit.

The People's Theatre Co., at Franklin theatre, will this evening present "The Lady of Lyons," with Miss Minnie Lester, who has won such favor here, as Pauline.

To-morrow afternoon at two o'clock a matinee performance will be given, admission 10 and 20 cents; and the engagement here will close with the performance to-morrow evening.

The operatta by the young people of the Unitarian and other churches of the city, announced to be given in Franklin theatre on Wednesday evening, Feb. 8th, has been postponed to Friday evening, the 10th, on account of other attractions in the city on the date first named.

The British schooner May Bent (not "Waybent," as first reported,) burned Jan. 20th near Seal Island while on the passage from Parrsboro, N. S., to Newburyport with a cargo of coal, was a new vessel of 111 tons register, having been launched last August.

The Dover Democrat remarks: "'Ten Nights in a Bar Room' was produced in Portsmouth last night. Some of the Dover boys think nothing of visiting ten bar rooms in one night, when they go down that way."

Capt. George R. Smith was on the 1st inst. appointed postmaster at Kennebunk, Me. He was selected for the place by Mr. Clifford, the Maine member of the democratic national committee.

Rev. J. S. Harrington of Elmira, N. Y., who has received a call to the Pearl street Freewill Baptist church, it is thought will accept.

The house and barn of Hiram Carson, on the Great Falls road in Dover, were destroyed by fire Feb. 2d. Loss $1200; small insurance.

One hundred miles of track on the California & Oregon railroad have been covered by a land slide. Either a wonderful slide or a magnificent lie.

THE BARBER'S OPINION.

"Some people think 'tis only made
For cleansing goods of heavy grade,
For washing down the walls or stairs,
The bureau, tables, and the chairs,
But folks do well to change their mind,
'Tis not to things like these confined,
And not alone the kitchen maid
And laundress prize its friendly aid;
I find it just the nicest thing
For toilet use and barbering.
The slightest touches will suffice
To make a foamy lather rise,
That holds the beard till smoothly laid,
However dull may be the blade.
In short, the tale is ever new
That tells what IVORY SOAP will do."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

The Purpose of Pain.

It is not conceivable—we offer it as a suggestion to be considered, and not as a theory to be accepted—that the object with which pain is sent into the world is not the development of man's moral nature so much as the development of his energy. Man can do one thing which God, from his very perfectness, cannot do, and that is, make an effort; and whatever the grand concealed purpose, a part of it must be that man should strive. We may not see what he can do by striving, or how he can add by striving to the store of force in the universe; but if he were not intended to strive, to develop will, and display energy, and make exertions, the world would surely have been made a very different one from what it is. It is always whipping him up, him and the animals, too.

There are only two forms of pain which are absolutely universal among sentient creatures, which men feel as strongly as women, and animals more keenly than both, and which human beings, whether refined or degraded, absolutely refuse to endure; and those two are hunger and thirst, the two grand impelling forces of the world. Without those two pains, there would be no world such as we know it. The wild animals would saunter away life doing nothing; the useful beast, released alike from hunger and the whip, would be worthless to man; and man himself, though he might reflect as well as saunter, would scarcely be brought to work.—The Spectator.

A Story About Jenny Lind.

I was too young to be an analyst of a voice or to know why one pleased me. But this I remember, that Jenny Lind afforded me a new and delicious sensation. Her singing so affected me that I burst out crying, and as it was thought that I cried because I was sleepy, I was (being too shamefaced to explain my feelings) sent to bed.

There was so little sleepiness in me and I was so vexed at the summary judgment passed upon me that I went on crying when I was in my cot. Jenny Lind, at the hour when the company was to go away, came into the room where I was. She saw me wide awake, and asked if I was the little sleepy child; then came over to me and whispered, "Why did you cry?" "Because your voice is so nice." She laughed and said, "That can't be. We only cry when things are ugly and unpleasant." I, thinking she considered me a little fibster, cried again, and then was able to get out, "The Babes in the Wood' is very nice to read, yet it makes me cry so fearfully that grandmamma has taken it from me and locked it up." Jenny Lind said, "You're a dear child. When I come back I'll bring you such a pretty toy, and sing on purpose for you." She never did come back, and so I never got the toy.—Cor. London Truth.

Warning to Art Collectors.

It is proper to warn art collectors against purchasing any Rembrandts, Durers or Raphaels which may stray into the market at present. A new scientific process of copying is said to have been applied to the pictures in the Esterhazy gallery at Pesth with startling results, and the fact has become a subject of investigation by the Hungarian congress.—Chicago News.

The decrease in the public debt for January amounts to $15,000,000.

R. Fellows, M. D., of Hill, N. H., says that he has made use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry for several years, and it has proved to be very reliable and efficacious in the treatment of severe and long-standing coughs. He says it saved the life of at least one of his patients.

No lives were lost in the great fire at Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 1st, all the 450 employes in Barnes, Hengerer & Co.'s dry goods store escaping; the total loss is now put at merely a million.

Croud, whooping cough, sore throat, sudden cold, and the lung troubles peculiar to children, are easily controlled by promptly administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This remedy is safe to take and certain in its action.

Senator Hawley has received a letter from Sergeant Stepniak, the well known revolutionist, protesting against the ratification of the proposed extradition treaty with Russia, by the senate. The ground of the opposition is that it would permit the extradition of political offenders.

For the relief and cure of the inflamation and congestion called a "cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail.

Startling Discovery.

The discovery by the inhabitants of a locality hitherto unvisited by the pestilent scourge of fever and ague, that it exists in their very midst, is decidedly startling. Such discoveries are made at every season, in every part of the Union. Subsequently, when it is ascertained, as it invariably is at such times, through the valuable experience of some one who has been benefitted and cured, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a thoroughly efficacious eradicator of the malarial poison, and a means of fortifying the system against it, a feeling of more security and tranquility reigns throughout the whole neighborhood. Besides the febrile forms of malarial disease, dumb ague and ague cake are removed by the potent action of the bitters, to which science gives its sanction as a remedy for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, debility, kidney troubles, and all diseases impairing the organs of digestion and assimilation.

During the month of January, twenty-seven certificates of organization of corporations were filed in the office of the secretary of state for Maine at Augusta. Each one paid to the state fifty-five dollars. More than one for each working day would be the average for the month of January.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. They are not only a positive cure, but a sure preventive if taken when the approach is felt. Carter's Little Liver Pills act directly on the liver and bile, and in this way remove the cause of disease without first making you sick by a weakening purge. If you try them you will not be disappointed.

DR. LUDWIG WOLF'S EXPLORATIONS.

Cannibalistic Warriors of Africa—A Village of Dwarfs—Wife Selling.

We little dreamed a few years ago that the Congo had such magnificent tributaries as have been discovered within a few years. Dr. Ludwig Wolf, the eminent African explorer, found that for a long distance the Sankuru is about three miles wide, with an average depth of nine feet. For 300 miles up the river Dr. Wolf met a great many canoes. Many of them were of enormous size, twice the length of his little steamer, and they easily accommodated eighty rowers. It was a picturesque sight to see these great canoes with their force of rowers all standing up and plying their paddles so effectively that they could far outstrip the steamer in speed. Of course, the white man and his puffing steamboat created immense excitement and astonishment, but very little fear was manifested. Some of the natives were inclined to be hostile, and one powerful tribe, the Bassongo Mino, confessed themselves to be cannibals. The colored cloths and trinkets displayed by the traveler excited their astonishment and envy, and, as Dr. Wolf declined to give all his pretty things away, they decided to take them without asking permission.

One morning some of these warriors were overheard talking the matter over. They said it would be very easy to kill the white man and his small party, chop them up for food, and seize the steamer and all the beautiful things it contained. One of Dr. Wolf's helpers, a large, fleshy man, excited their particular admiration, and they regarded him much as a farmer does a prize porker. As a preliminary to their scheme of serious hostility, they began to pick quarrels with the explorer's men. Their chief, Tongolata, became very insolent, and told Dr. Wolf he had him quite at his mercy. The explorer and his little force showed their guns to the natives, who merely laughed. They thought the guns as harmless as so many cudgels cut from a thicket, and in their ignorance did not regard them as weapons at all.

Dr. Wolf was now able to do what many another explorer has done when hostile savages, counting the little band of strangers whom they believed they had wholly in their power, have decided to destroy them. He simply paralyzed the natives by giving them a little idea of the mysterious properties of the shooting irons. While he was standing by the side of the saucy chief trying to placate that important savage, the explorer suddenly drew his revolver, held it close to the chief's ear, and discharged it. The effect was magical. The chief shivered from head to foot with fear. He had never had such a tingling in his ears before, and he took hold of them to see if they were still there. The big crowd of yelling, insolent, natives were struck dumb with astonishment and horror. It required the explosion of only one cartridge to convince the savages that these visitors were very superior beings who must be treated with due courtesy and respect. The politic chief at once pretended to be the explorer's most excellent friend, sent him a present of two chickens, and allowed him to go on his way unmolested.

One day when Dr. Wolf was tramping through a forest he suddenly came to a grassy opening and saw before him a large village of the Batua dwarfs, whom Stanley heard of when he first descended the Congo, though he did not see them. These curious little creatures, who are spread over a large extent of country south of the Congo, are very similar to the Akka dwarfs whom Schweinfurth discovered north of that river. They are timid little folks, and they would doubtless have run away if they had seen Dr. Wolf before he suddenly appeared among them. He found them living in mean looking grass huts. Around their village were many carefully covered pitfalls, nine to twelve feet deep, which they had dug for the purpose of catching any elephants, buffaloes and wild boars that might venture out of the forest to feed in the grassy glade where the dwarfs lived.

At first the dwarfs, quaking with fear, gazed on the white man from a distance, but finally they became quite friendly. They are a little over four feet high, are coffee brown in color, and are well shaped. They make no attempt to cultivate the soil, but live solely by hunting, with their bows and arrows and spears. They dry a good deal of meat, which they sell among the neighboring tribes for Indian corn, manioc, and other vegetable products. Lukengo, the king of one large tribe, keeps quite a number of Batua in his service, and it is their business to provide game and palm wine for the king's table. Dr. Wolf says they are exceedingly skillful in the management of their bows, arrows and spears.

The Baluba, whom Wolf and Wissmann found about 150 miles south of the junction of the Kassai and Sankuru rivers, are among the gentlest and most intelligent people who have been found in Africa. They have, however, one exceedingly bad practice. Dr. Wolf says that they have become very fond of guns since trading tribes who live nearer the white men have induced these weapons among them, and they will sell their daughters and even their wives to procure guns and ammunition. These people have many excellent proverbs and maxims, such as these: "Law is better than force," and "Life is better than wealth." They are regarded as being, in most respects, peculiarly amenable to civilizing influences. For all that, they support one of the greatest native slave markets in Africa, and Dr. Wolf says it will take a long time and strong civilizing influences before their devotion to the slave trade will cease. When Dr. Wolf told one Baluba chief that it was very wrong to sell his wives, the chief took him apart and explained to him in confidence that the Baluba never sold good wives, but only troublesome women, whom they couldn't get along with.—New York Sun.

The Only Remedy FOR Contagious Blood Poison.

Mr. D. B. Adams, Union, South Carolina, writes: "I was afflicted with a terrible case of blood poison for about thirteen months. I was treated by the best physicians, and used various kinds of remedies, but received no substantial relief. I finally tried the Swift Specific, and about four bottles cured me sound and well."

Col. S. H. Kieser, editor and proprietor of the Opelika, Ala., Times, under date of August 3, 1887, writes: "When I was a young man, through indiscretion, I contracted a disease which has stuck to me for years. Some five or six years since I was troubled with pains, so as to make it difficult for me to walk. Having advertised the S. S. S. in my paper for several years, I concluded I would try it to see if there was any efficacy in the medicine. I commenced using it according to directions and used half dozen bottles. I was once at a way station and, getting left, I walked the seven miles and have never felt any return of the old malady. After experiencing the good effects I must say I am satisfied with the result. I am sixty-eight years of age and I feel now like a young man and can go to the case when necessary and set up from six to eight thousand sms without any inconvenience. I send you this without solicitation."

Mr. F. Woehl, 211 North Avenue, Chicago, under date of June 12, 1885, writes: "I deem it my duty to inform you for the cure I received from your excellent medicine. I contracted a very severe case of blood poisoning about two years ago. Hearing of your medicine, I went to a drug store, the proprietor of which persuaded me to buy a preparation of his own, which he said was a sure cure. I used six bottles of his stuff and grew worse all the time. At last I got disgusted and despaired of a cure. I met a friend who told me that your medicine had cured him. I went to the same druggist again and demanded your medicine. He reluctantly sold me a bottle, and I am now perfectly cured. I write this for the benefit of sufferers, to prevent their being deceived by false representations. I thank you again for the benefit derived from your medicine."

Dr. J. N. Cheney, a prominent physician, residing in Etowah, Schley County, Georgia, in a letter recounting the infallible success he has in curing contagious blood poison cases in his extensive practice, writes: "Those who know the almost inevitable, permanently dangerous effects of mercury will welcome your discovery of S. S. S. as a boon to humanity. The medical profession, always wary of proprietary medicines, is coming slowly, and in some cases secretly, to the use of S. S. S. in cases of blood disorder. Of course a medicine that cures poisoning in its worst form must purify the blood of every disorder."

—"There's a $5 bill," said Dumley, looking at it dubiously, "that I'm afraid is bad. Some miserable scoundrel has passed it on me." "Why don't you take it to a bank, Dumley, and find out if it's bad?" "And have them stamp it 'counterfeit' if it is bad? Why I would never be able to get rid of it in the world."

Consumption and wasting in children, Scott's Emulsion is a most valuable food and medicine. It creates an appetite, strengthens the nervous system and build up the body. Opinions Change; Men Also.

Senator Ingalls, shortly after Mr. Cleveland's inauguration as president, wrote to a friend in Kansas a letter in which he drew a flattering pen picture of the president as he appeared to him on that date—the 25th of March, 1885. This letter has recently been published; and when a reporter called upon Senator Ingalls the other evening he laid aside a book he was reading and said:

"So you want some information about that letter, do you? Well, I hardly know what to tell you. I have no remembrance of having written such a letter. It is very probable, however, that I did. There is nothing in it that I am ashamed of. It contains my honest opinion of Cleveland after he had filled the presidential chair precisely twenty-one days. Now let us see."

Here Mr. Ingalls ran his eye over the letter as printed. As he glanced down the column he read aloud: "'He is self-possessed and confident, and exhibits no purturbation or timidity.' Humph! That sounds very familiar. I strongly suspect the letter is mine."

In this way Senator Ingalls finished the paragraph, keeping up the while a running comment in a half sarcastic vein until he had reached the conclusion. Then folding up the paper and leaning contentedly back in his chair, he said:

"I cannot understand why this letter was made public at this late day. It contains, as I have said, my opinion of Cleveland at the very beginning of his administration. But there is a wide difference between my opinion at that time and my careful, well considered judgment of the president after he has served for three years.

"I am quoted in my letter as saying, 'if Cleveland can stand the racket for the next twelve months he will bring his party to its knees and become a strong party leader.' Well, he didn't stand the racket. He tried to, but failed ingloriously. He has broken every promise he made before he entered the White House. In no single respect has he made good my prophecy that he had a great opportunity and evidently intended to improve it.

"His mental and political methods at the outset were as I have described them. He began well, but his party was stronger than he, and he was compelled to alter his plans.

"I presume the letter was made public in order to head off any criticism I may make on the floor of the senate, or in the campaign, of the president and his policy. I regard it as a dishonorable act on the part of the person to whom it was addressed, and he evidently so considers it also, as I notice he fails to allow his name to appear in connection with it."

Taste In Advertising.

Pictorial Illustrations Which Are Works of Art in Their Way.

For some months past a series af artistic advertisements has been running in the Chronicle and they will continue for some time to come. Reference is made to Messrs. Procter & Gamble's Ivory Soap advertisements. These devices for attracting the attention of the public to an article of commerce and daily household consumption are among the most agreeable to the eye, and generally the most artistic which it has been the pleasure of this paper to place before its readers in a long time. As pictorial illustrations they easily surpass the best book work of twenty years ago. They are simple in design, neat in conception, and clean and open in execution. In all these respects they are outside of and clean beyond the ordinary range of illustrations prepared for advertising. They are examined regularly, with a sense of pleasure, by people of taste, not only because they are intended to advance the special interest of the manufacturers of an extraordinarily valuable article of domestic use, but because they are neat and attractive in themselves. In a word, they are the best example presented to the public of how to work tasteful designs into the commonplace business of life. This paragraph is not written for the mere purpose of praising Ivory Soap, for that article speaks for itself to all who know a good thing when they see it, but it is written to call attention to the degree of taste which may be employed even on so plain a subject as soap. It demonstrates, to a skillful mind, that the business which it aims to promote is conducted with admirable skill, and cannot possibly have anything of the element of Cheap Johnism in it. The Ivory Soap people believe that whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well.

Alleged Dynamiters Sentenced.

Thomas Callan and Michael Harkins, the alleged American dynamiters, were on the 3d inst. convicted of being connected with a dynamite conspiracy, and sentenced to fifteen years penal servitude, in London.

Maritime Notes.

A despatch of Feb. 2d from Halifax says: "The refusal of the Canadian authorities to permit the disabled American schooners John J. Whittier and Moonlight to dispose of their cargoes of fish is a great hardship to the Americans. Both vessels suffered greatly in the recent severe storms, and put into Halifax for refuge. Both must be repaired, but the marine railway is frozen up and no vessel can be taken on the slip until it thaws out. Consul Phelan applied to the minister of customs at Ottawa to allow the Americans to sell their fish, but Mr. Bothwell promptly refused permission. The John G. Whittier will be run ashore to-day, and an effort made to repair her." If the Canacks think to force the American people to accede to Canada's demands by such proceedings as this, we think they will find themselves mistaken, although they are backed up by the democratic administration at Washington.

The shipwrecked crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner Etta Gott arrived at Rockland, Me., Feb. 3d, by the steamer Pioneer, bound for their homes in Gloucester, Mass. The vessel was driven on Big Spoon island, Me., while bound for Eastport for bait. The crew escaped to the shore, found a deserted cabin there, and got a stove and provisions from the wreck. They remained there a bitterly cold week. They were rescued by a party from York's island, who discovered them from a fire beacon they had been burning to attract attention. They remained upon York's island one week, and as soon as the ice would permit rowed from there in a dory to Vinalhaven.

The Canadian government has granted the distressed American vessels in Halifax, N. S., permission to sell their fish, according to a despatch of the 3d inst.

The Gloucester schooner Mystery, from Fortune bay, Newfoundland, with 600,000 frozen herring, struck on Bull rock, off Lockport, N. S., and is a total wreck. She was built in Kennebunk in 1884, registered 123 tons, and was insured $8556 on vessel and $1700 on cargo.

The steamer Blanche Henderson, from Jamaica with bananas and oranges, was sunk by ice within a few hundred feet of the wharf in Philadelphia on the 3d inst. The cargo will be a total loss.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

Leap Year Party.

A leap year party was given in Franklin hall on Friday evening by the "U. K. & I. K. Club," to which no lady was admitted without a ticket, and no gentleman without a "complimentary" unless accompanied by a female protector. There was a large attendance, and thirteen numbers on the order of dances were gone through with to the music of Medcalf's orchestra with much pleasure to all participating. At intermission supper was served in Mechanics' hall by Mr. C. P. Garvin, the name of the caterer being a sufficient guaranty of its excellence. The entire arrangements were in the hands of the ladies, and their management was a success in every point. The floor director was Miss Linnie Webber; assistant floor directors, Misses Lizzie Entwistle, Nellie McGraw, Anna Marr and Jennie Coffin; aids, Misses Helena Washburn, Lizzie McCarthy, Mame Fields, Florence Washburn, Bertha Green, Bertha Kimball and Maud Cushman.

A False Accusation.

The Chronicle and Post are kicking like Texas steers at the action of the city marshal in regard to his bringing before the police court yesterday morning a man who positively refused to shovel the snow from his walk, and intimate the action as being prompted from personal spite.—Times, Feb. 3d.

We have hitherto supposed that our paper was regularly left at the Times office, but from the wild and wholly groundless misstatements contained in the above extract we are led to believe that the Chronicle is not seen in that office. We have not in any manner commented, either in the way of approval or disapproval, upon the action of the city marshal in doing the duty he is sworn to faithfully perform; nor have we said anything which by any possibility of word-torturing can be construed into the imputation of unworthy motives to the marshal, or as in any way referring to his motives. It may not be out of place to suggest to our brethren of the Times that possibly a palpably unjust charge of dishonest and dishonorable conduct may be as unpleasant to us, when made by them, as it would be to the city marshal if made by us.

Knights of Pythias.

The 18th annual session of the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire, Knights of Pythias, was held in Dover on the 2d inst., and officers were elected as follows:

Past grand chancellor, E. K. Webster of Pittsfield; grand chancellor commander, Herman Manson of this city; grand vice chancellor, Oscar F. Kimball of Dover; grand prelate, C. W. Tuttle of Newmarket; grand master of exchequer, Curtis White of Concord; grand keeper of records and seals, Frank J. Pillsbury of Concord; grand master at arms, John Young of Rochester; grand inner guard, C. F. Locke of Lake Village; grand outer guard, L. M. Follansbee of Nashua; grand lecturer, Frank M. Bickford.

Franklin Theatre.

The People's Theatre Co., the excellent organization which has for two weeks past been giving choice dramatic representations in Franklin theatre at popular prices, ends the engagement there today. This afternoon at two o'clock there will be a family matinee, ten and twenty cents admission, and every purchaser of a reserved seat will receive a handsome song book as a gift; "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room" will be the play. This evening the attraction will be "Jack Shepard."

"Our Irish Visitors" Coming.

The tendency of the variety stage is towards playing in pairs or "teams." As the variety players struggled upward to the regular stage they carried this peculiarity with them, and devised characters in which they could appear together. At the Union Square theatre this system is now in full vogue. Murray and Murphy, two Irish comedians, play to each other, banging their mutual heads to the great delight of the audience, and having an elaborate duel in the dark, in which amid the booming of artillery, as it were, they both escape unhurt. From maudlin friendship to fiery combat is but a step; and in a few moments after, all is made up again, and the two friends are as loving as lambs. All this is very ridiculous and impossible, but very funny withal. The fun besides is lightened up by some fairly clever acting by other members of the company. One lady sings a dainty ballad very charmingly; another plays admirably a cornet solo; a dude sings a topical song about "Making Other Arrangements," winning the inevitable number of encores; a few rattling choruses, a cradle song in German dialect, and a vast amount of tumbling about the stage, make up the play known as "Our Irish Visitors," which "is not as deep as a well, nor as wide as a barn door. But it will serve." It keeps the audience constantly amused, and makes the house a scene of uninterrupted mirth. —N. Y. Music and Drama.

At Music hall next Monday evening; tickets now on sale at Goodrich's.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

FRIDAY, Feb. 3d.

Charles Allen and James McDonald, for drunkenness, were assessed $16.90 each—$10 for the drunk, and $6.90 for costs. After having been on a drunk of the size indicated by the size of the fine, it could hardly be expected they would have much money left; they are both in jail.

A snow slide from the roof of National block, about noon on Friday, shot across the narrow passage between that building and Winchester's block, and struck the latter at the second story, smashing in one window sash and all, and breaking glass in two other windows. The industrious Chinaman who runs the laundry in the lower story of the building thought Joss was after him.

A large pane of glass in a window of John H. Wells & Son's grocery store on Market street was on Friday morning found broken out of the sash, and circumstances indicated that the store had been entered, but nothing is reported as having been taken.

The captain of the fisherman, Starry Flag, of Gloucester, was arrested in this city yesterday afternoon on a charge of stealing trawls and fishing gear belonging to another fishing vessel. The officers, armed with a search warrant, searched the vessel and found a lot of gear, which they brought to the city marshal's office. It is doubtful if any action will be taken in the matter, as the captains will probably effect an amicable settlement.—Times, 3d inst.

The Andrew Jackson club of ward five met last night, and had a red-hot anti-administration meeting. We understand they indorsed the Daily Democrat's position, and also voted to appoint a committee to procure a hall for permanent quarters.—Dover Democrat.

USE

BREAD PREPARATION

IF YOU WANT

Delicious Biscuit, Cakes, Etc., that can be eaten hot without detriment,

The acid phosphate in this preparation supplies the vital phosphates essential to the system, and assists digestion. No other baking powder does this.

Dr. F. L. Benedict, of Portsmouth, says:

"I am satisfied that Horsford's Bread Preparation does increase the nutritive value of flour, and renders the bread more digestible. Brain worker especially are greatly indebted to you for this valuable preparation."

Dr. John J. Berry, of Portsmouth, says:

"Horsford's Bread Preparation has come under my observation, and I am familiar with the testimonials of its efficiency submitted. If it really supplies to the blood and tissues the necessary salts as claimed, it is worthy of commendation and general use."

Dr. H. F. Clark, of Portsmouth, says:

"We consider Horsford's Bread Preparation far superior to any baking powder in use, as it supplies the phosphates that are lost in making fine flour. We recommend it to all who appreciate good bread, and want the best."

Dr. S. C. Whittier, of Portsmouth, says:

"The theory of combining the phosphates in Horsford's Bread Preparation with the flour, thereby producing a flour similar to that of our grand fathers' days, is a correct one, and should be endorsed by every practioner in the interests of good health."

Dr. H. R. Parker, of Dover. says:

"Endorsing the theory, and owing to the presence of the phosphates therein, I give the preference to Horsford's Bread Preparation over all others for making bread."

Dr. J. H. Wheeler, of Dover, says:

"From what is known of the loss in phosphates in milling wheat, I am of the opinion that Horsford's Bread Preparation supplies a want which is not supplied bw any other preparation, and is, therefore, in many cases conducive to health."

Dr. A. J. Young, of Dover, says:

"The dentist is often asked why the teeth do not last as long as the rest of the body. There is no doubt that in separating the coarse, outer portion of the grain from the fine flour, the necessary tooth and bone nutritives are sacrificed, and thus the most essential life-sustaining elements which make and feed the bones, muscles and teeth are lost. Nature never intended this, but science comes to the rescue. In a great measure, Horsford's Bread Preparation supplies the deficiency by increasing the nutritive value of fine flour.

Dr. L. Chesley, of Exeter, says:

"I believe Prof. Horsford's baking powder a superior preparation, and worthy of universal patronage. We have long used it."

Dr. Wm. G. Perry, of Exeter, says:

"I have not tested practically Horoford's Bread Preparation, though intending so to do Theoretically I have no doubt that it is all that is claimed for it."

Dr. A. H. Varney, of South Newmarket, says:

"My wife has used Horsford's Bread Preparation for several years with excellent results. It far excels any other baking powder she ever used. I can recommend it to all lovers of good and healthful food."

Dr. Charles A. Morse, of Newmarket, says:

"Horsford's Bread Preparation is undoubtedly the best baking powder in the market. Years of of observation add experience have taught me this."

Dr. J. Low Elkins, of Newmarket, says:

"Horsford's Bread Preparation is scientifically correct, and must suppl a long needed addition to the economy of bread making."

A Stab in the Dark

Sometimes fails of the murderous intent. The insidious and dastardly attacks made upon the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by persons who seek to palm off cheap and fiery tonics as identical with it, or "the same thing under another name," or "equally as good," in most instances react disastrously upon the unprincipled traders upon popular credulity who attempt them, converting their speculations into ruinous failures. The bitters is a pure, wholesome and thorough medicine, adapted to the total cure and prevention of fever and ague, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles. Its every ingredient, unlike those in the imitations of it, is of an ascertained standard of excellence, and while they, by reason of their fiery properties, react injuriously upon the brain and nervous system, of both those organs it is a sedative and invigorant. Refuse all these harmful imitations.

Secretary Searles of the "sugar trust" is said to have gone to San Francisco to arrange a compromise with Claus Spreckles.

Make Hay while the Sun Shines.

The druggists have just received a fresh invoice of Hop Ointment, that infallible cure for chapped hands and lips, sore nose and cold cracks. Every one is buying it, so get your supply ere it is exhausted. 25 cents. Cure warranted. Never fails.

The St. John, N. B., board of trade last week passed a strong resolution against subsidizing with Canadian money steamship lines making their terminals in American ports.

No other medicine is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for the cure of coughs, colds, and all derangements of the respiratory organs. It relieves the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advanced stages of disease.

A bloody fight occurred last week at the People's college at Pikeville, Tenn., in which William Senter was dangerously stabbed by Peter Angel. Both young men are students of the college, and the trouble was caused by several of the students hazing Angel.

Have you a cough, cold, pain in the chest, or bronchitis? In fact, have you the premonitory symptoms of consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which, in many cases, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

A fire which caused much excitement in the hospital for ruptured and crippled children in New York on Sunday evening, Jan. 29th, and resulted in one death, and many instances of humane heroism on the part of the little cripples, was deliberately set by one of the inmates, May Wilson, who is only eleven years old.

Have no equal as a prompt and positive cure for sick headache, biliousness, constipation, pain in the side, and all liver troubles. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Try them.

A canal in California which has been five years building, and will irrigate over 250,000 acres of land, has been opened.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, guaranteed to those using Carter' Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Don't forget this. Price 25 cents.

An Owensboro, N Y., wedding was last week rudely interrupted by an officer, who arrested the bridegroom for robbery.

TERRIBLE

are Kidney and Liver diseases, and when once they have secured a firm hold on the human system there is no time to be lost if life is to be saved. Many remedies have been tried, but none have been so successful as Ath-lo-pho-ros. Numerous unsolicited testimonials have proved that Ath-lo-pho-ros has cured these diseases when physicians and all other remedies had failed. Backache, pain in the side, dullness, weariness, and headache, are often symptoms of these fearful diseases. Athlophoros, in connection with Athlophoros Pills, will give speedy relief. If your druggist doesn't keep them, write to

OH, WHAT A COLD!

This is the season for sudden changes in the weather, and a great many "take cold" either in their Head or on their Lungs, causing Coughs, Hoarseness, and Sore Throat. These troubles can be soon relieved and cured by taking Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs, entirely removing these difficulties.

Cured his boy of Croup.

C. M. BROOKS, Lowell, Mass., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific as a cure for Coughs, Colds, and Croup. I used it in my family last winter with the best results. Two or three doses cured my little boy of Croup, for which I am very thankful."

You can cure that Cough in a short time. You can cure your Catarrh if you persist in its use, as it will stop the secretion of Catarrhal matter in the head; it will relieve Croup in from three to five minutes.

The best he ever saw.

"The best medicine for Coughs and Consumptive Complaints that ever I saw is Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific," so says JOHN MCLAUGHLIN, of Boston.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

OREGON WILD CATTLE.

The Strange Breed That Inhabits the Top of the Umpqua Mountains.

"California sportsmen can now go up to Oregon and shoot wild cattle," said John Day, an Umpqua mountain pioneer, referring to the completion of the railroad. "It is a fact that there are hundreds of wild cattle in the high hills skirting the Umpqua valley, and some of them are not more than a couple of miles from the railroad track. Some of these cattle, too, are 25 years old or more. In the mountains near Riddles and Rosebud they are probably the thickest, but they do not venture down in the valley much. They stay in the tops of the hills and get water from the living springs which rise there. For the most part they are concealed in the dense growth of oak and fir in these mountains. There is heavy underbush, too, so that it is a hard matter to get on to them. They go in bands of six or eight usually, but at night a herd of forty or fifty get together and lie down in the same yard—that is, they sleep on the same spot, which is usually a secluded place among the trees. A band of wild cattle have been known to get together on a cleared place like this every night for a couple of years.

"When feeding there are always a few bulls to act as sentinels. While the cattle graze in bands of half a dozen or so, they are nevertheless close to other bands, so that at any alarm from any one of the bulls, which leisurely feed on higher ground, they all run away together.

"The cattle are of all colors and wilder than deer. It is a hard matter to get a shot at them for the reason that their scent is so keen. They can smell a man a long distance off. They got wild in 1853 when the old man Riddles and two or three others of the first settlers came to the valley. Their cows wandered off and could not be found. After two or three years, all the pioneers had to do when they wanted beef was to rig out two or three pack animals and go up into the mountains. The cattle had to be killed on sight the same as deer or bear, for they could no more be driven down than deer could. Once killed they were quartered, packed on the horses, and carried down. They have been hunted a good deal of late years, so that there are not as many as there used to be.

"Some of the cattle are very large and fat. I have caught glimpses of bulls in the top of the Umpqua hills that astonished me. A bull I saw in the fall of '78 on the head of the Rogue river I am certain would weigh 1,400 pounds. There is good grazing in the mountains all the year round. A peculiarity about these cattle is that their eyes and horns are jet black. The retina, iris and the whole apple of the eye are one mass of black. You can't distinguish any difference in any part of it. The horns, too, while being black as ink, are long and very sharp. Brought to bay, the Oregon wild cattle are very wicked fighters."—San Francisco Examiner.

Old Times in Louisiana.

Those "society balls" were conducted with great propriety and reserve. The claim of every person of both sexes to be admitted having been previously determined by the responsible and trusty committee, there was a sort of temporary and conventional equality on the terpsichorean floor, and, therefore, every gentleman had the privilege to invite a lady without the formality of an introduction to figure in the dance as his partner. After it was over he escorted her back respectfully to her seat, without presuming, if unknown and not duly presented, to remain standing before her, or to sit by her side, to continue the conversation or prolong the accidental acquaintance.

During the intervals of dancing the gentlemen walked up and down between the rows of ladies that densely lined the hall, some merely bowing as they passed to those whom they knew and others stopping to converse. No woman, married or single, joined in this promenading with a male companion, as is the custom in these present days, and the eye of a lynx could not have detected the slightest flirtation. The word itself was not known, for the thing it means is for Louisiana a modern invention, which had not then been patented and brought out for public use. In fact, this peculiar pastime would have been impossible to attempt. It would have produced a social earthquake.—American Magazine.

The Color of the Sea.

Artists always seem at a loss to deal with the color of the sea, and few are those who please the public. Professor Tyndall has come to their aid. He recognizes three principal hues in sea waves—blue, green and yellow. Solid particles held in the water act as minute mirrors reflecting the light which penetrates the liquid. The rays which are sent out, after having traversed only a thin stratum of water, preserve their yellow parts; but if the reflections are attenuated the water appears green; and if they do not exist at all, the sea being clear and free from muddy matters, the color is deep blue. In an indigo sea the crest of the waves will appear green on account of their lack of thickness. Seaweed, animalcules and other local or accidental causes may have much influence on the color of the water.—Court Journal.

Finishing a Buffalo.

I saw an old Indian, over 60 years of age, apparently, following a buffalo that was just able to drag himself along with three arrows in his side. The old man's quiver was empty, and he was impatient to finish him. He slid cautiously from his pony, and, stealing up behind the buffalo, sprang forward, snatching one of the arrows from his side and sending it quick as a flash into his heart.—L. B. Platt in The Cosmopolitan.

A Democratic Set-Back.

A cold wave has struck the democracy of the house of representatives. These men who a short time since were ready to go any length to evict White, representative from Indiana, an almost lifelong citizen who had fought in the war and been long identified with the interests of his state, now find that several of their fellow democrats as precariously hold their seats while they cannot produce certificates of naturalization! Then too there came from the city of New York a party ukase forbidding, in terms unmistakable, the proposed interference with the rights of the adopted citizens in this respect, as it would prove a destructive boomerang to the democracy.

In this connection we cannot refrain from expressing our appreciation of the admirable manner in which Massachusetts' new representative, Henry Cabot Lodge, has performed his duty as the leading member on the part of the minority of the committee on elections. Mr. Lodge showed himself to be entirely capable of an early perception of the weakness of the case of the contestant in this case. Massachusetts as well as the country may well be proud of the addition to the delegation from the Bay State. It is gratifying to the New England people to note that Mr. Lodge is likely to become as noted in statesmanship as he has been famous in literary pursuits.

Trouble at the Coal Mines.

At Shenandoah, Pa., on Friday, the Reading coal company started four of their collieries with a small force of hands in each. When the new hands left work Friday night they were attacked by a large mob of striking Poles and Hungarians, and a fight ensued between the strikers and the police who were escorting the workers, a number of shots being fired and five of the rioters wounded, several of the officers being roughly handled, and some of the workers brutally abused.

On Saturday Capt. Dan Christian, of the coal and iron police, was on hand with twenty-five men to protect the laborers from the attacks of the strikers, should such be made. Attacks were made, by thousands of Poles, on the breaker-boys when they left work, but the coal and iron police quickly rescued the boys, and the workmen from the collieries then started toward their homes. The mob attempted to assault them also, but the coal and iron police fought coolly and with good judgment, and the workers escaped without much harm, three of the officers and seven of the Poles being dropped by bullets during the fight. The town police amounted to nothing in checking the riotous proceedings. The Poles are a hardy, ignorant, degraded set, living thirty to fifty in a house, and knowing no law save that of force; the Hungarians are little if any better. Three fire companies of Shenandoah were on Saturday night sworn in as special constables, and armed; and state troops were called for by the authorities to be on hand on the 5th inst., to prevent further disturbance.

It was hoped that the presence of the blue uniform and the stars and stripes would prevent any further outbreak; but some feared that the sight would provoke the foreigners to greater excesses. If there is any place in the United States where the national uniform and flag cannot appear without provoking lawlessness on the part of foreigners, it will be well to know it.

Shocking Affair.

The six children of Lester Singletary, a colored man of Clarendon county, South Carolina, were burned to death last Thursday night. The parents locked them up in the house about seven o'clock and went off to a negro church about two miles away, where a religious revival was in progress. During their absence the house caught fire and was burned to the ground, the six children perishing in the flames.

Mrs. Hendricks, who does not receive a pension, complains that she is ill used, because her husband, the late vice president, "gave the whole of his life to the service of the democratic party." It would have been far better if the deceased politician had made this sacrifice for his country rather than for the ungrateful democracy.

The democrats oppose further reduction in the rates of postage, because it would increase the carriage of letters. With so many new and incompetent men in the places of long experienced mail handlers, the post-office department makes a sorry showing of its inefficiency all over the country, and it cannot stand an increase of mail matter.

The secretary of the navy has decided to allow the first payment of ten per cent on gunboat No. 2, the Petrel, now building at Baltimore, though she is hardly more than one-tenth completed, and the contract for her completion expired Dec. 22d. It makes a great difference in Reformer Whitney's treatment of a contractor, whether the contractor is a pet of his own or was a friend of a former secretary.

Captain Ritchie, of the State Line steamer State of Indiana, was presented last Friday at Glasgow, Scotland, on behalf of President Cleveland, with a gold watch and chain, and Mr. Campbell, the first officer of the State of Indiana, with a binocular glass, for saving the crew of the ship Triumphant, of Boston, which was abandoned at sea on August 28th of last year, while on a voyage from Liverpool for Boston.

New Hampshire Items.

Mrs. Annie L. Marshall of Rochester, whose husband accused her of attempting to poison him last summer, but afterwards admitted the charge was false, has applied for a divorce.

Mrs. Charles F. Horne of Rochester has sued the town for $1000, claiming damage to her property near Rochester hill, from overflow of water from the highway.

Lee Senter, the fifteen-years-old son of Erastus L. Senter of Exeter, and a student at Phillips academy, was injured two weeks ago while tobogganing, and on Saturday was reported to be in a critical condition.

All the lasters in Morgan & Dore's shoe factory at Pittsfield went out Friday, on account of the introduction of Reece lasting machines into the shop.

Rev. W. R. Thompson has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church in New Ipswich, and Rev. J. M. Coburn of Greenville is at present preaching to them, in addition to his home work.

Rev. Charles Parkburst, for two years past in charge of St. John's Methodist church in Dover, has been chosen editor of Zion's Herald, the organ of the Methodist denomination.

A Maine paper says: "Two fine summer residences are building on Gerrish's island, in the town of Kittery, the first step toward opening up an attractive and sightly spot for summer-resort purposes." We should think that the great improvements made in recent years on the Burnham place, the "Champernowne farm" of Mr. Thaxter, and the Goodwin farm, as well as the construction of the new road and the fine Goodwin bridge, might be counted as steps in that direction, not to mention the building of the Pocahontas hotel at Pocahontas point, and its enlargement after the close of its first season.

The canvass in behalf of Ex-Attorney General Cleaves for the republican nomination for governor of Maine is becoming very spirited, he having already secured a large and enthusiastic following in York and Cumberland counties. His name is also favorably mentioned in Piscataquis county.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "These bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Found Dead.

Mr. William Pettigrew of Newcastle was found dead in bed at his home on Sunday morning. He lived alone in a small house near the breakwater, and when found was lying on the bed partly dressed. His cat was also dead in the room, and it is supposed both were suffocated by coal gas, the damper of the stove being found shut. The body was given in charge of Mr. Jossah F. Adams, by whom it was brought up to No. 63 Pleasant street, this city, the residence of Mr. Pettigrew's nephew, Augustus F. Spinney. The deceased was aged fifty-nine years and eleven months.

At Music Hall To-Night.

This evening, at Music hall, Murray & Murphy appear in their hilarious absurdity "Our Irish Visitors," supported by a company of specialists unsurpassed in their several lines. It is not claimed for this "play" that it has great literary or dramatic merit, but that it is full of fun from first to last. Tickets at Goodrich's; see advertisement.

Parties in town on Saturday from near Rye Centre reported the roads in very bad condition. From the Centre to Foss' corner, on Sagamore road, it was possible to keep in a sleigh most of the time, by keeping a firm hold on the sides or back; but from that corner to Sagamore bridge the road was practically impassible, and the Rye travel all turned into Rye road, and reached the city finally by way of Lafayette road, which was in much better condition. A great amount of labor and money would be required to put the roads in fair condition even, the snow drifts being almost as solid as ice.

Mr. Henry H. Ham is removing from his present store in Plumer's building on Congress street to the store on Daniel street recently occupied as an office by the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co.

Part of the roof of the old iron foundry on Mechanic street was crushed in Sunday afternoon, by the weight of the snow upon it.

The young ladies of Kittery employed in the Portsmouth Shoe factory will give a Leap Year party in Trefethen hall, Kittery, on Monday evening, Feb. 13th.

New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., of this city, will celebrate its 42d anniversary on Wednesday evening, Feb. 15th, by a supper and entertainment in Odd Fellows' hall.

The cradle-holes in the streets are more numerous and pronounced than we remember them to have been for some years past. A good deal of work has been done under direction of the street commissioner since the big snow storm, but a good deal remains to be done.

Rev. J. S. Harrington of Almira, N. Y., has accepted a call to become pastor of the Pearl street church in this city, and will commence his duties April 1st.

The large clock in the lofty tower of the Eldredge Brewing Co.'s brewery was illuminated for the first time on Friday night of last week; it is a Harvard clock with four dials, and is lighted by electricity. To the observer at a distance the clock appears to be about three times as high above the ground as the other electric lights on the premises.

Sir Thomas Esmonde and Hon. John Stuart, members of parliament, and Hon. John J. Donovan of Lowell, will address our citizens on Tuesday evening in Music hall, on the condition of Ireland and the struggle now being made by its friends. Admission free, and everybody invited.

Rev. C. B. Pitblado, formerly pastor of the Methodist church in this city, is reported to have received a call from a church at Winnipeg, Manitoba, at a salary of $3000, and parsonage.

We received a call on Saturday from Mr. Julius Cahn, advance agent of the "Held by the Enemy" company, which will appear in Music hall next Friday evening. Mr. Cahn reports great success for the company on the eastern circuit.

The snow and rain, and partial thaw, of Saturday night and Sunday forenoon, made the sidewalks in a little worse condition than they were previously; this feat did not seem possible, but it was accomplished.

The city has purchased fifty naphtha street lamps of William B. Berry & Co., of Boston, and will place them in various localities about the city where they are most needed.

Lieut. Comdr. George E. Wingate, U. S. N., of this city, was on Jan. 30th nominated to the senate for promotion to be a commander from May 26th, 1887.

A heavy slide of snow and ice from the roof of the Unitarian church, shortly after midnight Saturday night, jarred the entire neighborhood. There being none but good people residing in that vicinity nobody was scared, unless perhaps some of the firemen or city teamsters may have feared they were sent for.

On the arrival in this city of the Pullman train from Boston at nine o'clock last Thursday night, one of the equalizing rods of the mail car was found to be broken, and the twelve tons of mail matter had to be transferred to a baggage car before the train could proceed on its way east, after an hour's delay.

A team of six yoke of big oxen, hauling a sled, with a drag and a harrow hitched on behind, went down Sagamore road and Wentworth road to the hotel Wentworth at Newcastle on Saturday, to break out the road. The turnout belonged to Hon. Frank Jones, and the cause of its being sent out was the capsizing of a load of hay the day previous on its way to the Wentworth.

Now is your time to buy an overcoat, ulster, reefer, cardigan jacket, underwear, etc., cheap, as Mr. Charles E. Simpson has reduced the price on all such goods from twenty to thirty per cent, at the old stand, corner of Market & Bow streets.

A Butterfly Party will be given by the ladies of the Universalist Social Circle on Tuesday evening, the 7th inst., in the vestry of the church; admission fifteen cents, supper twenty-five.

Navy Yard Notes.

Secretary Whitney has appointed an Italian, an ice-cream dealer, to a position in the civil department of the Boston navy yard, in a place long held by a former captain in the Union army. It is supposed that the man from sunny Italy "froze out" the hero of the war, who is set adrift in defiance of the law in such case provided. But Mr. Collins must have the clerks on the navy yard if he cannot be given the marshalship.

Fifteen laborers in the department of yards and docks were discharged on Saturday evening.

The status of navy paymaster's clerks has been defined in some respects by recent decisions of the United States supreme court, but in others remains as peculiar as ever. For the purpose of longevity pay under the act of 1883, and for trial by court martial, a paymaster's clerk is, according to the highest judicial tribunal, an officer of the navy; but according to the same authority, he is not an officer within the meaning of the mileage law. The question therefore still remains, is a paymaster's clerk an officer, an enlisted man or a civilian? Until this question is decided the return of Paymaster's Clerk Richard H. Paine, formerly of this city and the Portsmouth navy yard, may not be expected.

Valentine Party.

The Woman's Independent Relief Corps will give a Valentine Party in Rechabite hall on the evening of Feb. 14th.

MRS. F. M. RANDALL, Sec.

Personal.

Mr. Benjamin Russell and wife arrived home last Saturday after a three months' visit in Boston.

Mr. Albert L. Stringer of Kansas City, Mo., arrived in this city on Saturday for a brief stay. Mrs. Stringer has been here for a couple of weeks.

A York County Romance.

The Biddeford Times of Feb. 3d recites the following beautiful little story:

Late last fall a girl named Mary McNally, whose parents live in this city, disappeared one night from the home of a Saco family where she was doing housework. She retired at the usual hour that night, but in the morning no response came to the summons at her door, and from the appearance of the room it was found that she had not spent the night there. Her parents in this city were considerably alarmed about the matter, but having no money to expend in an investigation, nothing was done about it except to advertise in the local papers for information concerning the missing girl. What seemed singular about her leaving home was that she took no clothing with her save what she wore.

To-day the girl's whereabouts were learned. The night she left Saco she went to the home of Norris Emmons, near Beaver pond, Kennebunkport, and there engaged to do housework. While there, it is said, she became infatuated with the hired man, and was one of the principals in a little love-making episode which came near costing the young man his life. The story goes that they got into a dispute about some trivial matter, and an unpleasantness arose which resulted in a pitched battle in which the hired man came out much the worse. The despondency over his defeat reached down to his heart-strings. He made up his mind then and there that life wasn't worth all the worry and work which it costs, and he started out to the barn, where he procured a rope, and was in the act of becoming his own executioner when his plans were stepped on by members of the family, and the rope taken away from him.

Whether Mary's love for him was brought out by the young man's attempt at suicide, or whether she had been keeping him on the hot griddle of despondency just for the sake of teasing him, nobody knows; but very shortly after the rope-pulling contest Mary and the hired man became engaged, and are, it is said, soon to be married.

Among the recent transfers of real estate in York county, as left for record in the office of the register of deeds, are the following: York—Charles M. Rolfe of Boscawen, N. H., to Abial W. Rolfe of Concord, N. H., real estate in York for $150; Abial W. Rolfe to Maria L. Rolfe of Boscawen, N. H., real estate in York for $300. South Berwick—Lyman Tibbetts of Berwick to Napolean Normondeau of South Berwick, real estate in South Berwick for $150. Wells—Bion E. Tripp of Wells to E. A. Tibbetts & Son of Great Falls, N. H., real estate in Wells for $85; John F. Shapleigh of Dover, N. H., to Laura E. Warren of Wells, real estate in Wells for $2000.

The ice which is being housed at Biddeford and Saco, cut from the river, is twenty inches thick.

The Dover police have had their pay raised twenty-seven cents a day.

"LIKE as it were a moth that fretteth the garment," so will the free alkali, to which many powerful soaps owe their strength, destroy your children's clothing. Professor Silliman, of Yale College, says, "The IVORY SOAP is of remarkable purity. . . . . as a laundry soap it has no superior."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

The Strike a Failure.

The Reading miners' joint strike committee has authorized the resumption of work at any individual colliery conceding the eight per cent advance, stipulating only that the coal shipped shall be diverted from the Reading railroad at the nearest possible point. The Reading company had thirteen collieries at work on the 2d inst., and others were started up on the 3d and 4th, while many individual collieries were under full work. The backbone of the strike has evidently lost all stiffness, and the strike is practically at an end.

"My son, when you go to the city, get you a Bicycle, some tight pants, some tooth-pick shoes, and a slender cane, but with all your gettins don't fail to get a bottle of Salvation Oil, for "pride (you know) goeth before a fall."

Fifteen hundred colliery operatives are on a strike at Cornwall, Canada.

Marry your Sons when you will, your Daughters when you can,

But in either case counsel them to use nothing but Hop Ointment for chapped hands and lips, sore nose, cold cracks and rought pimply skin. Never fails. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents, or mail stamps to Hop Co., New London, Conn.

Mrs. Hendricks, who swindled Philadelphia people out of $100,000, has been arrested and awaits examination.

Do not suffer from sick headache a moment longer. It is not necessary. Carter's Little Liver Pills will cure you. Dose, one little pill. Small price. Small dose. Small pill.

William D. Howells and wife have left Buffalo permanently, and will take up their residence in New York.

Mrs. Chas. Smith of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

A Catholic church, parish school and priest's house at Winfield, L. I., were burned last week.

The great popular remedy of the day for coughs, colds, asthma, and all lung difficulties, is Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Inexpensive, reliable, pleasant to take, cures as by magic, and gives universal satisfaction. A trial is the best testimonial.

Mr. Homer F. Harmon, an uncle to President Cleveland's wife, died in Boston last Friday.

There are many hair preparations in the market, but none have so desirable effect upon the hair and scalp, as Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

The Williamstown, Mass., board of health denies that there is typhoid fever there.

"My little son, three years of age, was terribly afflicted with scrofula. His head was entirely covered with scrofulous sores, and his body showed many marks of the disease. A few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured him."—W. J. Beckett, Hymera, Ind.

A new county is proposed for Massachusetts, with the county seat at Framingham.

I suffered from a very severe cold in my head for months and used everything recommended, but could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week and I believe it is the best remedy known. Feeling grateful for what it has done for me I send this testimonial.—Samuel J. Harris, wholesale grocer, 119 Front street, New York. Two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm cured the wife of a well-known U. S. A. General and also two army officers in Arizona of catarrh.

Charles Alberts, a colored man who lived alone in West Gardiner, Me., and had received aid from the town, was found dead in a pasture on the 2d inst., with a kerosene can and shovel beside him. He was probably frozen to death during the storm of Jan. 26th and 27th, while trying to reach a neighbor's house to borrow some kerosene.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

Mr. Cox, nationalist member of parliament, in prison at Limerick, Ireland, put on the jail dress without protest, and went to work in the prison yard chopping wood and doing other labors of the ordinary criminals.

Covetousness in disguise. The wonderful success of James Pyle's Pearline has given rise to a flood of imitations with an "ine" to their names, evidently to have them sound like pearline. Enterprises of this sort are quite liable to be more selfish than beneficial.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. mon,wed,fri,eoj1ll

Cure Your Corns,

BY USING

SCHLOTTERBECK'S

CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT.

A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

A Stab in the Dark

Sometimes fails of the murderous intent. The insidious and dastardly attacks made upon the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by persons who seek to paint off cheap and fiery tonics as identical with it, or "the same thing under another name," or "equally as good," in most instances react disastrously upon the unprincipled traders upon popular credulity who attempt them, converting their speculations into ruinous failures. The bitters is a pure, wholesome and thorough medicine, adapted to the total cure and prevention of fever and ague, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles. Its every ingredient, unlike those in the imitations of it, is of an ascertained standard of excellence, and while they, by reason of their fiery properties, react injuriously upon the brain and nervous system, of both those organs it is a sedative and invigorant. Refuse all these harmful imitations.

The Boston party of Raymond excursionists arrived in the City of Mexico last Saturday night. The trip was made without accident, and the party are enjoying good health.

Make Hay while the Sun Shines.

The druggists have just received a fresh invoice of Hop Ointment, that infallible cure for chapped hands and lips, sore nose and cold cracks. Every one is buying it, so get your supply ere it is exhausted. 25 cents. Cure warranted. Never fails.

The annual reunion of the alumnæ of Vassar college at New York, Saturday night, was well attended by delegates from all the large cities except Boston.

No other medicine is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for the cure of coughs, colds, and all derangements of the respiratory organs. It relieves the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advanced stages of disease.

Three boys, brothers, the oldest aged twelve and the youngest seven years, were found dead drunk on a bridge in Boston last Sunday. They are all in a critical state.

Have you a cough, cold, pain in the chest, or bronchitis? In fact, have you the premonitory symptoms of consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which, in many cases, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

C. C. Farwell & Co., shoe manufacturers of Danvers, Mass., have failed; liabilities $200,000.

Have no equal as a prompt and positive cure for sick headache, biliousness, constipation, pain in the side, and all liver troubles. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Try them.

Mrs. Ralph Waldo Emerson heads the woman suffrage petition sent to the Massachusetts legislature this year from Concord, Mass., and all the clergymen of the town are among the signers.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, guaranteed to those using Carter' Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Don't forget this. Price 25 cents.

Dr. S. S. Adams, of the Children's Hospital at Washington, recommends the establishment of training schools for nursery-maids.

Doctor Yourself

And save money, and perhaps your life. Send three two-cent stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy of Dr. Kaufmann's Great Medical Work, 100 pages, elegant colored plates.

The Nebraska State Grange, at its late meeting in Grand Island, passed strong woman suffrage resolutions.

Mrs. Adelaide R. Kenney has been chosen a director of the Genesese County bank, of Batavia, N. Y. The local papers speak of her as thoroughly acquainted with business, and qualified not only for director, but for president, if called upon to fill that position.

A Fortunate and Grateful Woman.

Mrs. J. H. Giles of Everett, Pa., says: I suffered for many years from Kidney and Gravel trouble. Besides, I had other complaints common to my sex. THE MIRAGE.

They tell us what when weary travelers deem
They view through quivering heat across the sand
Great rocks for shadow in a weary land,
And clustering palms, and, fairer yet, the gleam
Where smiles in light to laugh in sound the stream,
This is no work of some enchanter's wand,
But that reflected here true visions stand
Of far off things that close beside them seem.

So, worn with life's hot march, when near at hand
A happier world we see upon us beam,
Where death and parting need not be our theme,
None there by toil forethought, by grief unmanned,
Prophets of science, hush your stern command,
Oh! bid us not to hold it all a dream.

CLAD IN SHELLS OF STEEL.

Manner in Which the Finest Armors Were Made by Skilled Artisans.

The finest armors were made from 1440 to 1460. They were marvels of suppleness, lightness and elegance. The iron shell was modeled on the body beneath it and followed every movement of the torso and limbs, protecting without confining them; the steel envelope had become individual and was, like hose and jerkin, made for its wearer, instead of the clumsy greaves of the Fourteenth century, made to fit any man.

In these leg pieces, carefully articulated at the thigh and above the knee, personal peculiarities appear—legs slightly bowed and more or less heavily muscled at the calf; in the flexible corselet the body enjoyed comparative freedom; under the armet or round helmet the head turned easily; the pointed toes of the sollerets could be unfastened in a moment if the knight was obliged to dismount; the gauntlets were as supple as silk gloves, and the weight of the whole armor, composed of very thin plates of well tempered steel, was so carefully distributed that it appeared comparatively light. This armor, molded on the forms of the body beneath it, composed of polished steel, was the "white harness" so often mentioned by the chroniclers. In France it was worn without ornament, but the Italians decorated it with lions' heads and antique masks; a little later the armorers of Nuremberg, then very popular in France, introduced fluted steel—it was stronger, not heavier, and offered more resistance to lance thrusts than the smooth metal. Many beautiful specimens remain of this Maximilian armor, as it was called.

No further progress was possible; comparative lightness, resistance, convenience and elegance of form had been attained. After this time the shape of helmet and corselet was varied according to individual caprice or the latest fashion, and the steel was gilded and ornamented; but armor, having attained its complete development, steadily declined.—Scribner's Magazine.

Mr. Depew's After Dinner Speech.

It is 9 o'clock now. We are in Delmonico's, and Mr. Depew is at the center of a long table on the raised dais at the end of the room.

Suppose we remain and see how the speech is prepared that we shall read tomorrow in all the morning papers, and which will convulse with laughter this evening a roomful of lucky guests. The half hour's play has done more to dissipate the fatigue of the day than any tonic that was ever brewed. Now that everything is quiet the preparation is begun. The subject of the speech is carefully considered and the points which are to be made are fixed in logical order in the speaker's mind.

"Are no notes to be made?" you ask.

No. In after dinner speeches Mr. Depew has long since given up that practice as a rule. "He trusts to his feet for the language," and with feet so well trained by years of practice behind dinner tables he seldom trusts in vain. He smiles as something occurs to him. We will smile to-night when we hear that brilliant idea clothed in words. "All my speeches are not prepared so hastily," explains the orator. "When I have a set oration to deliver, as I do have three or four times a year, I carefully write down my exact language. No, I don't dictate it, for the choicest expressions can never be formed except at the point of your own pen. On those occasions I read up on the subject with great thoroughness, digest the mass of matter with great care, and then I generally write the speech at two sittings. In such efforts I find that pat expressions come to me in church sometimes, sometimes in my bed chamber, at the office or in talking with a friend. A speech of that sort is not the work of half an hour, but of weeks or even months."—Benjamin Northrop.

"Ravageurs" of the Seine.

The river Seine, as well as the streets of Paris, has its chiffonnieres, only those who make their living by gathering whatever they find floating in the stream are known as "ravageurs" instead of rag pickers. They ply their business in skiffs and flatboats, with the aid of short harpoons, and nothing from a dead cat to an old cork comes amiss to them. Bodies of dead animals form the most important part of their river gleanings. All kinds of dead things are to be met with in the Seine during its progress through the city, even snakes and seals being included in the list. These bodies have a money value to the "ravageur;" a medium sized dog, for example, is worth at least sixteen cents, provided the skin is in reasonably good condition to be made up into leather. The body is sold to an establishment that makes a specialty of extracting the fat for candle and soap manufacture. If the body is too decomposed to be disposed of in this way, the "ravageur" buries it, and as long as any flesh remains on the bones, finds a ready sale for the maggots among the fishermen who angle along the river bank.—Paris Cor. New Orleans Picayune.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

Death of Col. George.

Col. John H. George, a prominent lawyer and for many years one of the leading democratic politicians of New Hampshire, died in Concord on Sunday, Feb. 5th, in his 64th year.

He was born in Concord, and always lived there; studied law with Gen. Franklin Pierce, was admitted to the bar in 1846, and practiced law until 1867, when he became solicitor for the Boston & Lowell railroad, acting as such up to 1885.

Col. George was clerk of the state senate in 1847, 1848 and 1850, solicitor of Merrimac county from 1849 to 1856, United States district attorney from 1853 to 1858, and often a member of the legislature. President Pierce tendered him the office of secretary of the territory of Minnesota in 1855, but he declined to accept. He was an extreme democrat in politics, served several years as chairman of the democratic state committee, was a member of the national committee eight years, and twice delegate to national conventions. He was the nominee of his party for the United States senate in 1866, and four times candidate for Congress. As a lawyer Colonel George stood in the front rank of his profession. He leaves a wife, three daughters and three sons.

A New Portrait of the Quaker Poet.

Messrs. Houghton, Mifflin & Co. have just published a new portrait of Mr. Whittier, which was finished just as he had completed his eightieth year. It is said by many of Mr. Whittier's intimate friends to be a far more satisfactory and natural-looking portrait of him than has before appeared. The expression has been drawn with wonderful accuracy. The portrait will doubtless adorn the walls of very many New England homes as well as in public libraries, etc. It is life size, and sold at the astonishingly low price of one dollar.

Rioting in Spain.

At Huelva, Spain, Feb. 4th, a mob of Rio Tinto miners, now on a strike, being ordered to disperse refused to do so, and were fired upon by troops. Ten civilians were killed, five others died in a short time, and many were wounded; two soldiers were wounded.

The Massachusetts State House.

The state house at Boston was on Monday discovered to have developed a large number of cracks almost all over, inside and out, since Saturday evening, probably through the extensive settling of the foundations. The big structure is in a dangerous condition, and the legislators are as uneasy as though they were all czars of Russia.

Passed Asst. Engr. J. P. Mickley has been ordered to the League Island navy yard.

Passed Asst. Engr. J. M. Emanuel is detached from the League Island navy yard, and ordered to duty in charge of the machinery of the ironclads at City Point, Va.

Ensign R. H. Miner is ordered from the Iroquois to the naval academy.

Ensign W. R. Rush is ordered from the Washington navy yard to the hydrographic office.

Major George W. Collins, U. S. M. C., is detached from duty at the Mare Island navy yard on March 15th, and ordered to proceed to the Brooklyn navy yard to command the marines stationed there.

Recent despatches from the European station are to the effect that the boilers of the Quinnebaug are in poor condition. And this is not much to be wondered at, for since 1878, when first commissioned, this vessel has had no work done on her boilers at a government navy yard, but all the work of repairing or fitting has been done either on board or at a foreign dock yard.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

Spring Materials—Trimmings—Millinery—Out-Door Garments.

A millenium is coming; any color is put beside any other color, and all is harmony. As a cause, the universality of Persian shades must be cited; positiveness has given way to peculiar blendings, and the general effect will be Oriental mixtures, rather than violent discords. Cheviots in stripes and plaids, display therefore, many unusual tones; light camel's hair goods the same, while ginghams repeat in bars and columns what saloons reecho in patterns of forked lightning, fans, bells, dice, spades within hoops, and other outlandish devices, which yet are not more fashionable than new floral patterns of lilies, fuchsias, leaves and vines. Challies are beautiful as plentiful, and show affinity with the ideas of the time. Their flowers bloom in peculiar hues and sometimes combine what in nature is opposed, as where delicate vines clamber in and out of squares or lines or alternate therewith. Plain waists with plaided skirts, will obtain as largely this season as last summer, but according to Lord & Taylor, who give us other valuable hints, new satteens will not be combined with plain material as hitherto. In

TRIMMINGS

Metallic mixtures lead—chiefly gilt, silver and steel. Splendid passementeries are made entirely of them, with perhaps a mixture of gold-colored floss silk, or again, there are spangles of other colors combined in artistic patterns. Many of these designs are pointed and finished off with long metallic fringe, and, manufactured by the yard, will be placed on the costume in continuity, or they can be separated and worn as independent ornaments. They are very expensive, rich styles being $45 per yard, and graduating downwards at all prices until two-inch wide braids are reached, which will sell for about $2 per yard. Silk braid wrought in an endless variety of fancy patterns will be extremely popular, and black trimmings, on colors, will be continued. Some stylish braids are made entirely of fine cords in fancy designs, and beautiful crochet trimmings are heavily inlaid by jet, which will be fashionable, though overshadowed by the great run on metallic mixtures.

MILLINERY.

Chips in peculiar hues to match costumes, are largely imported and will lead, but in millinery as in trimmings, the richest styles will be heavily laden with metallic mixtures made in flat ornaments to place on the sides, in braids, or inwrought in the hat or bonnet itself. Milliners' stocks show crepe lisse finely plaited and with deep embroidery of metal or floss silk in metallic colors. This is caught on the plain edges, and forms, with gilt trimming, the centre of the crown, and the embroidered edges constitute the remainder of the bonnet. Roses and foliage will be largely used, and though ribbon will be in demand, yet colored tulle strings, crossed at the back and tied in front, will be much used. Capotes and small pokes with low crowns and high trimming will be leading shapes.

OUT-DOOR GARMENTS.

Variations from Newmarket and Raglan types will be shown in immense numbers, and to a great extent, in light, mixed cloth trimmed with fancy braidings of darker colors, or applique set on with embroidery stich. Small wraps are but slight departures from winter shapes, and also largely composed of cloth with braiding of darker color, but heavy jet or metallic trimming will illumine richer material, while crocheted mantelets with or without jet will be stylish.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pleurisy, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Ribson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

Sir Thomas Esmonde and Hon. John Stuart, members of parliament, and Hon. John J. Donovan of Lowell, will address the citizens of Portsmouth in Music hall this evening, upon the situation in Ireland. The distinguished visitors from across the ocean are not only eloquent speakers, but are thoroughly conversant with the subject in which they, in common with lovers of liberty throughout the world, are so deeply interested. The actual condition of Ireland will be depicted, and the objects of the present great struggle explained. The hall should be crowded. A large number of our leading citizens will occupy the stage, and all interested in the great question are cordially invited. Admission free. Ushers will be in attendance to seat ladies.

Maritime Notes.

The fishing schooner Anna H. Mason, whose bows were damaged in sinking a collier off this harbor recently, sailed for Gloucester on Monday to receive thorough repairs.

The navy yard ferry steamer Emerald has this winter not missed a trip, failed to make her regular time, or been compelled to land on either side of the river at other than her regular place, on account of ice. The Mystic and James Sampson have both been bothered by ice a few times.

In a recent statement regarding the once famous ship Fortitude (made in connection with remarks on the death of Mrs. Libbey, widow of Capt. Daniel Libbey, who for many years commanded that vessel,) it was said that she was lost on Honduras after being sold to go under a foreign flag. This was an error, as the Fortitude carried the stars and stripes until she was lost in the bay of Honduras while on a voyage to a European port with a cargo of mahogany, being then under command of Capt. William A. Lord of York, who had previously sailed for some years in her with Capt. Libbey, as mate.

The big four-masted schooner Sarah W. Lawrence, of Taunton, Mass., which has brought to this port several large cargoes of coal within a year past, is said to have netted her owners seventy-five per cent on their original investment within the past eighteen months.

The Life-Saving Crew.

The crew to be assigned to the new life-saving station at Newcastle were examined at the custom house in this city last week, and will go on duty immediately. The crew are as follows:

Silas H. Harding, captain; John Smith, Ephraim S. Hall, Ernest Robinson, Selden F. Wells, George W. Randall, Winslow A. Amazeen and Anthony F. Rose, all of Newcastle, and all competent and experienced men.

Personal.

Mr. George M. Perkins and wife start on Thursday, Feb. 9th, for Florida, where they will pass the remainder of the winter. They will make the trip from New York to Florida, or to the steamer port nearest it, by water, but will return by easy stages on the arrival of warm weather.

Unyoked.

At the late session of the supreme court for Rockingham county, which closed last week, divorces were decreed as follows: Alice A. Barlett from Hoyt Bartlett; Emeline S. Witham from Harris D. Witham; Carrie A. Bickford from Merrill N. Bickford; Chase E. Osgood from Kate C. Osgood; Ardella H. Jenness from Frank P. Jenness; Preston A. Hubbard from Lillian A. Hubbard; Sarah C. Caswell from Joseph A. Caswell; Sarah J. Marsh from John N. Marsh; Carrie M. Hall from Oren Hall.

Storer Post, G. A. R.

There will be a special meeting of the Post on Wednesday evening, Feb. 8th, at 7: 30 o'clock. Very Important Business, which must be attended to at once.

PER ORDER.

The city officials should post warnings prohibiting cows from promenading on the sidewalks.—Times.

The city officials should do nothing of the kind. If a cow or any other creature can promenade the sidewalks in their present state without getting a broken neck, no interference should be offered.

Do not forget the Butterfly Tea at the Universalist vestry this evening. Admission 15 cts., tea 25 cts.

A rehearsal of the Cadets' Picnic, the juvenile comic operatta to be given in Franklin theatre on Friday evening by the young people of the Unitarian church, was held in the theatre on Monday evening. Tickets for this entertainment are now on sale at Stich Ban.

City workmen were engaged all day Sunday and Monday in cutting sluiceways for the water to run in, and clearing snow and ice from the sewer inlets, to prevent cellars, sidewalks and streets from being flooded.

The electric light service under the new system is giving much satisfaction.

People who had to drive about the city on Monday noticed one satifactory feature about the sleighing—it was so bad that any change must be for the better.

The Star Course of entertainments in Music hall will close on Thursday evening, the 9th inst., with a concert by the Ruggles Street quartette, one of the most famous musical organizations in New England, assisted by Miss Fannie P. Hoyt, the violinist. This will be one of the most enjoyable entertainments of the whole course, though all have been of the most pleasing character. Tickets go on sale at Goodrich's to-day.

The electric light at the foot of Daniel street, which it was some time ago ordered should be removed to a position in which it would light the navy landing as well as the Mystic's, is still in its old place.

Mr. Edgar D. Stoddard was thrown from a sleigh on Congress street, Monday, and the sleigh was somewhat damaged, but Mr. Stoddard was not hurt.

Some young ladies of Rye propose to give a Leap Year party in Rye town hall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 15th.

Dr. Orrin Fitzgerald's assistant, Dr. Bradbury, will be at the Kearsarge house Wednesday, Feb. 8th, and examine all who may call on him, free of charge. He treats all diseases.

Mrs. Mary Hoyt, widow of Franklin C. Hoyt of this city, has been granted a pension.

Coal freights at Baltimore were on the 4th inst. reported at $2 10 per ton to this city, $2 to Boston or Portland.

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. 6th.

Mr. Editor: We saw in the Chronicle of Jan. 16th a statement that parties from out of town were here desirous of buying the block corner of Jefferson and Water streets, but the owner cared only to sell the block in conjunction with his other property. Will Mr. O'Brien please state his terms on the whole of his property, as we think we can find a party to buy his other real estate? COM.

Some comment has been made in naval circles over the employment, by the bureau of navigation, of an officer on the retired list of the navy. It is true that the regulations provide for some such contingency, but the law on this subject is quite specific in providing that "no officer on the retired list of the navy shall be employed on active duty except in time of war." The navy department does not care much for the law, sometimes. Congress during Presidents Grant's administration passed an act which was signed by the president, reducing the hours of labor on navy yards to eight hours a day, and expressly providing that no reduction of pay should be made in consequence of the reduction of hours. The naval authorities determined to nullify this law, and for many years did so, workmen on the yards being obliged to either work ten hours a day or accept reduced pay; the hours are now according to law, but the large amount of back pay due the men who were for so long time illegally compelled to work two hours extra every day, has not yet been paid. It should be, but probably never will be.

After consultation with the chiefs of the bureaus of steam engineering and construction, the secretary of the navy has decided to expend only enough on the Galena, in these two departments, to fit her for a short commission, probably not to exceed two years in length. At the end of that time it is likely that this ship will receive new boilers. These, however, have not yet been constructed, as it is quite possible that modifications in the present style of marine boilers will occur during the period mentioned. The Galena is now at the Norfold navy yard, where the repairs decided on will be made.

The secretary of the navy last week made several changes in the composition of the naval advisory board, which is charged with superintending the construction of the naval vessels built at the shipyard of John Roach, namely, the Chicago, Boston, Atlanta and Dolphin. Commodore D. B. Harmony was detailed to duty as president of the board. Captain H. B. Robeson was ordered as a member of the board in place of Commander A. S. Crowninshield, who will remain in command of the school ship St. Mary's. Captain Robeson will be detached from his present duties at the New York navy yard on February 9th.

Rear Admiral Gherardi, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, has reported to the department as follows: "A personal inspection of the Atlanta in dock has been made by me. She has suffered no material injury, and can go to sea as soon as her bottom is cleaned and painted and she has coaled. Not over five per cent of the area of her propellor blades has been knockhd off."

An Interesting Exhibition.

Parisians will soon have an exhibition of a rather novel and highly interesting kind. This will be what is called an "Exposition de Charges," or a collection of all the best caricatures which have been produced in France since the beginning of the present century. All the celebrities from Bonaparte to Boulanger will, it is expected, figure therein. Foremost among the caricaturists will be Philipon, who founded the Charivari, and when tried for having disseminated the traits of his majesty the "citizen king" under the appearance of "a pear," asked his accusers how he could help the resemblance between the royal face and the horticultural object in question. Neither will the committee forget those pictorial Pasquins of Paris—Robert Macaire and Bertrand, who were also created by the lively pencils of M. Philipon and his joyous companions. More modern caricaturists will be represented in the forthcoming exhibition by Daumier, Gavarni, "Cham," Gill, Nadar and Caran d'Ache, who is fast becoming famous.—Home Journal.

A Mexican Kitchen.

A typical Mexican kitchen has neither stove, table, chair nor cupboard, the clean swept clay floor, an adobe shelf against the wall and a few hooks and pegs answering every purpose. In the houses of the rich an adobe range is built into the wall, which is really a long, narrow box, made of sun baked clay and partitioned off into little compartments, within each of which a handful of charcoal may be consumed. The middle classes use a big clay jar or pot, in lieu of a range, in which charcoal is also burned, while the poor have "all outdoors" for a kitchen, and build their tiny fire of sticks wherever it is most convenient.

The cooking utensils are seldom of iron, because here that metal is very scarce and dear, but earthen pots are almost universally used, instead of the kettles and frying pans to which northern housekeepers are accustomed. It seems incredible that a dinner of several courses can be prepared over a charcoal pot not much larger than a peck measure, the various edibles all cooked in smaller pots set within it.—Philadelphia Record.

Japan's Coast Defense.

The people of Japan have made voluntary subscriptions of $2,100,000, some $600,000 more than was desired, to the coast defense fund. The sum in excess of that called for will be used in the manufacture of cannon, that industry having been recently established in Japan, at the Osaka arsenal. They are already experimenting with the new Italian composition metal in casting guns.—Frank Leslie's.

A Costly Sewing Machine.

A sewing machine of solid silver and enriched with sapphires was recently received by the empress of Russia. It was a present from the Society for Promoting the Use of Russian Materials. The czarina has taken great interest in this organization. Her enthusiasm, however, will not cause her to use the sewing machine in all probability.—New York World.

I suffered from a very severe cold in my head for months and used everything recommended, but could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week and I believe it is the best remedy known. Feeling grateful for what it has done for me I send this testimonial.—Samuel J. Harris, wholesale grocer, 119 Front street, New York. Two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm cured the wife of a well-known U. S. A. General and also two army officers in Arizona of catarrh.

PROVERBS OF THE NATIONS.

What the Various Peoples Say of Themselves and Others.

In Spain it is said: "The Englishman is a drunkard, the Frenchman a scamp, the Dutchman a butterman and the Spaniard a cavalier;" and again: "It is best to be born in Italy, to live in France and to die in Spain."

The Russians say: "Englishmen have their wits at their fingers' ends, Frenchmen at the ends of their tongues."

It is said in Poland: "What the Italian invents the Frenchman makes, the German sells, the Pole buys and the Russians take from him."

The Italians say: "When trouble comes the German drowns it in drink, the Frenchman talks it down, the Spaniard meets it with tears, the Italian goes to sleep till it is past."

Among the Germans England is said to be the paradise of women and the purgatory of servants, but a far worse place than that for horses.

About the French say the Italians: "They do not tell what they intend to do, nor read what is written, nor sing the notes set before them;" and a German says: "A Frenchman is a good acquaintance, but a bad neighbor;" a truth which Prince Bismarck is never tired of impressing on the people, and urging them accordingly to enlarge the standing army. The negroes in a French colony say: "Mouche (Monsieur) Connaitout pas connait tout"—Mr. Know-all don't know at all.

Perhaps the Greeks fare worst of all in the opinions of those who have to do with them, if we may judge by the sayings concerning them that pass from mouth to mouth. Among the southern Slav races this is especially the case. They say: "Three Turks and three Greeks make up six heathens;" and "A crab is not a fish, nor a Greek a true man;" and again, "A Greek speaks the truth once a year;" and once more, "A Gypsy cheats a Jew, a Jew a Greek, and a Greek the devil."

The Venetians say: "He who trusts the word of a Greek is more fool than the madman." Even in Normandy the repute of the Greek has passed into a proverb, and he who obtains something quite unexpectedly is said to have "got paid by a Greek."

Holland and Flanders have both been places of refuge for bankrupt and fraudulent Frenchmen for a long time, and as such are regarded proverbially in France. "Go to Holland" means evade paying your debts. And to say of a man "Il est de Flandres," is the same as saying he is a ruined man.

Mynheer Van Dunck, though he never was drunk, sipped brandy and whisky daily—for the Dutchman's draught must be deep as the rolling Zuyder Zee. That we all know, and to drink like a Dutchman is everywhere proverbial.

Of Italians it is said by the French: "Half one is too much in the house;" and the Illyrian says of the Italian, what the Englishman and the German say of the Swiss: "He would sell his own father for gold."

The Jew shares with the Greek the prerogative of being the best abused of all peoples, proverbially.

The Pole says:

The German cheats the Pole,
The Italian cheats the German,
The Spaniard swindles the Italian,
The Jew defrauds the Spaniard,
But only the devil can get the better of the Jew.

The German says: "The Jew cheats even while praying;" and the inhabitant of Lesser Russia: "The Jew did not learn to cheat; he was born with the faculty."

To build castles in the air is rendered in French, having a castle in Spain. Compliments that mean nothing are called Spanish coin; and in Italy, poison is designated euphemistically "Spanish figs," because Spaniards are supposed to poison those they desire to be rid of with fruit in which arsenic has been inserted.

The Swiss is not known proverbially for his patriotism, but for his mercenary nature. "No kreutzer, no Schwitzer," is a common saying in Germany, and "Point d'argent, point de Suisse," is the French version of the same. One evening when a distinguished Genevan actress and a Swiss company were performing "William Tell" in Paris they had an empty house. The actress came forward and said: "I see—the proverb is reversed. Today it is no money, plenty of Swiss."

We speak of carrying coals to Newcastle when we wish to designate the absurdity of sending something to where there is superfluity; in Russia they speak of sending snow to Lapland and in Germany of dispatching deals to Norway. In Holland, when they desire to say that a man is in his element, they describe him as being like a goat in Norway.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The Mammoth Cave's Rival.

There is a cave on Gran Bethuram's place, seven miles from Mount Vernon, which nearly equals the celebrated Mammoth cave in proportions and fully so in curiosities. In it are several lakes or ponds, in which fish without eyes are found in abundance. It is a mass of caverns, some of which are from seventy-five to 100 feet high. A party of ladies and gentlemen recently got lost in the labyrinths of the caverns, and several hours elapsed before they found their way out. A party from this place are preparing to fully explore the cave, and if arrangements can be completed they will probably start soon, prepared to make their explorations complete.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Suit Against Gordon's Estate.

The British government having betrayed Gordon to his death at Khartoum, the Egyptian government has now repudiated and dishonored the bills drawn on it by him during the siege, to the amount of $200,000, and the holders have begun suit against Gordon's private estate for payment.—New York Tribune.

Another Democratic Failure.

The attempt of the democrats to unseat Capt. White, representative in Congress rom Indiana, came to a vote on the 6th nst., and failed; the majority of the ommittee on elections reported that he was not entitled to the seat to which he was elected by several thousand majoriy; the minority offered a report that he was entited to the seat, and the minority eport was substituted for the other by a vote of 137 to 105, twenty-five democrats among them being Mr. McKinney) voting with the republicans. The report was then agreed to by the house. The pretence for the attempt at unseating Capt. White, a naturalized citizen who served in the union army, was that he could not produce naturalization papers, though he could and did produce proof hat he took out such papers, and lost hem by a fire which destroyed his property. The real reason for the attempt was that the unseating of a republican and the seating of a democrat would make the vote of Indiana a tie in case the next election of president should go to he house.

An Admirable Institution.

In another place in this paper can be ound an exhibit which will repay the most careful consideration of every person, man or woman, who contemplates making provision for those who have a right to look to them for such, or who has funds which it is desired to invest in such manner that absolute security and i beral returns will be alike certain; an exhibit which is the wonder of the business and financial world, and would be still more so were it not that the affairs of the institution making it have always been and are now managed by men who have justly ranked high among the soundest, most energetic, prudent and far-seeing financiers of the country. We refer to the "statement of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, Richard A. McCurdy president, for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1887."

The wonderful showing of prosperity and financial solidity there made is not a mushroom growth, but is the result of many years' of earnest and judicious effort by honest and able men to achieve he best results in legitimate life insurance—to build up an institution which hould compel the admiration and attract he support of the soundest financiers and most careful economists by its solidity and assured solvency; these efforts, hough long since crowned with success, are still continued, and to-day the Mutual Life is at the head of such institutions throughout the world. Its immense assets, nearly one hundred and nineteen millions of dollars, including a surplus of over six and one-quarter millions, belong not to stockholders, but are held in trust to pay endowments and death claims; and each and every policy holder shares equitably in the profits which the most careful management of the vast business makes return of. The complete confidence of the public in this company, and the wide appreciation of its benefits, are shown in the brief statement that the number of risks assumed last year exceeded the number of those terminated by over 11,000; and an examination of the annual statement would convince the skeptical—if there were any such—that such confidence and appreciation are deserved.

They Took Something.

Matters in York.

YORK BEACH, ME., Feb. 6th.

Mr. George Proctor, of Boston, is having his cottage painted.

Mail for Cape Neddick is now assorted at the York Beach post-office; John E. Weare has been awarded the contract for carrying the mail between the two offices.

The young people connected with the Baptist society at Cape Neddick will hold a fair and bazaar in Goodwin's hall on Feb. 22d; useful and fancy articles will be on sale, and refreshments will be served during the evening. The "York Beach Musical club" is expected to be present and give some selections.

Mr. Charles Stacy has returned from a visit to Boston, and is now employed by C. B. Hildreth, Esq.

A comedy entitled "Partners for Life," in three acts, by Henry J. Byron, will be played by the York Glee club on Tuesday evening, Feb. 14th, in S. S. S. hall, York village. This comedy was played at the Globe theatre in Boston for 192 consecutive nights. The rendering of this noted comedy by such fine local talent ought to insure a crowded house.

BAKING POWDERS.

The latest Official Tests as to their Relative Purity.

The present interest in the matter of food adulterations, and the agitation of the question of national and local legislation for the purpose of preventing them, have caused more than ordinary attention to be given to the report of the Ohio State Food Commission, which reveals the extent and character of the adulteration found in many of the baking powders of the market. The presence of so large a number of powders made from alum, as was found by the commission, has not been suspected, nor is it as it supposed that some of the cream of tarter and phosphate brands, whose manufacturers have held them up to the public as pure and wholesome, had become so deteriorated by the use of impure ingredients in compounding them.

The Ohio commission examined thirty different kinds for their strength and impurities, and declared that powder the best—as it was of course the purest—which, being of effective strength, contained residuum or inert matter were sound;

NAME.	PER CENT OF RESIDUUM, ETC.
Royal	7.35
Cleveland's	10.18
Zipp's (alum)	11.99
Sterling	12.63
Dr. Price's	12.68
Jersey (alum)	16.05
Forest City (alum)	24.04
Silver Star (alum)	31.88
De Land's	32.52
Horsford's (phosphate)	36.49
Kenton (alum)	38.17
Patapsco (alum)	40.68

The nature of the residuum bears directly upon the question of health. That in Royal is declared by the commission to be perfectly harmless. In the case of the alum powders it is considered hurtful, yet the amount found in three of the cream of tarter powders—the Cleveland, Dr. Price's and Sterling—averaged about the same as that in the Crystal, an alum powder. In the phosphate powders the inert matter is exceedingly large, being more than a third of their entire weight.

The importance of the information conveyed by these figures can be best understood by a simple comparison. Take for instance the two first named powders—the Royal and Cleveland's. The inert matter or residuum found in Cleveland's seems to be about 3 in 7 more than in the other, which is a difference of 40 per cent. the Royal being purer than Cleveland's by a corresponding figure. The inert matter in Horsford's is over five times, or more than 400 per cent. greater than in the Royal. The relative purity of all the brands can be computed in like manner.

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY, ME., Feb. 7th.

Mr. Edward E. Shapleigh, who has been studying medicine with Dr. M. F. Wentworth, left town to-day for Brunswick, Me., to attend medical lectures at Bowdoin college.

Miss Maude Walker, a student of the State Normal school at Gorham, who has been at home visiting the past week, returned to the school to-day.

The annual reunion of the Free Hjgh school will occur on Friday evening, Feb. 17th, in Trefethen hall.

Morrill Lodge of Goon Templars, of North Kittery, held a meeting last Friday evening for the first time in four weeks, and elected and installed officers for the present term, and elected delegates to the annual session of the District Lodge, which will be held with Ray of Hope Lodge of Biddeford this month.

The roads about town are in a bad condition, and seem to be inclined to grow worse rather than better, the Post road especially, which is a continuous roll of pitches along its entire length, and people dread to ride over it. The surveyor seems to be busy, but since the consolidation of the districts there is so much to look after that something must suffer; consequently in summer or winter none of the roads receive anything near what they ought to. People living in each district are anxious to go back to the old system, and will petition the town at its next annual meeting to that effect.

SUB ROSA.

—The Boston Transcript knows of an erudite clergyman who spoke of the unfortunate woman of Sodom as "Lot's lady who was transformed into a monolith of chloride of sodium."

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

The Dominion government has graciously granted to the distressed American fishing vessels which recently put into Halifax for repairs, permission to purchase supplies sufficient to enable them to complete their voyage. If they keep on, the Canadians will shortly treat distressed seamen with as much humanity as the South Sea islanders would do.

Mr. C. C. Hoyt of St. Louis, and other persons interested with him, have purchased a section of land along the beach in York, and will build summer cottages there the coming season. It is understood that twenty-five persons are interested in the project, and at least a dozen houses will be put up next summer. The contract for Mr. Hoyt's house is already in the hands of a Portland builder, and the building will be ready to occupy by the first of May.

There was no more rioting in the Shenandoah mining dirtrict on the 6th; the coal and iron police were strongly re-enforced, the town authorities also took strong measures of precaution, and the Greek and Polish priests earnestly exhorted their people to abstain from further violence. These agencies sufficed to prevent any further outbreaks.

Sympathy With Ireland.

Notwithstanding the heavy fall of snow on Tuesday evening, a quite large audience, including very many ladies, assembled in Music hall to hear addresses upon the situation in Ireland. Sir Thomas Henry Grattan Esmonde, a grandson of Henry Grattan, the famed Irish statesman and patriot, and a member of the British parliament; Hon. John Stuart, also a member of parliament, and Hon. John J. Donovan of Lowell, had been announced as the speakers, but the first-named was unable to appear, being confined in Cambridge by illness. The stage was occupied by about fifty prominent citizens; Mayor Hodgdon was chairman of the meeting, and at the close of a ten-minutes' address in which he managed to say a good deal, and say it well, introduced Mr. Donovan as the first regular speaker. We have not space now for further report, other than to say that the addresses were earnest, convincing, and warmly received by the audience.

Dropped the Mask.

A young man named B. W. Richards, who came to this city a year or two ago and obtained work as a harness maker, has disappeared under circumstances which show him to be a consummate scoundrel.

About a year ago he was married to Miss Carrie Earing, who had for some time carried on a successful business as a dressmaker in Badger's block on Daniel street. Last Sunday morning he left their home on Court street, telling his wife he had some work to do; returned late to dinner, and shortly went out again, telling Mrs. Richards he had to go to Newburyport on the afternoon train, but should return on the Pullman at nine o'clock. As he did not return, Mrs. Richards was very anxious; but she had no thought of the true state of affairs until Monday morning, when she learned that his kit of tools had disappeared from Mr. Tilton's shop, where he was employed, and that tools to the value of eight or ten dollars, belonging to other workmen, had also gone.

A quick search revealed the fact that her money and gold wrtch had also been stolen. Convinced that she had been deserted, she notified Mr. Harry Freeman, whose wife is her aunt, and who accompanied her to Newburyport on the next train. No trace of the eloper could be found, but it was learned that he had a wife living somewhere in Maine, and that after leaving Maine and before coming here he married a girl in Newburyport, who left him on finding out that he was a scoundrel.

Since returning from her fruitless search for her worthless partner Mrs. Richards has learned that money which she gave him to pay rent, grocery bills, etc., was spent for other purposes, and that the bills are still unpaid.

Richards was "in the papers" here quite prominently for a few days, a couple of years ago, he having one day while at work swallowed a saddler's needle, a piece of steel about two inches long, which a few days later showed its point just above one of his hips, when he took a pair of pincers and pulled it out. The day following being at Rye beach, he rescued, it was said, at much risk to himself, a young lady who was in danger of drowning—that young lady being Miss Earing, whom he has since so heartlessly wronged. It is to be hoped he may receive just punishment for his crimes.

Grand Army Reception.

Judge Rea of Minneapolis, Minn., Commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Junior Vice Commander Linnehan, are visiting the department encampments of the east, and with their wives will pass Saturday and Sunday next in this city, as the guests of Storer Post. A reception will be tendered the grand officers in Music hall on Saturday evening, at which there will be speaking, and vocal and instrumental music. Judge Rea is said to be a real orator, and Major Linnehan's ability as a speaker is well known to many of our citizens; Mayor Hodgdon is expected to preside, and deliver the address of welcome—which he can do most creditably and pleasingly. The admission will be free, and the largest Saturday night audience for many a day will be there.

Firemen's Relief Association.

At a meeting of the Firemen's Relief Association, held Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Horace Mudge; vice president, George N. Jones; secretary, Daniel D. Waldron; treasurer, H. A. Marden; directors, H. A. Marden, O. H. Locke, W. M. Gray, Morris Tobin, C. L. Hoyt and O. W. Ham. According to the report of the treasurer the association has a fund of $2400.

The Ruggles Street quartette, assisted by Miss Fannie P. Hoyt, at Music hall tomorrow evening; close of the Star course; lovers of music who fail to attend will lose a feast; tickets at Goodrich's.

Mr. Wallace A. S. Holbrook of this city, formerly employed in the Journal office, but for the past few years at work in West Newton, Mass., died in the latter place on Monday last. This will be sad news to his host of friends in this city.

The physicians in attendance upon Col. J. Horace Kent, warden of the state prison, are of opinion that he will be able to resume active duties before a great while.

Rev. Wm. A. Rand of South Seabrook was in this city on Tuesday. The 21st anniversary of his pastorate there was observed on the 27th of January by a special service and reception. He is looking not a great deal older than when, quarter of a century ago, he was one of the seven members of the 16th New Hampshire Reg't who volunteered for the furlorn hope at Port Hudson.

The Whale's-back fog-horn was sounding again through Tuesday night, on account of snow and thick weather.

The pension just granted to Mrs. Mary Hoyt of this city, widow of Franklin C. Hoyt, is for her husband's service in the Mexican war. He was thirty-seven years in the regular army, and served all through the Black Hawk, Florida and Mexican wars, as a sergeant all the time excepting the first two or three years; he was in many battles, but though scores of men were killed or wounded close beside him in different actions, he never received a wound. He was for many years a familiar figure on our streets, and was always spoken of as "Soldier Hoyt;" he was over six feet high, and up to the time of his death a few years ago, at the age of eighty-two, was as straight as an arrow.

The steamer Panther, one of the smaller vessels belonging to the Pennsylvania & Reading Railroad Co., arrived at this port on the 7th inst. from Perth Amboy with 801 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker.

The "Haverhill Kid," a young fellow of Haverhill, Mass., who being invited by a man in that place to take a ride, on arriving in New Hampshire managed to get away with the friend's team and watch, was on Tuesday brought to this city and lodged in jail. He is under suspicion of having committed a burglary also.

The lengthening of the days is now very perceptible to those who have to use artificial light to complete their day's work, or get up to light the fire in the morning.

FOR washing the hair, only the very best of soap and pure water should be used. The average soap contains too much free alkali, which draws the natural oil from the hair and scalp, and leaves the former harsh and lusterless, while it roughens the latter, causing scurf or dandruff. The purity and mildness of the IVORY SOAP gives it pre-eminence for cleaning the hair and scalp. It contains no free alkali, so its use insures a clean and healthy head of hair of the luster and softness of silk.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

Mrs. Oliver Wendell Holmes died in Boston on the 6th inst.

A Stab in the Dark

Sometimes falls of the murderous intent. The insidious and dastardly attacks made upon the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by persons who seek to palm off cheap and fiery tonics as identical with it, or "the same thing under another name," or "equally as good," in most instances react disastrously upon the unprincipled traders upon popular credulity who attempt them, converting their speculations into ruinous failures. The bitters is a pure, wholesome and thorough medicine, adapted to the total cure and prevention of fever and ague, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles. Its every ingredient, unlike those in the imitations of it, is of an ascertained standard of excellence, and while they, by reason of their fiery properties, react injuriously upon the brain and nervous system, of both those organs it is a sedative and invigorant. Refuse all these harmful imitations.

Henry Scribner has filed a claim with the town authorities of Franklin for the sum of $15,000, on account of injuries which his wife received last winter by falling on the sidewalk.

Do not suffer from sick headache a moment longer. It is not necessary. Carter's Little Liver Pills will cure you. Dose, one little pill. Small price. Small dose. Small pill.

A son of George F. Blanchard of Canterbury fell from a scaffold in his barn on one of the days of the big snowstorm, breaking one arm. Three neighbors started on foot with shovels for Penacook, a distance of three miles, for a doctor, whom they finally procured, and who travelled on foot both ways.

The great popular remedy of the day for coughs, colds, asthma, and all lung difficulties, is Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Inexpensive, reliable, pleasant to take, cures as by magic, and gives universal satisfaction. A trial is the best testimonial.

A Stab in the Dark

Sometimes fails of the murderous intent. The insidious and dastardly attacks made upon the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by persons who seek to palm off cheap and fiery tonics as identical with it, or "the same thing under another name," or "equally as good," in most instances react disastrously upon the unprincipled traders upon popular credulity who attempt them, converting their speculations into ruinous failures. The bitters is a pure, wholesome and thorough medicine, adapted to the total cure and prevention of fever and ague, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles. Its every ingredient, unlike those in the imitations of it, is of an ascertained standard of excellence, and while they, by reason of their fiery properties, react injuriously upon the brain and nervous system, of both those organs it is a sedative and invigorant. Refuse all these harmful imitations.

Battle with a Whale.

The whaling steamer Lizzie N., of Provincetown, Mass., Capt. West, which has been engaged in the finback whale fishery on the eastern coast, when about fifteen miles east southeast from Seguin island, off the coast of Maine, saw a large lone whale of that species, and attempted its capture. A boat was lowered and manned by Capt. West, his mate and four seamen. Capt. West, with a large, heavy whale gun, in which was an explosive bomb lance, took the breach of the boat, while the mate steered. When the boat was near enough to warrant a shot Capt. West fired the gun, but, as the sea was rough, the motion of the boat destroyed the accuracy of the aim. The whale was badly wounded, but not in any vital part. The whale then made for the boat, and in passing under it struck it with his flukes, throwing it some thirty feet into the air, with its crew.

As the boat descended the whale again struck it with his tail and completely demolished the boat and killed one of the crew, cutting him completely in two. The whale then commenced to bite and strike with his tail at the pieces of the boat, killing two more men, Neal Olsen and Chris Johnson, who were supporting themselves on pieces of the wreck. Capt. West, the mate and the other men were safely taken aboard the steamer and another boat was lowered to capture the monster. Then the whale attacked the steamer. By a quick turn of the rudder the steamer cleared him by a few feet. This occurred a second time. By throwing over a large cask, at which the whale, thinking it was the ship, kept bucking away, the captain was enabled to get a shot with the bomb lance, and finally the whale was killed.—Boston Transcript.

Among Gloucester Fishermen.

Thriftlessness is uncommon among Gloucester fishermen; drunkenness is almost unknown; harmless banter and bellowing boasting are the nearest approach to brawls. There is a tender heartedness among them that is remarkable and almost pathetic. Many go away that never come back. Stand here, if you will, at these crowded wharves and watch the arrival and departure of fishing fleets, and if you have a heart you will feel something heavy in your throat. The old mothers and fathers, the younger brothers and sisters, the wives and wee fishers' children, are all here, score on score. They are trying to look brave as the vessels sail out. There is pride and loyal valor in their faces all. They shout and shout to the departing ones, who send it all back in good measure, every manner of good cheer and sea lore for luck. As the schooners clear the harbor, out past Ten Pound island, some will run away around the harbor edge, as if to keep company to the last. But those who stay, leaning far out over the dark bulkheads, look fixedly on and on until the white sails disappear behind cruel Norman's Woe, or sink behind the horizon; and if you can see in their eyes as they at last turn to the little home spot for the weeks or months of dreary waiting, there is unutterable sadness behind the quivering lids.—Edgar L. Wakeman in New York Mail and Express.

Material for Successful Engineers.

A number of our leading railway shops are taking in "engineering students," bright young men who come from the technical schools to learn the practical side of railway mechanics, and who enter as apprentices. They receive slightly more pay than the ordinary apprentices, but their wages are still merely nominal. The experience has been that when engineering students have been thus received, the benefit is mutual. These young men come into the shops fresh from their mathematics and their drawing tables, and while they absorb all that they can of the practicalities of their chosen work, they are found to be very useful by their employing officers, because of their familiarity with mechanical theory and drawing. There are not a few master mechanics in the country who are invaluable in their places—first class men in every respect—but who, in early life, had not the advantages of education which this younger generation of students has had, and they find many directions in which these educated young fellows are made useful. Especially useful are these students as a detail for special work of investigation. They are well equipped for such work, and they know how to make a good report on the same.—Railway Review.

A Trio of Eights.

It happens only once in a century when a triplet of figures can marshal themselves before the human understanding, and I presume those who are fond of dates will see much that is suggestive in this. Assuredly there is the sound of fleeting time, the tick tack of a clock, the "going, going, gone" of fate in those three eights of 1888. They actually give me the shivers, while in appearance it is the most awkward array of numbers I can remember to have outlived. How much jauntier 1777 looks! And as to 1999, it is as graceful as if composed of comets. However, it is no use worrying about what cannot be helped; but if I had my way one of those fat eights should be bounced.—Boston Herald.

A monkey exhibited at a museum established at Tacubaya, Mexico, was condemned to be shot under judicial sentence. It seems that the animal bit a man, who died from the results of the bite. The family of the deceased brought complaint before a judge, who was foolish enough to institute criminal proceedings against the monkey and sentenced him to be shot. Luckily the manager of the museum brought influence to bear and succeeded in obtaining a change of the sentence to perpetual imprisonment. The monkey is now enduring the punishment of his crime behind the bars of an iron cage at the museum.—Chicago Herald.

DEATH TO PAINS AND ACHES

"Assume a Virtue If You Have It Not."

Some of the democratic journals are boasting of the honor of their party friends in the house of representatives, in voting to retain Congressman White in his seat when they could not prevent it. This is an especial chestnut. Every one knows that in the event of Mr. White being voted out of his right to a seat for the reason that he was unable to produce technical legal evidence of his citizenship, the entire wing of the adopted citizens upon which the democracy relies in its efforts to placate the British manufacturer by admitting into our markets his wares free of duty even if it reduces the price of the labor of our naturalized citizens, would have paused and weighed the sincerity of their democratic friends' professions in behalf of the adopted citizen. The effect of this criminal blunder was at ance foreseen by men like McKinney and by adopted citizens like Collins. The democrats then agreed that a certain number should stick by the report of the majority of the committee to oust Mr. White. Then were there to be those of foreign birth or representing constituences where the vote against White would tell badly, who were to be at liberty to vote with the republicans. The record of their vote was to be pointed at with pride, while in the southern and intensely bourbon districts the effect was to be attributed to the disloyalty of Sam Randall. In fine, this White question was to have different colors in different views of the party situation. Brother McKinney knows who voted for him in the manufacturing cities of his district. Mac is a patriot.

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Feb. 7th.

It is quite cold here to-day after the thaw. The roads are rough and hard to travel.

Miss Gertie Mugridge, daughter of Thomas and Adeline Mugridge, died yesterday morning, after a long sickness. She has been sick since last July, and her sufferings have been great. Her disease was consumption. Through all her sickness her patience and cheerfulness were remarkable. She was a working member of the Christian church and a constant attendant at the Sabbath school. The funeral services will be at the Christian church Wednesday at two o'clock P. M. Rev. E. E. Colburn will attend. The afflicted family have the sympathy of all the village.

The ice houses are filled and quantities of ice have been stacked outside the buildings.

Mr. Thomas J. Billings continues to improve. Mrs. Martin Williams has recovered her usual health.

Mr. Albert Fernald has been out of doors several times during the past week.

The window gardens are beginning to look quite bright and blooming. Mrs. John E. Tobey has a nice collection of winter-blooming plants in her bay window.

A young man of this place, fell into the water while cleaning away the snow from the ice pond the day after the storm. He was fortunately near home, and after getting on a dry suit felt no bad results from his icy bath.

The Union Bethel meeting at the Free Will Baptist church was well attended. It was a good old fashioned Bethel meeting and the services were interesting throughout.

The Cocheco broke up the ice in the harbor nearly to the fish pier last week. The Sampson's landing is now free from ice.

Rev. J. W. Webster has returned to his home in Lowell, Me., but the meetings will be continued by Rev. J. H. Mugridge from New Castle. The meetings during the past week have been interesting and some good has been accomplished.

A letter received from Boon island reports the storm of Thursday, Jan. 26th, the most severe of the season. The spray dashed into the front entry, the old wreck was lifted by the waves and moved three feet and the plank walk from the dwelling to the boat-house was washed away. Everything was covered with ice. The inhabitants were all well in spite of the severity of the weather.

The old Seaward's house on Gerrish's island has been torn down and a new residence will be erected on the site. This is one of the most beautiful situation on the island. AUNT MOLLY.

HANOVER, Feb. 6th.

According to the records at the Shattuck observatory, out of the past twenty-eight days it was below zero fifteen days, Saturday, the 28th ult., being the coldest, showing four and one-half degrees below at noon.

The Freshman and Sophomore classes will have their class suppers at Burlington, Vt., on the 21st inst.

According to the class history of '90 the politics of that class are forty-nine republicans, five democrats, four independents, and four prohibitionists.

The lowest record reported during the recent cold spell was forty degrees below zero.

The Beethoven club of Boston, assisted by Miss E. H. Allen, gave the third entertainment in the Lecture course, Friday evening, Feb. 3d.

J. W. Kelley, '88, has been re-elected manager of the Athletic association for the coming spring.

Whitney of the Washingtons, who has been secured by the base-ball management to train the nine this year, arrived Thursday, Jan. 26th, and the men began systematic practice in batting, together with light exercise of various kinds. The idea of a training table has been discussed, but is not receiving very favorable consideration.

All the past records of the Shattuck observatory have been forwaded to Washington in order that a copy of the same may be taken. Prof. Emerson has long felt the need of this step, for in case of fire these valuable papers might have been destroyed.

Dr. Gregg of the Park Street church, Boston, who was unfortunately detained from being with us on the day of prayer, gave a very interesting discourse Sunday evening, Jan. 29th, in the College chapel. He spoke from the text, "Take heed of thyself," emphasizing the importance of a good character to a young man. B.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

Star Course Concert.

Persons who intend going to the concert at Music hall this evening will do well to purchase their tickets this morning if they desire a seat. Large parties from Greenland and Newington have sent in orders for seats, and if the weather permits, other parties from Kittery, Rye and Newcastle will be present. There are still a number of good seats to be obtained, and at the low prices of thirty-five and fifty cents, every seat should be sold. Such an aggregation of artistes very seldom appears at one entertainment in this city.

"The Cadets' Picnic."

The juvenile comic operetta "The Cadets' Picnic," to be given in Franklin theatre to-morrow evening, will fill the house, judging from the very large number of tickets already disposed of, and attendance at a rehearsal on Wednesday afternoon warrants us in saying it will certainly be a source of much pleasure to all who attend. The leading roles—the little old woman and little old man—are taken by Miss Cora Barnabee and Master Dudley Carpenter; Master Harry Pryor is drummer; and there is a cadets' drill which will be a surprise to all who witness it, from the proficiency of the young warriors in their exercise. Miss Helen Pearson will be accompanist for the first part; afterward Miss Davis, pianist, and Mr. Whittier and Mr. Joy, violinists, will supply the accompaniment. Tickets can be had at Stich Ban, and (if any are left) at the door.

"Held by the Enemy."

To-morrow evening, in Music hall, the American drama "Held by the Enemy" will be presented. The following brief synopsis gives an idea of its character and movement:

The scene is laid in Virginia during the war, but it is not a war drama, although the leading characters are soldiers on both sides of the line. No attempt is made to appeal to patriotism; southern men are not made to suffer in northern prisions, and its skillful construction makes it as acceptable in the south as in the north. Colonel Prescott, a northern officer, is in love with Rachel McCreery, who is engaged to be married to her cousin, a confederate lieutenant, named Hayne. Prescott declares his love, and that night her affianced husband visits the house, is captured by the northern man and tried, and while the trial is in progress Prescott produces certain papers taken from Hayne after his capture. The papers prove him guilty of being a spy. Rachel accuses Prescott of having forged them in order to rid himself of a dangerous rival. The spy makes a confession and is sentenced to die. Hayne, feigning death, endeavors to escape with the assistance of Rachel. In the hospital the body is detained by the surgeon, who suspects all is not as it should be, and when the general enters an examination is ordered. The supposed dead man, after passing through this terrible ordeal, is about to be examined; the cloth is lifted, and Hayne pronounced dead, having really died from fright and anxiety. Rachel is stricken with horror and grief, but in the end marries the northern colonel after all.

Tickets at Goodrich's; see advertisement.

Handsome Gifts.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Engineers, held on Tuesday evening of this week, in accordance with a former vote of the board asking for the portraits of all the ex-chief engineers to adorn the walls of the engineers' office, Ex-Chief Engineers William B. Grogan and Samuel S. Fletcher each presented to the board a fine photograph likeness of himself, thirteen by sixteen inches in size and mounted in a heavy gilt frame, for which handsome gifts a vote of thanks was tendered the donors. The board expect soon to receive the portraits of the other gentlemen who have served as chief engineers in the past.

The Anti-Coercion Fund.

At the meeting held in Music hall on the evening of the 7th inst., the following-named ladies and gentlemen were appointed a committee to sell Anti-Coercion Fund $1.00 certificates in this city:

Donolley, Daniel Casey, John McGraw, William A. Cullen, Thomas Donovan, Michael E. Long, Timothy Cronin, John Griffin, William H. Palmer.

A generous subscription was made at the meeting in aid of the cause, Col. Charles A. Sinclair heading the list with $100.

Runaways.

A black colt belonging to Mr. deRochemont of Newington was started into running away on Wednesday, by the pulling out of one of the shaft bolts, which let the shaft drop; the other bolt was quickly twisted off, and the colt with the shafts attached ran down Hanover and Vaughan streets and into Stoddard's stable, and dashed into a stall beside another horse, the latter fortunately escaping being struck with the point of a shaft.

Mr. John H. Broughton's team ran away in the afternoon, and went up Market street, across Portsmouth bridge and as far as Butler's crossing in Kittery before stopping. What damage was done we cannot say.

Our City by the Sea.

Mr. Editor: There seem to be some mysteries in our city by the sea, and one of these mysteries is the assessors' valuation of real estate. Now will some of our worthy assessors explain, if it can be explained, how it is that some property in No. 2 ward is assessed to its full valuation, while other property in the same ward is not assessed to more than half or two-thirds its full value? The property first alluded to is the Cunningham block on Water street; it was sold by auction in August, 1885, for $3000; the auctioneer called loud and long for another bid, but failed to get it, showing that the property was sold for its full value and for all it would fetch. When I received my inventory blank to fill up I gave the full value of my property, and expected to see the assessors' valuation in the opposite column, but they assessed me for the full value of the block. Now I find that I am taxed more than my neighbors, and I don't feel that I like to be imposed upon. I do not object to pay my taxes or to bear my share of the city's expenses, but I do object to bearing more than my just share of the burden. I am not contending for might, but for right, and if things are right they should be brought to light; but some love darkness rather than light, because their deeds are evil. Now if I am made to pay taxes on the whole $3000, I shall consider I am paying on at least $500 more than what is just, and that therefore that tax for $500 is exacted from me unjustly. Now if every property owner had to pay to the full value of their property, our tax would cease to be more than $8 on the $1000, whereas it now comes to more than $17 on the $1000. Now, Mr. Editor, I put this item in print hoping for an explanation.

Yours Respectfully,

JOHN O'BRIEN, No. 1 Holmes Court.

The fishing schooner Anna H. Mason, which sailed from this port on the 6th inst. for Gloucester, where she is to be repaired, arrived at that port on the 7th.

The schooner Clara Goodwin, which put back to Boston while on the voyage from this port to a coal port, having been damaged by ice in Nantucket sound, and was afterward towed to Portland to be repaired, sailed for her destination on the 6th inst.

David F. Loring, for the past fifteen years keeper of Highland light, Cape Cod, was superceded on the 7th inst. by Amasa S. Dyer from Duxbury pier. Mr. Loring had held the position longer than any keeper since the rebuilding of the lighthouse in 1857.

Col. S——, who occupied an end seat on the stage at Music hall on Tuesday evening put down one and two cyphers when the committee with the marking-book called at his seat. The period was behind the naughts.

The bill allowing the lease of the Boston & Providence railroad to the Old Colony passed to a third reading in the Massachusetts house of representatives on Monday, the 7th inst., by a large majority. Certain gentlemen representing the boot and shoe interests opposed the measure before the committee. As the lease would in its effect, benefit travellers in Massachusetts, the inference is that the leather men hoped that by reason of its failure to become a law more people would have to walk, and thus benefit their trade. There seemed to be no other valid objection.

Another cave-in of the old iron foundry on Mechanic street took place on Wednesday forenoon.

—People anathematize the man who leaves ice on the sidewalk now, and next summer they will be growling when the man does not leave ice there.

—"Did it rain?" exclaimed the western man, in the course of a thrilling recital of border life; "say, it rained so hard that afternoon that the water stood three feet deep on a slant roof."

—"The electoral college seems to be falling into disfavor," remarked Cumso. "Well, I don't wonder at it," replied Fangle; "it pays no attention to base ball."

—A coal dealer in Louisville, Kentucky, is said to have frozen to death in his office. Once more it may not be inappropriate to remark that justice travels with a leaden heel, but she gets there just the same.

—Seedy individual: "Will professional courtesy induce you to lend me a quarter, sir?" Proprietor of toboggan slide: "Professional courtesy?" Seedy individual: "Yes, sir. I'm ex-proprietor of ten roller-skating rinks."

—"This is a cold, backward spring," said the man whose feet had just shot from under him on a slippery sidewalk.

—One day Ernest had been seriously lectured by his mother, and finally was sent to the yard to find a switch, with which he was to be punished. He returned soon and said: "I couldn't find any switch, mamma, but here's a stone you can throw at me."

ELIOT, ME., Feb. 6th.

We wanted a little more snow, and got more than we wanted, and also more wind and cold, almost a regular blizzard, —or at least what we are willing to take for such, the wind blowing a gale, and the thermometer ranging from ten to sixteen below zero. It was the worst weather we have witnessed here for many years; the snow is deep and badly drifted, and the roads are still in a dangerous condition to drive over by night.

While Mr. Joseph Kennard, accompanied by his wife, was driving into Portsmouth on Monday, Jan. 30th, the horse took fright from an engine at the Concord railroad wharf. The gate tender motioned for several teams to pass on, Mr. Kennard being at the rear, and before he got past the engine started up and frightened the horse, which sprang ahead suddenly, nearly upsetting the sleigh, and giving Mrs. Kennard a bad strain in the back; she is still so lame that it costs her quite an effort to get about the house, and if she does not get better soon Mr. Kennard will report to the authorities of the railroad.

Elder George W. Brown, Elder Wm. P. Israel and Mr. Frye have been holding a series of meetings in the Advent church for the past two weeks, and are to continue them this week. A good deal of religious interest has been aroused, and some twelve or fifteen persons have started to lead a new life. The meetings have been largely attended, and the weather has seemed to have no effect in keeping the people away from church; such interest is what encourages those who are laboring in this manner to do good to others.

Rev. James Lade, pastor of the Congregational church, whose resignation was handed in last month, retires from the pastorate on the 1st of April. He is an excellent preacher, and we are sorry to learn of his intention to leave the place; he and Mrs. Lade will be much missed by the young people of the society, as well as the elder portion, both being fine singers, and Mr. Lade an accomplished teacher of music.

The Eliot Library Association repeated the Longfellow entertainment on Thursday evening last, in the Methodist church at South Eliot; the proceeds go to supply magazines for the reading room, which is open Wednesday and Saturday evening.

Mr. Henry C. Cole is home from Boston, on account of ill health.

Alberta Nelson, daughter of Mr. Samuel Nelson, is unable to leave her bed on account of sickness.

George E. Staples is home from Newburyport for a short vacation.

Mrs. Wm. A. Lydston and son went on Friday last to Somerville, Mass., where Mrs. Lydston will pass the winter with her daughter, Mrs. L. S. Remick.

Clarence H. Paul of South Newmarket passed Sunday here, at Ira S. Paul's.

"Men should be what they seem," and if they are suffering tortures with toothache, they should not try to smile and look cool and handsome. How much wiser to ease the pain with a bottle of Salvation Oil, which can be bought for twenty-five cents.

Have no equal as a prompt and positive cure for sick headache, biliousness, constipation, pain in the side, and all liver troubles. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Try them.

Grand Army men arrested for parading with music at a funeral in New York have been discharged.

No other medicine is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for the cure of coughs, colds, and all derangements of the respiratory organs. It relieves the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advanced stages of disease.

Speaker Carlisle has ordered the removal of stock telegraph and telephone wires from the corridors of the Capitol. Right; they have no business there.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, guaranteed to those using Carter' Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Don't forget this. Price 25 cents.

Sometimes fails of the murderous intent. The insidious and dastardly attacks made upon the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by persons who seek to palm off cheap and fiery tonics as identical with it, or "the same thing under another name," or "equally as good," in most instances react disastrously upon the unprincipled traders upon popular credulity who attempt them, comporting their speculations into ruinous failures. The bitters is a pure, wholesome and thorough medicine, adapted to the total cure and prevention of fever and ague, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles. Its every ingredient, unlike those in the imitations of it, is of an ascertained standard of excellence, and while they, by reason of their fiery properties, react injuriously upon the brain and nervous system, of both those organs it is a sedative and invigorant. Refuse all these harmful imitations.

Have you a cough, cold, pain in the chest, or bronchitis? In fact, have you the premonitory symptoms of consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which, in many cases, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

Covetousness in disguise. The wonderful success of James Pyle's Pearline has given rise to a flood of imitations with an "ine" to their names, evidently to have them sound like pearline. Enterprises of this sort are quite liable to be more selfish than beneficial.

THE SCARLET FEVER GERM.

A Hitherto Unsuspected Source of Scarlatina—Dr. Klein's Investigations.

Several months ago Dr. Klein and Mr. W. H. Power, of the medical department of the government board, established the relation between a disease found on the udders of some cows at Hendon and scarlatina. The cow disease was not itself scarlatina, but by cultivation of the organisms obtained from cows the specific micrococcus of scarlatina was produced. Moreover, this cultivation was made in milk, and it was the milk of the affected cows that caused the scarlatina epidemic which gave rise to the inquiry. Then it was proved that the virus of the cow disease, if conveyed into the human body by the medium of milk, developed there into the germ of scarlatina, although between the cow disease itself and scarlatina there is almost every possible difference.

This discovery suggested to Dr. Klein a further question. He had shown that the cow disease could set up scarlatina in the human subject; he would now find out whether the scarlatina germ was capable of producing the cow disease. From a number of patients in the Fulham fever hospital Dr. Klein took minute quantities of blood. These were placed in tiny tubes and transferred to the surface of nutritive gelatine. In the result he obtained clear evidence that in some of his experiments the blood contained organisms. In other cases no positive results whatever were obtained. But in four cases out of nine the specific organism was detected, and the organism so recovered from the blood of scarlatina patients was found to be exactly the same as has been cultivated from the virus taken from the teats of the Hendon cows. Dr. Klein does not hesitate to name this organism the micrococcus scarlatinæ, as having a special character and a definite mode of existence. The next question was whether, itself capable of being cultivated from the cow disease, it was capable of being transformed back into the virus of that disease.

With a subculture of micrococcus scarlatinæ, derived from scarlet fever in a human being, Dr. Klein inoculated two calves. The first was killed after ten days, and from blood taken from it a growth was derived identical with the micrococcus scarlatinæ. The second calf was killed after twenty days with the same results. In both animals an identical disease had been produced. Subsequently two calves were fed with milk mixed with the growth from several tubes of the same date and the same source as used for the other calves, and again the identical disease was produced, this disease bearing a great resemblance to that observed in the Hendon cows, except that there was no affection of the skin. But three out of four calves—two of which were inoculated and two fed—were differently affected. Sore patches appeared, and the skin became scurfy, and on each nostril of one of them there was a patch of eruption, which decided the matter. From these skins eruptions were obtained "beautiful chains of cocci" coinciding with those developed from the virus of the cows. The circle was thus completed.

A cow disease which is not scarlatina, nor anything like scarlatina, causes the animal to have sore teats. The exudations find their way into the milk pail, and there develop into something which infects human beings with scarlatina. From the scarlet fever patient a few drops of blood are taken, and after the disease germ has been cultivated it is passed into the system of a calf, which forthwith becomes attacked by the identical disease observed in the original cow. But this is not all. A case of suspected condensed milk was brought under Dr. Klein's notice. Scarlatina had broken out and could be traced to no other source. Sure enough, the micrococcus scarlatinæ was found in the milk, and experiments with it on animals yielded exactly the same results as before. Again last January a monkey died at Wimbledon of scarlatina contracted by drinking the milk of cows among which there prevailed a disease similar to that at the Hendon farm. Microscopic examination of the internal organs of the monkey revealed the same changes as occur in these organs in human scarlatina, and in the blood the scarlatina micrococcus was found. By means of this micrococcus the Hendon disease was again induced in animals. Dr. Klein may therefore claim to have discovered a hitherto unsuspected cause of scarlatina, in the form of a little noticed and less understood cow disease quite distinct from the dreaded malady which—after certain developments of its germ—it produces in man.—St. James' Gazette.

The Triumph of Gunpowder.

By 1450 the simplest complete armor for horse and man cost about $2,000 of our money, a large sum for a single soldier. One shot might ruin all this, and knights, brave with their lives, hesitated to risk a property so valuable and so hard to replace. Thus the nobles retired to the rear of the battle, and in the pay of the Fifteenth century princes half armed light cavalry appeared, doing real service, but requiring time to obtain any prestige. The knights did not learn their lesson, but went on making armor heavier, to resist the effects of powder. They had a momentary success at Fornovo, but at Marignano and Ravenna the Swiss and Spanish infantry handled them roughly, while Pavia proved their inefficiency to all. It seemed to them terrible that such a knight as Bayard should have his back broken by a pinch of powder and a shot from a common soldier; but the change had to come. We find the buff boot on the gentlemen who charged at Ivry, and, in spite of Louis XIII, armor in his reign degenerated into a gala costume.—Scribner's Magazine.

Returned His Plunder, and Himself.

A despatch of the 8th inst. from Claremont says: "Charles H. Clark, formerly book-keeper for the Sullivan savings institution, returned home this morning from Montreal with George N. Farwell, cashier of the Claremont national bank, who, learning of Clark's whereabouts, went to Montreal and induced him to return home to his family and friends, and also to restore to his employers the funds which he had appropriated. The securities of the Claremont national bank and of the Sullivan savings institution are all intact, and the pass books of both institutions are being carefully examined by the officials, who so far have found irregularities in the aggregate amount of less than $1000. The report that Clark lost by stock speculations and that the savings institution had suffered previously by speculations of its clerks, is untrue. Neither bank ever lost a penny by reason of the unfaithfulness of its officers or clerks, and each has a large surplus and no bad debts, and is ready to meet all demands with promptness."

A Puzzled Enquirer.

Mr. Editor: I am puzzled over this O'Brien question, and when one seeks light, how natural it is to go to the press to supply his wants. It seems that in Ireland a man named O'Brien, a member of parliament, after having escaped imprisonment in our country and Canada, has been imprisoned in Ireland for addressing a prohibited meeting in the city of Cork. The world rings with the story of his oppression. Boston has in its prison a harmless preacher of the Savior's peaceful message of redeeming love. He attempted to preach it on the common. He was arrested by an Irish policeman. He is a reputable minister of the gospel. The mayor, who administers the law in Boston, is named O'Brien. The minister is confined under the control of Sheriff O'Brien for violating an ordinance of the city of Boston. Now that good city is governed by an Irish mayor and an Irish city government. These could repeal the city ordinance prohibiting this minister from preaching on Boston Common. If he were treated this way in Ireland the British parliament would have to listen to some information. But in free America he must not speak out of doors! How much worse is the O'Brien at Cork treated, than is the Boston minister persecuted by the O'Briens in this *country? Perhaps you can inform me. B.

A Poor Record.

It is alleged that Frank H. Young, who was convicted of throwing vitriol on Mary J. Mahan at Haverhill, Mass., is well known in the Essex county courts. Two or three years ago he served a term in the house of correction for stealing a suit of clothes at Lynn; later he was entrusted with some cows to drive from Swampscott to Marblehead, but drove them to Danvers, where he sold them. He then went to Salem, where he joined the Salvation Army as a drummer, but left with the drum, which belonged to the army. After a long search the officers succeeded in finding Young, and he was sent to prison at Concord, Mass., for the larceny of the cows. The fellow who employed him to throw the vitriol on the girl knew what he was about; a man who would steal a Salvation Army drum is mean enough to do anything.

"The fair wife of Secretary William C. Whitney does nearly all her shopping in New York," says the Sunday Sun, "except in trivial matters, and frequently on these expeditions the secretary is her devoted attendant. They are not encountered on the promenades, for they drive everywhere. Those who know Mr. Whitney only as a cabinet officer should see him on these little excursions. What a metamorphosis! He stepped on board the Washington express the personification of an energetic business man; he steps into a fashionable Fifth avenue milliner's a companion of Mrs. Whitney. Away with armored cruisers and seacoast defences. Bonnets are the order of the day. To tell the truth he applies himself now as assiduously to the study of the latter as he did a few hours before to the former. He will pick up a hat, inspect it from all sides, criticise this shade and that curve, and after his wife has adjusted the wonder on her head will repeat the operation of viewing it from all sides. He is very proud of his better half, and she defers unquestioningly to his taste in hats and other matters of personal adornment. More than one milliner in New York wishes in her soul that he would exercise this consideration in other directions, and they are unanimous in voting him a nuisance. But this doesn't annoy the secretary of the navy, and results in his wife dressing to suit her husband."

A portion of the Charlestown navy yard is needed for business purposes, and a bill for the sale of the same is before Congress. The sale to a railroad corporation would bring, in a business view, hundreds of dollars to the Bunker Hill district where one cent is expended by the government. Indeed, the yard with its water front, is needed for business accommodations. Instead of being an idle spot in a busy region, it could be made an important addition to the commercial facilities of the port of Boston. Notwithstanding these possible advantages, an occasional conservative representative of the days of Bunker Hill arouses himself sufficiently to assert that the navy yard should be kept for the defence of Boston. Just what protection the yard, lying above the town, could afford from a fleet lying in the roads and sending shell toward the gilded dome at Beacon Hill, is not demonstrated. In time of peace it has proved an asylum for many who were unable or disinclined to find work elsewhere, but as a factor in war it could not approach in efficiency a floating iron-clad battery which could follow up an attack it might repel.

The March Century will contain the story of "Colonel Rose's Tunnel at Libby Prison," told by one of the one hundred and nine Union officers who escaped on the night of February 9th, 1864. The successful construction of this tunnel, dug from a dark corner of the cellar of the prison, through fifty feet of solid earth,—the only tools being two broken chisels and a wooden spittoon in which to carry out the dirt,—was one of the most remarkable incidents of the war. Colonel Rose, to whose indomitable will and perseverance the success of the scheme was due, is now a captain in the United States Infantry, and of the fourteen men who assisted him in digging the tunnel, eleven are still living. The narrative in the March Century, which is illustrated, forms one of the untechnical papers supplementing the War Series, and is said to be one of the most romantic records that the Century has ever printed.

To Ex-Governor Long's Friends.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—All the numerous friends of Ex-Governor, now Congressman, Long, will be interested in reading his illustrated history of John Adams' administration, which he has written exclusively for the next Boston Sunday Globe. It is addressed to young people, but will interest those of all ages. File your order at once for the Sunday Globe.

The bronchos which the McCafferty brothers brought into Maine last season to the number of 290 are said to be giving stock commissioners a good deal of trouble, and if these troublesome little animals do not start many cases of glanders in the state it will be a wonder. Quite a number of them have been found to be afflicted with the disease, and have been killed. Until this year only a few cases of the disease were ever reported in Maine, and those were very isolated. These same men who brought the bronchos here have written that they intend to come next season with 200 more. It is to be hoped that this matter will be looked after. The glanders is a disease fatal alike to man and beast, and is said to be contagious.—Biddeford Times.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Municipal Affairs.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Feb. 9th:

Present the full board, except Ald. Stevens; Mayor Hodgdon in the chair.

The committee on claims, to whom was referred the claim of R. D. Smart, reported it without recommendation; the board voted that he have leave to withdraw his claim.

Bills to the amount of about $2500 were ordered to be paid.

The claim of S. A. Schurman, for damages to horse and pung through alleged defective condition of the highway on Sherburne road, was referred to the committee on claims.

Ald. Urch, agent for the city to perambulate the lines between Portsmouth and adjoining towns, reported the boundaries the same as determined on at the last previous perambulation.

The city solicitor was authorized to request the wardens of the Congregational and Middle street churches to place suitable guards on the roofs to prevent snow-slides.

Adjourned for two weeks.

"The Cadets' Picnic."

At Franklin theatre this evening will be presented by far the best and most pleasing exhibition of the kind ever given here—the juvenile comic operetta "The Cadets' Picnic." Though the performers are all young people, the performance has nothing of the primary school exhibition about it, but is a bright operetta with sparkling music and dialogue, excellent singing, and a brilliant cadets' drill. Those who witnessed the dress rehearsal on Thursday afternoon were not only greatly pleased but as much surprised at the excellence shown throughout. Preceding the operetta an "owl dance" will be given by three educated owls,—and it is as pleasing as it is amusing. Those who do not go to Franklin theatre this evening will miss a real treat, for the entertainment will not be repeated. Doors open at 7:30 o'clock; performance at 8:00. Though there are no seats reserved, all will be well placed, as there are no poor seats in the house.

Board of Instruction.

There not being a quorum at the regular meeting of the Board of Instruction on Wednesday evening of this week, they adjourned until Thursday afternoon, when it was voted to close the Lafayette school until spring, the number of pupils enrolled being but ten and the attendance for the last previous two weeks but two, with sometimes three, scholars. The pupils are to attend the Plains school for the rest of the winter.

Voted to ask for an appropriation from the city of $22,000, in addition to the literary fund, for 1888.

Voted to have no session of the training school on Saturdays, but all day on Wednesdays, to give the teachers an opportunity to visit the training school.

Adjourned.

Matrimonial.

Miss Mary L. Stevens and Mr. Augustus G. Reynolds were united in marriage at noon on Thursday, the 9th inst., at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Albion Stevens, on Bridge street, Salem, Mass. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Arey, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, the bride being given away by her uncle, J. Albert Walker, Esq., of this city. The guests were confined to relatives and immediate friends, mostly from this city, Newburyport, Lynn, Boston and Salem; there was a reception and lunch, after which Mr. Reynolds and wife started on a bridal trip, on their return from which they will reside in Newburyport, the home of the groom, who is treasurer of the Newburyport & Amesbury and Plum Island street railway companies.

Grand Army Reception.

The Grand Army reception in Music hall on Saturday evening to Commander-in-chief Rea, will be a notable event, and the house will be packed. The department officers of New Hampshire, and the posts of Kittery, Dover, Newmarket, Exeter, Hampton and Seabrook, with ladies, and the Sons of Veterans and Woman's Relief Corps, are invited to be present; also the citizens of Portsmouth generally. Admission free, with no reserved seats; but in order that boys and others not specially interested in such assemblages may not be too numerous, tickets will be used, and can be obtained this morning at the stores of C. Dwight Hanscom, John H. Hutchinson, M. M. Collis and Charles E. Laighton & Son.

Storer Post in full uniform will escort the guests and reception committe from the Rockingham house to Music hall; Post Commander D. J. Vaughan will preside at the meeting, and Mayor Hodgdon will deliver an address of welcome, after which there will be speeches by Judge Rea and Junior Vice Commander Linnehan, and vocal and instrumental music, the whole concluding with an informal reception on the stage. The Music hall orchestra will play during the evening.

A New "Bricker."

The schooner Sadie A. Kimball, fifty-four tons register, built at Boothbay, Me., in 1884, has been purchased for the brick trade between the Piscataqua river and Boston, and will arrive at this port about the 1st of March. She is owned by George F. Lowe, Freeman F. Garrett, George Scott, H. W. Burns, Thomas E. Call, Frank W. Rice, George W. Ford, Thomas Paral, Arthur W. Walker, C. C. Simpson, Andrew P. Preston, F. E. M. Cook, George A. Trafton, M. E. Call and Daniel Parker Spinney. She will be commanded by Capt. Horace W. Burns, one of the owners; Mr. George Scott, who owns the largest share, will be the managing owner and agent. The owners are to be congratulated in regard to their agent, and unless something happens out of the ordinary course they may reasonably anticipate a thirty per cent dividend when the season closes next fall. Mr. Scott has for some time been agent for the schooners Hattie Lewis and Satellite, and few vessels can show so good a record as they since they have been under his management. The purchase money for the new bricker has been paid in and deposited in the bank, awaiting the arrival of the schooner, which is now at Tremont, Me.

Maritime Notes.

Schooner Annie F. Conlon, Seaward master, arrived at this port on Thursday, the 9th inst., with a cargo of coal from Baltimore. She left Vineyard Haven on Monday, the 6th, in company with seventy-five sail of vessels, but on account of the ice they all put back except the Conlon and one fishing schooner. Capt. Seaward reports large fields of ice in Nantucket sound—the heaviest and worst ice he ever saw there—and it was with great difficulty and danger he managed to crawl along, picking his way through the ice fields.

The British steamships Darien, Luira and Algetha sailed from Cardiff, Wales, early in December, for Carthegena, to load iron ore for Naylor & Co. of Philadelphia; they have not been heard from since, and all three have been posted as "missing" at Lloyd's. So great a marine mystery in regard to tramp steamers has not been known since the summer when fifteen of them, loaded with grain in bulk, sailed at different times from New York and Philadelphia for British ports, none ever arriving, and only one or two being ever heard from after sailing.

"Held by the Enemy."

This evening, in Music hall, the romantic drama of the above name will be played before a Portsmouth audience for the first time. It has had great runs in the large cities, and will be presented with the New York cast. See advertisement.

The ladies engaged in getting up the presentation of the juvenile comic operetta, "The Cadets' Picnic," with thoughtful liberality have sent tickets to all the inmates of the Children's Home.

The demand for fir-balsam pillows and soap at Preston's is exhausting the supply.

The night shifting engine employed in the Boston & Maine railroad yard in this city left the rails about ten o'clock on Wednesday evening, the 8th inst., and jammed in between a freight car and the station building, becoming so firmly fixed that two engines were unable to pull it back, and jacks had to be put in requisition to replace the wheels on the rails. The car had its side stove in, and a hole was knocked in the brick wall of the station, the engine also being considerably damaged. No person was hurt. The track was not cleared until about four o'clock Thursday morning.

Rev. C. B. Pitblado has been called to the Asylum street Methodist church in Hartford, Conn., from Brockton, Mass.

The dance in the grove by the three educated owls, at Franklin theatre this evening, will alone be worth the price of admission.

Dreams and Presentiments.

BOSTON, Feb. 9.—All young ladies and others, who have dreams and presentiments, should find out why they come and what they mean by reading Professor Proctor's article in the next Boston Sunday Globe.

Cœur de Lion Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, was organized in Dover on the night of Feb. 8th, by Supreme Chancellor Thomas Birchall of Wilmington, Del. The exercises were held in the opera house, and lasted all night, 267 members being initiated.

YOU have no doubt found it difficult to find a satisfactory soap for office use where the consumption is considerable and expensive soaps cannot be afforded. "Cheap" soaps are used, but from their greasy, acrid and irritating character, are very unsatisfactory. No such experience can occur with the IVORY SOAP, for it is $99\frac{44}{100}$ pure, and no one is so poor but can afford "the IVORY." Send your office-boy for a cake and try it.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Record of Children's Weight.

Mr. Francis Galton, whose researches on heredity have been so interesting and important, started a few years ago a series of inquiries into the development of children in height, weight and strength, at various ages. The trouble is that for the materials he required to be of any use, they must be carefully sifted, and even they would, for the most part, remain open to considerable doubt.

Galton can hardly have hoped, when he invited the British paterfamilias to send in the statistics of a family's growth, that in regard to weight that worthy but usually unscientific character would take the necessary precautions. One can see how little the average father of a family is likely to be careful in such matters, when one observes how careless he is in taking the record of his own weight. He will take his weight on one of those rather questionable nickel machines, and remark with a satisfied smile that he has increased four or five pounds in weight; without noticing that, perhaps, his last weighing was taken just before a meal on a warm day, when he was lightly clad, whereas the new weighing has been taken soon after a rather full meal, and when he is warmly dressed. It does not occur to him to notice that a couple of glasses of water add more than a pound to the weight, and a full meal three or four pounds; while a suit such as a man wears on a cold day will often weigh four or five pounds more (without counting overcoat) than the clothing suitable for a warm day.—Richard A. Proctor.

Inspector Byrnes on Detectives.

I want to speak right here of a couple of fallacies of the popular mind in regard to the detective business! First, the old idea of setting a thief to catch a thief is all nonsense. Why, you could not trust your man; would have to have another to watch him. No; you must have thoroughly honest and reliable men. Of course we sometimes get information from one thief about another, but never do we employ a man who has ever been a crook. The second popular fallacy is that the detective is a regular variety and lightning change man, who at will undergoes transformation of appearance and language, something like the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde business; people fancy that a collection of wigs, whiskers, mustache, and a make up apparatus, together with a wardrobe that would put a variety actor to shame, is a regular and necessary part of the outfit of a detective bureau. That is all burcombe. You get that in dime novels and French detective stories. Years ago, in foreign countries, that kind of thing was, perhaps, resorted to, but never nowadays. The most a man does here, perhaps, is to change his clothes.—Cleveland Leader.

Game in Tennessee.

There is still plenty of big game left in the wilder portions of Tennessee. A party of five sportsmen who recently spent a few days hunting in Dyer county bagged nineteen deer and one bear. They say that if they had given all their time to hunting deer they could have killed fifty. —Chicago Herald.

A man was killed and two boys were injured by the collision of an express train and a wagon in Allegheny City, Pa.

Salvation Oil always cures pain. It should be the companion of every travelling man. It extinguishes pain, whether resulting from a cut, a burn, a bruise, or a sprain. Get only the genuine. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, guaranteed to those using Carter' Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Don't forget this. Price 25 cents.

—A great many inventions are being made to kill people easily, but what is worse wanted is something that will enable all to live easily.

—"I have got the drift of the thing," the fellow said as he shovelled nine feet of snow from his sidewalk.

I suffered from a very severe cold in my head for months and used everything recommended, but could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week and I believe it is the best remedy known. Feeling grateful for what it has done for me I send this testimonial.—Samuel J. Harris, wholesale grocer, 119 Front street, New York. Two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm cured the wife of a well-known U. S. A. General and also two army officers in Arizona of catarrh.

A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

A Stab in the Dark

Sometimes fails of the murderous intent. The insidious and dastardly attacks made upon the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by persons who seek to palm off cheap and fiery tonics as identical with it, or "the same thing under another name," or "equally as good," in most instances react disastrously upon the unprincipled traders upon popular credulity who attempt them, converting their speculations into ruinous failures. The bitters is a pure, wholesome and thorough medicine, adapted to the total cure and prevention of fever and ague, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles. Its every ingredient, unlike those in the imitations of it, is of an ascertained standard of excellence, and while they, by reason of their fiery properties, react injuriously upon the brain and nervous system, of both those organs it is a sedative and invigorant. Refuse all these harmful imitations.

The approaching term of the supreme court at Ottawa, Ont., will try Sir Adolph Caron, minister of militia, for bribery, both personal and by agents.

Do not suffer from sick headache a moment longer. It is not necessary. Carter's Little Liver Pills will cure you. Dose, one little pill. Small price. Small dose. Small pill.

The senate has postponed further consideration of the British extradition treaty to the December session. This means that it is rejected.

Mrs. Chas. Smith of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

Riddleberger of Virginia is fast drifting toward radical democracy. He was tight in the senate the other day, and insisted on whooping 'er up.

There are many hair preparations on the market, but none have so desirable effect upon the hair and scalp, as Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

Henry Malo, a private banker at Galt, Ont., was shot dead in his office on the 8th inst. by John Currie, who then blew his own brains out. The murderer, before committing the deed, went around town and bade his friends good bye.

"My little son, three years of age, was terribly afflicted with scrofula. His head was entirely covered with scrofulous sores, and his body showed many marks of the disease. A few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured him."—W. J. Beckett, Hymera, Ind.

Have you a cough, cold, pain in the chest, or bronchitis? In fact, have you the premonitory symptoms of consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which, in many cases, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

Representative Scott of Pennsylvania will succeed Barnum on the democratic national committee.

Covetousness in disguise. The wonderful success of James Pyle's Pearline has given rise to a flood of imitations with an "ine" to their names, evidently to have them sound like pearline. Enterprises of this sort are quite liable to be more selfish than beneficial.

Samples of so-called "pure lard" have been found to contain from twenty to 100 percent of beef fat and cotton seed oil.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. DON'T BLAME

a man for groaning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—oughtn't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he wont use Ath-lo-pho-ros, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way. It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

"The skill of five physicians could not cure me of Rheumatism which had settled in the hips, neck and shoulders. So intense was the pain that sleep was almost impossible. The first dose of Athlophoros gave me relief, and the third enabled me to sleep for four and a half hours without waking. I continued its use, and am now well. Rev. S. H. TROYER, New Albany, Ind."

RETURN.

"Return," we dare not as we fain
Would cry from hearts that yearn;
Love dares not bid our dead again return.

Oh, hearts that strain and burn
As fires fast fettered burn and strain,
Bow down, be still and learn.

The heart that healed all hearts of pain
No funeral rites mourn;
It echoes, while the stars remain, return.

One of the "Holy Cities" of the Jews. An Old Synagogue—Relics.

Hebron, Jerusalem, Safed, and Tiberias became the "holy cities" of the Jews after the Roman persecution had ceased somewhat. The Sanhedrim was at Tiberias for a number of years. Thirteen synagogues were here at one time, each one having a school connected with it as certainly as the present churches have their Sunday schools. A Jewish school of languages became the center of the Jewish faith. To learn Hebrew from a rabbi of Tiberias is even yet considered a great privilege.

The old synagogue carries one back 1,000 years. Its roof is supported by stone arches and columns. In the center is a great cage like inclosure, constructed of wood which is dried and twisted by centuries of exposure, but yet as sound as when hewed from the log. This is the reading place. Ascending the steps which lead to the interior, the rabbi opens the scroll and begins to teach and intone. The assembled congregation walk around the cage, muttering and gesturing, some chiming in a high key, or imitating the blasts of a trombone through the hands. Some weep as they frantically throw up their arms; others kiss their phylacteries as they fold and unfold them about the left arm and the head; others march around and beat time with their hands and feet. Any reference to the coming of the Messiah excites them to frenzy.

Little also remains in Tiberias to interest the student. Relics of the past are found intermingled with the necessities of the present. Disks cut from the syenite columns of the old temple serve as millstones to grind barley for the sons of Mohammed; fine old porphyry columns are thrown upon the ground and hollowed out for public horse troughs; threshing floors are paved with bits of frieze chiseled after Grecian designs paid for by Herod Antipas.

The cattle are slaughtered in the public thoroughfares; the streets are hopelessly filthy; the bazaars are unattractive; the people are depressed; and, as the Dragoman tells us, "the king of the fleas" resides here. Yet here come the pilgrim Jews to die, in order that their bones may rest close to the tombs of their wise men who have gone before; some declare that here the Messiah will appear. —Edward L. Wilson in The Century.

Physical Training at Cornell.

"What is done in the way of physical training?"

"Every freshman is examined when he enters, by the doctor, and careful measurements taken of him, his lungs tested, his heart examined, his muscular power tried. During the first two years of the course all the young men are required to take physical training under the direction of the professor of physical culture. During two terms of the year this consists in military drill. In the winter term they take gymnastic exercise. Certain ones, who are found to be unequal to this in their entrance examination, are treated by themselves, and perform exercises prescribed by the professor for the purpose of strengthening their weak points. There are perhaps thirty of these in each class. They are called, in college slang, 'the P. W.'s'—physical wrecks. This compulsory physical training under the personal direction of the professor is of the greatest importance and value, and the results of it are admirable.

"The young ladies have gymnastic exercise also, except those who are over 21—and these may take it if they choose, and as a matter of fact most of them do. Of course there are some who are unable to take the same exercise as the others, and they are specially prescribed for.

"The importance of this compulsory training is easily seen. When the physical culture is elective, as it is at Harvard, just those students who need it most do not get it; that is to say, as a general rule, only those students will of their own choice take up gymnastic exercise and pursue it regularly who are already in pretty good physical condition, while the awkward and the weak will be apt to leave it alone. We have elective studies at Cornell, but physical culture is not one of them.—Interview with President Adams.

Who Make the Best Sailors.

The American able seaman is a thing of the past. Indeed, he isn't wanted. His very Americanism places him at a disadvantage in seeking a berth. He is not a good subordinate. And he knows too much for his own good. The best sailors, from the masters' standpoint, are Scandinavians, Norwegians, Swedes and Dutchmen. Italians and Frenchmen are in more demand in the winter for southern voyages, as being better acclimated, but at other times are not preferred.

Negroes do not make the best sailors, but are useful in the cabin, and there are usually two or three aboard every ship. But the best seamen are rarely anything more. The men who rise to be officers are almost always Americans, Englishmen or Germans.—Edwin Atwell.

Game in Tennessee.

There is still plenty of big game left in the wilder portions of Tennessee. A party of five sportsmen who recently spent a few days hunting in Dyer county bagged nineteen deer and one bear. They say that if they had given all their time to hunting deer they could have killed fifty. —Chicago Herald.

How a Dying Child Was Saved!

CICERO, HAMILTON CO., IND., Sept. 19, 1887.—The following is a true account of what your S. S. S. has done for our little daughter, Hazel, now four years old. When 12 months old a lump appeared on her heel, which slowly grew larger. The family physician thought it was caused by a piece of broken glass or needle, but failed to bring anything to light. The child became feebler all the time, seeming to lose the use of her leg, and finally quit walking entirely. The middle finger and thumb of either hand became enlarged, the flesh becoming hard. The hip joints became involved, so that when seventeen months old she could not stand, having lost the use of leg and arm. Partial dislocation of the spine also followed. The nervous system was wrecked, muscles contracted, and there was general wasting of flesh and muscle. At eighteen months of age she was placed under the treatment of a prominent physician of Boston, Mass., but at the end of ten months she had declined to such a degree that she was in a dying condition. This was in April, 1886. We took the child away not knowing what to do. In this dreadful dilemma we were over-persuaded by friends to try "one bottle" of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC, which we did, and before it had all been taken we saw a change for the better in her symptoms. We kept it up, and have done so to this day, and will keep it up, if the Lord wills, for many days to come, for it has brought our dying Hazel to life, to vigor, to strength and health again. The ashen hue of her cheeks has changed to a rosy tint. She is able to walk anywhere, her languor and melancholy have passed away, and she is now a blithe, cheerful, happy romping child. Should you wish to increase your testimonials of proof of the virtue of S. S. S., our names and what we have said is but a portion of what we owe to you, should you wish to use them.

Kindly yours,
BEN. F. SWIFT.

Naval Intelligence.

Assistant Engineer Reynold T. Hall has been ordered to duty in connection with the inspection of castings and forgings at Cramp's yard, Philadelphia.

Assistant Paymaster E. B. Webster has been detached from Mare Island navy yard, and ordered to the Pinta on the first steamer in March; Assistant Paymaster Madison R. Calvert is detached from the Pinta on the reporting of his relief, and ordered to return home.

The secretary of the navy has designed Capt. J. C. Watson, Lieuts. Daniel Delehanty and E. F. Qualtrough, and Assistant Engineer Ira N. Hollis as a board of inspection for duty on the Pacific coast. Lieut. W. D. Ross is detailed as recorder of the board. The duties of the board will include the inspection of all naval vessels which arrive at or clear from Pacific ports. A similar board for service on the Atlantic coast has been in existence for some time.

The secretary of the navy has contracted with the Herreshoff company of Rhode Island for a first-class steel torpedo boat, to cost $32,750.

W. L. Douglas in England.

The London Boot and Shoe Trades Journal contains the following in its issue of December 24th:

A novelty in advertising appears in the pages of the Boston Boot and Shoe Recorder. A full page is occupied by the portrait of Mr. W. L. Douglas, of Brockton, Mass., and the names of the five specialties that he manufactures. Mr. Douglas is famous in the states, on account on the boycott placed on his goods, because he has dared to introduce the lasting machine into his factory. His portrait gives the idea of a determined, energetic, far-seeing man of about forty years of age. His career is well known to readers of the American trade papers, and it is by no means the least thing he may be proud of, that he has thoroughly learned everything connected with his trade, and has earned his living at every branch thereof.

A Two-Faced Scoundrel.

It turns out that John C. Crowley, Esq., the eminent Boston lawyer and estimable gentleman, while he was posing as a devoted servant of the Catholic church and stealing the whole fortunes of widows and orphans entrusted to his care on account of his high reputation and pretended piety, was squandering large sums on one "Mrs. Calvert," a very beautiful woman who was his mistress as far back as 1872. He was a religious hypocrit, as well as a thief.

Another "Wild Animal" Story.

The New York Herald prints a long despatch from its correspondent in Pike county, Kentucky, reviewing the causes and present status of the Hatfield-McCoy feud, and describing the feeling of terror that prevades the scene of the bloody vendetta. The presence of troops on both sides of the river, the correspondent says, is needly badly, not to fight, but to restore confidence in law and order. In an effort to reach the Hatfield stronghold the Herald man was shot at from a bush, and was forced to turn back without obtaining any news,—so he says, or so the Herald says he says.

March Trips to California.

Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb will send out two more tourist parties to the Pacific coast early next month. The dates of departure are March 8th and 12th, the party on the former date going over the Santa Fe Line, and the one leaving March 12th taking the route, via New Orleans and the Southern Pacific company's railway, through Texas and Arizona. The parties will arrive at Los Angeles and at other southern California points March 17th and 27th. March and April are delightful months in southern California, while in the east they represent the most disagreeable part of the year. Pullman palace cars of the latest and most improved kind are brought into requisition in these excursions; and Pullman palace dining cars or hotel cars are run on all trains, these being with the train during the entire trip. Thus meals are assured at regular hours. The spring sight-seeing tours across the continent are announced for April 26th and May 3d. The second and last Mexico tourist party will leave Boston March 12th, and two trips to Washington (the only ones to take place this season) are planned for March 9th and 30th. Descriptive circulars of the various trips may be obtained of W. Raymond, 296 Washington street, opposite School street, Boston.

A Confederate Relic.

Captain Charles E. Nash, of Augusta, Me., has in his possession a lithograph plate upon which were printed confederate "shin-plasters" of the $5 denomination during the war. There were only a few of these stones made, and it is to be doubted if any of the others were preserved. The confederate mint, too, was run on a system which tended to rapidly wear out the apparatus of the place. The lithograph stone in the possession of Captain Nash bears a photograph of Jeff Davis, and from it probably came many of the $5 confederate bills which now figure in various museums throughout the land.

Gen. Sherman briefly, but pointedly and effectively, gives the lie to Wade Hampton's charge that the federal commander burned Columbia, S. C. The old war horse remarks that there is no reason why he should deny burning the town if it was done by him, as it was an enemy's town; but the fact was that Hampton's troops fired it before they ran away, and the federals did all they could to save it—not for its own sake, but for their own sake.

B. D. Benson, president of the Tidewater Pipe Line company, has died at his temporary home in New York city, of cancer of the head.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

"The Cadets' Picnic."

Despite the cold, driving snowstorm, Franklin theatre was packed on Friday evening by an audience of the highest respectability, to witness the presentation of the juvenile comic operatta "The Cadets' Picnic." They were well repaid for attending. Everything went off smoothly, the little people all knew their parts and performed them finely, there was no show of stage fright in singing or dialogue, and the whole affair was a grand success.

Preliminary to the opera, there was a dance in a grove by moonlight by three "educated owls," which was very pretty and very amusing, and had to be repeated. The operetta itself went off with more snap and vim than many professional performances, and the recalls were so numerous that it was nearly ten o'clock before the audience departed. Miss Cora Barnabee as a little old woman and Master Dudley Carpenter as a little old man were admirable, and their singing was in the highest degree pleasing; Capt. Eddy Kimball, who commanded the cadets, was an ideal officer; and little Miss Louisa Bennett played the castanets in one chorus in such style as would have kept a much more sluggish chorus squarely up to time. All of these were presented with baskets or bouquets of flowers during the evening. Master Harry Pryor, the drummer, displayed remarkable skill; Miss Stavers fully sustained a somewhat trying part; and in short, all the young folks did well. At the close of the cadet drill, which was done with perfect precision, a very handsome cake about the size of a half-bushel measure was handed on the stage, on it being a placard announcing that "This company takes the cake!"

At the close of the entertainment the youthful performers had a good time among themselves on the stage, and partook of a collation, before starting for their homes.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

FRIDAY, Feb. 10th.

Ellen Parks and Atwood Gammon, for drunkenness, were each assessed $9 90, fine and costs.

George Laskey, for drunkenness, was fined $10, costs $9.21, and will probably board it out at Brentwood. The high price charged him was not wholly owing to the size of this particular drunk, but partly to the fact that he was let off from punishment for a similar offense some weeks ago on his promise to keep out of the city for a year.

John McCauley, drunk, case continued to Saturday forenoon.

Leap Year Party.

The T. U. S. I. club of Kittery will give a Leap Year party in Trefethen hall on Monday evening next, with music by Medcalf's orchestra. Floor director, Laura P. Patch; assistant directors, Mary Hill, Florence Stimson; aids, Biona Stimson, Edith Jellison, Anna Marr, Cora Fernald, Carrie Fernald. The badges gotten up by the young ladies for the floor managers are very handsome, of lilac silk for the director, orange colored for the assistants and light blue for the aids, bearing the name of the club and other lettering, and trimmed with silver bangles. The I. K. & U. K. club of this city, which gave the Leap Year party in Franklin hall recently, will attend the dance in a body, all wearing badges.

Maritime Notes.

The big schooner C. B. Church, which arrived at this port on the 9th inst. with a cargo of coal, lost an anchor and chain in the ice in Nantucket sound.

Mail advices of Dec. 20th from Batavia, Java, report: "The master of the ship South American, Capt. Tucker, which vessel grounded at Fourth point in Banca straits, went to Muntok to obtain the assistance of a steamer. An agreement was made with the Netherlands India Steamship company's steamer Alexander, and with her assistance the vessel was got afloat on the night of Dec. 16th at spring tide. Apparently she did not sustain any damage, and she proceeded immediately on her voyage."

It is announced from Washington that the orders have been issued for extensive repairs on the Kearsarge, as soon as the Swatara is out of the way, which will be before the end of this month, the steam trial of her engines having been had this week. The Kearsarge is to receive a new set of boilers, and the engines which were taken out of the Nantasket, a much smaller vessel, are to be put in her. The Nantasket was built here about the close of the war, of wood right off the stump, and when she returned three years later was so utterly gone to decay that she would have fallen to pieces by her own weight but for the diagonal bracing. Her engines, of the Isherwood pattern, also built at this yard, were in such perfect condition after three years of service that less than $100 in material and labor was required to fit them for another cruise. The rotten hull was broken to pieces on the ways at the head of the dry dock, and the engines stored on the yard, where they have been waiting for a job for the past fifteen or twenty years.

Railroad Items.

The Boston & Maine railroad has sent three new freight engines to Lowell. Their names are Daniel Webster, Henry Clay and John C. Calhoun. They were all built at the Providence Locomotive works.

It is announced that the Maine Central railroad managers have decided to enter upon their summer arrangements much earlier than usual this year, and on April 2d the entire summer service of the road, excepting only the Mt. Desert limited express, will go into effect. The opening of the season thus early has been decided upon because of the steady increase of travel to the summer resorts of Maine. The present year will, it is expected, be the best, so far as the Bar Harbor and province travel is concerned, in the history of the road.

Joke.

Said one young lady to another as they were exchanging "leap year drolleries" on Pleasant street Friday afternoon:

"Are you going to take Mr. ——— to the show in Music hall this evening?"

Other y. l.,—"I would, but the show ain't coming."

First y. l.,—"Why?"

Other y. l.,—"Because they're held by the enemy."

The first y. l. immediately felt for her smelling salts.

George W. F. Converse, for several years landlord of the Franklin house in this city, died at Hooksett on the 2d inst., aged seventy-eight years.

It is reported that the Universalist society will give an entertainment in Music hall early in March, in which a large number of ladies, gentlemen and children will take part.

Who says Portsmouth isn't becoming a metropolitan city. Friday evening there were three different shows playing to "crowded houses" (?) "Held by the Enemy" at Music hall; "Cadets' Picnic" at Franklin theatre; and Wilson & Washburn's "Box and Cox" company in Rechabite hall.

Another snowstorm; it commenced Friday There have been so many latly we were afraid people would not notice it unless their attention was especially invited.

The democratic congressional delegation from New Hampshire unanimously nominated Hon. L. F. McKinney as a member of the democratic congressional committee, and he was elected. A good endorsement of Mr. McKinney's vote in the White election case.

An item now going the rounds of the press is to the effect that "A Vermont firm found in their coal bin ninety-two lemons which had been placed there by rats." Rats that would substitute lemons for coal under a pretence of making a fair exchange are strictly dishonest.

A trial of the new water works at Old Orchard, Wednesday afternoon of this week, gave most satisfactory results, a stream of water being forced from one of the hydrants through 200 feet of hose over the flag-staff upon the Old Orchard house. During the afternoon some trouble was experienced with the big pump, as one of the water valves refused to work. An examination was made, and a large dynamite cartridge, such as was used in blasting by the company, was found to have been drawn into the valve, where it had caught, holding the valve partially open. The cartridge, which was powerful enough to have blown up the whole pumping station had it received a concussion, was carefully removed, those present fully realizing the damage which might have been done.

Rev. Alfred E. Goodnough, who was installed pastor of the Unitarian Church of the Saviour in Brooklyn, N. Y., last October, died from pneumonia on the 8th inst. Mr. Goodnough was thirty-three years of age and was educated at Harvard. Upon his graduation he studied for the Unitarian ministry, and his first pastorate was at Bridgewater, Mass. He also preached at Brockton. From there he went to Ithaca, N. Y., where he met with much success and was listened to by many Cornell students. Last summer he accepted a call to the Church of the Saviour to succeed Dr. A. P. Putnam. He was one of the ablest clergymen of his age, in the Unitarian denomination.

THE MOST WONDERFUL FAMILY REMEDY EVER KNOWN.
LINIMENT

IF YOU WANT
Delicious Biscuit, Cakes, Etc., that can be eaten hot without detriment, use
Horsford's
BREAD PREPARATION.

The acid phosphate in this preparation supplies the vital phosphates essential to the system, and assists digestion. No other baking powder does this.

Dr. J. E. L. Kimball, of Saco, says:
"I think Horsford's Bread Preparation is adapted to the wants of the system, and for domestic purposes stands unrivalled."

Dr. John Lord, of Biddeford, says:
"I give Horseford's Bread Prepartion my hearty endorsement, believing that it imparts to food, material necessary for the nutrition of the brain, preventing mental exhaustion, and acting as a nerve food and tonic."

Dr. J. A. LaPoint, of Biddeford, says:
"Horsford's Bread Preparation has been used in my family for a long time, with most satisfactory results. I think it superior to all other baking powders, because it restores the phosphates, those life-giving elements which are contained in the grains of wheat, but not in fine wheat flour."

Dr. L. E. Grant, of Great Falls, says:
"Horsford's Bread Preparation is far superior to cream of tarter in cooking flour. Phosphates enter largely into the composition of animal tissues. This preparation, being rich in phosphates, supplies the system with those valuable elements."

Dr. J. W. Preston, of Great Falls, says:
"It is beyond question that some of the essential elements of wheat are lost in milling, and they can only be restored by the use of such elements in making bread. Horsford's Bread Preparation furnishes just what is needed."

Dr. H. V. Noyes, of Berwick, says:
"I have tested Horsford's Bread Preparation, and believe it healthful, inasmuch as it restores to the flour those properties which are removed in milling. We made good bread with it."

Dr. F. E. Wilcox, of Rochester, says:
"The process of manufacturing wheaten flour, removes with the bran nearly all the phosphates, which are positively necessary to the growth and repair of the tissues of the body. These salts must in some way be supplied to the system, or the result will appear in some form of disease or the osseous or nervous systems. Horsford's Bread Preparation I believe to be free from alum and other deleterious ingredients, and contains a sufficiency of these vital salts to restore to bread the health-giving phosphates lost by the bolting process."

Dr. E. T. Hubbard, of Rochester, says:
"I recommend Horsford's Bread Preparation as an admirable adjunct to economical housekeeping. In my opinion it contains nothing detrimental to health, and it supplies to fine flour those phosphatic elements removed by milling."

Dr. Levi G. Hill, of Dover, says:
"The phosphates are the essential and vital constituent of all grains, and are declared to be the principal ingredient in Horsford's Bread Preparation. I endorse the correctness of the scientific principles claimed for this preparation, in restoring to the flour the nutritive phosphates lost in milling.

Dr. Albert G. Fenner, of Dover, says:
"My test of Horsford's Bread Preparation fully shows it to be all that it claimed for it, and amply proves the correctness and truth of the scientific principles upon which in is founded."

Expressions of gratitude on the part of the public are always impressive and solemn. It is pleasant to know that the people are justly praising the merits of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, a safe remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup and sore throat.

Sister Angela, superior of the St. Francis orphan asylum at New Haven, Conn., died a few days ago.

Have no equal as a prompt and positive cure for sick headache, biliousness, constipation, pain in the side, and all liver troubles. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Try them.

Rev. W. W. Downs has been nonsuited in a case against some of his former opponents in the church in Boston over which he was once pastor.

No other medicine is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for the cure of coughs, colds, and all derangements of the respiratory organs. It relieves the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advanced stages of disease.

The attempt to arrange a commercial treaty between France and Italy has failed.

Relief from sick headache, drowsiness, nausea, dizziness, pain in the side, guaranteed to those using Carter' Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Don't forget this. Price 25 cents.

Boston coal dealers say lower prices in coal need not be looked for yet awhile.

Squire and Flynn, charged with conspiracy in New York city, are said to have quarrelled, and Flynn to have turned state's evidence against the "poet."

I suffered from a very severe cold in my head for months and used everything recommended, but could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week and I believe it is the best remedy known. Feeling grateful for what it has done for me I send this testimonial.—Samuel J. Harris, wholesale grocer, 119 Front street, New York. Two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm cured the wife of a well-known U. S. A. General and also two army officers in Arizona of catarrh.

Mgr. Galimberti, papal nuncio at Vienna, has been instructed to open negotiations with Russia for the reestablishment of diplomatic relations with the Vatican.

A Fortunate and Grateful Woman

Mrs. J. H. Giles of Everett, Pa., says: I suffered for many years from Kidney and Gravel trouble. Besides, I had other complaints common to my sex. I began using Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y. A few words tell the result. I am a happy and perfectly well woman once more. Thanks to Dr. Kennedy and his Favorite Remedy. CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT.

A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

They Want Canada.

Gen. J. H. Wilson, formerly president of the New York & New England railroad, appeared before the senate committee on interstate commerce on the 10th inst., and advocated the abolition of the present system of transportation in bond through Canada. He did not believe this would result in an increase of rates on the American side of the line. Gen. Wilson said that there was one controlling reason behind this argument, and he frankly avowed it. He desired to initiate a movement which would result in the annexation of Canada to the United States, and as a means to that end he would make it as uncomfortable as possible for Canada to remain out of the Union. The measure that he proposed, he said, he knew would bankrupt every Canadian railroad. Such a result he would witness with complacency. Great Britain, he was certain, in like circumstances would do the same thing. Senator Reagan, a member of the committee, said that he found himself agreeing with the main lines of Gen. Wilson's argument, and Chairman Cullom openly expressed the opinion that Canada ought to be made a part of the United States. Gen. Wilson said, "That should be the policy—peacefully if we can, forcibly if we must."

There was one interesting incident connected with this hearing. Gen. Wilson was the Union cavalry leader who captured Mr. Reagan, who was the postmaster general of the confederacy. They had never met sine. Their meeting was very cordial and resulted in some interesting stories of the war.

Weather Indications.

Moist weather; steady blowing for about forty-eight hours; then settled cold. Yes, that is what I have often had to endure in the past, but such will not be the case in the future. I have learned the merits of Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, and by its use I shall in the future be free from the colds, coughs, hoarseness and bronchial troubles from which I have suffered in the past. One bottle did me so much good that I shall never again be without it.

In Smith county, Miss., at a ball on the night of Feb. 9th, a young man named Vinzant accidentally jostled another named Wright, when the latter shot him five times, killing him instantly. The murderer reloaded his pistol and escaped.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

The Messrs. Wallace of Rochester have each contributed one hundred thousand dollars as cash capital in a firm in the hide and leather business in Boston.

The great popular remedy of the day for coughs, colds, asthma, and all lung difficulties, is Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Inexpensive, reliable, pleasant to take, cures as by magic, and gives universal satisfaction. A trial is the best testimonial.

Vassar college library has received a valuable gift of books from the Harper estate.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. THE VIRTUES OF LAUGHTER.

Country Schoolboys Turned Loose—Laughing All Over—Shouting Happy.

Now go to a school house in the country where the youngsters are let loose pell mell. Out they come with a rush, and every throat is doing its utmost to add to an uproar of sounds. Part of it is a bedlam of words, part a pure set of yelps like my dog. They run hither and thither, and stand on one leg. They turn handsprings, and do a dozen impulsive things that have no other purpose than to express happiness. I do not think it is any disgrace to the chaps so say it is an overflow of animal spirits, and in a way very much as my dog expresses himself. I should be glad if my own condition could be more generally of the same sort. Only there is no denying that if boys be allowed to shout as they will they become shocking nuisances. Yes, young gents, you are a legitimate product of vitality, but one can't let you shout the top of his head off. On the whole, if they will let you loose, you will soon run quiet. Boys are a good deal like spouting geysers—noisy and quiet by turns. But if we had never outgrown this boy period, and could get on without philosophizing, and printing, and editing newspapers, and doing so many other exhausting things! Ah, yes—if. But we did not stop at the right point, but went on into what we call ripe years. There has been too much evolution. We should have been satisfied at the shouting happy point.

The object of language of all sorts seems to be to express satisfaction or distress, joy or grief. Far back of primitive man, indeed at the very origin of life, there was some method of expressing satisfaction and dissatisfaction. When the head was established and vocalization achieved a great deal of language was left distributed all over the body. When a person is thoroughly happy the tongue is altogether insufficient to tell of it. Laughter is a remnant of the old sort of language, only we have a facial laughter that often supersedes a real all over laughter. But I know a few men who always laugh from top to toe. There is the shaking laugh, that is likened to the quiver in a bowl of good, thick set jelly. When it begins it goes in ripples from side to side, and perpetual motion seems absolutely to have set in. And there is the roaring laughter that throws the practitioner into convulsions until he must hold his sides and gasp for breath.

A really good laugher is a healthy man. I have seen many a patient cured by a good story. I have in mind one who was in a despondent melancholy that had brooded over him for weeks. A cat had nestled by his side, and he involuntarily had stroked it. Pussy turned up her nose to touch his hand, when a flash of electricity leaped from it, and pussy was both shocked, confounded and insulted. Drawing back in great dignity, and with an appearance of vast intellectual amazement, she gave him two cuffs of a decided sort and stalked off. The man instantly broke into a laugh, and as he expressed it, "couldn't stop." His whole system reacted from depression. He laughed till he was sore; and was cured. Of course there is liable to be a touch of the hysterical about such a break up; but it will do no harm. I recommend laughter as a preventive against disease, and as a cure for illness of both body and mind. Children should be encouraged to laughter. They should be taught to laugh loudly, strongly and all over. Laughing can become a matter of education as well as talking or singing. Have them stand up, with their hand on their hips, and begin. It is a capital exercise. You need only start the roar. It is catching. As soon as one urchin has exploded the rest will be at it. It will run up and down the line, and you will end by having all your pupils on their backs, shouting happy.

So if you ask me what I consider most essential to health, vigor and longevity, I answer a plenty of laughter and a plenty of shouting. We should never check children from a reasonable amount of noise making, and never get beyond it ourselves. If possible have some place, a grove or, if no better, a barn, where you can shout as loudly as you please and blow out good full draughts of the purest air. We ought never to get beyond play. A good game of quoits, or tennis, has half its advantage in letting our lungs have full play. We can laugh as loudly as we please and shout with the young folks. Nearly all old age is folly, a useless drying up, owing to false notions of manhood and propriety. Mark this, my friend, don't outgrow the shouting happy point.—M. Maurice, M. D., in Globe-Democrat.

The Food Question.

The subject of food has never yet received a common sense consideration. There is no doubt but a vast amount of wholesome food products are yet overlooked. During the grasshopper invasion it was proved by Professor Riley and some of our normal school teachers that such creatures may serve as an excellent article of food, yet the people preferred semi-starvation to even tasting them. Snails are luxuries in France. It was long before frogs found a market in this country. Mr. Wallace tells us eggs are never eaten by Pacific Islanders. Strawberries are rejected by some of the tropical races. Esquimaux reject all vegetable food. The people of New Guinea pronounce bread a detestable affair. Milk is used very little in some of our southern states, as it is seldom tasted by Jews in Africa that keep large herds. One tribe in New Guinea abhors sugar, but devours salt. Snakes are an article of diet quite largely in Asia.—Globe-Democrat.

Something for Furniture Makers.

Nature has provided a new industry for furniture makers, by so working on a redwood tree that its grain becomes curly and assumes fantastic shapes. The wood is cut into veneers, polished and sold for solid rosewood.—Boston Budget.

THE EVIL

Of the age is kidney and bladder disease. More than half of all the deaths are caused by it. Hunt's Remedy is an absolute relief, as thousands of saved men and women can testify. Sold by all apothecaries and dealers.

Heartburn

When the food does not digest, but ferments and sours, it causes a burning sensation. This is a step in the direction of Dyspepsia.

It can be cured—safely and surely—with which will put all the digestive organs in healthy condition.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,

CONSUMPTION LUNG DISEASES WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY COUGHS COLDS

Speedily and permanently cured by using Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. There are counterfeits. Get the genuine, which is signed "I. BUTTS" on the wrapper. Prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, BOSTON. Sold by all dealers.

BILIOUSNESS.

THIS very common complaint, which is caused by a dormant or inactive liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

MRS. DUDLEY CHANDLER, of Melrose, Mass., says: "I had suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the pulsations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and earnestly recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

DEATH TO PAINS AND ACHES

"When headache joins neuralgia, then comes the tug of war." A wise general knows very well how to marshal his forces. His first, last and best charge is made with a bottle of Salvation Oil, and the doughty foe lies cringing in the dust.

At a small village eleven miles from Frauford, Ind., John Battery, a worthless young scamp, being jealous of the favor with which Etta McMillen received the addresses of his step-brother, Frank Moore, called at the young lady's house one evening last week, and finding Moore there shot him dead, fatally wounded the girl, and then blew out his own brains.

Guilty of Murder in the First Degree.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Sarah J. Robinson, on trial in East Cambridge, Mass., last week for the murder of Prince Arthur Freeman, came in at nine o'clock Saturday morning after being out all night, and rendered a verdict of "Guilty of murder in the first degree." Mrs. Robinson heard the verdict without apparent emotion, but was very much overcome before leaving the court room for the jail.

The Six-Days' Race.

In Madison Square Garden, New York city, Monday morning of last week, fifty men started on one of the six-days go-as-you-please races which were so much in vogue a few years ago. Thirty-seven of them dropped out at different stages of the race, but when the race ended at one minute past ten o'clock Saturday evening there were thirteen on the track, and the leader, James A. Cathcart of Philadelphia, who raced as "Albert," had beaten the best previous record, having made 621 miles and 1320 yards. Seven of the contestants made the 525 miles necessary to entitle them to a share in the gate money. The names of the winners, the distances made by them, (omitting fractions of miles,) and the share of gate money each will probably receive, are as follows:

Albert, 621 miles, $4800; Herty, of Boston, 582 miles, $3000; Guerrero, 564 miles, $1000; Hart, colored, of Boston, 546 miles, $960; Golden, 538 miles, $720; Moore, 531 miles, $480; Strokel, 526 miles, $360; Noremac, 525 miles, $240.

Albert, the winner, who was attended all through the race by his wife, first made her acquaintance at a former six-days race. Noremac's wife also watched her husband throughout the race. Strokel was cheered during the whole week by a pretty young girl whom he is to marry in a short time. The professional "betting men" lost heavily, having placed much money on the record not being beaten.

One Victory.

The landlords of the Kingstown estates in Ireland have granted all the reductions demanded in 1886, under the "plan of campaign," and have agreed to reinstate the evicted tenants, including the Mitchelstown shopkeepers, and to forego all the legal costs. They will also offer the property for sale.

Returning to Work.

Many of the coal miners of the Panther Creek valley, and those engaged in the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co.'s mines, having applied for work, notices were posted on Saturday notifying the men that the Neshquehoning mines would start up on Monday, and that all who wished to work would be protected in so doing. The men have been out for five months, and there has been a good deal of destitution among their families.

Maritime Notes.

Two schooners, to carry 3000 tons of coal, were chartered at Norfolk for this port last week at $1.50 per ton.

The schooner Katie Mitchell, wrecked some weeks ago on the rocks under Fort McClary, and afterward raised and towed to Newcastle, was righted last week, after several unsuccessful attempts, and will now be pumped out and repaired.

The schooner J. Manchester Haynes, Mathes master, from Boston for Clark's Cove, Me., in tow of tug William H. Clark, arrived in the lower harbor on Friday, and remained over Saturday.

Matrimonial.

Lieut. David L. Brainerd, U. S. A., was married on the 7th inst. at Walla Walla, W. T. Washington territory, to Miss Anna Chase, daughter of Hon. H. M. Chase, one of the pioneers of that territory. Lieut. Brainerd will be remembered by the people of this city as Sergeant Brainerd, one of the survivors of the disastrous Greely expedition, the wreck of which was brought to this port by the relief expedition the sending out of which in time to save any lives was due to the energy and courage of Senator Chandler, then secretary of the navy, who instead of waiting for the dilatory action of Congress went ahead fearlessly on his own responsibility. Lieut. Brainerd is attached to the 2d Cavalry.

The marriage of Lieut. James A. Turner, U. S. N., and Miss Belle Sullivan, of San Francisco, Cal., is announced to take place early in April. Lieut. Turner is now attached to the U. S. S. Pinta, at Sitka, Alaska.

The third iron man-o'-war Kearsarge, now lying at this yard for repairs, already stands the government nearly $1,500,000.—Times.

And cheap enough, too, at double the price. She destroyed the rebel cruiser Alabama—a victory whose moral effect in Europe was incalculable at the time, and is not yet forgotten.

Friday and Saturday were "ball days" at the navy yard.

Mr. Stephen Tobey has arrived home from a five-weeks visit in Washington.

Some of the advantages of insuring in the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Boston Mass., are that it issues a plain and simple policy, which is non-forfeitable for non-payment of premiums after the second; makes an annual cash distribution of surplus on all policies, and pays all claims promptly. See annual statement published in another column.

The funeral of the late Wallace A. S. Holbrook, of West Newton, took place yesterday afternoon from the Baptist church at West Newton. There were many relatives and friends present, and the Mascot Canton, Patriarchs Militant, in full regalia, also the Garden City Encampment and Waban Lodge, all Odd Fellow organizations, turned out with full ranks. The services in the church comprised singing by a quartette, remarks and prayer by the pastor, Rev. O. D. Kimball, and burial service by the Odd Fellows. The remains were placed in the receiving tomb at the Newton cemetery. The principal floral tributes were a design of "The Gates Ajar" from Boston & Albany railroad employes, a pillow from the encampment and lodge, and an evergreen crown from the canton. —Boston Journal, Feb. 9th.

Several of our exchanges of last Friday contained an item to the effect that a water boy on the Boston & Maine railroad drew $5000 in the Louisiana lottery at a late drawing. The Biddeford Journal of last Friday, speaking of persons in that city announced to have drawn prizes, said a "newsboy on the Boston & Maine, named Wallace, held one-fifth of a ticket which drew $25." Both statements refer to the same circumstance, evidently, but there is an apparent discrepancy somewhere.

Capt. George F. Towle, U. S. A., aide on the staff of Gen. Terry, commanding the department of the Mississippi, and now with Gen. Terry in St. Augustine, Fla., was provost marshal of that place at one time during the war, and is now making his first visit to the town since that time.

At the state encampment of the Grand Army in Maine, at Portland last week, on the 10th inst. Col. Horace H. Burbank of Saco was elected department commander for the ensuing year, receiving 218 votes to eighty-nine for D. Horace Holman of Lewiston, formerly of this city.

Mr. Henri L. Bates, the fancy grocer and confectioner on Congress street, opposite the academy, has disposed of his entire stock in trade to Mr. George F. Wallis, proprietor of the Central bakery, who took possession on Saturday.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 421 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

Wreck at Rye Beach.

The fishing schooner Rising Star, of Gloucester, McLeod master, struck on Sunk rocks off Foss' beach, Rye, about six o'clock last Friday evening, during the thick snowstorm then prevailing. She had been out to set her trawls in Ipswich bay, and was running for this harbor at the time of the disaster. She struck heavily, and the crew immediately took to their dories, but had hardly got clear of the vessel before she came off the rocks and they boarded her again, with the exception of two men who had pulled for the beach, and effected a safe landing. The schooner was pointed seaward by those on board, but it was soon found that she was leaking badly and that her rudder was unhung, and she was put about in hope of beaching her in a soft place, but she again took the rocks, and the crew had to hastily abandon her, saving only what clothes they stood in; her keel was out and she was commencing to go to pieces before the boats were well clear of her. Not deeming it prudent to attempt landing on Rye beach, the men pulled for this harbor, which they reached about eleven o'clock, the captain and one of the crew being frostbitten on the passage. On arriving in the lower harbor they boarded the schooner Hattie N. Reed, Baker master, of Newcastle, where they were kindly cared for; and they were given passage from this city to their homes on Saturday by the Boston & Maine railroad.

The Rising Star was built in Duxbury, Mass., in 1857, and registered twenty-eight tons; she was owned by Capt. Simeon McLeod, and was insured for $1200 in the Boston Marine Ins. Co.

A Fine Entertainment.

"Held by the Enemy," the American drama presented in Music hall on Friday evening, is excellently constructed, and pleasing in a very high degree; tragedy and comedy are judiciously balanced, there is tender sentiment without gush, and patriotic and heroic sentiment without bathos; and no piece put on the Music hall stage for many months has been more warmly and universally commended by all who witnessed it. The company is one of rare excellence, every part being apparently made the most of, giving a smooth and harmonious whole; there was no filling of gaps with raw material, the most unimportant parts being as carefully performed as the leading ones, all the people required in the play travelling with it. The audience was a good one, although the night was very stormy and there was a strong counter attraction in the juvenile operetta at Franklin theatre; should the company return before the recollection of the choice entertainment they presented has died out, the hall would be crowded.

The Grand Army Reception.

The reception to Commander-in-Chief Rea and Junior Vice Commander Linnehan at Music hall on Saturday evening was carried out in accordance with the previously announced programme, and with entire success. Despite the storm which prevailed the hall was filled on the lower floor, and there were quite a number of persons in the gallery. Col. Vaughan, as chairman, made a few remarks, and Mayor Hodgdon delivered a longer address of welcome to the distinguished guests, expressed in appropriate terms. The principal speech of the evening was made by Judge Rea, and it was a good one, too; and the closing address was made by Major Linnehan. During the evening the grand officers were presented with bouquets by members of the former Woman's Relief Corps, No. 6, and the Music hall orchestra played during the intervals in the exercises. About fifty Grand Army men had seats on the stage. After the reception was over a banquet in honor of the visitors was served at the Rockingham house.

Letter of Thanks.

The following is a copy of the letter sent to his honor the mayor by the executive committee of the Portsmouth anti-coercion fund:

Portsmouth, N. H., Feb. 8, '88.

DEAR SIR,—Permit us to tender you our sincere thanks for the able manner in which you presided at the meeting held in Music hall last evening in aid of the anti-coercion fund. And we do not consider that we assume too much when we add, and also in behalf of the sons and daughters of Ireland who reside in our beloved city, and every true friend of Ireland and the cause for which she is so gloriously struggling.

Very respectfully,

JOHN GRIFFIN, } executive
WM. H. PALMER } committee.

To His Honor George E. Hodgdon, Mayor.

The committee also wish to thank Messrs. LaBrie and Cassidy for their efficient services rendered on that evening "free of charge," to Captain J. G. Moses, County Commissioner Magraw and Mr. Peter Strickland for favors received, and to the Chronicle, Times, Penny Post and Journal for their gratuitous notices and advertising of the meeting.

Railroad Items.

The train due in this city at 10:50 o'clock Saturday forenoon was over an hour late in arriving, owing to the quantity of snow on the track, and did not leave for Boston until after twelve. The engine of the Portland train due here at 2:45 P. M. broke down when this side of Conway Junction. The train which should have left here for Portland via the Eastern division went as far as Kittery, and there waited until word was received that the track could not be cleared for some hours, when it was backed into town, and proceeded by way of the Portsmouth & Dover branch and Western division. The disabled train passed through this city on the way to Boston about six o'clock. The evening train from Concord was several hours late in arriving here.

The auditing department of the Boston & Maine railroad and leased lines, including the Boston & Lowell system, has been consolidated under one head, and Mr. William J. Hobbs has full charge of the department. Mr. Hobbs has the employment of all men in the auditing department, and all station and freight agents, cashiers and conductors are directed to obey his orders, so far as the keeping of accounts and the making of reports are concerned.

Thursday morning of last week the body of an unknown man was found at the knownothing crossing at North Berwick, one of his arms being so tightly wedged in the switch that a crowbar had to be taken to get it out. It is supposed he was a cattle drover, but what train he fell from was not known. His lantern and cap were found some way off, showing that he had been dragged a considerable distance.

Conductor Orrin Hamilton of the Boston & Maine railroad was recently presented with a purse of gold by the commercial men who have been regular passengers on his train.

A steam heater in one of the cars of the train due in this city at 5:20 o'clock Friday afternoon, exploded with a loud report while the train was between Newburyport and this station, causing a momentary panic among the occupants of the car, which however was soon quieted. The damage was trifling.

THE SULTAN.

A Sultan sat by Danube's tide
And sore distressed aloud he cried;
While like the waters to the sea
His tears ran down both fast and free.
A passing stranger said: "My friend.
Why do those tears so fast descend?"
"Alas!" he sobbed, "I've lost all hope;
I've lost my cake of IVORY SOAP.
No more in pride through town I'll go,
With garments clean and white as snow;
But in disgrace must move about,
By scornful fingers pointed out."
"Not so," the noble stranger cried,
"I have a piece and will divide;"
And from his coat-tail pocket drew
A cake and broke it fair in two.
Then rose in joy the Sultan gray,
And made that man a Turkish Bey,
With servants kind and Viziers sage,
And fifty wives to cheer his age.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Cod Fishing as a Sport.

A traveler on Cape Breton Island says that cod fishing is anything but an exhilarating sport. He thinks the following is a very good imitation of it: Attach a thirty pound dumb bell to a thin line, about 100 feet in length, and throw it overboard. Pay out line until the bottom has been touched, wait a minute or two, and then pull up the line as rapidly as possible until the dumb bell has reached the gunwale of the boat. At this stage of the proceedings drop dumb bell and all into the water again, and repeat the process ad libitum. Be sure to get yourself thoroughly wet from the line, or wear malodorous, second hand oilskins, and have your hands blistered in as many places as convenient. Meanwhile imagine that you are excited over something, and the whole performance will closely resemble cod fishing.—Chicago News.

Methods of Advertising.

Ingenuity is now expended in selection of places and startling lettering. As soon as a new building on one of the city streets reaches the stage of growth that requires it to be fenced in for the protection of passers by, the advertising locusts descend upon the owner and bid for the privilege of using the screen for advertising purposes. Vacant lots are filled out with big sign fences, and space is sold to advertisers and their signs painted on.—New York Graphic.

Death by Drowning.

The doctors differ in their opinion as to the time at which death comes in drowning. Some say in three minutes, others in five, but none set a longer time than this, except the drowning person faints, when respiration and animation cease.—Youth's Companion.

How Seedless Raisins Are Grown.

"What is a 'seedless' raisin, and how is it produced?" was asked of an importer of fruits. "The next time you eat a piece of mince pie," he replied, "you will find the seedless raisin in it, if the 'meat' has been properly made. It is a smallish, cream colored fruit, about the size of a gooseberry, and is used with an unbroken skin. It comes from Smyrna and is called the 'Sultana.' It is grown seedless simply by arresting one of the laws of nature. When the grape is about half ripe the end of the vine is bent and buried in the ground. This prevents the formation of seed and the full development of the fruit, but it ripens all the same and has a delicious flavor."—Philadelphia Times.

The Egyptian Cobra.

The Egyptian cobra is unlike the Asiatic species, wanting the curious, spectacle-like mark that distinguishes the latter. It is of a somewhat dark and greenish hue, marked with brown, and attaining a length of from three to five feet. The Egyptian conjurors know how to render this serpent stiff and immovable by pressing the nape of the neck with the finger and throwing it into a sort of catalepsy. The serpent is thus apparently converted into a rod or a stick.—Chicago News.

The darkest hour in the history of any young man is when he sits down to study how to make money without honestly working for it.—Horace Greeley.

AROUND HOME.

Many of our citizens will remember, some of them to their lasting sorrow, the broncho horses from Texas sold at auction in Yeaton's field on Richards avenue last summer — a wicked and perverse generation, some of them having their sides branded with such big letters that they looked like perambulating sections of a circus-poster board. The McCafferty Bros., who brought them here, disposed of a large number of similar animals throughout the state of Maine, and the following is now going the rounds of the press in that state: "It is it said that Texas bronchos, 2900 of which were sold in Maine last year, will soon be barred out by the quarantine laws, the cattle commissioners having decided on such course on account of the glanders which the animals bring in."

The annual reduction sale of boots and shoes at J. C. Carr's store for sixty days, to make room for spring goods, offers great bargains for cash.

The Young People's Association of the North church are to give an entertainment, supper and sale of fancy articles in the chapel on Middle street to-morrow evening.

From the report of the treasurer of York county it appears that the tax assessed against the following-named towns for the year 1887 was as follows: Kittery, $711.18, unpaid Dec. 31st, $350.09; Eliot, $551,01, all paid; York, $833.90, all paid; South Berwick, $4041.05, unpaid $500; Wells, $724.08, unpaid $350; Berwick, $848.04, all paid; Sanford, $768.84, all paid. The total county tax was 25,000, of which $11,211.87 remained unpaid on the 31st of December.

The citizens of Old Orchard are talking of constructing a pier, and it is probable that one will be built before the opening of another season of summer travel. A prominent man of the place leaves for Philadelphia this week on business connected with the enterprise. A survey of 1,200 feet from high water mark gives a depth of 12 1-2 feet at low tide. New York, Boston, Portland and St. John steamship lines have promised to touch at Old Orchard if the pier is built.

Memorial services dedicating the tablet to the late John A. Logan were held at Washington last Thursday night. Congressman Reed was one of the speakers.

Ben: Perley Poore's collection of autographs will be sold at auction in Boston this week.

Hon. Daniel G. Rollins, late surrogate for the county of New York, has associated himself in the practice of the legal profession with Messrs. Carter & Ledyard of Wall street. The ex-surrogate will doubtless be regarded as a strong advocate in contested matters of estates in New York.

James Russell Lowell, who since his residence in England has come out as a free-trader, demands that men who earn their living by their brains shall be protected by an international copyright law. Mr. Lowell, a brainworker, is eager that brainworkers shall be protected; it is only for those who labor with their hands that he demands free-trade.

Somebody wants to add two members to the seventy-two honest men who compose the common council of Boston. The plan will be opposed by the great horse railroad combination, as council members are expensive men to run. A plan to have a law passed to pay Boston common council members a per diem, recently started, failed to commend itself to the good judgment of the Boston tax-payers.

A bear at Iberville, La., disputed the right of way with a locomotive. He was hashed.

Austria and Turkey enjoyed very violent snowstorms last week.

A minister in Lowell, Mass., has been obliged to give up preaching on account of trouble in his throat. If this reverend gentleman had taken Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup he would still have been a useful member of his profession.

The senate committee on commerce last week reported favorably the bill to appropriate $1000 for the purchase of presents for the Esquimaux near Cape St. Vincent, who so generously succored the sole survivor of the whaling barque Napoleon, which was wrecked in the Arctic by ice.

Cure Your Corns,

BY USING SCHLOTTERBECK'S CORN, WART AND BUNION SOLVENT.

A CURE IS GUARANTEED.

Two Ways. Choose Which!

There are two usual ways of doing what nature sometimes does incompletely, namely, to relieve the bowels. One is to swallow a drastic purgative which evacuates profusely, abruptly and with pain, the other is to take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the effect of which is not violent, but sufficiently thorough, and which does not gripe the intestines. If the first is selected, the person employing it need not expect permanent benefit, and he cannot hope to escape the debilitating reaction which leaves the organs as bad or worse off than before. If, on the other hand, he resorts to the bitters, he can rely upon the restoration of a regular habit of body, consequent upon a renewal of a healthful tone in the intestinal canal. Besides healthfully relaxing the bowels, the bitters arouses a dormant liver, imparts a beneficial impetus to the action of the kidneys and counteracts the early twinges of rheumatism, a tendency to gout and malaria in all its forms.

Mary Howitt, who has just died at the age of eighty-four, was a very small woman with a very sweet face. She translated Frederika Bremer's works, and wrote many charming stories for children. She was born a Quaker, and died a Roman Catholic.

The new combination of smart weed and belladonna, as used in Carter's Backache Plasters, has proved to be one of the best that could be made. Try one of these popular plasters in any case of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, soreness of the chest or lungs, and you will be surprised and pleased by the prompt relief. In bad cases of chronic dyspepsia a plaster over the pit of the stomach stops the pain at once. Ask for Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price twenty-five cen s.

An Indian squaw with Buffalo Bill's show gave birth to a child last week—the first native American ever born in England.

Must not be confounded with common cathartic or purgative pills. Carter's Little Liver Pills are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

Prince Philippe of Bourbon has been sentenced to thirteen months in prison and 1000 francs fine, for swindling a priest in Paris.

Buckingham's Dye for the whiskers is easy of application, and never fails to color the beard brown or black as may be desired. Try it.

Kansas has just passed her twenty-seventh birthday. She is of the same age as Mrs. Salter, mayor of Argonia.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

Mrs. Ada M. Bittenbender, the lady lawyer of Nebraska, who is now at Washington looking after the interests of the W. C. T. U., was the author of the excellent Nebraska law which makes mothers joint guardians of their children with the father. In all the states of the Union except four—Kansas, Iowa, New Jersey and Nebraska—the father is the sole legal owner of the children, the mother having no legal rights in them, unless the marriage has been broken up by death or divorce.

The great popular remedy of the day for coughs, colds, asthma, and all lung difficulties, is Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Inexpensive, reliable, pleasant to take, cures as by magic, and gives universal satisfaction. A trial is the best testimonial.

The Ohio legislature is flooded with petitions for municipal woman suffrage. Those already handed in bear 4,400 signatures.

Hop Plasters are famous soothers, pain allayers and strengtheners when applied to the human body.

Mrs. Laura M. Johns, president of the Kansas Equal Suffrage association, will assist Mrs. Gougar in a series of woman suffrage conventions in Illinois next spring.

Anecdote of Jenny Lind.

When Jenny Lind was in Edinburgh in the year 1865, she was one day purchasing songs in a music seller's in Prince street. The attendant who served her, a young man, not knowing who stood before him, asked if she had yet been to hear the great "Jenny Lind." The question being answered in the affirmative, and he in turn being asked by this stranger if he had heard the "Swedish Nightingale," he replied that, much though he desired to hear her, the very high prices of the tickets were far beyond his slender income. Jenny Lind then asked him to play the accompaniment to the song which she held in her hand. Quite unconscious of everything but the sweet notes which poured forth from this stranger's throat, the young man played on. At the close the singer turned round, bade him adieu, and with the words, "Now you have heard Jenny Lind," walked out of the saloon, without waiting for a word of thanks from the astonished youth.—Leeds Mercury.

When Canned Goods Were Unknown.

What did the world do before somebody learned how to can all sorts of provisions, flesh, fish, fowl, everything animal or vegetable that man eats or drinks? If the art had been learned a century ago, what misery and want, what disease and famine it would have prevented. Now sailors do not need to die of scurvy, nor miners grow gaunt for want of vegetable food, nor soldiers sicken from excess of hard tack, nor travelers and explorers perish for want of their accustomed food. This simple matter of canning food so that it may be kept fresh for a year in any climate and be purchased cheaply has made possible many an enterprise which but for that would have been impossible. Wherever mines are found canned goods are indispensable. The world has grown larger by means of it—and healthier and wealthier and wiser. And yet but a few years ago such a thing would have been thought impossible.—Chicago Times.

Skill of Ancient Builders.

A personal inspection of the pyramids of Egypt, made by a quarry owner who spent some time recently on the Nile, has led him to the conclusion that the old Egyptians were better builders than those of the present day. He states that there are blocks of stone in the pyramids which weigh three or four times as much as the obelisk on the embankment. He saw a stone whose estimated weight was 880 tons. But then the builders of the pyramids counted human labor lightly. They had great masses of subjects upon whom to draw, and most of their work was done by sheer manual labor and force. There are stones in the pyramids thirty feet in length which fit so closely together that a penknife may be run over the surface without discovering the break between them. They are not laid with mortar, either. There is no machinery so perfect that it will make two surfaces thirty feet in length which will meet together in unison as these stones in the pyramids meet. It is supposed that they were rubbed backward and forward upon each other until the surfaces were assimilated.—London Iron.

An Excess of Modesty.

Modesty born of true humility is scarcely ever recognized as such, for it is not obtrusive, and when it affects one man's relations to another it does so in the right way, the inferior yielding to the superior. It is possible, perhaps, for the naturally modest man to wholly resist his inclination to yield to others and keep in the background, and yet he should try to do so whenever an excess of modesty threatens to handicap him in the race of life. Neither employers nor the critics and censors of the world at large have time to go into nice analyses of individual character, capabilities and merits. The modest man, however capable, who does his work quietly without ostentation, and shrinks from the observance of others, must be much more gifted than his fellows if he is to be found out and advanced by them as against his companion worker, also capable and faithful, who lets his light shine before the world and provides it with reflectors to increase its effect.—Baltimore Sun.

Progress in Dentistry.

"But speaking about false teeth," said the dentist, "the next thing we are going to make is teeth that will look so much like natural teeth that the closest inspection will not be able to tell the difference. Here is a set I made as an experiment for an old lady. You see they are the teeth are discolored, and most of them are irregular. Here's one that looks as though it had been broken off a little. Here's another little point—that gold filling in there. That would deceive anybody. With the perfect arrangement we have now for holding the plate in place, there is no danger that anybody can detect those teeth from the genuine ivory. A set of teeth like that is a work of art, isn't it? Ars celare artem, eh?"—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Durability of Gutta Percha.

As illustrating the durability of gutta percha, there was recently shown a specimen of it that had laid immersed in water between Blackwell's island and New York for a period of thirty-seven years, and is still in first class condition. The only indication of wear on the gutta percha is where it rubbed against the rocks on the bottom of the river, and that is very slight. Another specimen is of a ten conductor gutta percha insulated underground cable, which was recently taken from the grounds around the Capitol at Washington, where it was laid in 1850. The cable of which this is a section is still working, and the specimen gives every indication of being as good as when first put down, fourteen years ago.—Frank Leslie's.

BILIOUSNESS.

This very common complaint, which is caused by a dormant or inactive liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

MRS. DUDLEY CHANDLER, of Melrose, Mass., says: "I had suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the pulsations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and earnestly recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

Mr. Blaine Not a Candidate.

Chairman B. F. Jones of the republican national committee has published a letter from Hon. James G. Blaine, in which he says "my name will not be presented to the national convention called to assemble in Chicago on June next for the nomination of candidates for president and vice president of the United States." Mr. Blaine says this decision is due entirely to considerations wholly personal.

Better Mail Service Needed.

The Boston Executive Business Associotions have asked Postmaster General Dickinson to establish a mail service to leave New York as late as 11:30 P. M., to reach Boston at 5:30 A. M., and also for a mail to leave Boston at as late an hour as possible in the afternoon that it may reach New York in time to connect with 4:30 A. M. trains for the south.

This request has been made before. The trouble has been that the government has not been willing to remunerate the railways for the additional expense of running trains at these hours. The mail service between New York and New England could be greatly improved. Mr. Dickinson is a better politician, indeed is a bigger man than his predecessor, Mr. Vilas. Perhaps when he considers that not only the postal district of Boston, with a population of 600,000, yielding to the government a net revenue of above a million dollars yearly, but all New England north of Springfield, suffers from inadequate mail facilities, he may conclude that it will be a good stroke of policy to cater somewhat to the wants and requirements of that potent influence in politics, the business men. There is no good reason why every other section of the country dealing with New York city should have frequent and convenient mail service, while in this respect New England should be left out in the cold region of neglect.

The Yachtsmen.

Mr. Edward Burgess has completed plans for a new steam yacht for a New York gentleman. The new yacht will measure 130 feet over all, 115 feet load water line, nineteen feet beam, and eight feet six inches draught. Mr. Burgess has also just completed the lines of a new steam launch thirty-five feet on the water line.

General Paine and Mr. Burgess both received handsome gifts last week from the Atlantic Yacht club of Brooklyn, N. Y. General Paine received a statue bronze group, "Man and Boy," with the inscription "Pro patria" on the front side. Mr. Burgess' present was a solid silver mug, of rich design, and so made that it held fifty gold dollars, which Mr. Burgess discovered on his opening the package.

PANCAKES IN VARIETY.

On cold winter mornings pan cakes of all kinds hold an important place at the breakfast table. The cherished buckwheat cake, most prominent of all, from Thanksgiving Day until early Spring is seldom absent from the morning meal in the genuine American household. When properly made, this is the most delicious of all the griddle cakes, but it has been against it when made from yeast or risen over night that it was difficult to make light and sweet, and that disagreeable effects frequently followed its eating. It is found that by the use of the Royal Baking Powder to raise the batter these objections have been entirely overcome, and that buckwheat cakes are made a most delicious food, light, sweet, tender and perfectly wholesome, that can be eaten by anyone without the slightest digestive inconvenience. Once tested from the following receipt no other will be used: Two cups of buckwheat, one cup of wheat flour, two tablespoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, all sifted well together. Mix with milk into a thin batter and bake at once on a hot griddle.

The purest and richest syrup is made by dissolving sugar in the proportion of three pounds of sugar to one pint of water. Many persons prefer the flavor of syrup made of Orleans sugar to that made of the white.

Rice griddle cakes are very delicious. The rice is cooked until perfectly soft, drained dry, mashed with a spoon until the grains are well broken up. For each cupful of rice take two eggs, one pint of milk, one heaping teaspoonful of Royal Baking Powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and flour enough to make a thin batter.

For hominy cakes take two cupfuls of cooked hominy, and crush it with a potato-masher until it is a smooth mass. Add one level teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder, and one cupful of flour. Stir together; then add by degrees one quart of milk, and lastly three well beaten eggs. Bake in thin cakes.

Very delicate and delicious cakes are made by allowing two teaspoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt to one quart of milk, and sufficient corn meal, mixing all into a smooth, thin batter; no eggs or butter are used for these. The cakes bake quickly to a rich deep brown, and are extremely tender and light.

A very delicious, sweet pancake is made by taking one pint of sweet milk, four eggs, two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one teaspoonful of Royal Baking Powder, and flour enough to make a moderately thin batter. Beat the eggs, whites and yolks separately, until well frothed, stir the butter, sugar, and one cupful of flour, into which the baking powder has been mixed, into the yolks, then add the milk. If needed, add more flour. Bake in small cakes, butter each one as it comes from the fire, place four in a pile, with very thin layers of any kind of sweet jelly between, and powdered sugar over the top. They should be baked very thin and four served to each person.

Railroad Items.

The delay of the Saturday afternoon train from Portland to Boston, whose non-arrival in this city compelled the east-bound train to go out by way of the Dover railroad and western division of the Boston & Maine, was occasioned by the breaking of one of the parallel rods of the locomotive when the train was coming through Eliot.

The non-arrival in this city until ten o'clock Saturday evening of the train from Manchester which was due at ten minutes past six, was caused by an accident to the train which left this city for Manchester at 5:15, one of the pony wheels of the locomotive giving out when the train was near the Greenland station. An engine was sent from Manchester to take the disabled train to its destination, where it arrived about one o'clock Sunday morning. The trains pass each other at East Epping, and there being no telegraph or telephone at that station, the conductor of the down train could not tell what was keeping the other one until the relief engine passed on the way down.

There were four marriages, nine births and fifteen deaths reported to the town clerk of Greenland as occurring in that town during the year 1887.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

Navy Yard Notes.

The workmen employed on the repairs of the dry dock at the navy yard went to the yard on Monday morning, but though the day was a beautiful one they were not musicred, the quantity of snow in the dock rendering work on the structure impossible until it could be removed by the laborers' gang.

Boatswain Hill has reported for duty under the general storekeeper of the yard, Boatswain McCaffery having been transferred to the equipment department.

Lieut. Col. C. D. Hebb, commanding the marine barracks at this navy yard, has been granted leave of absence for one month, with permission to apply for an extension. During his absence Lieut. Doyen is in command at the barracks. Lieut. Col. Hebb sailed from New York on Friday last on the Clyde steamer Cherokee for Jacksonville, Fla., via Charleston, S. C. He is en route to Mount Dora, Lake county, Fla., where he will spend five of six weeks among his orange groves there.

Comdr. Francis M. Green is ordered to duty as navigation officer at the New York navy yard, March 1st.

LOCOMOTIVE WRECKED.

A WORSE WRECK FORTUNATELY AVOIDED.

Plucky Railroad Men.

The train on the Concord & Portsmouth railroad which left this city for Concord on Monday morning in charge of Conductor Henry Eaton, met with an accident near Massabesic station. The locomotive was the Peter B. Brigham, in charge of Engineer Wm. E. Littlefield and Fireman Charles Hoyt. As the train was slowing down to stop at the station the parallel rod on the engineer's side of the engine broke; an instant later the one on the left hand side broke, the cross-head also, and the cylinder head was knocked out, while the whirling piece of the broken rod on the engineer's side knocked a hole in the boiler, letting out a blinding cloud of steam. The engineer closed the throttle, and jumped, without being able to see where he was going, but fortunately struck a soft bank of snow; the fireman put on the air brake and then climbed back over the tender to the platform of the baggage car. The train came to a stop after running a few hundred feet, without leaving the rails or a passenger being hurt. Engineer Littlefield extricated himself from the snow bank, and though his right wrist was painfully scalded by steam which penetrated between his mitten and coat sleeve, and his right arm, shoulder and side were also scalded but less severely, he was able with the assistance of Fireman Hoyt to disconnect the broken machinery of the engine, while the brakeman drove to Manchester in a farm team and notified the superintendent of the road, who sent aid from that city to haul in the disabled train, which arrived in Manchester two hours behind time. The passengers on the train passed resolutions expressing their gratitude to the engineer and fireman, who stuck to the engine at great risk until they had done all that could be done for the safety of the train. Another engine was supplied at Manchester, and the down train arrived in this city nearly on time in the evening, in charge of the regular crew, engineer and all, Mr. Littlefield not being disabled, though not very comfortable. It was a fortunate escape from what might have been a serious disaster, as there were about sixty passengers on the train, including Ex-Gov. Prescott.

Maritime Notes.

The schooner Grace K. Green, of this port, Seaward master, arrived in Boston on the 11th inst. from Philadelphia.

Coal freights from Baltimore to this port were on the 11th inst. quoted at $1.85; to Boston or Portland, $1.75. Colliers were scarce, and wanted.

Barque Furness Abbey, of this port, Quinn master, before reported as having sailed from Manilla for Cebu last December, returned to Manilla on Dec. 18th for more ballast, having procured which she sailed again on the 22d.

The three-masted schooner Agnes R. Bacon went ashore on Marshfield beach, Mass., shortly after midnight on the night of the 10th inst., and became a total wreck. The crew were in the rigging nearly ten hours, before being rescued by life-saving men with the breeches buoy.

A detailed description of the new Fall River line steamer Puritan is published in another column. The designs for the hull of this magnificent vessel are the handiwork of Edward Farron, of the Roach works, and the artistic joiner work and interior decorations are to be credited to Old Colony steamboat talent, supervised by George Peirce.—The Seaboard.

They Get a Good Man.

The Harvard boat club some time ago advertised for a competent and trustworthy man to take charge of the boats and boat houses of the club; there were over a hundred applicants for the position, to which Mr. Charles W. Hart of this city has been appointed. Mr. Hart is a first-class man for the place—or indeed for any place he would undertake to fill; he is a gentleman by instinct, thoroughly reliable, a good boatman and a careful and experienced engineer. For several seasons past he has been employed on the Shoals steamer Pinafore, as engineer, and also as master, and in either capacity has had the confidence and respect alike of the patrons of the boat and of his employers. The Harvard boat club have secured the services of a good man.

The Young People's Association of the North parish will give a musical entertainment, supper, and sale of aprons and fancy articles at the chapel on Middle street this evening. All are invited; admission ten cents. The entertainments given by this association have always afforded the highest satisfaction.

The Woman's Independent Relief Corps are to give a Valentine Party this evening at Rechabite hall, Market street, to which a general invitation is extended. Supper will be served from six o'clock to eight, and will be followed by music and dancing.

Don't miss the great sale of men's all-wool pantaloons at $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 at H. C. Hewitt & Co's., No. 32 Congress street. This lot comprises 200 pairs of those dark gray pin-head check pantaloons at $1.50, (usually sold at $2.50,) celebrated for their wear.

Mayor Hodgdon made an excellent address of welcome to Commander Rea, of the Grand Army of the Republic, at Music hall on Saturday evening. A comrade remarked, "There was one thing about it that was not natural. George stood with one hand in his pocket during most of his oratorical effort. You see, the ideal lawyer is generally represented with his hand in his client's pocket, not in his own!"

Redford A. Sargent of Kittery, son of Capt. Redford W. Sargent of the Inman line steamship Ohio, and nephew of Capt. Charles H. Grant of the Red Star line steamship Vaderland, started on Monday morning for New York, to join the ship Thomas Dana, commanded by Capt. Edwin A. Gerrish of this city. The Thomas Dana is expected to sail from New York for Java the latter part of this week, with a cargo of refined petroleum.

Hon. Frank Jones, who has been in Canada on business for several weeks, arrived home on Saturday night.

New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., will celebrate the 42d anniversary of its organization by an entertainment and banquet at Odd Fellows hall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 15th.

It is reported that the iron pier at Atlantic City, N. J., 1200 feet long, will be purchased and transported to Old Orchard for erection there. The pier has only been in place for about two years at Atlantic City, but during that time the shore has been so changed by the action of the sea that the beach is worthless for summer-resort purposes, so the pier, which has not been harmed at all, is of no further use there.

The Biddeford Journal says: "Joseph Salois and Andrew Martelle, both of this city, chopped and piled 165 cords of wood in five days near Haverhill, Mass., recently. Salois cut eighty-three cords and Martelle eighty-two. The received seventy-five cents a cord." That would be about 16 1-2 cords of wood cut, and $12.37 earned, by each man daily. Guess it was weeks instead of days that was intended to be said.

Dr. McGlynn and Henry George are "out." The doctor objects vigorously to George's recent attempt to side-track the anti-poverty party, and make it "a wretched bit of a tail to a democratic kite."

The Chicago committee has already commenced active work on the arrangements for the republican national convention to be held in that city next June.

A Dog Story.

The Boston Globe gives an interesting account of the purchase of a black-and-tan dog at Dover. The new owner it seems took him to New York by the Fall River route boat, and put up at the Hotel St. Dennis. The dog was missing in an hour after the arrival at the St. Dennis. It is claimed that he went down Broadway and boarded the Fall River boat, came to Boston, trotted across Boston and at Haymarket square boarded a train and came to Dover, to the home of his former master. There is one incident of the wonderful countermarch that is not told. It is stated that the dog went to the room of the steamboat agent and on the dock at the foot of Muncy street to obtain a pass to Boston, but saw a notice to the effect that "by reason of the interstate law no passes could be issued." Turning tail upon the new cut-off the canine determined to "check" his way to Boston. He went on board the steamer and stowed away. Coming ashore at Fall River, he followed the crowd to Boston, and so on. The price paid for this wonderful dog to Mr. Rossiter, its owner, was twenty five dollars. It is dog cheap for such an intelligent animal.

The London Post denies the truth of the rumor that negotiations are being made with England to join a Franco-Russian alliance.

The marquis of Lansdowne will leave Canada in March. Lord Stanley has been instructed to enter upon his duties as governor-general in the same month.

A movement is on foot to start a democratic daily in Lewiston, Me.

A minister in Lowell, Mass., has been obliged to give up preaching on account of trouble in his throat. If this reverend gentleman had taken Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup he would still have been a useful member of his profession.

In General Debility, Emaciation,

Consumption and wasting in children, Scott's Emulsion is a most valuable food and medicine. It creates an appetite, strengthens the nervous system and build up the body. "Have been highly pleased with it in consumption, scrofula and wasting diseases, bronchitis and throat troubles.—A. Jones, M. D., Cornersville, Tenn.

Miss. Kittie C. Wilkins, who is called "the cattle queen of Idaho," owns between seven and eight hundred horses, and says they are much easier to take care of than cattle. They show more intelligence in pawing away the snow to get at the grass, and they bring better prices. Miss. Wilkins is young, a fine horsewomen and a good shot, and thinks life in Idaho delightful.

Weather Indications.

Moist weather; steady blowing for about forty-eight hours; then settled cold. Yes, that is what I have often had to endure in the past, but such will not be the case in the future. I have learned the merits of Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, and by its use I shall in the future be free from the colds, coughs, hoarseness and bronchial troubles from which I have suffered in the past. One bottle did me so much good that I shall never again be without it.

Twenty-eight "bucket-shop" brokers in New York were arrested Feb. 11th; twenty-six waived examination, and were held for trial in $500 each; one was dismissed, and one demanded a prompt examination.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies which helped me, but I had none which give me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me.—M. J. Lally, 39 Woodward avenue, Boston Highlands, Mass.

I suffered from acute inflammation in my nose and head—for a week at a time I could not see. I used Ely's Cream Balm and in a few days I was cured. It is wonderful how quick it helped me.—Mrs. Georgie S. Judson, Hartford, Conn.

Apply balm into each nostril. Price fifty cents.

Mrs. Weltha A. Emmons, wife of Prof. Samuel F. Emmons of the geological survey, died in Washington on the 12th inst., unnoticed by those who not long ago paid profuse homage to her beauty and station.

No other spring medicine has won for itself such universal confidence as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the most powerful combination of vegetable alteratives ever offered to the public, and it is acknowledged by the medical profession to be the best purifier.

The W. C. T. U., of Fort Worth, Texas, started a lodging house for newsboys, and the city council has given them money to buy cots.

Starvation Among the Eskimo.

When the food supply of the Eskimo village is reduced to that point where physical weakness ensues among the members, the distribution of it among the people is no longer equal. The good, able bodied hunters among them still receive from the amount enough to keep them in strength, and when this is no longer sufficient to go around among all of them, the better of these even yet are on full rations, until it gets down to the best hunter, who is kept in good physical condition until the last morsel disappears.—Frederick Schwatka in St. Louis Republican.

Silva Porto, a famous Portuguese traveler and slave trader, who died at Bihe, in Africa, recently, was the first white man to cross the Dark Continent. He accomplished that great feat in 1853.—Boston Budget.

The Mammoth Cave's Rival.

There is a cave on Gran Bethuram's place, seven miles from Mount Vernon, which nearly equals the celebrated Mammoth cave in proportions and fully so in curiosities. In it are several lakes or ponds, in which fish without eyes are found in abundance. It is a mass of caverns, some of which are from seventy-five to 100 feet high. A party of ladies and gentlemen recently got lost in the labyrinths of the caverns, and several hours elapsed before they found their way out. A party from this place are preparing to fully explore the cave, and if arrangements can be completed they will probably start soon, prepared to make their explorations complete.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Suit Against Gordon's Estate.

The British government having betrayed Gordon to his death at Khartoum, the Egyptian government has now repudiated and dishonored the bills drawn on it by him during the siege, to the amount of $200,000, and the holders have begun suit against Gordon's private estate for payment.—New York Tribune.

Heated by Chemical Foot Warmers.

I once brought a good deal of ridicule upon myself by asserting in these columns that I traveled on an English train heated by chemical foot warmers. When these things got cold you shock 'em up and they gave out heat again. I never got any one to believe this story, and yet it was true. I have found out since that the chemical used was some sort of soda affair, and I understand that the fact that this compound of soda will give out heat has caused it to be used as an engine for running street cars. I believe that they are going to use the soda motor on a Chicago street car line. I don't know whether any of the soda foot warmers are used in England now or not. I couldn't find any on the little island when I was there last winter, though urged by my unbelieving friends to do so for the sake of my own reputation for veracity.—Luke Sharp in Detroit Free Press.

Two Ways. Choose Which!

There are two usual ways of doing what nature sometimes does incompletely, namely, to relieve the bowels. One is to swallow a drastic purgative which evacuates profusely, abruptly and with pain, the other is to take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the effect of which is not violent, but sufficiently thorough, and which does not gripe the intestines. If the first is selected, the person employing it need not expect permanent benefit, and he cannot hope to escape the debilitating reaction which leaves the organs as bad or worse off than before. If, on the other hand, he resorts to the bitters, he can rely upon the restoration of a regular habit of body, consequent upon a renewal of a healthful tone in the intestinal canal. Besides healthfully relaxing the bowels, the bitters arouses a dormant liver, imparts a beneficial impetus to the action of the kidneys and counteracts the early twinges of rheumatism, a tendency to gout and malaria in all its forms.

The jury in the John Tyler life insurance case at New York brought in a verdict that Tyler committed suicide so that his friends might benefit by his $300,000 insurance.

The new combination of smart weed and belladonna, as used in Carter's Backache Plasters, has proved to be one of the best that could be made. Try one of these popular plasters in any case of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, soreness of the chest or lungs, and you will be surprised and pleased by the prompt relief. In bad cases of chronic dyspepsia a plaster over the pit of the stomach stops the pain at once. Ask for Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price twenty-five cents.

FAKIRS ON THE BOWERY.

The Many Ways Whereby They Trick the Credulous Multitude.

The Bowery on the open street is the natural home of the fakir, and the holiday season is his harvest time. People go there to be deceived and they come away satisfied with the deception. The knowing ones among the frequenters of the street laugh at the greeny whose dimes and dollars they have gathered in, and in an hour or two afterward skin faro, policy or a neighboring bucket shop has cleaned these very knowing ones out of their last cent.

The bitter cold wind of night sent its sharp gusts sweeping up along the street, and it was not a pleasant night on which to lounge along from Chatham square to Cooper institute. But the boys and girls were out in force and the east side had on part of its holiday clothes. On nearly every corner was the irrepressible fakir, and in front of him the always seen open mouthed crowd of gadding women and wonder chained men. How the glib told stories rolled out from the quick lips of the sharp eyed operator, as he rung in here and there the well timed praises of the articles they were to be gulled into buying.

At the intersection of Canal street and the Bowery, a few yards from Pythagoras hall, a big frowsy, red eyed fellow, with a face like a shark, was the attraction. Stuffing his capacious mouth full of cotton he chewed it with a gusto that seemed to bespeak long fasting, and touching a light to it breathed out flames until his head seemed like a veritable Vesuvius in eruption. And then he took a tooth paste that he solemnly assured the crowd would make the blackest teeth pearly white. He pulled up an open mouthed street arab with teeth upon which the grass could grow, and in the light of an old torch wiped them into a whiteness that shone through the night. How could the crowd know that the enamel on those teeth had been destroyed—and most of them would hardly have cared, for they poured their stock of dimes into the dirty hand that was stretched out for them and grabbed for the acid powder that was to destroy their molars.

Across the street from him was the blacking fakir, and his forte lay in his lightning winged tongue and his political speeches to the men who crowded about him. The headquarters of the Knights of Labor in Pythagoras hall were not fifty feet away from him, and the fakir gathered in the horny handed toilers and their money. He declaimed against the tyranny of capital, and, holding an old shoe in his hand, showed how his blacking could make it shine. He spoke of the oppressed workingman, and rung in the declaration that the laborer who went with unshining shoes when union made blacking was being peddled on a freezing night at five cents a box was an enemy to his kind.

Did he sell many boxes? Well, rather. And what difference did it make to the honest toiler who wanted to help the poor fellow, to find that the bottom of the big looking box was hollow and the alleged blacking only soot and water?

Just off the corner of Broome and Bowery, near enough to catch the crowd of thrifty housewives with their loaded baskets, the fruit fakirs had their stands. Loud mouthed, hoarse throated, dirty faced and reckless, they are the most lawless of the peddler gang on the Bowery.

"Rosy apples—yer you are, ten cents a pail—only a few more left—take 'em right along," and the cheapness tempts the economical matron, though every woman on the east side will tell you that a peddler is a thief. She approaches with the air of a woman who knows she is dealing with a dangerous character. She handles the apples, the top ones in the pail look nice enough and she concludes to purchase. Then comes in the nice work of the adept fruit fakir. He seizes the pail and into the open basket of the watching woman he pours the apples, and with a sudden twist of his hand throws the pail into the farthest part of the wagon. She has seen no faking and yet she is hardly half satisfied that she has not been cheated. But she knows it when she gets home and counts her apples.

Was the pail full? Certainly, but the two last layers of apples in the bottom of the pail had been pressed in so tightly that they would not drop out, and all she received for her ten cents was the loose fruit above these two layers.

Along above Spring street, in front of a big dime museum, with flaming pictures that caught the gaping strollers, a flinty eyed fellow, with a scraggy beard, stood out in the mud and told stories that made even some of the Bowery rounders raise their eyes. But the boys liked them and the wide eyed girls, with cropped hair and short skirts, laughed as loud as the fellows, and the fun was fast and furious.

Of course he had something to ring in upon them, and they all knew it; so when he pulled out his patent wash that would turn brass into a color so golden that an expert could not detect the difference, he made some sales, though the purchasers laughed half sheepishly as they turned over their dimes. But when he took the brass watch of a fellow with checker board pants and, rubbing the wash over it, held it up to view glistening like gold in the glare of the electric light, his sales increased, and the girls were the biggest purchasers. They didn't know, and they would hardly have cared if they did, that the bottle the fakir handed them was not at all like the open one he held in his hand, and that even if it were the tinsel color would fade away in fifteen minutes.

So the money went all along the Bowery. To the fakir on the street corner, to the blind beggar on the other, who kept one eye on his tin cup lest the thieving gamins of the gutter would steal the charitable pennies that were dropped into it; to the grimy old woman mendicant, who told the fable of her starving family and spent her gatherings at every alternate saloon; to the dime museums, with their horrible pictures and their puffy faced outside man extolling the beauties of the ten cent show inside—to everything that the boys and the girls, the men and the women, the rounders and the newcomers knew to be fakes.

But there is fun occasionally in being deceived, and on the Bowery it only costs ten cents to feel that some man is worse than oneself—for what can be less honest than a Bowery fakir?—New York Graphic.

SAVED HIS LEG!
SCROFULA OF THE BONE CURED!

LITHONIA, GA., August 11, 1887.
THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.:
Gentlemen—I have been afflicted with ulceration of the leg ever since I was a child, the disease undoubtedly being hereditary, as my mother suffered from scrofulous symptoms. As I advanced to manhood my affliction increased until the malady became harassing and painful beyond the power of words to describe. My right leg particularly became fearfully diseased, the left leg being less painfully affected. Finally, about fourteen years ago, the ulcers on my right leg had eaten through the flesh into the bone. In order to save my life the doctors determined to amputate my leg below the knee. The operation was successfully performed by Dr. H. V. M. Miller, of Atlanta, and Dr. W. P. Bond, of Lithonia. But the loss of my leg gave me only temporary relief. The poison was still in my system and soon began to show itself again. In a short time after large ulcers appeared on my left leg, covering from the knee to the instep. Frequently while at work I could be tracked by the blood which oozed from the bad ulcers, and the sores and rottening holes were so offensive that my fellow-workmen could not stand the stench and would move away from me.

Last year I was persuaded to try S. S. S. As a last effort I consented to do so, and about seven months ago I began taking the Specific. Soon began to feel the good effects of the medicine, the offensive running began to grow less and less and finally ceased, the ulcers healed, my flesh became firm and solid, and to-day, after using twenty-one bottles, I am as hale and stout a man of my age as there is in Georgia. I am seventy-one years old, but feel now younger and stronger than I did when I was twenty-five. I weigh about 190 pounds. Nothing is to be seen of the terrible disease, or to remind me of the torture I suffered for so many years, except the scars of the perfectly healed ulcers.

I want the world to know of the almost miraculous cure effected on me by S. S. S., and I call upon those who wish to know the particulars directly from me to write, and I will consider it a pleasure as well as a duty to answer their letters. I refer to Dr. W. P. Bond, of Lithonia, as to the truth of my statement. Very gratefully yours,

H. DRAKE.

OH, WHAT A COLD!
THIS is the season for sudden changes in the weather, and a great many "take cold" either in their Head or on their Lungs, causing Coughs, Hoarseness, and Sore Throat. These troubles can be soon relieved and cured by taking Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs, entirely removing these difficulties.
Cured his boy of Croup.
C. M. BROOKS, Lowell, Mass., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific as a cure for Coughs, Colds, and Croup. I used it in my family last winter with the best results. Two or three doses cured my little boy of Croup, for which I am very thankful."
You can cure that Cough in a short time. You can cure your Catarrh if you persist in its use, as it will stop the secretion of Catarrhal matter in the head; it will relieve Croup in from three to five minutes.
The best he ever saw.
"The best medicine for Coughs and Consumptive Complaints that ever I saw is Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific," so says JOHN MCLAUGHLIN, of Boston.
Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

PHILOSOPHY OF MARRIAGE, giving a clear synopsis of the impediments to marriage, exhausted vitality, etc., etc., can be had from all News agents or forwarded direct from the author, Dr. F. J. JORDAN, 19 Hoy St., Boston, on receipt of 25 cents. codtuow

The Lord Mayor of London was only a porter in a warehouse, but he persevered in the face of all opposition and rose rapidly. It is only persistency and merit that has made Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup the greatest family remedy for coughs and colds now offerred to the suffering public.

As two Frenchmen, each accompanied by a lady, were driving along the road in Rollinsford where it runs parallel with the railroad, their horses were frightened into a run by an engine whistle. The teams were approaching each other, and there not being room to pass on account of the mass of snow, a collision resulted which smashed both sleighs and threw out the occupants, injuring one of the men considerably, and scraching the faces and hands of the ladies on the snow-crust. One horse was caught in Great Falls and the other in Salmon Falls, where they belonged.

Weather Indications.

Moist weather; steady blowing when about forty-eight hours; then settled cold. Yes, that is what I have often had to endure in the past, but such will not be the case in the future. I have learned the merits of Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, and by its use I shall in the future be free from the colds, coughs, hoarseness and bronchial troubles from which I have suffered in the past. One bottle did me so much good that I shall never again be without it.

The late Col. John H. George of Concord left an estate estimated at $125,000.

Public Buildings.

A vast number of bills providing for the erection of public buildings have been introduced in the house of representatives. Some of these possibly may become enacted. In a few instances, perhaps, the building for which a modest one hundred thousand dollars is asked for a post-office to cost three or four hundred thousand, may be needful and proper. The majority of the buildings asked for are simply a plan to have so much of the public money dealt out during the coming campaign for political purposes. Mr. Cleveland has been informed that if he is to be the candidate of the party the democracy will need all the patronage to pull him through, after his free trade message begins to show its effect in the country. He is not to veto these appropriations. Indeed, he is not to veto pension-bills,—for the reason that the pension committee will keep them back, and not report them for action in the house of representatives. Yes; Mr. Cleveland, the late incorruptible civil service economist, is at last to do the bidding of the party managers.

The folly of putting up public buildings if there is any sort of probability of the democracy continuing to administer the affairs of this country, is apparent. Look at the public building in this city, for example. All winter, when it thaws, water drops upon every one having occasion to enter its portals. This is no fault of the custodian. The condition of the roof, gutters and conductors has been repeatedly represented to the proper officials at Washington. The necessity for repairs is acknowledged. The criminal waste in neglecting these repairs is admitted. But what is the excuse? There are no funds! That is, while the treasury is suffering an overflow, needed repairs cannot be made upon public buildings because when the treasury department sends to Congress its budget and asks for a certain sum to be appropriated for the repairs of public buildings and furniture, or for the care and custody of this kind of public property, some democratic "economist," with perhaps little or no knowledge of how properly the estimate may have been made, ruthlessly moves to pare down the appropriation to such a sum as to entirely cripple the department in matters of repair. It simply permits to be doled out in insignificant sums, the expenditure of which so far falls short of the needs of the building that it is nearly as bad as wasted. And yet these men have the hardihood to say to the intelligent people of this country, "We are big enough to run this government. Trust us another four years. We are not in earnest in this free trade talk. We want the places, and we will be anything you ask, only elect us to remain in power." The voters of this country smile at this modest request. One term in a quarter of a century, of this kind of cheap government, suffices.

Strange and Fatal Accident.

In Brooklyn, Feb. 14th, as a horse car was passing beneath an elevated railroad in course of construction, the hoisting engine fell from the elevated road and crushed the car, which was full of passengers. Six men and a woman were instantly killed, and ten or twelve others were injured, of whom four will probably die.

An Excellent Map.

Among the latest exhibitions of what it is possible to accomplish by the engraver's art is a large pocket map just issued by the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway, showing the northwestern country between Chicago and the Pacific ocean in detail. A copy will be mailed free to any address on application to C. H. Warren, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn. Ask for map "H."

How it will be After the Tariff Reform!

The Connecticut tobacco raisers are greatly disturbed about Mr. Cleveland's free trade message. Now let these Connecticut fellows keep quiet. We have been for years smoking their natural leaf made up by domestic labor. Henceforth we are to have free Havana cigars rolled at prices of labor which just defy competition, and send the American laborers in that branch to work in the fields to raise corn and wheat. We are to have free trade in cigars and an increase of crop growers, so that all things raised by farmers will be cheaper because there will be more producers and fewer consumers. Then the British ships and vessels of other nations will come to our ports, and the farmers, after payment of freight in foreign vessels, can ascertain the advantage of foreign over home markets in selling their products. No more Connecticuts, but pure Cuban weeds we are to smoke when the democratic revamped tariff becomes properly adjusted and enacted as a law.

A Previously Unknown "Trust."

It has been supposed that the "trust," a combination of capitalists formed to "freeze out" or buy up small manufacturers in a given line of business, secure absolute control of the production, limit the quantity produced, and keep prices up to a point far above what open and free competition would allow of, was a modern invention; but the New York Times says that a gigantic trust has been in operation thirty years, of which little has been said in the general denunciation of such combinations. It is the steel beam trust, by which the produce of steel and iron beams and channels has been limited and the price kept up to about twice the price of steel rails, though the cost of production is very little greater. The Times says that Mayor Hewitt is one of the leading men in this trust; Andrew Carnegie and Jones & Laughlin are also in it, and it clears about a million dollars a year over and above what competitive profits would be.

Many of Mr. Blaine's friends are of the opinion that he will be nominated in spite of his letter of declination. If he is, he will be the next president.

Another political assassination, the sixth since the campaign opened in Louisiana, was committed last week. Thomas Herbert, the returning officer and treasurer of Ibeville parish, and a prominent McEnery man, was killed Thursday night by Thomas J. Gilday, president of the Nicholls club. The two, with a party of friends, were in a saloon discussing politics. Gilday is now in jail. Herbert leaves a wife and seven small children, Nicholls is the democratic candidate for governor, and between his supporters and the friends of McEnery, the present governor, much ill feeling exists. McEnery even threatens to allow a free vote and an honest count, which would elect a republican candidate.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

Harry A. McNeally, brother of the Saco bank defaulter, arrived home on the 13th inst. from Europe, whither he went to recover the $275,000 of bonds and negotiable paper stolen from the bank by Frank C. The bank officials declined to give any information as to the result of Harry's trip, further than to say they were gratified with them.

Mrs. Rhoda Ramsdell, the oldest person in York, if not in the state of Maine, died at the almshouse in that town on the night of Feb. 13th, of old age. She attained her one hundredth birthday on the 16th day of last month. Up to the end, she retained her mental faculties to a wonderful degree.

Ex-Gov. Hoadley of Ohio having stated that Mr. Tilden disapproved of the electoral commission, Mayor Hewitt of New York explicitly denies the statement, and says the commission was fully approved by Mr. Tilden.

For here the Lenten doh begin.

During this season, commencing Feb. 15th and ending March 31st, the order of services in St. John's and Christ Episcopal churches will be as follows:

Morning Prayer—Sundays, and every day in Holy Week, in St. John's church at 10:30.

Evening Prayer—Sundays, in Christ church at 4:30 or 7:30; every day in Holy Week, in Christ church at 7:30; Fridays, in St. John's chapel at 7:30, all other days in Lent, in St. John's chapel at 5:00.

Holy Communion—Sundays, in St. John's church at 12:00 M.; St. Matthias' day, in St. John's church at 10:30 A. M.; Maundy Thursday, in Christ church at 7:30 P. M.

The following persons of the Roman Catholic faith are exempt from fasting, but not abstinence, during the Lenten season:

1st, All under twenty-one years of age, and those of advanced age; 2d, the sick and those who cannot fast without grave injury to their health; 3d, women during pregnancy, or while nursing infants; 4th, all those whose duties are of a very laborious or exhausting nature.

Persons exempt from fasting are permitted to use flesh meat more than once on days on which the use of meat is allowed. As a rule all the days of Lent except Sundays are fast days of obligation.

Portsmouth Gas Company.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Gas Co. was held on Tuesday. The board of directors for the past year, consisting of Messrs. John Sise, John J. Pickering William W. Cotton, Joseph W. Peirce and Harrie W. W. Jackson, were unanimously re-elected.

The directors subsequently chose John Sise president, and Frank J. Philbrick clerk and treasurer.

The directors declared a dividend of two and a half per cent, payable the first Monday in March.

Direct to Business.

When Hon. Frank Jones reached Washington this week he made his first call at the White House. He was bound for Florida, and did not wish to tarry long at the capital. He found the president studying the New York papers, and calculating the effect of the Hill flank movement and the Blaine declination. The cheering tones of Mr. Jones at once reassured him. "You will be renominated," confidently asserted the New Hampshire visitor; "and now let us look into the Concord post-office business, as I have to leave soon for Florida."

Railroad Items.

The morning train from Dover, due in this city at 7:25, was about an hour late in arriving on Tuesday morning, owing to a broken rail, which had to be replaced with a good one before the train could pass. A train was made up in the station here to start for Boston at 7:30.

The train over the Northern division of the Boston & Maine road, which is due to arrive in this city in time to make up on the 8:20 A. M. train for Boston, failed to connect on Tuesday, the passenger cars having left the rails at Union village. The engine came through to this station with a baggage car.

Maritime Notes.

The barkentine Lizzie Carter, from Baltimore with 1152 tons of coal, the schooner Ellen M. Golden, from Perth Amboy with 961 tons, and the schooner M. L. Allen, from Hoboken with 499 tons, arrived at this port on the 14th inst., all to J. Albert Walker. The Lizzie Carter is one of the vessels repeatedly reported last week as being delayed and bothered by the ice in Nantucket sound.

To-day being Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent, services will be held in St. John's church at 10:30 A. M.; holy communion at noon.

The 42d anniversary of New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., will be observed this evening at Odd Fellows' hall by a banquet, and musical and other exercises. Miss Maud Wilmot of Chelsea, Mass., who though but fourteen years old is already famous as a cornet soloist, and her sister Mabel, a fine pianist, have been engaged to add to the attractions of the evening.

The treasurer of "Faith Home" for old ladies very gratefully acknowledges the receipt, Feb. 13th, of thirty dollars, the gift of "an old friend."

Henry Wallace, now of Lynn, Mass., but for many years in the employment of Ex-Mayor Moses H. Goodrich, and subsequently an officer of the Portsmouth police force, has been granted a pension for service in the Mexican war.

Moses H. Goodrich S. F. E. Co., No. 4, have completed arrangements for their grand ball in Franklin hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21st, and the concert to precede it in Music hall. They have already sold more tickets for this ball than for any previous one given by the company.

Newton Johnston, Esq., is quite sick at his residence on Middle street.

The tickets for the P. A. C. entertainment in Music hall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 22d, will be for sale at Goodrich's on Thursday morning, the 16th.

Edward R. Janvrin was arrested last Sunday on suspicion of his having broken into the house of Albert L. Clark, on Tanner street, and stolen therefrom clothing and other articles, while the owner was in Boston at work. Janvrin, who has several times been before the police court for drunkenness, is said to have had on some of the stolen clothes when arrested on Sunday. He escaped from the station on Sunday night, but was re-arrested in Rye by Asst. Marshal Peverly on Tuesday morning.

The entertainment given in the Congregational chapel on Middle street, Tuesday evening, by the Young People's Association, was a great success, the gross receipts being about $170.

The roof of the ordnance building at the Washington navy yard fell in on the morning of the 13th inst., being unable to support the heavy weight of snow upon it. The damage is estimated at $30,000.

An Interesting Reminiscence.

The following interesting little story, illustrative of a phase of life which has happily passed away forever in this land, and showing the prophetic foresight of one of the nation's great men, is from the Youth's Companion:

"The late Dr. Alfred Elwyn, a venerable Philadelphian, the father of Rev. Alfred Elwyn, whose high position had brought him into contact with many men famous in our early history, used to relate a circumstance which is of singular historic interest in the light of events which followed it.

After Doctor Elwyn had left college he was sent by his father to pay his respects to his old friends, John Randolph and Mr. Madison, in Virginia, and to form their acquaintance. The young man found his way on horseback over the corduroy roads in Virginia, through a driving storm, to the plantation of Mr. Madison, whom he described as a man of common-place appearance except for his great earnestness and sincerity of manner.

Mrs. Dolly Madison was as energetic and charming a hostess in her own plain dwelling as in the White House. Mr. Madison had been ill, and received his young guest in bed. Once or twice during the evening a tall, handsome mulatto woman entered the room to perform some menial service. Her eyes were full of misery, and there was about her the look of one playing a silent part in some terrible tragedy. The young man's eye followed her curiously, and his host observed it.

'You are looking at the poor woman?' he said.

'Yes. Slavery is a thing unknown to me, and naturally, interesting,' explained the visitor.

'That woman's husband belongs to a neighboring planter, who is going to Louisiana. I am not able to buy him, and hence they will be separated to-day for life.'

Mr. Madison spoke with much feeling. He was silent for a few minutes, and then, raising himself in bed, said vehemently, 'I am a slave-holder. I do not know that slavery is wrong, but it is an evil to both white and black; and I believe, young man, that you will live to see the day when that question will tear this republic into fragments.'

The incident, repeated by Dr. Elwyn frequently before the civil war, is of interest to all historical students."

HOLD FAST TO THAT WHICH IS GOOD.

Lady. "Your recommendation is certainly a good one. I am especially glad to know you do not use 'washing powders.' The last laundress I had, I discharged, because she would use them, contrary to my instructions, and completely ruined the house linen and the clothes of the entire family."

Laundress. "I never use any kind of 'washing powder' or 'soap powder.' I always use IVORY SOAP, for it is as easy to wash with as anything I ever saw, and it does not burn my hands nor make them sore."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

The popular idea has been that the world contains seven wonders, but the eighth made its appearance at the capitol. It was a poor benighted man limping with rheumatism who had never heard of Salvation Oil. It is sold at all druggists at twenty-five cents a bottle.

In Wyoming, where women have voted since 1869, it is expressly provided by law that there shall be no discrimination on account of sex in the pay for any kind or work.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

Eliot Items.

ELIOT, ME., Feb 14th.

The revival meetings will continue another week, and as much longer as the present interest is manifested. Sunday evening the chapel was comfortably filled, and a praise meeting was held the first half hour, followed by remarks by Elder Israel; then the meeting was thrown open for exhortations, and twenty-eight persons testified as to what God had done for them. We hope many more will commence a new life, and the societies of both churches have great spiritual prosperity; fifteen young persons have already made this happy start.

Dr. E. H. Dixon is to take up business in Portland in March, with Dr. F. J. Bonney, dentist. Dr. Dixon is a deserving young man, and we wish him all success; of his ability as a dentist we know, from work done for people in this town. He has taught school here for four terms, had no trouble, and been well liked by parents and children; his pupils presented him with a handsome student's bible on Saturday last, as a token of their esteem and their appreciation of his efforts for their advancement.

Mrs. J. M. Hutchins has been very ill with rheumatism in the region of the heart, but it now much better, and we hope will soon be out again.

J. K. P. Rogers left on Wednesday last for Brunswick, where he will attend school for a time.

J. W. Paul of East Saugus, Mass., is visiting his father and brother, Oliver Paul and Charles Paul, Jr., for a few days.

There was a large body of snow fell on Saturday, so much that the roads were obliged to be again broken open; there is more snow now than for many winters past. Those weather prophets who early in the winter predicted an open season have now nothing to say, while those who knowingly remarked that "Winter never rots in the sky" are boldly on hand with their "I told you so." HARRY.

As a toilet article, Ayer's Hair Vigor stands unrivalled. It cleanses the scalp and removes dandruff, cures itching humors, restores the original color to faded and gray hair, and promotes its growth.

Joseph H. Noon has been awarded $1500 damages against the Boston & Providence railroad for injuries received at the Bussey bridge disaster. The road offered him $1800, and he claimed $10,000.

Buckingham's Dye for the whiskers is easy of application, and never fails to color the beard brown or black as may be desired. Try it.

"The Writer's Signature," "Shorthand in Journalism," "Should Reporters Express Opinions?" "Writing as a Vocation or an Avocation," "That Bugbear," "Plagiarism," "What Readers Want," "Editor and Contributor," and "The Literary Workshop" are a few of the many topics interesting to literary workers that are discussed in the February number of that bright Boston magazine, The Writer, which is correctly described as "a monthly magazine to interest and help all literary workers." Ten cents a number, one dollar a year; address "The Writer, post-office box 1905, Boston."

The new combination of smart weed and belladonna, as used in Carter's Backache Plasters, has proved to be one of the best that could be made. Try one of these popular plasters in any case of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, soreness of the chest or lungs, and you will be surprised and pleased by the prompt relief. In bad cases of chronic dyspepsia a plaster over the pit of the stomach stops the pain at once. Ask for Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price twenty-five cents.

Mrs. Mary A. Adams of Dover on the 14th entered suit in $10,000 against two men, their wives and another woman, for damages sustained through plaintiff being struck by a double-runner, on which they were sliding.

Many go for Wool and get Shorn.

But they who go for Hop Ointment to cure their chapped hands or lips are never disappointed. It gets there just the same. All druggists sell it, twenty-five cents, or mail stamps to Hop Co., New London, Conn.

At Bellplaine, Iowa, on the night of Feb. 13th, J. W. Hacker, aged nineteen, shot dead Mabel Steike, aged eighteen, and then killed himself. The tragedy was the result of disappointed love.

Must not be confounded with common cathartic or purgative pills. Carter's Little Liver Pills are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

A Fortunate and Grateful Woman

MRS. J. H. Giles of Everett, Pa., says: I suffered for many years from kidney and Gravel trouble. Besides, I had other complaints common to my sex. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. CURE Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing SICK Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured HEAD Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head ACHE is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

THE MENTAL "BLIND SPOT."

Dr. Holmes' Theory of the "Idiotic Area" in the Organ of Intellect.

The analogy between the organ of vision and that of thought is so obvious and familiar that it does not require illustration. Now, just at the entrance of the optic nerve is a small circular area, known as the blind spot. Certain essential anatomical elements are wanting in this little space, and though the visual image is painted on it, the picture is a blank to the perception. Is there not a blind spot in the organ of intellect as well as in that of vision—an idiotic area, where ideas are represented, but not transmitted to the intelligent center? "Think a moment," we say to a friend who is entertaining some (to us) self evident absurdity. Paraphrased this would be: You have got a bit of nonsense on your mental blind spot, your idiotic area. Shift it if you can into a place where the mental elements are not deficient, as in that empty region.

I must appeal to the experience of others if they are not conscious of such a blind spot in their intelligence. If they recognize it as a fact that they have such a spot, they can account for many absurdities and contradictions in their own field of thought and that of others. For this idiotic area is the vacant lot where inconsistent, incoherent, unrelated ideas come together and disport themselves, or lie loose, scattered over it. Many simple puzzles and idle fancies find their way there and claim a right of domicile, until awakened reflections drives them away. Let me give an instance or two. "Excuse me," said the barber to the lantern jawed man, "if I put my finger in your mouth to press your cheek out." "No, no," said the man he was shaving. "I am afraid you'll bite me." Dean Swift mentions in one of his letters to Stella an odd whim of his own: "I had my mouth full of water, and was going to spit it out, because I reasoned with myself, 'how could I write when my mouth was full?'" In the persons we call "absent minded," the idiotic area extends over a wider space than it covers in most individuals.

This theory—for I dare not announce it as a positive discovery—is a very convenient application to cover one's own mental slips and to account for those of one's neighbor. No person of good temper and philosophic habit of mind could take offense at the question, politely asked, "Does not that view or that argument come from your idiotic area?" When John Stuart Mill suggested the possibility of a universe where two and two would make five, I should have wished to hint in a modest and civil way that this supposition had the idiotic area as its natural habitat.—Oliver Wendell Holmes in Atlantic.

The Interior of Japan.

There are no homes nestled down in copses of wood, or mansions surrounded by lordly parks. The music of no distant church bell reaches and lulls me, nor does the carol of the mountain herdsman, the chants des vaches, come in wavy deliciousness from any distant lofty pasturage. But in place of these one looks upon mountains cutting the sky with lofty cones green to the very summit, and clothed in a wealth of forests far up the sloping sides—ranges of hills from 1,000 to 5,000 feet high, not stretching in fatiguing sameness, but notched, broken, bent, in short, graceful curves, then lifting into sharp points never the same in any direction, and never hurting the eye by rocky coldness or sandy or brown barrenness. But few peaks exist in the land so lofty as to reach beyond the line of vegetation. When the tree line is passed there comes grassy verdure so luxuriant that the tallest heights seemed clothed in emerald velvet. One looks far up narrow valleys, which elsewhere would be wild gorges, and sees them terraced far into their depth and variegated with various crops in all stages of maturity, from those but lately planted and freshly green to others golden and ready for the sickle. Every mountain slope, every mountain gorge, is thus termed as far up as streams offer opportunity for the irrigation.—Carter Harrison in Chicago Mail.

Facts About Telescopes.

"Oh, no, sailors are not the only persons who purchase telescopes," said a retailer in optical goods to a reporter recently. "A great number are being sold now. You would be surprised if you knew how many there are in this city who take an interest in star gazing, and a great many gentlemen have some very fine telescopes mounted in a small observatory on the roof of their house. The sale of telescopes is rather on the increase than the decrease. Yachting is getting more popular every year, and every yachtsman, even if he only has a small catboat, must have a telescope."

"What do they cost?"

"Any price you like. I can give you one for $1, and I can make you one for just as much money as you like to give. The most popular kind just now is mounted on a black or tan leather case. It will shut up into about six inches of space and only costs $25."—New York Mail and Express.

Hereditary Deafness.

For several months Professor Bell has been going deep into his researches on the subject of hereditary deafness. He has conducted a wonderfully large correspondence with people in all parts of the world to hunt up every scintilla of evidence necessary to trace out genealogies. He will eventually make public his discoveries, showing hereditary deafness in the same line of descent for 200 years. The professor has also constructed a valuable machine for talking with deaf mutes. It is something like the typewriter in theory, having a keyboard which turns up big plain letters in such a way as to construct a word, and to facilitate conversation.—Chicago Times.

OH, WHAT A COLD!

THIS is the season for sudden changes in the weather, and a great many "take cold" either in their Head or on their Lungs, causing Coughs, Hoarseness, and Sore Throat. These troubles can be soon relieved and cured by taking Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs, entirely removing these difficulties.

Cured his boy of Croup.

C. M. BROOKS, Lowell, Mass., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific as a cure for Coughs, Colds, and Croup. I used it in my family last winter with the best results. Two or three doses cured my little boy of Croup, for which I am very thankful."

You can cure that Cough in a short time. You can cure your Catarrh if you persist in its use, as it will stop the secretion of Catarrhal matter in the head; it will relieve Croup in from three to five minutes.

The best he ever saw.

"The best medicine for Coughs and Consumptive Complaints that ever I saw is Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific," so says JOHN MCLAUGHLIN, of Boston.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

PHILOSOPHY OF MARRIAGE, giving a clear synopsis of the impediments to marriage, exhausted vitality, etc., etc., can be had from all news agents or forwarded direct from the author, Dr. F. LORDAN, 19 Joy St., Boston, on receipt of 25 cents. codtf28

"When headache joins neuralgia, then comes the tug of war." A wise general knows very well how to marshal his forces. His first, last and best charge is made with a bottle of Salvation Oil, and the doughty foe lies cringing in the dust.

It is nearly forty years since Neal Dow made his record as a prohibition mayor of Portland, Me., and now he is to run again.

"What Brought You Here?"

Said a philanthropist to an inmate of a prison. Sneezing, sir." "Sneezing! How was that?" "Why, you see, I had just taken his wallet out of his pocket when I sneezed and woke up the man, and he jumped out of bed and caught me." Sneezing also indicates that one has caught a cold, which, if neglected, may develop into a cough which is hard to arrest, or pneumonia or consumption with its cold and icy hand may arrest you; to prevent which use Ingall's Specific. Price fifty cents and $1.00.

The Providence Lease to the Old Colony.

It would seem one of the advantages of the Old Colony railroad operating the Boston & Providence railway and its connections, that the O. C. R. R. would have an all rail line to New York. Thus if by the Providence line, by reason of stress of weather, or fog or ice, it was not deemed advisable to start a boat for New York, the Old Colony could send passengers to New York by the all rail line, a portion of which would be over its leased iron. In all this arrangement the public will be the gainers, while the Fall River line, instead of paying tribute to the Stonington line as in years past, under some kind of a joint contract for mutual protection wherein the Stonington line received large sums from the Fall River line for which no equivalent was rendered, will devote its receipts to the benefit of its own patrons and shareholders.

"The Gunmaker of Moscow."

The beginning of a new and thrilling story by Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., author of "The Gunmaker of Moscow," will be given in our columns to-morrow. It is one of the last two stories Mr. Cobb wrote before he died. Be sure and read it.

Adulterated Beer.

A large number of samples of beer, as sold in open market, have been analyzed by the United States commissioner of agriculture, and his publication of the analyses shows that a large proportion of the beers are adulterated with substances more or less injurious to human health. Many brewers are on the qui vive to ascertain whose beer has been shown by the commissioner to have been adulterated, he having given no names. Agents and congressmen in Washington who are friends of brewers whose beer they believe is unadulterated, are anxious to have the commissioner give the names, as it would be a government guaranty of the "honest" beers, and of vast value; but the commissioner has so far declined to enter business as an advertising agent for beer, and if, as he apparently proves, a large percentage of the various beers are adulterated, the administration will see to it that he keeps his tongue still as to names. The brewers are staunch supporters of the democratic party, and the administration is well aware of how important is their aid.

A Mining Region Horror.

Six persons were burned to death and four fatally injured Sunday night, the 12th inst., as the result of a drunken spree at Silver Brook, eight miles south of Hazleton, Pa., where J. S. Wentz & Co. operate two large collieries. A party of Hungarians went to Hazleton to attend the dedication of a new Polish Catholic church. All became drunk and returned home in the evening. When they got to the house of a man named Maulick they indulged freely in whiskey and beer, and engaged in a fierce fight, during which a lighted lamp was overturned and exploded. In an instant the whole room was enveloped in flames, and the clothes of those present were set on fire. Five of the men and one young girl were roasted alive. Maulick and his wife, and another man, were fatally burned. Mrs. Maulick threw her baby out of one of the windows to save it from the flames, but in falling it was fatally injured. Half a dozen others were fatally burned, or injured by jumping out of the windows. The house was totally consumed. The story of the turning over the lamp is not believed by many, who think that a murder was committed in the house, and it was fired to hide the crime.

Surprising Rosh.

A Washington paper prints the following: "Mr. Edwin Fleming, the editor of the Buffalo Courier, is in Washington. The Courier is very close to the administration, as it always has been to Mr. Cleveland since he entered political life. Mr. Fleming says candidly that he does not know of a single expression which has come from Mr. Cleveland to the effect that he will accept a renomination. Those who knew him best will be least surprised if he shall declare himself in the near future against a second term." Mr. Cleveland long ago made all the declarations against a second term that he ever will make.

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Feb. 13th.

It has been a mild, warm day, and the condition of the roads is fast improving. Sleighing in the village will be quite good by to-morrow afternoon. It has been a fine day for fishing, and the Kittery Fish Co will work far into the night shipping fish.

Solon Frisbee has recently made some alterations and improvements in his store.

Elder Wakely of Strafford, N. H., preached at the Freewill Baptist church Sunday afternoon. He is a ready speaker and a fine singer. The services both afternoon and evening were well attended.

Rev. L. W. Phillips of Rye, N. H., will preach in the Christian church next Sunday. It is expected that Rev. J. H. Mugridge of Newcastle will supply at that church after next Sunday.

Miss Alice Collins is enjoying her visit to Boston, and will not return home until spring.

Matters in York.

AGAMENTICUS, YORK, Feb. 14th.

Snow seems to be increasing; there is about three feet in the woods, and it is impossible to get teams into the woods where there are no roads.

George Moulton is getting out a frame for a new barn to be put up in the coming spring.

Willie Plaisted is making preparations for building a new house the coming season on a lot near the schoolhouse.

To Charles and Rosa Fitzgerald, a son.

Elisha Lewis has a sick steer caused by hard work and poor feed.

J. F. Plaisted came very near losing a horse Friday, by his being "corked" in the woods; he bled four hours before the flow could be stopped.

Paul Welch is busy in the manufacturing of axe handles and ox goads this winter.

George Bracy, who is now seventy-one years old, and has lived alone since his wife died nine years ago, is going to live with Newbury Welch; he is to give him his farm to take care of him.

There is talk of a hotel being built at the base of the mountain, and a tower on the summit 200 feet high the coming season.

David Fitzgerald has a cook stove that has been in constant use for twenty-five years, and is still in very good condition. F.

We have received from the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall street, New York, a copy of their beautiful picture, "Moorish Maid," used in advertising the Athlophoros remedies. The picture is very handsome and worthy of a place in any parlor. Copies may be obtained direct from the company by sending six cents in stamps to pay postage. The picture would readily sell in the art stores for fifty cents, and the company are receiving many thousand orders at this merely nominal price.

It is a pleasure to note that the sale of the Athlophoros remedies is constantly and steadily increasing, as must always be the case with every remedy that is the best of its kind, and this is the position occupied by each of the Athlophoros remedies. Athlophoros conquers rheumatism; Athlophoros pills are a necessity in every household, while the new Athlophoros plasters are novel in the fact as expressed by a leading chemist, "no other house would have ever thought of making so good a plaster when poor, cheap plasters are so common."

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

The Dover Point Bridge Damaged.

A few minutes after the mixed train which leaves this city at 4:55 A. M. for Dover had crossed the Dover point bridge on the 15th inst., the bridge was struck at a point between the draw and the Newington end by an immense cake of ice. Capt. James Card, the night watchman on the bridge, says the ice was in the shape of a wedge, which struck the bridge point foremost, broke out several piles, and knocked a large section of the bridge out of line, the extreme deviation being about twelve feet. The track was of course thrown out of line also, and no cars were run over the bridge during the day, passengers and baggage being transferred across in carriages each way, to a train at the other end of the structure. Mr. W. T. Perkins, station agent in this city, who lives in Dover, came down to the bridge on the 7:13 train from that city, walked across, and finished his journey on a hand car. A large gang of bridge carpenters went up from this city as soon as the disaster was reported, to do whatever could be done. The ice piled up against the bridge half way to the flooring, but with the flood tide it again went up river, affording the structure temporary relief, but it was feared that with its return on the ebb more damage would be done. The section of the bridge thrown out of plumb is about 200 feet long. The entire length of the bridge, which was built in 1873, is 2271 feet.

Anniversary Celebration.

The 42d anniversary of New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., was celebrated at Odd Fellows' hall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 15th, by a most enjoyable entertainment and banquet, which was attended by a great throng of the brethren and their lady friends, and invited guests, the 300 plates laid not nearly sufficing to accommodate the company all at once. The committee of arrangements, of which Major David Urch was chairman and Bro. Charles E. Pinder secretary, had prepared the following programme of exercises, which was most pleasingly carried out:

Address of welcome by P. G. David Urch; music, "Welcome march," Medcalf's orchestra, six pieces; recitation, Miss Alice Sides; piano duet, Misses Maud and Mamie Simpson; song, Miss Lizzie Blaisdell; overture, orchestra; recitation, Mr. Charles P. Garvin; song, with banjo accompaniment, Miss Grace Varrell; piano solo, Miss Emily Hoyt; cornet solo, Miss A. Maud Wilmot; duet, Messrs. G. D. Whittier and W. P. Brown; piano solo, Miss Lizzie Hanscom; cornet solo, Mr. W. E. Cate; recitation, Miss Grace Varrell; song, Miss Grace White; music, "Shepherd boy," orchestra; violin solo, Mr. George D. Whittier; trombone solo, Mr. John Carty; piano duet, Misses Dimick and Davis; cornet solo, Miss A. Maud Wilmot; presentation of gold headed cane and grand lodge jewel, to Bro. George Annable; galop, "Indian mail," orchestra.

Major Urch officiated as master of ceremonies, and Messrs. Hiram C. Locke, D. Webster Barnabee, Chandler M. Hayford, Freeman F. Sanborn, Joseph H. Gardiner, John H. Knox and Thornton Betton were the ushers. The caterer was Mr. Woodbury Wingate, and the collation of cold turkey and ham, with whatever was necessary to go with the same, cake and ice cream in variety, fruit, sweetmeats and hot coffee, was abundant and of the most excellent quality.

The occasion was one of much pleasure to the large number of participants, and the intense cold and blustering northwest wind did not get a chance at them until a late hour.

Mail Changes.

Several changes in the mails at this post-office have been made, and are noted in the post-office rules published in another column of this paper. The mail for Manchester and Concord closing at 6:45 P. M., is discontinued, the latest mail for those places now closing at 4:50. There is now but one mail daily between this city and Newington, Newcastle, and York and Cape Neddick, the afternoon mails to and from the towns named being discontinued; and the morning mail for York and Cape Neddick, hitherto closing at eleven o'clock, now closes at 9:25.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 15th.

Edward R. Janvrin, charged with larceny of clothing to the value of $25 from Albert L. Clark of No. 2 Tanner street, was adjuged probably guilty, and held in $400 to answer at the April term of the supreme court. Not being able to procure bail, he was committed to jail.

Thomas Collins was found guilty on a charge of drunkenness, but was allowed to go on probation, on his promise to leave town by the afternoon train east, for the Soldiers' Home at Togus, Me.

John Crowley pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness, and was fined $10, costs $6.90; county farm in default of payment.

Railroad Items.

Two cars of freight train No. 115, which left Conway Junction for North Conway at three o'clock A. M. on the 15th inst., left the rails at Great Works, between the junction and South Berwick, blocking the road for several hours, and preventing the arrival here of the train from Wolfeborough due here at 8:10 o'clock.

The delay of the train from Wolfeboro' Junction to this city on the morning of the 14th inst. was caused by the breaking of two wheels of the smoking car at Union, throwing the car directly across the track. A brakeman was so badly hurt that he had to be home, and the conductor received a severe scalp wound.

We do not remember a time when so many minor accidents and delays of trains, caused by the breaking of wheels or machinery, have been reported, as during the past two or three weeks. One mishap of the kind not reported was the breaking of two wheels under a car of a freight train which left Biddeford for Boston on Saturday afternoon, the 11th inst., by which the Eastern division track between Biddeford and West Kennebunk was blocked about six hours.

Tickets to the P. A. C. entertainment at Music hall go on sale at Goodrich's this morning. Take note of this, if you propose to attend the show.

A petition is in circulation to be presented to the city government, asking for an appropriation for the purpose of improving Sagamore road at the hill this side of Sagamore creek. The best way to improve that road would be to carry it around the hill, where it should have been built in the first place.

Mr. Joseph S. Pfeiffer's connection with the New Hampshire national bank will terminate on the first of March, after a continuous service as teller for twenty-one years.

We have received a copy of the Leoti Transcript, published at Leoti, Wichita county, Kansas, and containing the card of "C. W. Garland & Co., abstracters, real estate and loan brokers." No need to go so far west to find abstracters; we have plenty of financiers here at the east ready to abstract everything they can lay their hands on.

Commodore Melville, chief of the bureau of steam engineering, has informed the navy department that the dock trial of the engines and boilers of the Swatara at this navy yard was perfectly satisfactory.

The sale of valentines this year is reported by the dealers to be less than in years past, and the letter carriers were but little crowded by the extra work of delivering them.

Tax Collector Samuel P. Treadwell has posted notification of tax sales to the number of sixty-five, to take place at public auction March 28th, unless previously settled.

A telegraph pole on Daniel street, near the former office of the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co., was broken off about seven feet from the ground on Tuesday night of this week. The pole was stayed by a wire running to the supports of a sign on the building occupied by Mr. John T. French as a sash and blind shop, and a snowslide from the roof of that building struck the sign and wire, knocking down the sign and breaking the pole.

Miss Nettie A. Eldredge, elder daughter of H. Fisher Eldredge, Esq., gave a brilliant valentine party on the evening of the 14th inst. to about fifty of her young friends at the home of her parents on Merrimac street. Manager Hill of the Rockingham was caterer, and the full Music Hall orchestra supplied the music for dancing.

The schooner Katie Mitchell was towed up from Newcastle to Neal's wharf at Kittery on the 14th inst., and will go on the railway for repairs as soon as the ways are thawed out.

The parties who leased Preble's island, between the navy yard and Kittery Point, for the manufacture of fish oil and guano, find the enterprise unprofitable, and will surrender their lease on the 1st of April.

The trustees of the Saco & Biddeford Institution for Savings on the 15th inst. made public a statement that a registered package, posted in Liverpool on the 3d inst. by Harry A. McNeally, was received by the bank officials on the evening of the 14th, and contained every dollar of the $265,000 of registered bonds and negotiable securities stolen by Frank C. McNeally.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, Feb. 13th.

The travelling on Sunday was bad, but the weather was so fine the churches were very well filled.

Some of the roads were not broken out until last Saturday, the surveyors in some districts being unwilling to perform duty. In Maine the surveyors are fined for gross neglect; we wish they were in this state.

Mr. Norman Marston is preparing to build one of the finest houses in the county.

Mr. R. A. DeLancey went to Boston last Friday to purchase a pair of fine horses.

Dry wood is in great demand, and hard to find; some who have it in the woods are unable to get it out on account of the quantity of snow.

We regret that Rev. J. B. Merrill is soon to leave town. He has worked hard to arrange a course of lectures to please the people, and on Wednesday evening there will be dramatic readings and music, one-half of the proceeds to be given Mr. Merrill for his efforts.

One of our young men went to see one of the directors of the shoe factory about work, and was told if he would take a share of stock he could get work. He took a share, and went to see the boss. The operatives said he was a "scab," and that if the boss took him in they would leave. Rather an unfair way of dealing, and hard for the young man, who has a family and is of good character and a good workman. ——.

The Lord Mayor of London was only a porter in a warehouse, but he persevered in the face of all opposition and rose rapidly. It is only persistency and merit that has made Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup the greatest family remedy for coughs and colds now offerred to the suffering public.

It is reported that Mrs. Robinson, the convicted poisoner, has since her conviction positively refused all food, and it is thought intends to starve herself to death.

Dean Gray, Jr., of Westfield, Mass., had a severe and distressing cough, followed by emaciation and night sweats. Many remedies were tried without avail, and his friends seriously doubted his recovery. He was completely cured by the use of two bottles of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

A German bark at Bermuda reports being for five days amid a mass of logs, many of them of large size; several of them struck the vessel, knocking off some of the sheathing and damaging the rudder. The logs are no doubt part of the Joggins raft.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies which helped me, but I had none which give me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me.—M. J. Lally, 39 Woodward avenue, Boston Highlands, Mass.

I suffered from acute inflammation in my nose and head—for a week at a time I could not see. I used Ely's Cream Balm and in a few days I was cured. It is wonderful how quick it helped me.—Mrs. Georgie S. Judson, Hartford, Conn.

Apply balm into each nostril. Price fifty cents.

Nova Scotia's fish catch last year amounted to $8,500,000.

Hop Plasters are famous soothers, pain allayers and strengtheners when applied to the human body.

Two patients were suffocated in the recent burning of the St. Albans, Vt., hospital.

Kissing Goes by Favor,
But Hop Ointment goes for chapped hands, sore noses, cold cracks, etc., without fear or favor. Never fails. All druggists sell it at twenty-five cents a box.

Bright Cornett, a notorious desperado, and leader of the gang which robbed a train at Flatonia, Texas, some months ago, was shot dead in Frio county, Texas, a few days ago, by a deputy sheriff named Allee. Cornett fired two shots, but without effect.

You'll feel better right away if you apply a Hop Plaster to that lame back.

At Lawrenceville, Ind., Feb. 12th, Dr. R. S. Porter, a wealthy farmer, and his wife, were fatally injured in a fight with four masked burglars, who escaped.

The well known strengthening properties of iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

Report says that to Dr. Emory L. White of Somerville, Mass., supreme medical examiner of the Order of Pilgrim Fathers, is due the credit of having originated the investigation which led to Mrs. Robinson's trial and conviction for murder. Dr. White's suspicions were aroused last July, and at his suggestion the police went to work on the case.

There is no one article in the line of medicine that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

CHAPTER 1.

THE PAINTER AND HIS MODEL.

In a spacious marble building overlooking the grand piazza of Parma, its walls somewhat discolored by the touch of time, was the studio of a painter. His rooms were on the second floor, the windows in front commanding a view that might have inspired any one whose soul was susceptible to the influence of the grand and the beautiful.

Our painter occupied two apartments, both of goodly size, well lighted and handsomely and artistically furnished. That in the rear, the windows of which overlooked a small garden belonging to the estate, was used as a reception and waiting room; the other, in front, being the artist's studio proper—his sanctum sanctorum.

It was late in the afternoon of a pleasant day of June. In the rear apartment of the painter's quarters sat a woman, advanced in years—a duenna in attendance upon a mistress who occasionally tried her patience, as it was certainly being tried now.

She had waited in that room, solitary and alone, she could not tell how long, but it seemed to her an age.

Anon she tapped the rich mosaic of the floor with her foot, winked and blinked her sharp gray eyes, pursed her thin lips, and nodded mysteriously.

The apartment beyond the arch—the studio proper—was a different place from the waiting-room, and differently occupied.

Near the centre of the studio stood an easel, supporting a canvas, on which was being created a beautiful picture of St. Cecilia, the young and beautiful Christian martyr of Rome. The body of the picture was well on the way toward completion. The figure was represented as leaning on a harp; the mood one of sublime contemplation. The harp was finished, save only a touch here and there, in shading; the back-ground was well nigh complete, and the drapery required but little more work. The face was scarcely more than outlined, but sufficient had been done to reveal the surpassing possibilities of the conception.

By the side of his work stood the painter, Juan Zanoni. The beauty of his face was startling. The skin in its purity and whiteness was like unspotted marble. His age—since we know it we may as well be exact—was nine and twenty. One month previously he had entered upon his thirtieth year.

Near by, reclining upon a luxurious velvet-covered ottoman, was the painter's model for his saint. If she had not been beautiful she would not have been there. Neither would she have been there had her beauty been of the voluptuous cast, or even verging upon it. Hers was most emphatically a beauty of purity and truth—a beauty of soul and intellect. She was 20 years of age, with a figure of surpassing grace and loveliness, and —. She was the Princess Isabel di Varona, an orphan and a relative and ward of the Duke of Parma. She had lost her parents when quite young, her father having been killed on the battle-field, her mother dying shortly thereafter. Though Prince di Varona had been only a cousin, twice removed, of the duke on the maternal side, they had been mated together in youth, and had loved one another deeply and truly to the end; hence the mother when dying called upon the dear friend of her husband to be a father to her child. He had promised, and most faithfully had his promise been kept. The orphan girl, inheriting the title with the large estate, had come to him a wealthy ward, her possessions, in fact, rivalling his own in value.

If you ask how the princess chanced to be here, serving Zanoni as a model, we answer: The St. Cecilia was being painted for the duke. The subject had originated with him. He had read the touching story of the young and beautiful Roman wife, who had offered her life upon the altar of her religion—preferring death to a renunciation of her blessed faith in her Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ—he had read, and it became with him a sort of infatuation that he should not only possess a picture of the saint, but that his beautiful ward should sit for the portrait.

Once, when the Count Guiseppe Denaro, an only son of one of the wealthiest, oldest and most notable families in the duchy, who had sought Isabel's hand in marriage—when he, with sadly drawn and lugubrious visage, offered objections to the arrangement the duke had laughed at him outright.

"In mercy's name, of what are you afraid?" the latter had exclaimed. "Do you fancy the populace would dare to breath the breath of scandal against that pure being? Surely you cannot doubt that her dignity and self-respect will bear her safely through the ordeal. And, my boy, you cannot know Juan Zanoni if you fear on his account."

"You mistake me, sire. My thoughts lay not in that direction—"

Before the young man could speak further the duke started under the touch of a quick, deep anger.

"Count Denaro! Dare you hint at such a thing? By San Marco! the man who has not confidence in the immaculate purity of—"

"Oh, sire! sire!" the count had implored, grasping the duke's hand as he spoke. "How could you give such turn to my speech? Good heavens! I would cut my tongue out at its roots if I thought it could frame utterance in that direction. No, no, I meant nothing like that."

"What then, Guiseppe? You must have had a meaning?"

"Dear master," the youth had replied, with deepest feeling, "you will pardon, me for what I am about to say. True, Isabel has not yet given assent to my earnest suit; not yet has she promised me her hand; still, I am sure she likes me and I have hoped that she might, ere long, speak the word that would make me the happiest of men. And now my dear duke, I will tell you the thought that has given me trouble, and I shame not to confess it." He paused here a few moments, with his head bent and his hand pressed on his brow. Presently he resumed:

"Sire, the painter, Zanoni, is, without exception, the handsomest man I ever saw, and in his beauty there is a weird, spiritual quality—a quality I have at times thought not of earth—which gives it a depth and power to charm, which no one can escape who is brought within its influence. Then, again, I never met another so brilliant and entertaining in conversation. In short, his very presence has in it a charm which is utterly irresistible. Now, sir, I know that the princess is young and impressible, with a deep touch of romance in her thoughts and feelings. Can you not see what I dread?"

For the space of perhaps three seconds the duke had regarded the young man seriously, and then he burst into a merry laugh, and laughed heartily.

"Oh! boy, boy! What a bugbear you have conjured up in that poor fellow's studio! You must be crazy. The Princess di Varona falling in love, like a schoolmaid, with a plebian picture maker! Zanoni! Don't let her hint that you think so lightly of her! Hush! say no more. I forgive you, my boy, but I doubt much if she would should she come to know it. And now, Guiseppe, as an end to this matter I will say this: You can only look at one side of Zanoni's character. I admit all that you have said concerning him—every word; but I wish to add—he is wedded to his art. Since he has been in Parma, little more than five years, he has painted the portraits of the most beautiful maidens we have among us. At least a score of young and lovely damsels, marriageable, yet unmarried—I may say of them that they were the loveliest of our lovely women—have sat to him, have spent hours with him alone, while he caught their features and transferred them to canvas."

"Guiseppe, most of these young ladies I have conversed with on the subject of their experience in the artist's studio, and I have found them unanimous in one direction of disappointment, and, I think I may say, disgust. And you will remember old Madelon always accompanied her. No! I wouldn't forego the pleasure I anticipate in the possession of that picture for my ducal crown. There! away you go. Don't let any more such goblins arise to frighten you."

The young count had it on his tongue, when the duke spoke of Madelon, to tell him that the good old woman was never suffered to sit in the studio while the artist was painting; but perhaps his grace already knew it, and had a ready excuse for it. At all events he had, at that dismissal, turned away without saying more.

Zanoni had laid his palette and brush down on a small table that stood near by and for a full minute had stood in silence, his eyes fixed upon the outlined face on his canvass. At length the sitter interrupted him.

"Come, signor, you are not improving the time I give you."

With a start almost like one detected in a deed of guilt, the painter caught up his working tools, selected a brush, and applied its point to a gout of color on his palette. While he did this the lady, with a bright smile lighting up her lovely features, went on:

"We must make the most of every minute, Zanoni, for I fear my guardian will very soon demand that my visits shall cease."

A shadow of pain appeared for a moment upon the painter's pale face, and a perceptible tremor shook his frame; but, whatever the emotion, he quickly overcame it, though it cost him an effort.

"Lady," he said, again putting aside his implements and moving back a pace from his easel—his voice was low and sweet, like the deeper, richer notes of the grand cathedral organ—"Lady, he is right. There can be no more fitting time than the present for your visits to my poor studio to cease—to cease now and forever! You must tell the duke that I cannot finish the work as he proposed."

"Signor! What means this?" She spoke hurriedly, seeming at a loss to comprehend him. "Surely you cannot mean that you will not finish the picture?"

"I said not that, princess. I will finish it; but it must be with the help of another face than yours; or, from one of my own imagining."

"But—O! signor! the duke will be very wroth. It is my face, and no other, that he desires."

"I cannot help it, signora; he must be very wroth if he will. For myself, my powers are limited. I am human, like other men. Tell your guardian I cannot do it."

"Oh! Signor Zanoni! You will not persist in this. Think how much the duke anticipates in the possession of the finished picture—finished with my portrait on the canvas. And, signor—more than that—if you knew how highly he praised you—how much above all other painters in Parma he holds you—if you knew how he almost worships your genius—If you knew, I am sure you would go on to the end as we have begun."

The artist turned upon her a look that frightened her. In a moment the truth burst upon her. She had known it before or, at least, she had suspected it—had been impressed by it—but she had struggled against admitting it. Could she have had her wish the work would have gone on; her sitting under the light of his wonderful eyes, and the charm of his matchless voice would have had an end—never. But under the influence of that look the veil fell, and the end came—the end of tranquil rest and calm delight.

Again Zanoni controlled himself, and when he next spoke his voice was steady and solemn.

"Signora, we will not dispute. Let the duke feel as he may, I cannot do his bidding further. Tell him I will finish the picture, but it must be after my own ideal. I will remember your features if I can—if not—"

"Ah! Signor, can you so easily forget me?"

"Forget!" He started her again. "If I could paint a human soul—if I could put upon canvas that which lives forever—then might I paint yours from memory. But I cannot explain; I can feel it, and I do know it, but I cannot make it plain to another. Your message to the duke is very simple."

The princess had become pale, even to whiteness; her hands were clasped over her heaving bosom, and her whole frame was moved by a perceptible tremor. Presently, with an earnest, yearning look, she murmered, scarcely above a whisper and in broken tones:

"Zanoni! You wish that I should come—never—never—never—again?"

He could endure no more. A moment he stood with his hands clinched; his face white like marble; his eyes aflame to their profoundest depths, and his frame, quivering at every joint.

"Signora! Princess! Isabel! Can you not see? Wait. Let me think. I will speak presently." He took a few turns to and fro across the room, evidently fighting a mighty battle with himself; and when he finally stood before her again he was outwardly calm. She sat with folded hands, pale as before, gazing at him with her soul in her eyes.

"Lady, I will be brief. Years ago—long, long years to me—I saw my mother's mortal remains laid away in the grave. It was in a land far distant from this. O! how I loved her! She was pure and good—I fear not to say, a saint on earth. She was gone, and my heart for a time seemed broken. I had one friend—Antonio Velasques, Murillo's last and most favored pupil. With him I gave myself to art, and came to love it with a passion that knew no bound. My tutor died, and once more I was left, but not alone. I now had my art, and to it I gave my love—my life. And from that time I loved no other thing, if I except the memory of things dead and gone. And I fully believe my heart would never know the passion of love again. But I did not know what the future held in store. I came to Italy, and finally found home in Parma. The place attracted me. Here I saw in time a face that reminded me of my mother. Need I tell you it was your own; and, ere I could realize the result, it came—a love so deep, so strong, so much a part of my life, that life seems death without it

"Isabel! Isabel! The words are spoken. They were forced from me. Pardon me if I have offended. My heart is—O! go! go and tell the duke—" The continuation of this thrilling story will appear only in the Boston Daily Globe next Monday, Feb. 20th, and continue every day until completed. BEAUTY IN THE BOXES.

The Lovely Women Who Crowd the Front Rows in the Opera.

I was at the opera the other night. "Faust" was on the bill and the house was crowded with the beauty and wealth of the town. Standing up between the acts I swept the boxes with my opera glass, and the sheen of the diamonds outshone the glare of the bright lights. The white and bare shoulders of the women rose along the front seats like the tops of soft white waves, and their uncovered arms were as ripples of foam that relieved the bright colors of their costumes.

Clear complexioned, bright eyed and aggressive in their beauty, many of them leaned over the front of their boxes and sent their sparkling eyes caressing through the house. They were lovely specimens of the feminine form divine, and the world has not left them in ignorance of that delightful fact.

Take almost any of the boxes and the story of its occupants' lives will point the moral of the subject that came to me that night.

Never mind the particular box, but there was one that drew my attention. Three women on the first row, superbly built, cherry lipped and alabaster skinned. With faces serene, health perfect, and contentment marked on every line of their well cut countenances. They had swept into their places long after the performance had begun and gazed about with superb indifference after throwing off their wraps.

The well rounded outlines of the oldest of the three, and the repose that ran through her every motion, marked her out as a woman to whom care was unknown, and satisfaction an everyday romance. She might have been 40, but she looked 25. The other two were younger, but both were pictures of absolute physical beauty. They were one family, and may have been mother, daughter and sister. The three were magnificent evidences of the development and culture that are building up the rich women of New York, and giving an inheritance of health and beauty to the new generation that is growing around us today.

And the husband? for he was there, too.

The wife turns occasionally in a careless, half indifferent way and says a word to some one who sits in the rear of the box, and in the half dimness can be seen the man whose money makes all this loveliness possible.

Is he, too, developing and rounding out his life in pleasant ways and without weighing cares? Look at him even in weight; he is many pounds lighter than is the magnificent woman he calls wife, and who glances back at him sometimes almost pathetically. The furrows along his cheeks are cut deep and his eyes are sometimes weary and often heavy, even when Marguerite sings her sweetest strains.

The world has been wrestling with him for a quarter of a century, and his office has seen him every day during all that time. He has delved for wealth and he has found it, but his bent shoulders and shrunken figure tell the story of the strained anxiety that has covered his life for years. Unceasing work during the day and uncertain rest in the quiet of the night have laid the mark of 60 years upon him, though he has not perhaps touched 45.

He has fought for the place in the opera where his proud wife sits. He has struggled to keep her in the splendor that befits her beauty. He toils along, holding to his accumulations and lavishing them upon her, while her loveliness and stateliness grow with advancing matronhood, and the years of middle manhood bring to him the weariness and decrepitude of old age.

It is no fancy sketch. The opera house was full of such pictures that night—is full of them every night.

True, there are some magnificent specimens of stalwart American manhood, strolling here and there through the lobbies or lounging in the body of the house. But then most of these men are unmarried.—New York Graphic.

Monumental Sculpture.

There never was a time in the United States when the commemoration of historic deeds by monumental sculpture was so universal as to-day. The idea of erecting suitable memorials to national heroes, to feats of arms by individuals, regiments, or brigades, or to signalize some exceptional historical event is a conspicuous mark of the general recognition of worth by all sections of the Union, going to show that republicans are not as ungrateful as the old saw hath it.—Frank Leslie's.

Thought He Was Poisoned.

A Danbury man recently found what he supposed was a mushroom, weighing ten ounces, which he cooked and ate with a relish. Soon after he felt a pain in his stomach, which, failing to subside, alarmed him. A stomach pump and other salutary methods were applied and he soon felt relieved. An exterior examination, however, revealed a pin that had worked through from his belt and was the cause of all the trouble.—New York World.

Have Only to Consider.

Any device that will make the cars comfortable and do away with the chances of fire in case of accident will satisfy the public; the railways have only to consider the question of efficiency and economy. BILIOUSNESS.

THIS very common complaint, which is caused by a dormant or inactive liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

MRS. DUDLEY CHANDLER, of Melrose, Mass., says: "I had suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the pulsations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and earnestly recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Two Ways. Choose Which!

There are two usual ways of doing what nature sometimes does incompletely, namely, to relieve the bowels. One is to swallow a drastic purgative which evacuates profusely, abruptly and with pain, the other is to take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the effect of which is not violent, but sufficiently thorough, and which does not gripe the intestines. If the first is selected, the person employing it need not expect permanent benefit, and he cannot hope to escape the debilitating reaction which leaves the organs as bad or worse off than before. If, on the other hand, he resorts to the bitters, he can rely upon the restoration of a regular habit of body, consequent upon a renewal of a healthful tone in the intestinal canal. Besides healthfully relaxing the bowels, the bitters arouses a dormant liver, imparts a beneficial impetus to the action of the kidneys and counteracts the early twinges of rheumatism, a tendency to gout and malaria in all its forms.

A Fishery Treaty Agreed On.

A Washington despatch says the British commissioners and American negotiators agreed upon a fisheries treaty on the evening of the 15th inst., and unanimously signed it. It is stated that the American members believe they have framed a treaty which will meet with general approval in New England and throughout the country. The treaty relates exclusively to the fisheries and the rights of American vessels in Canadian waters, and does not attempt to deal with the Behring sea controversy or the question of trade relations. The British interpretation of the three-mile limit is definitely abandoned, and American vessels are conceded the same privileges as before the abrogation of the treaty of Washington. Their right to enter Canadian ports for the purposes of commerce and for ordinary supplies is freely granted. Mr. Chamberlain, the British commissioner, felt that the best means of promoting amity between the two nations was by granting this country what she is reasonably entitled to by the practice and policy of other neighboring and friendly nations, and he brought Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian commissioner, to his way of thinking. President Angell and Mr. Putnam are much pleased by the successful termination of their labors, and they believe that the treaty is so little open to criticism that it cannot fail to obtain the two-thirds vote necessary to confirmation in the senate.

The Railroad Consolidation Bill.

The committe on railroads of the Massachusetts legislature on the 14th inst. heard the petition of George C. Lord, president of the Boston & Maine railroad, for leave to purchase the property and franchise of the Eastern railroad. C. E. French, who has a suit in equity against the Eastern road to test the constitutionality of the act of 1882, protested against the consolidation of the Eastern road with the Boston & Maine, or any other road, until the suit is decided. Mr. Richard Olney, counsel for the Boston & Maine, presented the bill desired by the road, and explained the provisions of the bill and the circumstances of the roads at much length. At present, he said, there are two boards of officers, and to have to consult two different interests is positively mischevious. The Eastern will have to keep up its board of directors under the lease, which it will not do under a sale. Consolidation by sale has been authorized by Maine and New Hampshire already, and it is desirable to have the status of the property uniform in the three states. Mr. Olney said that the New Hampshire law, which is followed in this bill, limiting dividends directly, is much more positive than the Massachusetts method of limiting them indirectly by restrictions upon the issue of capital. He explained the methods of equalizing the holdings of new stock, arguing that that in the bill was best. The bill is practical in every way, and for the interest of both roads.

Maritime Notes.

Between three and four o'clock A. M on Thursday, the 16th inst., the fishing schooners Georgia Tarr and Amos Cutler were in collision near the entrance to this harbor and the latter's mainsail was badly torn.

The fishing schooner Annie L. Sanborn sailed from Rockport, Mass., Feb. 15th, for the fishing grounds in Ipswich bay, but was reported a few hours later by another vessel as anchored about three miles off the Salvages, with her sails blown away and mainmast gone. A small tug from Rockport failed to reach her, and the collector of the port telegraphed to Boston for a revenue cutter to go to her aid. A heavy gale was prevailing.

A new lighthouse lens, purchased in Paris by the lighthouse board for $15,000, has arrived in this country, and is to be placed in the Sandy Hook lighthouse; it is the largest lens in America, being nine feet in diameter, and the glasswork fifteen feet high.

The Exeter Water company just about pays expenses from its yearly receipts. One of the proposed means of increasing the revenue is to urge upon the students of the academy the propriety of drinking water instead of lager. Another plan is to have illustrated lectures upon the baths of the ancient cities with a view of introducing the system in the houses of the town.

San Francisco is having a carnival of crime; seventy-five burglaries and robberies have been committed within a week, and garroting is of nightly occurrence.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—

Warmer, fair weather, winds shifting to southwesterly.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 14 degrees above zero.

Cloudy.

A Scamp Trapped.

B. W. Richards, the alleged bigamist and thief, was arrested at Springfield, Mass., Feb. 15th. A bicycle was the instrument of his capture. Sheriff Coffin learned soon after his flight from this city that he had expressed the machine to Springfield, to "T. P. Brown;" and he at once forwarded to City Marshal John H. Clune of that city a photograph of Richards, with a request that he be looked out for. At noon on the 15th he entered the express office and called for his bicycle, and was very much surprised at being promptly arrested. He consented to return to New Hampshire without a requisition, and Asst. Marshal Hurley left on the eleven o'clock train for Boston, Thursday forenoon, on the way to Springfield to bring him here.

Sheriff Coffin, in hunting up Richards' record in Maine, found that he had served a term in the state prison at Thomaston, where he learned the trade of saddle maker.

A Grand Rush.

The sale of reserved seat tickets for the P. A. C. entertainment in Music hall on the evening of Washington's birthday, commenced at Goodrich's at nine o'clock on Thursday morning, and in one hour and forty minutes every seat had been taken and the plan of the hall was withdrawn. No such sale was ever before known here. Intending purchasers were at the store by half-past seven o'clock, and by the time the sale opened the crowd was so great that new comers were obliged to fall in behind, "line oh," after the style at gold fields post-offices on the arrival of the mails in the palmy days of '49; attempts to break in anywhere ahead were strongly objected to, and the city marshal was at length sent for to see that fair play was observed. At one time a sound as of breaking timber under the floor indicated a likelihood of the crowd going down cellar, which created a momentary thinning out of its numbers, but the relief was only temporary, and Mr. Goodrich and his assistant were glad when the job was over.

Acknowledgement.

The trustees of the Chase Home for Children and Cottage Hospital of Portsmouth acknowledge, through their treasurer, the receipt of four hundred and fifty dollars from "a friend," to be added to the permanent fund of the Cottage Hospital. JOHN S. RAND, Treasurer.

The Ice and the Bridge.

Capt. Card, the night watchman on the Dover point bridge, was knocked down by the concussion when the big field of ice struck the bridge on the morning of Wednesday, the 15th inst., and before he could regain his feet was half covered with fragments of ice which came over the railing. He lost no time in getting off the bridge! The day toll-taker, Mr. James Drew, who lives on the Newington side, heard the crash and hastened to the bridge, arriving at the place about the time of Capt. Card's return, and found the roadway piled high with blocks of ice.

The fears that further damage would result from the ice on the ebb tide of Wednesday evening were not realized, for though some very large cakes were carried down, the bridge was protected by a jam of smaller pieces and no harm was done.

On Thursday Mr. Albion S. Carroll, with a gang of men, was engaged in blowing to pieces with dynamite the ice above the bridge, as far up as Fox point, the entrance to Great bay; and their operations were very effective. The tug Cocheco, which was engaged to go up on Thursday morning and endeavor to pull into place the canted-over part of the bridge, did not go, as she could not get through the draw of Portsmouth bridge on account of the ice.

The Boston & Maine managers on Thursday stationed a telegraph operator at the Newington end of the bridge, to remain until such time as all danger to the structure is over, and trains again crossing.

Railroad Items.

The contract for building the freight house of the York Harbor & Beach railroad of York harbor has been awarded to Allen C. Moulton of York, who is going ahead with the work as fast as the very unfavorable weather will permit. The passenger stations at the harbor, Long beach and Union bluff, are to be alike; bids for their construction were opened this week.

After the first of March all through freight and passenger trains between Boston & Portland on the Boston & Maine railroad will run on the western division, in order to allow time for the strengthening of the bridges on the eastern division.

Fred H. Emerson, baggage master, was ruptured in three places on the 13th inst. at Dover by the starting of a train while he was helping to put a coffin into the baggage car, he being caught and jammed.

Eddie McKean, the train newsboy who was so badly injured in the accident at Bradford, Mass., Jan. 10th, that it was thought he could not survive, has so far recovered that he is able to sit up.

A man calling himself Burt Ober engaged rooms on Saturday, the 11th inst., at Mrs. Washington I. Laighton's on Austin street, and remained until Monday, the 13th. Mrs. Laighton was absent from the house Monday afternoon, and on her return found that a watch and chain, about $20 worth of small articles, and $15 in money, amounting to about $75 in all, had been stolen. Mr. Ober had also disappeared, and is supposed to be the thief; his real name is believed to be Edward Crane.

Rt. Rev. William W. Niles, D. D., bishop of New Hampshire, will on Sunday preach and administer the rite of confirmation—in St. John's church in the morning, the service beginning at 10:30, and in Christ church in the evening, the service beginning at 7:30.

Hon. Frank Jones of this city and Hon. Ellery A. Hibbard of Laconia were in Washington on Thursday.

A leap year party was given in the town hall at Rye on Wednesday evening of this week, under the management of Miss Leona S. Drake and Miss Emma R. French, and was a very successful affair. Music was furnished by the Music hall orchestra, and there were twenty-five couples in the grand march; supper was served in the lower hall. Quite a number of persons from this city attended the party.

The funeral of Mrs. Eliza L. Hungerford, who died on the 14th inst. at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. J. S. Wendell, in this city, took place in the Baptist church at Nashua on Thursday, the 16th. Mrs. Hungerford was an aunt to Mrs. John W. Mackay, the bonanza queen, who was born in Francestown, this state.

"Variety is the spice of life." The thermometer at the Chronicle office, on Wednesday morning of this week at four o'clock, indicated thirty-six degrees above zero. The same thermometer, at the same hour on Thursday morning, indicated six degrees below. That ought to be variety enough to suit anybody. Fourteen below was the report at one place in this city, Thursday morning at sunrise.

A man who was in Manning's shoe store on Market street on the 15th inst., trying on a pair of boots, was considerably surprised by having a few cartloads of snow and ice, and the glass and sash of a skylight, come down on top of his head. The slide was off the roof of Pythian hall.

The "Keep it Dark" company, which gave a first-class entertainment in Music hall a short time ago, will be here again on Friday evening, the 24th inst.

"Ball days" have been common enough at the navy yard for the past month. There was another one on Thursday.

Kittery high school reunion this evening at Trefethen's hall, Kittery Foreside; music by the Music Hall orchestra.

Some time ago Simeon B. Huntress, stable keeper at South Berwick, let a horse and sleigh for a drive to Great Falls. At the latter place the horse got away from the persons in charge, and was not found until the 14th inst., when Abbott Littlefield discovered the team on a road leading from a point in Dover above Garrison hill, to Rollinsford. The team was completely fenced in by snow drifts, the road not having been broken out since the great storm, and no person having been along that way. Littlefield shovelled the horse out, and managed to get him around to his stable, although the animal was so weak that he could hardly move, which is not to be much wondered at, as he had for ten days been without food, and exposed to the intense cold and biting winds without other shelter than what was afforded by the surrounding snow drifts.

A reissue and increase of pension has been granted to Robert Hatch of Kennebunk.

William W. Tobey of Kittery has been granted a pension.

The secretary of the navy undertakes to assert that it will take seven clerks two months to prepare the answer to the enquiry of Senator Chandler concerning the Roach built cruisers. This means of course that the secretary is in no haste to send to the senate the facts and papers called for. This is a fair sample of the efficiency of the navy department under the effeminate rule of the New York politician. If there was really a desire to properly meet the question there is no doubt the data would be forthcoming in the shortest order.

John M. Underwood of Danvers, Mass., an aged and respected citizen, was frozen to death on the night of the 15th inst. while wandering from his home in a somnambulistic state.

IT is very annoying when in the bath to drop the soap and have to feel for it. The IVORY SOAP floats, and is without exception the most luxurious soap for bathing; it lathers freely and is easily rinsed off, leaving a sense of cleanliness and comfort attainable by no other means.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

DANIEL LITTLEFIELD, Green Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

The Chinese Six Companies.

"The Chinese empire," said my informant, "is divided into numerous provinces, over which the central government at Pekin exercises but little direct authority outside of the collection of the revenues. These subdivisions of the empire are under the despotic control of magistrates, or mandarins. The people of the different provinces speak peculiar dialects and are exceedingly clannish. Upon the opening of emigration to this country the representatives of different sections of the Chinese empire formed six companies, known as the Keong Chow, Sam Yup, Keong Wo, Ning Yeong, Hop Wo and Yen Wo.

"These six companies were first organized for benevolent purposes, and did worthy work in the early days of Chinese immigration by providing their people with the necessities of life until employment could be obtained for them. During latter days, however, they have almost ceased their benevolent work, and their function now is the adjudication of the personal differences of the members of the companies. They act in place of the courts of the state. When a Chinaman has a grievance he reports it to his company, who in turn reports the case to the officials of the six companies. A committee of residents of Chinatown is selected, to whom the matter is left for arbitration."—Chicago Herald.

Meat for Poor People.

"I am told," said a Boston butcher, "that the people in the poorer parts of New York city buy the highest priced groceries, and that the meat men say they can sell the coarser cuts of meat to the rich, but that people of moderate means refuse them. I hear the same thing from Washington and other cities. A friend of mine, a man of wealth, who, like his father before him, had long been noted as one of the most generous benefactors of the poor in the city where he lives, and with whom I happened to be talking about these matters, remarked: 'For my family I get the cheaper cuts of meat because they are cheaper. My children are satisfied with round steak and shoulder, even if they are not quite as tender and toothsome as sirloin. They are strong and healthy and understand that such food is good enough for their parents and is good enough for them.'

"I question whether his gardener or his coachman would be so entirely ready to accept such doctrine; and if the poor people to whom in times of stress his money is given without stint are like many others of their class, not a few of them would be ill content with some of the food materials that appear regularly on his table."—Professor W. O. Atwater in The Century.

The region around Plainfield, Ind., is very rich in relics of the Mound Builders and of later Indians, and almost every week some farmer brings into town a collection of stone implements, rude ornaments and pieces of ancient pottery which have been dug up on his farm. The most recent discovery was that of an immense spear head of slate, which must have been wielded by some giant of prehistoric times.—New York Evening World.

The mayor of Cork, Ireland, has been sent to prison for fourteen days for assaulting a police sergeant.

The Lord Mayor of London was only a porter in a warehouse, but he persevered in the face of all opposition and rose rapidly. It is only persistency and merit that has made Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup the greatest family remedy for coughs and colds now offerred to the suffering public.

The lockout of the shoemakers at Cincinnati has resolved itself into a fight between the two labor assemblies, which disobey the orders of the district assembly.

Dean Gray, Jr., of Westfield, Mass., had a severe and distressing cough, followed by emaciation and night sweats. Many remedies were tried without avail, and his friends seriously doubted his recovery. He was completely cured by the use of two bottles of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Frank Green, son of Rear Admiral Green of the United States navy, was recently run over and killed by a train near New Orleans.

C. C. Beal, a prominent merchant of Clinton, Me., and his son, drank some whiskey on the 14th inst. from a bottle sent from Boston. The father died in a short time with indications of strychnine poisoning, and the son was made very ill, though it was thought he might recover.

The well known strengthening properties of iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

Senator Blair's educational bill passed the senate on the 15th inst. by ten majority.

There is no one article in the line of medicine that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

Two Ways. Choose Which!

There are two usual ways of doing what nature sometimes does incompletely, namely, to relieve the bowels. One is to swallow a drastic purgative which evacuates profusely, abruptly and with pain, the other is to take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the effect of which is not violent, but sufficiently thorough, and which does not gripe the intestines. If the first is selected, the person employing it need not expect permanent benefit, and he cannot hope to escape the debilitating reaction which leaves the organs as bad or worse off than before. If, on the other hand, he resorts to the bitters, he can rely upon the restoration of a regular habit of body, consequent upon a renewal of a healthful tone in the intestinal canal. Besides healthfully relaxing the bowels, the bitters arouses a dormant liver, imparts a beneficial impetus to the action of the kidneys and counteracts the early twinges of rheumatism, a tendency to gout and malaria in all its forms.

—A Chinese newspaper announces "Charles Parnell and three prominent anarchists have been executed."

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, emilingly saying that he guessed Mrs Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

—The man who has his hair cut on Saturday night and the man who turns to the left on a crowded sidewalk, are the only criminals whom repentance cannot save.

Hop Plasters are famous soothers, pain allayers and strengtheners when applied to the human body.

—The starch men are now said to have formed a "trust." There is no use in trying to take the starch out of that combination.

As a toilet article, Ayer's Hair Vigor stands unrivalled. It cleanses the scalp and removes dandruff, cures itching humors, restores the original color to faded and gray hair, and promotes its growth.

—A Missouri man who had conscientious scruples about taking the oath as a juror, stole two overcoats and $24 in money from his fellow jurors before the panel was discharged.

The new combination of smart weed and belladonna, as used in Carter's Backache Plasters, has proved to be one of the best that could be made. Try one of these popular plasters in any case of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, soreness of the chest or lungs, and you will be surprised and pleased by the prompt relief. In bad cases of chronic dyspepsia a plaster over the pit of the stomach stops the pain at once. Ask for Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price twenty-five cents.

—A serious accident was occasioned the other night by a misplaced switch. The owner's husband stepped upon it and ran a hairpin into his foot to the depth of an inch.

Many go for Wool and get Shorn,

But they who go for Hop Ointment to cure their chapped hands or lips are never disappointed. It gets there just the same. All druggists sell it, twenty-five cents, or mail stamps to Hop Co., New London, Conn.

—The gall of a man was never more exposed than in the case of the Chicago editor who boasts that that city has been free from sunstrokes for two months.

Must not be confounded with common cathartic or purgative pills. Carter's Little Liver Pills are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

are Kidney and Liver diseases, and when once they have secured a firm hold on the human system there is no time to be lost if life is to be saved. Many remedies have been tried, but none have been so successful as Ath-lo-pho-ros. Many unsolicited testimonials have proved that Ath-lo-pho-ros has cured these diseases when physicians and all other remedies had failed. Backache, pain in the side, dullness, weariness, and headache, are often symptoms of these fearful diseases. Athlophoros, in connection with Athlophoros Pills, will give speedy relief. South America's Yuca Root.

The mealy substance of the poisonous yuca root, or cassava, furnishes the flour of the country—yuca starch. This is the same root from which the tapioca of commerce is prepared. The Indians, who are the bakers of the country, grate the yuca root and squeeze out the poisonous juice with their hands. They wash the substance and bake it before the fire. This final process drives away any remnant of poison that may remain, as the poisonous element of the plant is prussic acid, a volatile liquid easily expelled by heat. In some Indian tribes the juice of the yuca root is used as a mode of public execution, and twenty-six drops are said to be enough to kill a stalwart man in six minutes. Yet even this deadly juice, when boiled, becomes harmless, and it is commonly fermented to make chicha, the favorite beer of the country.

The Indians make a delicious snow white bread from the yuca, which resembles the passover bread of the Jews. This bread they retail in guambas or netted bags thrown across the backs of donkeys. Yuca flour is imported to our own markets under the name of tapioca arrowroot. I think the Brazilian arrowroot is all made from the yuca root. South American cooks make delicious little breakfast puffs of this yuca starch and cheese, which are served with coffee in the sleeping room before the regular breakfast hour. The root of the yuca is boiled and takes the place of our potato, and all the clear starchitg of the household is done with yuca starch.—Amy C. Shanks in Good Housekeeping.

Her Refined Revenge.

A young man and his wife, who have not long been married, were intending to spend the night at her father's house in a neighboring town; and as the husband could not get away until late in the afternoon, he escorted his wife to the station and put her on board of a somewhat earlier train, an accommodation train, as he supposed, just before it started. And it so happened that in the same car, in the next seat to his wife, was a young man who is generally believed to have been an unsuccessful suitor for her hand. The train had scarcely left the station before the husband, who, by the way, is of a very jealous disposition, discovered it was an express, making its first stop forty or fifty miles from Boston. After a good deal of telegraphing to one person and another, including an explanatory dispatch to his mother-in-law, the mortified young man had the pleasure of meeting his wife at the proper station about two hours late for dinner. She could scarcely have been otherwise than fatigued, hungry and irritated; but mark the cleverness of the woman! "Tired, worn out? Not in the least. I suppose I must be hungry, but I really had not thought of it. I have had the most charming afternoon. Mr. —— very kindly waited with me at —— junction, and I never appreciated before how entertaining he is." This is what I call civilized revenge.—Boston Transcript.

Turks Gathering Manna.

Mr. Cole, of Bitlis, a missionary of the American board in Eastern Turkey, in describing a journey from Harpoot to Bitlis, says: "We traveled for four days through a region where had newly fallen a remarkable deposit of heavenly bread, as the natives sometimes call it—manna. There were extensive forests of scrubby oak, and most of the deposit was on the leaves. Thousands of poor peasants, men, women and children, were out upon the plains gathering the sweet substance. Some of them plunge into kettles of boiling water the newly cut branches of the oaks, which washes off the deposit, until the water becomes so sweet as to remind the Yankee of a veritable sugaring off in the old Granite state as he takes sips of it. Other companies of natives may be seen vigorously beating with sticks the branches, which, from having been spread upon the ground, have so dried that the glistening crystals fall readily upon the carpet spread to receive them. The crystals are separated from the pieces of leaves by a sieve, and then the manna is pressed into cakes for use. The manna is in great demand among these Oriental Christians. As we were traveling through a rather dry region, the article came in play for our plain repast."—Chicago Journal.

Society in Tahiti.

A Tahitian gentleman or lady is a charming person to meet. They are cultivated and refined, the men have been educated in the best universities in Europe. They and their wives are traveled, they are thoroughly cosmopolitan and they meet the stranger with a knowledge of his customs as well as of his language, and with a hospitality, simple, generous and delightful. What with spearing fish on the reef by torchlight, picnics in cocoanut groves by the sea, drives on the beautiful Broom road under the cliffs and across the lagoon by Pharaoh's caves, dinner parties under a banana leaf roof, and reclining under the trees on moonlight nights, the happy days slip by unnoticed. But Tahiti exacts an expensive tribute from the stranger for the happiness he has felt—he can take but the memory away and a longing to be back in "dear, lazy, sunny Tahiti."—Cor. New York Tribune.

Blue Eyes the Best.

There is some reason for the admiration generally felt for blue eyes. A connoisseur in eyes states that nine-tenths of the railroad men, pilots and others who are selected for their keenness and correctness of vision have blue eyes. Brown eyes are beautiful. Gray eyes usually denote intelligence, and hazel eyes bespeak a talent for music. The commonest color of eyes is gray and the rarest, violet.—Dress.

THE INCURABLE CURED!

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Feb. 24, 1887.

Gentlemen—Seven years ago a sore developed on my nose from a finger nail scratch. I tried a few simple remedies, but the sore would not yield. I grew worse every year for seven years. Many thought I had a cancer. Over a year ago I commenced taking S. S. S., and two dozen bottles entirely cured me. When I began with S. S. S. I was in very poor health, and could hardly drag about. After I had finished the course of S. S. S. I was strong and buoyant, and had a good appetite. I recard it as a most valuable medicine for ladies in weak, delicate health. It is a household medicine with me. Yours respectfully,

MRS. R. W. WILSON.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 2, 1887.

Gentlemen—For twenty years I have had a sore on my left cheek. It had gradually been growing worse. Too many physicians whom I had consulted were unable to do me any good. Last fall a year ago I began using S. S. S. At first it inflamed the sore, and it became more virulent, but as every one said, so proved, that my family insisted that I should leave off the medicine. I resisted in vain. The S. S. S. At the end of two months the sore was entirely healed. Thinking that the evil was out of my constitution, I left off the medicine, but in November, ten mon. s after, a very slight breaking out appeared. I at once began again on S. S. S., and now that is also disappearing. I have every faith in S. S. S. It has done me more good than all the doctors and all the medicines I ever took. Yours truly,

A. H. STANDS.

WINSTON, N. C., April 12, 1887.

Gentlemen—Twenty-three years ago a cancer came on my face. It soon grew to be quite large. It wore on me, and my general health was very poor. Last September I began a course of S. S. S., which I have continued to the present time with the happiest result. The cancer has entirely disappeared, there being no evidence or symptom of a cancerous character left. My general health is good now, and my appetite better than it has been in years. I am 72 years old, and to-day I am working in the tobacco stemming corn. Yours truly,

JOHN ANDERSON.

Gentlemen—I had a sore on my upper lip for eight years. Seven different doctors attempted in vain to heal it. One gave me a small vial for twenty-five, which was a "certain cure." It is needless to say that it did me no good. About two years ago I became quite uneasy, as people thought I had a cancer, and I took a course of eighteen bottles of S. S. S. The result has been a complete cure. The ulcer or cancer healed beautifully, leaving scarcely a perceptible scar. From that day I have been in excellent health. Its Specific having purified my blood thoroughly, increased my appetite and perfected my digestion. In a word, I feel like a new woman, and, best of all, the eight year ulcer is gone entirely. Yours sincerely,

CALVIN W. CANNON.

Railroad Consolidation.

We hear ofttimes, during sessions of the legislature, notes of alarm sounded almost invariably from Concord, against the system of railway management which would place long lines of connecting or competing railways under one direction. The evils of such results, which to the practical and progressive thinker are purely imaginary, are deplored by the pessimistic writers, it would seem from some incentive which, to say the least, does not commend itself to the good sense of the people in this age of rapid advance from old ideas. The plan as to railway leasing, with proper safeguards for the objecting minority, was not even attempted to be discussed or objected to in the veto message of his excellency, the governor of this state, when he found himself, after a long and careful examination of the enactment, unable to sign it. It was because of the alleged modes used in accomplishing and defeating the passage of the bill that the veto message was reluctantly written.

That the public gains by the economy of management of one instead of several lines, is a proposition which long since ceased to be debateable. In the case of the Boston & Maine and Eastern railways, for example, see what are the results. Once the Massachusetts legislature would have been asked to delay ordering an enactment for the consolidation of these, for many years previously, rival lines. Now, after an experience in their harmonious working, no one objects to their consolidation. If the bridges or tracks on one line need repairs, the through business or the local traffic from at least a dozen stations, can be sent by the other division. If a bridge is injured, or the carriage over it is for any reason interrupted, it is an easy matter to temporarily turn the traffic to other tracks without additional cost to the road or the public. But suppose the ancient rivalry which once prevailed was the rule now, who would suffer? Most assuredly the public. Who profits by the increased facilities by close connection of trains at Dover, Great Falls, Rochester, Newburyport and many other places, by means of which much time is saved to travellers? Ask the first commercial traveller whose mileage book shows how he goes over the Boston & Maine system at less cost, and in quicker time, by far, than under the old plan, and he will say that as far as the convenience and economy of the business man is concerned there never before was such a step taken in New Hampshire toward developing the capacity of her railway lines. There may be some relic of conservative days, some somnolent sophist of times long since passed, who may cling to this ancient and obsolete objection to a consolidation and co-operation of railway interests. Perhaps the argument may be that the conservatives of Concord can better manage a New Hampshire road than can a busy man of Boston, who at the hub is in contact with all the competitive elements of traffic which tend toward the seaboard. The results show that railroads to succeed must be managed as broadly in extension as carefully in details, to successfully maintain their financial condition in these days, when everything tends toward a far reaching and enlarging scale in every department of business.

Daniel E. Somes.

Hon. Daniel E. Somes, from whom that part of Saco known as Somesville derives its name, died in Washington, D. C., Feb. 13th, in the 72d year of his age. He was born in Laconia, N. H., but in 1846 moved to Biddeford, Me., where he became largely interested in various business enterprises, and was very prominent in the temperance and anti-slavery movements of the time. He established in Biddeford the Eastern Journal. He was the first mayor of Biddeford, and was several times re-elected. In that position he was active in executing the Maine law, which was the first prohibition law passed in the United States. He organized the City bank of Biddeford in 1856, and was for several years its president. He was connected with manufacturing establishments in Saco, Biddeford and Lewiston, Me., and with a business establishment in Boston. He was always active in public affairs during each life; was one of the organizers of the republican party, and a strong supporter of Fremont and Dayton in 1856. In 1858 he was elected to the Twenty-sixth Congress from the first Maine district, now represented by Hon. Thomas B. Reed, and was the first republican congressman from that district. He was known as a radical republican, and strongly expressed his views to the country, notably in a patriotic speech delivered by him in the house of representatives on Feb. 16th, 1861. During the war he was a friend and a confident of President Lincoln, who often sent for him, sometimes late at night, to come to the executive mansion to confer on matters of public importance. He was closely associated with Hannibal Hamlin, Horace Greeley, John P. Hale, Henry Wilson and other leading men of the earlier republican party. He was chosen a member of the "Peace Congress" of 1861. In 1862 Mr. Somes settled in Washington, and for several years was a prominent practitioner before the patent office. He also turned his attention to inventing, and took out over sixty patents. His wife and one son survive him; two sons died in early youth, and another, Byron Somes, died about a year ago, being then night editor of the Boston Globe.

YORK VILLAGE, ME., Feb. 16th.

The entertainment given by the York Glee club in S. S. S. hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 14th, was a decided success. The drama entitled "Partners for Life" was rendered in a highly satisfactory manner by some of our towns people, showing that York has a good share of home talent. The hall was filled with an appreciative audience. Music was furnished by an orchestra from Portsmouth, and a social dance followed the drama, but was cut short by the necessity of many persons returning home on the special train run for the occasion between Union Bluff and York Harbor stations. What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated by me. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

A Field of Enquiry.

Mr. John W. Mitchell, in a communication to the Republican Journal of Belfast, Maine, concerning Portsmouth, writes: "One of the pupils of the high school says he has seen pupils, many times, come into school so much intoxicated that they could hardly walk." This is a grave charge. It becomes the imperative duty of the teachers and the committee to investigate the subject. If this report is true there is certainly need of a new rule prohibiting scholars from coming to school during periods of intoxication. We have no confidence in the truth of this statement, however. But it is due, alike to teachers and scholars, when a statement of this kind is made in a public print over the signature of a person doubtless known to the editor of the Journal, that a searching investigation should be promptly instituted.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

FRIDAY, Feb. 17th.

Benjamin W. Richards, charged with breaking and entering Mr. Tilton's barness shop and stealing therefrom, was held in $500 for his appearance on Monday, Feb. 27th, and not being able to furnish bonds was committed to jail.

Stop It, Boys.

Mr. Editor: There is an evil practice in our city which should be discontinued. I refer to the indiscriminate snow balling indulged in daily by the boys of the high school, who snow ball on the line of the streets from Daniel street to the far west end.

This throwing snow balls is dangerous in the extreme, as the boys, regardless of whom they may hit with their missiles, throw the balls along the sidewalk, and this has been so much the practice this winter that many persons do not dare to be in the streets while these young gentlemen, who are being educated at the expense of the city, so persistently violate its ordinances.

It would seem that the chief magistrate of the city, the head of the police department, or the teacher of the school, might possibly have some power to stop this annoyance. If the boys wish for the fun of snow balling, let them go to the outskirts of the town and there pelt each other, but to endanger pedestrians at noontimes and cover our otherwise clean sidewalks with the results of their jovial and unintended annoyance seems to be a condition of affairs which might cease if the cadets were suitably reminded of this breach of order and of good manners they are daily perpetrating.

A SUFFERER.

Distinguished Arrival.

Richards, the alleged burglar, thief and bigamist, arrived in this city on Friday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in custody of Asst. Marshal Hurley, and was received at the station by a large but not admiring crowd of citizens. He was taken direct to Judge Batchelder's office, arraigned, held for further examination, and committed to jail, all inside of fifteen minutes from the time he arrived on the train. Officer Hurley while in Springfield recovered the gold watch stolen by Richards from his wife, and which he pawned in that city for $5; the tools stolen from Tilton's shop were disposed of in Holyoke, Mass. The bicycle, by which Richards was traced, was a leased machine, and the lessor has a charge against him for carrying away leased property.

Rather a Hard Time.

The men employed on night freight trains do not lack exciting experiences, particularly during cold weather, however prosy and matter-of-fact their occupation may seem. The following from the Dover Democrat of recent date, shows the kind of fun they sometimes have:

The early morning freight left Portsmouth this morning on time. It was composed of twenty-eight loaded cars, and was drawn by the engines Cocheco and Portsmouth. When on Noble's island a frog broke, and piled a car of lumber off upon a side track. Luckily the train was going slow, or a more serious accident might have resulted. The derailed and dumped car was left, a new frog put down by the night railroad men who are always about the Portsmouth depot, and the train left there half an hour late. When in Newington the train broke apart, and as the forward end slacked up the rear part ran into the rear of the engine Portsmouth with a crash so as to break the coupling apparatus on the rear of the tender. Again this side of the Point station the train broke apart, but this time no damage was done. At Sawyer's Mills two loaded cars jumped the track, and one of them was overturned. While the workmen were clearing away the track there, two young ladies who work at Sawyer's mills and live up town, and who had walked down on the track, reported that in the curve just below the Silver street bridge there was a broken rail. One of the workmen was sent ahead to see about it, and found that three feet of one of the rails was broken in three places, which would have piled up the train in fine style if it had not been detected. As soon as the section hands could substitute a new rail the train came to this city, just two hours and forty minutes late.

Maritime Notes.

The fishing schooner Albert Woodbury, of this port, carried away her main chainplates on one side off the harbor on the 15th inst., but did not lose the mast.

The fishing schooner Annie L. Sanborn, before reported as having been at anchor off the Salvages on the 15th inst., with sails blown away, mainmast gone, and flying a signal of distress, rode out the gale that night, and was towed into Gloucester on the 16th by a tug.

The schooner Warren Adams, Colcord master, from Weehawken with 944 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker, arrived at this port on Friday.

Twelve men were discharged from the department of construction and repair at the navy yard last Thursday night.

Chief Engineer James L. D. Borthwick and Passed Asst. Engr. Arthur Price are detached from temporary duty connected with the U. S. S. Swatara at this naval station, and ordered to permanent duty on that vessel; Paymaster Edward Bellows and Asst. Engr. John H. Baker are ordered to the Swatara; Surgeon Henry M. Martin is ordered from the receiving ship St. Louis to the Swatara, and Asst. Surgeon James G. Field from the receiving ship Vermont to the Swatara.

Commander John McGowan, Jr., now on duty at the New York navy yard, is detached Feb. 28th, and ordered to command the Swatara on March 1st. Lieut. Comdr. E. W. Watson is ordered to the Swatara as executive officer.

Robert Downing, in the Gladiator, will appear in Music hall Feb. 28th.

The tug Cocheco made several attempts at noon on Friday to pull the displaced portion of the Dover point bridge back into place, but was unsuccessful. Capt. Drew, master of the tug, is of the opinion that if there should come a thaw and the ice break up in Great bay all at once, nothing could save the bridge.

The Dockstader Minstrels of New York will be at Music hall about the middle of March.

A sleigh in which Mrs. M. J. Ryan and a gentleman were driving through Russell street, last Thursday afternoon, in turning into Vaughan street was capsized, Mrs. Ryan being severely shaken up, and the gentleman having his right shoulder dislocated.

About fifty men from the Salem, Mass., car shops, were at work with a pile-driver on the Dover point bridge, Thursday afternoon and Friday, under direction of D. W. Sanborn, endeavoring to repair the damage done by the ice. Mr. Sanborn said the work would be driven day and night until completed.

Don't miss the great sale of men's all-wool pantaloons at $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 at H. C. Hewitt & Co's., No. 32 Congress street. This lot comprises 200 pairs of those dark gray pin-head check pantaloons at $1.50, (usually sold at $2.50,) celebrated for their wear.

Several city laborers recently enjoyed quite a protracted season of work in an ineffectual attempt to make a pool of water on the sidewalk in front of the Norton house, opposite the stone church, in State street, run over the curbstone. The principle in hydraulics seems not to be largely understood by the street department. The relaying of the sidewalk where the large cavity has existed for several years, is the only true remedy for the evil of stagnant water which after the showers of summer and the thaws of winter always stands in this spot. The place in this condition upon a leading thoroughfare has long been a sample of the way our streets are kept under democratic rule.

Lovers of ham or bacon of the very finest quality and most delicate flavor are referred to the advertisement of Chas. E. Laighton & Son, sole agents in this city for Cassard's "Star brand" mild-cured goods.

Union Rebekah Lodge, No. 3, I. O. O. F., will celebrate the 17th anniversary of its organization by an entertainment and supper at Odd Fellows' hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21st, to which all members are invited. Members are requested to furnish cake for the tables.

J. C. Carr's annual sale offers real bargains to boot and shoe buyers; no old shopworn stock, but good goods sold, to make room for spring stock.

While two teams were racing up Market street, Friday afternoon, as they were crossing the Noble's island bridge one of the sleighs was overturned, throwing out the two occupants, and breaking the runners. The horse was stopped after going a short distance, by the occupants of the other team.

E. C. Stedman has been compelled by reason of his many other engagements to decline the invitation to deliver the poem on the occasion of the dedication of the Putnam equestrian statue at Brooklyn, Conn., on the 19th of June.

Horsford's

BREAD PREPARATION.

The acid phosphate in this preparation supplies the vital phosphates essential to the system, and assists digestion. No other baking powder does this.

Dr. M. B. Sullivan, of Dover, says:

"I endorse the correctness of the scientific principles involved in the use of Horsford's Bread Preparation."

Dr. C. W. Hutchings. of Dover, says:

"The vitalized principles contained in Horsford's Bread Preparation I cheerfully endorse. Ill-nourished children fed upon brown bread made with it would be greatly benefited."

Dr. Paul A. Stackpole, of Dover, says:

"I have examined Horsford's Bread Preparation. It restores the phosphates removed from flour in milling. The phosphates are important nutritive principles, and this preparation amply supplies them."

Dr. E. W. Hodsden, of Dover, says:

"I endorse the correctness of the scientific principles involved in the use of Horsford's Bread Preparation, which restores to superfine wheat flour the phosphates removed in milling."

Dr. S. J. Bassford, of Biddeford, says:

"I have examined Horsford's Bread Preparation, and believe the theory presented by the manufacturers to be true. That we lose very much that is nutritious in the wheat, by the mode of manufacturing fine flour, there can be no doubt. The object gained by using the Bread Preparation is to restore those nutritive principles to the flour, and thus render it more wholesome, and cause it to contain the same elements for nutrition that are found in the wheat berry."

Dr. E. J. Emery, of Biddeford, says:

"We have used Horsford's Bread Preparation, and consider it superior to others."

Rev. Thomas Hill, of Portland, says:

"For many years I have used Horsford's Bread Preparation for raising bread. It is particularly agreeable to my palate, agrees well with me, and I have thought that when I have ommitted it for some time and then returned to it, I found it improved my health."

Dr. Wm. Rynne, of Portland, says:

"In my opinion, Horsford's Bread Prearation must be a valuable baking powder, and superior to all others forthe purpose of bread-making.

Dr. A. V. Thompson, of Portland, says:

"I have used Horsford's Bread Preparation for fifteen years. It is a very valuable agent in bread-making. From its peculiar property, which I believe no other baking powder possesses—namely, of restoring the phosphates to white flour, I esteem it the best that can be used."

Dr. S. P. Getchell, of Portland, says:

"My practical test of Horsford's Bread Preparation in the kitchen, was very satisfactory. The bread made by its use was light, sweet and palatablep One member of my family, who has had indigestion for years, partook freely of it while it was hot, without inconvenience, while as a rule he cannot eat either new or hot bread without paying the penalty."

Dr. Geo. W. May, of Portland, says:

"The theory of the preparation of Prof. Horsford's powder is good, and should be productive of the best results, especially to dyspeptics, and those with similar trouble."

Homes for Working People.

An interesting experiment has recently been made at Haarlem, in Holland, in the way of lodging working people, which may suggest similar action in some American cities.

Five years ago three co-operative societies undertook the construction of a new quarter that now comprises 289 houses and is traversed by several streets. Every house has been promptly rented, and in twenty years will become the property of the tenants. Each of the latter pays from forty to fifty cents a week rent, and in return enjoys the use of two rooms with alcoves, a kitchen, a cellar and a garret, besides a small garden. Every house has separate water pipes, etc. The only obligation resting on the tenant is to pay his rent regularly for twenty-five years. This condition speaks volumes for the stability of Dutch institutions.—Paris Cor. New York Star.

A Cause of Colds.

We find in neck wraps a common cause of "colds." If during winter one was certain to wear much the same way at all times when in the open air, there would be less danger from it. But the chances are that on some occasions when it should be worn it will be left off, either purposely or forgotten, and a cold is the result. The silk handkerchiefs with which many men adorn themselves cause more sore throats than any other influence. When once put on the wearers are wedded to them for the remainder of the winter.—Hall's Journal of Health.

The Musquito's Poison.

Formic acid is the substance which ants, wasps, etc., deposit under the skin, and which produces the intense burning and itching which accompany wounds inflicted by them. This acid is a powerful poison, and if a musquito was large enough to contain much more of it the bite of that creature would be very dangerous.—Chicago News.

Ancient Civilization.

We have read a good deal about the civilization of the mound builders, and we have seen the mounds. Piling up 1,000,000 tons of dirt over a dead Indian and a few stone hatchets don't indicate an advanced state of enlightenment. The mound builder was only an industrious savage.—Martha's Vineyard Herald.

A Queer Old Pilgrim.

The old Connecticut pilgrim known as "the darned man" is dead. In young manhood his mind was unhinged by the sudden death of his affianced bride, and for the rest of his long life he tramped through the state, always wearing his wedding suit. The great desire of his life was to preserve that suit. And the only articles he ever solicited were needles and thread or yarn to mend it. As years passed on, the repairs to which the suit was subjected were so numerous that but little of the original cloth remained. But in the eyes of the poor old pilgrim it was always the same.—New York Tribune.

A despatch from Burlington, Vt., says "The banks here and elsewhere along the Canadian border are up in arms over a notice from Collector Page of Portsmouth, N. H., whose internal revenue district includes Vermont, informing them that they must pay a tax of ten per cent on all Canada bills paid out by them, whether to individuals or sent to correspondents in the Dominion for redemption. They are also liable for that tax on all Canadian money shown by their books for the past thirteen years. The penalty for not having made a semi-annual report of Canadian money handled during this time is $200 for each failure. This is Collector Page's interpretation of sections 3412 and 3413 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, and sections nineteen and twenty of the act of Feb. 8th, 1875. If this interpretation is affirmed at Washington it will drive Canadian bills out of the country. A discount of twenty-five per cent has already been established here."

Helping the Right Side.

To help the right side is not only commendable in a general point of view, but is judicious and prudent when that help is enlisted in behalf of the right side of the body, just over the lower ribs in the region of the liver. The most efficient help is afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an anti-bilious medicine of incomparable efficacy. Inaction of the liver is accompanied by constipation, sick headache, furred tongue, nausea, occasional vertigo, an unpleasant breath, yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye. The author of these symptoms, liver complaint, routed by the Bitters is accompanied by them in its flight. Fever and ague, which always involves the liver, dyspepsia, rheumatism, debility and kidney troubles are all maladies to the early relief and final cure of which this standard medicine is adapted. Don't use it by fits and starts, but systematically, that its full effects may result in a perfect restoration to health.

THE ARBEITER KOLONIE.

Germany's Attempted Solution of the Problem of Dealing with the Unemployed.

For several years a movement has been progressing in Germany to solve logically the problem of dealing with the unemployed, independently of alms giving and charities. Though little has been reported of the societies having the work in charge, there have been very satisfactory results attained in the past three years, and the success of the Arbeiter kolonie, of Berlin, the most important colony, has been of a character to recommend the plan to all large cities of Europe and of the United States as well. How to deal with men out of work without making them a charge upon the county is a question for most serious consideration; yet it has never been squarely met nor studiously investigated. Any one who will take the trouble and look into the labor and aid statistics of a large city, even in bounteous America, will be astonished at the large percentage of persons capable of doing work who are, nevertheless, objects of common charity, or are on the dependent rolls of the country. The condition is proportionately worse in many European countries, but Germany is the only country in which has been undertaken a practical plan of dealing with the idle classes that are willing to work but are unable to find employment.

The colonies referred to, of which that of Berlin is the fittest example, were organized "to employ industrious and unemployed men of all professions and classes, so far as they are really capable of work, in agrarian and other labor until it is possible to procure them remunerative work elsewhere and to help them to quit the life of itinerants, and also to remove the excuse of lazy vagabonds that they have no work." The Berlin colony was founded in 1883. It has a plot of land several acres in extent, on which fruits, flowers and vegetables are cultivated, and several shops, besides lodging and eating apartments, where various trades and general work may be engaged in. An investment of more than 85,000 marks is represented. Besides the garden and fruit culture the occupations are straw plaiting, carpentering, shoemaking and copying, and all kinds and conditions of workmen are represented, including tradesmen, clerks and writers, apothecaries, engineers, teachers, servants, etc. There are three systems of employing colonists—work on the premises on behalf of the institution, work on the premises for outside parties, who furnish their own tools and raw material, and work on the outside under special agreement.

The cost of keep is six shillings halfpenny a day, but all earned in excess of this goes to the credit of the workman who receives his surplus earnings on quitting the institution. Some, of course, do not earn their keep, and the colony is not reimbursed for excess of expenditure on their behalf. The proportion of these is not large. The two objects of the colony, to do away with begging and indiscriminate alms giving, and to give the honest unemployed a chance to work till better employment can be secured for them, are doubly encouraged by the public. That is to say, the householder gives to the beggar at his door a ticket entitling him to admission to the colony, where work may be had, and general employers give preference to the applications of the colony. So well has the plan worked that, despite its comparative newness in the reformatory field, the Berlin colony has received 595 colonists, all of whom were relieved from pressing want and most of whom were helped to settled employment at their own trades.

Small as these figures are in themselves, they are large when taken into account with the fact that there is less mendicancy in Berlin than in any other great city of the world. Indeed, Germany is exceptionally free from beggars. Moreover, the colonies are only for those who can and will work, but are unable to find employment. We hardly need moralize on the good results possible to be accomplished by an institution that steps in between unemployed workmen and beggary or starvation, or the crimes of desperation. Nor need it be urged that there are few better ways for the utility of practical philanthropy. The moral influences of such a movement are incalculable, and the material good to be accomplished not inconsiderable. An institution of the kind could quickly be made self supporting, or if it were not the indiscriminate charities now so liberally dispensed could be turned wisely to its maintenance.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Some Curious Sensations.

Under this head Dr. Urbanschitsch, of Vienna, reports some curious experiments, the value of which must be left to future research to decide. His general conclusion is, that the excitation of one sense organ increases the acuteness of the others. If a disk be regarded at such a distance that its color is indistinct, the hearing of a sound will bring out the color. The beating of a watch is heard more clearly with the eyes open than with the eyes closed. Red and green increase auditory perceptions; blue and yellow weaken them. The fact that we listen to music with our eyes closed is due to other reasons, and also to the fact that the ensemble appears best when the tones are not at their clearest. Smell, taste and touch are open to the same influence. Red and green increase the sensitiveness of each of these senses; yellow and blue weaken their sensitiveness. Touch and temperature have a reciprocal influence. If one tickles the skin and plunges it into warm water the tickling ceases; if into cold water, the tickling brings out the feeling of cold. These observations are regarded as showing the same re-enforcing action between sensations as has been shown to exist between motions, and as offering a modest explanation of those curious associations between colors and sounds so frequent in some minds.

Nothing Ambiguous About It.

The Concord People and Patriot says:

If Grover Cleveland should write a letter declining to allow the use of his name in the next nominating convention of his party there would be no question as to his meaning.

Foster's Democrat maintains that "Grover Cleveland has already written just such a letter as the P. & P. refers to 'declining to allow the use of his name in the next nominating convention of his party;' and the P. & P. and every other nominally and really democratic paper in the United States has published it, and everybody has read it. In that letter Mr. Cleveland put his positive declination of a second nomination and election in these words:

When we consider the patronage of this great office, the allurements of power, the temptation to retain place once gained, and, more than all, the availability a party finds in an incumbent whom a horde of officeholders, with a zeal born of benefits and fostered by the hope of favors yet to come, stand ready to aid with money and trained political service, we recognize in the eligibility of the president for re-election a most serious danger to that calm, deliberate, and intelligent political action which must characterize a government by the people."

Mr. Foster, who has a very good conception of what language means, is positive that it would be wrong for Mr. Cleveland to allow the use of his name after the above affirmation. In fact, he says:

Cleveland's position is that to accept a second nomination after having been once elected and served the lawful term, would be so infamous that it should not be allowed, but having been once elected he should be made constitutionally ineligible for another term.

Mr. Cleveland's second letter declining the nomination will probably be issued on the first of April!

The Great Strike Over.

The coal miners in the employ of the Reading company were on Friday last ordered by their district and local assemblies to return to work on Monday, Feb. 20th, in accordance with an agreement entered into by President Corbin of the Reading railroad, and Master Workman Lewis. The question of wages will be considered after the miners resume work, and strikers will not be discriminated against in any way. The striking railroaders were not mentioned in the agreement. The suffering among the miners during the strike has been terrible.

Some of the Boston business men complain that the mail matter which leaves New York at eleven P. M. and reaches Boston at 6:50 A. M., is not assorted and delivered before ten or eleven A. M. The trouble is, these business men, or at least some of them, deemed it best to do almost "anything to beat Blaine." They voted for Cleveland and civil service reform. The result is, when a new democratic postal clerk or attache of a post-office tackles the mail matter, he cannot begin to accomplish one-half the results of which was capable a trained post-office employe who had made a study of places and names, and who from long experience in this special service became of inestimable value in a place wanted by some democrat, who, while he may have the desire, has not and perhaps never may have the capacity and skill of his removed predecessor. That's what's the matter. The trouble is not with an insufficient number of mail trains, but with too many inefficient mail handlers who are new to the trade

The fifth annual party of tourists for California and the picturesque Pacific Northwest will leave a week later—Thursday, May 3rd. The latter trip will include an excursion through the Yellowstone National Park, and a visit to the Yosemite valley and Big Tree groves can be made in connection with either. Both parties will travel in magnificent trains of vestibuled Pullman palace cars, a dining-car being included in each train. The California part of the tour has been made more attractive than ever by the addition of Riverside, Santa Monica, and Santa Barbara to the numerous list of places to be visited. Both parties visit the same places, both in southern and central California. The northwest tour will be very comprehensive, and all the leading cities and places of scenic interest will be visited. The trip will also include the picturesque Mount Shasta route, the Columbia river, Puget sound, and a ride over the Northern Pacific "Switchback" in the Cascade mountains. There are to be other excursions to California in the winter series, one more to Mexico, and two more to Washington (March 9th and 30th.) W. Raymond, 296 Washington street, opposite School street, Boston, will be pleased to supply descriptive circulars. Persons sending by mail should designate the particular tour for which the descriptive matter is desired.

Naval Intelligence.

Asst. Paymaster J. D. Doyle, who was recently examined for promotion and failed to pass, has asked to have his case re-opened, that he may have another chance.

The U. S. S. Iroquois has been put out of commission at the Mare island navy yard. A board of survey recently reported that the vessel required repairs to the amount of $40,000; another survey will be held after the stores have been landed, to see if she can be put in good condition at a cost within the twenty per cent limit

The order for the detail of the crew for the Swatara was issued on Saturday. The men will all be selected from the receiving ship Wabash, now in Boston harbor, and will be sent aboard the Swatara on the 1st of March.

The steamer City of Pekin has arrived at San Francisco from China and Japan, with smallpox on board.

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. He still remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

Personal.

Mr. George A. Perkins and wife, of South street, whose intended trip to Florida a couple of weeks ago was delayed in consequence of the sickness and death of Mr. Perkins' mother, started for Fernandina, Fla., last Thursday.

Mr. Albert L. Stringer and wife, of Kansas City, Mo., who have been visiting their relatives in this city for several weeks, started last Friday on their return.

Mr. Oliver P. Haines of Dover, formerly of Portsmouth, was in this city over Sunday.

Mr. Daniel S. Broderick of New York arrived in this city Saturday evening, and remained long enough to see a few of his friends, starting on his return by the train for Boston on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Edward Burgess of Boston, designer of the famous cup-defenders Puritan, Mayflower and Volunteer, was in this city on Saturday afternoon, and made a short visit to the navy yard to see Chief Engineer Brooks.

Mr. George H. Yeaton of Hantsport, Nova Scotia, brother of Mr. James R. Yeaton of this city, and his son John C. L. Yeaton, are visiting at Oak Hill farm. Mr. Yeaton went to Nova Scotia from this city twenty-seven years ago.

Gov. Sawyer has started for Florida. So has Frank Jones. They do not put up at the same hotel. How New Hampshire will manage to get on with two such prominent citizens absent from the state at the same time is a matter of conjection.

Maritime Notes.

The tug Resolute, Dingley master, came around from Bath, Me., last week, and on Saturday morning started for Boothbay, having in tow the four-masted schooner C. B. Church, Capt. Connor, which vessel is to load ice at Boothbay for a southern port.

The steamer Mystic now has to make two trips across the river each morning and two each evening, to accommodate the navy yard workmen. On Saturday she displayed a new ensign on the top of her flagstaff—a big codfish, one of the genuine article, no sham. In answer to enquiries Capt. Rashe said it was "the emblem of the codfish treaty," but whether it was hoisted in approval or derision of the treaty he did not explain.

The steamer Pinafore, Capt. Laighton, left Broughton's wharf on the 19th inst., for the Isles of Shoals, with a load of lumber and several carpenters; work on the new cottages is to be pushed as fast as possible.

During the construction of the double-track iron bridge on the eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, over the Merrimac river at Newburyport, passengers will be ferried across the river in boats. The work on the new bridge will commence about the first of March, and the contract calls for its completion in ten days.

After the tug Cocheco had taken one pull at the Dover point bridge, Friday, Mr. Henry Bissell, master of maintenance of way of the Boston & Maine road, decided that any further attempt would be uselass, and that the damaged portion of the bridge must be entirely rebuilt. A construction train crossed the bridge Friday evening. On Saturday two pile drivers were set to work; over 200 piles will be put down, and the bridge made much stronger than before. The dynamiters were at work on the ice above the bridge throughout the day Saturday.

The train running between the Dover end of the Dover point bridge, and the city of Dover, met with an accident Saturday forenoon at Cushing's station, about two miles from the city, the one passenger car on the train being derailed by the breaking of a wheel. The passengers rode to Dover on the engine, but the mail was delayed three hours.

Rt. Rev. W. W. Niles, D. D., bishop of New Hampshire, on Sunday forenoon administered the rite of confirmation to a class of thirteen candidates at St. John's church; and in the evening, at Christ church, to two.

The Portsmouth Athletic club on Saturday evening voted to repeat their minstrel entertainment and athletic exhibition, on Monday evening of next week.

At the high school this morning, commencing at ten o'clock, there will be exercises commemorative of Washington's birthday.

Seats for the P. A. C.'s second performance will go on sale at Goodrich's to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

Mr. Frank Horrocks, for several years past employed in Moses Brothers' news and periodical store, is to take charge of the store recently carried on by Henri L. Bates, now owned by Mr. George Wallis.

P. A. C. parquet admission tickets will be on sale at Music hall one hour previous to the entertainment. Plenty of standing room.

Don't miss the great sale of men's all-wool pantaloons at $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 at H. C. Hewitt & Co's., No. 32 Congress street. This lot comprises 200 pairs of those dark gray pin-head check pantaloons at $1.50, (usually sold at $2.50,) celebrated for their wear.

P. A. C. gallery admission tickets will be on sale at Music hall one hour before the performance. Plenty of seats.

Some very beautiful and artistic water color paintings by Hendricks Hallett, of Boston, attracted much attention and universal admiration on Saturday evening in one of the show windows at Stich Ban. The Walbach tower, the gateway of old Fort Constitution, the old guardhouse at Fort McClary, a bit of Peirce's island with the piles of the old dolphin, the navy yard, Whale's-back light, and several views in Newcastle, furnished the artist with subjects which he has treated in a most pleasing style.

A dance will be given in S. S. S. hall, York village, Thursday evening, the 23d inst.; music by the Music hall orchestra of this city.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive persons in advanced stages of the Disease. For Sale by all Druggists. Price, 25 cents.

Mr. Jones and the New England democrats held a satisfactory meeting in the New Hampshire leaders' room in the Riggs house, Washington, on Friday evening. As Mr. Jones will have no legislative cares to occupy his time next summer, it is said the Democratic National convention will be held in June. Chicago will pay the expenses if the convention is fixed for that city. Mr. Jones is looking after an appropriation to continue the dredging of Little Harbor. He has secured the appointment of Mr. P. Fahey of Manchester as a post-office inspector.

Samuel Garland, the oldest inhabitant of Dixmont, Me., died on the 9th inst., in the 94th year of his age. He was born in Parsonsfield, and was a soldier in the war of 1812, being stationed at one of the forts in this harbor for a year. After his discharge from the army he settled in Dixmont, and lived there the rest of his life.

Lieut. Fred L. Dodge, 23d United States infantry, has taken command of Co. F of that regiment at Fort Wayne, Mich., during the absence in Washington on the tactical board of Capt. Joseph T. Haskell.

Among the recent transfers of real estate in York county, as left for record in the office of the register of deeds, are the following: Eliot—Maria V. Freeman to Horace S. Stacy, real estate for $230. York, Charles B. Leavitt of Pittsfield, N. H., to Albert W. Gale of Concord, N. H., real estate in York for $1. South Berwick—Fred T. Nealley et al. to South Berwick Building Co., real estate for $200.

Fred O. Towle was badly and it is feared fatally burned in Saco last Friday, by the explosion of a paint-burner with which he was burning the paint off a carriage wheel.

The Boston Herald says "Mr. Cleveland will stand squarely upon tariff reform." That's encouraging for the republicans, so many democrats are inclined to stand on one leg on this platform. It is gratifying to know that un. like his standing on the civil service question, the president will not straddle as to free trade. We shall see.

Mr. William E. Barrett, of the Boston Advertiser, dined with Senator Chandler last week. Perhaps we may, ere long, read in Boston's respectable daily a counterblast to the Gallinger senatorial boom recently published in the Globe as an alleged Washington despatch, but containing a flvor which smacked of New Hampshire construction.

Gov. Sawyer and wife left Dover last Friday for Jacksonville, Fla., to be absent several weeks.

The grand jury at Dover reported forty-two indictments last Friday, twenty-four of them being liquor cases.

John Burke, sixty-five years old, was burned to death in Concord on Saturday while trying to get his cow out of his burning barn.

OUR advice to consumers of IVORY SOAP is, buy a dozen cakes at a time, take off the wrappers, and stand each cake on end in a dry place; for, unlike many other soaps, the IVORY improves by age. Test this and you will find the twelve cakes will last as long as thirteen cakes bought singly. This advice may appear to you as being given against our own interests; on the contrary, our interest and desire is, that the patrons of IVORY SOAP shall find it the most desirable and economical soap they can use. Respectfully,

PROCTER & GAMBLE, Cincinnati, O.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Railway Signals by Trumpet.

The blasts of the trumpet on railways as a means of giving signals to engine drivers, pointsmen and others engaged in shunting operations, which are now extensively used in large shunting yards of the Caledonian railway in and around Glasgow, are, it is stated, about to be introduced on some of the great railway systems having termini in London. According to the code of trumpet signals for shunting in operation at St. Rollox goods yards, Glasgow, the various signals are represented by long blasts, short blasts and "crows" of the trumpet, the repetition of each varying the directions; for instance, a long blast of the trumpet means "move forward," and two long blasts are a signal to "move back." As a rule, the goods yards of the principal railways, if not quite close to the termini, are situated usually in thickly populated metropolitan districts, and it is believed that if trumpet signaling should be introduced to them, discordant sounds of continuous and diversified blasts of the trumpet will create a nuisance—especially at night, when people are in bed, night being invariably utilized for shunting—which Londoners will scarcely put up with. Under this novel arrangement each shunter, and in some cases the signal men, are furnished with a horn trumpet eleven inches in length, having a reed inside the mouthpiece, the whole being of very light construction. The trumpet is carried by the shunter slung over his left shoulder with a piece of cord, and hangs across the right hip. It is not at present stated whether or not the use of the trumpet as a signal will enable the railway authorities to dispense with the sounding of the engine whistles, which have already been the subject of so much objection.—London Daily News.

Deleterious Effects of Snow.

A recent article by Herr R. Sendtner in the "Meteorologische Zeitschrift" tends to prove that the works of art in the streets and squares of cities are more liable to decay than those in the country, and that this decaying process is more rapid nowadays than it was forty or fifty years ago. The writer attributes it not only to the changes of temperature in general, but more especially to the variations of temperature near the freezing point, the freezing of the water in the pores of the work of art hastening the decay, in consequence of the sulphurous and sulphuric acids, which are from the increased use of coal. These deleterious ingredients mixing with the rain, fog and dew act like diluted sulphuric acid on the surfaces of statues, monuments, etc., be they of stone or bronze.

Worse than all these, however, is the effect of the snow, which absorbs those acids to a remarkable degree. Fresh fallen snow in Munich, for instance, contained seven to eight milligrammes of acid to each kilo of snow; and the same proportion was noticeable at Forstenried, about eight kilometers from the city. The same quantity of snow, after having remained on the ground a fortnight, showed in Munich sixty-one milligrammes, while at Forstenried the proportion had not altered in the least; hence the snow in the city must needs have a more deleterious effect than that in the country. This also is the reason why the public monuments in Berlin are always covered at the approach of winter.—Berliner Tagblatt.

Wedding Presents in China.

The ceremonies employed in Chinese marriages differ widely in the various provinces and districts. In all, however, a "go between" is engaged to find, in the first instance, a fitting bride for the would be bridegroom; to conduct the preliminary proceedings of bringing the parents to terms, and to see to the casting of the horoscopes and the exchange of presents. The gifts presented are of infinite variety; but in almost every case a goose and a gander, the recognized emblems of conjugal fidelity, figure conspicuously among the offerings made by the bridegroom. The choice of these birds is so strange that one is apt to consider it as one of the peculiar outcomes of the topsy turvy Chinese mind, which regards the left hand as the place of honor and the stomach as the seat of the intellect. But this is not quite so, for we find from George Sand that at the marriage of French peasants in Berry a goose was commonly borne in the bridegroom's procession.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Chloride of Sodium.

The salt mountains of Nevada, the salt island in Louisiana, as well as various other deposits of chloride of sodium in different parts of the world, are almost absolutely pure chloride of sodium. Of 22.28 per cent. of salts found in Great Salt lake, the remarkable proportion of 20.19 per cent. is found to be pure chloride of sodium, and yet many of the streams running into the lake contain vastly larger quantities of other salts; some of the water is so heavily charged with nitrates and sulphates of soda and potash as to be unfit for animals to drink; and all the potash salts in the lake have disappeared. The peculiar character of these phenomena have long been studied by geologists and chemists, but no one theory in particular appears to be applicable to all the facts presented in the localities named.—New York Sun.

Destroyed by Storm and Fire.

The town of Mount Vernon, Ill. was struck by a cyclone about five o'clock Sunday afternoon, the 19th inst., and in a few minutes was almost destroyed, a path 500 yards wide being cut through it from southwest to northeast, and numerous fires immediately breaking out among the ruins, consuming the wreck made by the whirlwind, and burning to death many persons buried under the fallen buildings.

The day had been warm and sultry, with light showers, but the sky was clear in the afternoon, and no thought of danger existed. The cyclone was preceded by hail for a few minutes, and then the storm struck the city near the city hall, and took off the third and fourth stories of the Mt. Vernon mill, and in five minutes passed off into the country toward the northeast, sweeping everything for miles.

A despatch of Sunday night to the Chicago Times says "the Methodist church fell just a few minutes before 250 people had left the Sunday school room to enter it; the Commercial hotel lost its third story; next the wind struck the county court house, and rendered it a heap of ruins; the Crew block, on the south side of the square, was levelled with the earth, and under it was found the body of John Crew, the owner of the block; the roof and second story of R. L. Stratton & Co.'s hardware store was blown away; the large two-story brick schoolhouse did not withstand the terrible shock any better than the smallest house in the track of the cyclone; the large two-story frame house of George Ward was picked up and carried about twenty feet, and left unhurt, while two brick buildings within 100 feet were wrecked. Not less than $500,000 worth of property has been destroyed by the cyclone and fire in that neighborhood. Incalculable loss of life and great suffering will follow unless outside assistance is given. A meeting of business men was held and committees appointed to care for the dead and wounded and protect the property as much as possible. Many people who escaped with their lives have nothing besides. Many are walking the streets with no home to go to. The wounded are being cared for by the physicians in the best possible manner. The dead and dying are scattered throughout the city. All the doors of the houses left standing have been thrown open to the less fortunate. Three-fourths of the business portion of the city is ruined financially. The public square in the centre of the town, the court house in the centre of the square, the school building in the northeast corner of the city, and all the dwellings in that portion of the city are destroyed, and the ruins of some are still burning. In all, 500 buildings are destroyed, and many others injured. The dead and wounded are now being gathered at the supreme court house, which has been converted into a hospital. This building is also damaged, but not seriously. The latest reports show thirty-one are dead and about 100 injured, some of whom will die before morning. A number of men who were struck by falling timbers and whose names cannot be learned at present are reported badly injured and dying. A. B. Cox's store, G. W. Morgan's jewelry store, Maxy & Swift's store and Jackson's saddlery store are in ruins. Hasserman's bakery, the Baptist church, Cook's drug store, Mansin's saloon, Perry's hotel, and the Stratton & Jackson's brick store were levelled with the ground. The entire east side of the square is destroyed, and in one of the buildings John Walters and child lost their lives, as did Henry Walters, father of John. Mrs. Walters was found with her babe in her arms, both dead. At the northeast corner of the square, Howard Bros. & Co.'s grocery was blown down and the roof and second story of O. L. Stratton & Co.'s hardware store was blown away, while a frame hotel adjoining was unharmed. Across towards the northeast portion of the city a number of people were killed, and a large two-story brick school building was blown down."

A despatch from Evansville, Ind., says that "south of the Louisville & Nashville railroad in Mt. Vernon there were small houses, principally of railroad men, that were mostly wrecked. In the centre and northern portion of the city the most damage was done. In the Evansville bank four men were cremated. The Louisville & Nashville railroad passenger and freight depots and roundhouse were considerably damaged, and the freight and master mechanic's offices were wrecked. Two cabooses were blown from the track and turned bottom up, and a number of railroad employes killed or wounded. The two banks in the town were both wrecked."

A despatch from Mt. Vernon on the 20th reported the number of persons killed at thirty-eight, with 300 wounded, and 337 buildings destroyed or badly damaged. No reports of damage had come in from other places.

The Ætna Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., has accepted fifty per cent cash for $250,000 of Elizabeth City, N. J., bonds. The company was one of the heaviest creditors of the city. The cash was advanced by "a friend of the city."

ALUM BAKING POWDERS.

Declared Adulterated Food and their Sale Illegal.

The result of a trial just concluded at Canton, N. Y., before Judge Kellogg, will have a salutary effect in checking the sale of one class of adulterated food. Two men, named Moon and Akerill, were arrested for selling adulterated baking powder in violation of the State food adulteration act. The indictment was for both selling baking powders that were inferior, adulterated and injurious to health by reason of being made from from alum, and for selling under pretense that they were a wholesome, cream of tarter baking powder. A stubborn defence was made, the claim being set up that baking powders were not articles of food and that the powder the defendants were selling, which was known as Gillett's, was a standard article of trade, and that alum baking powders inferior to it, like Davis' and others, were being sold by other dealers in the same town without complaint. The Court held that baking powders were articles of food within the meaning of the law, and the jury found the defendants guilty upon all the charges. The case has attracted much attention from being the first brought under the State Food Adulteration Act against dealers in alum baking powders as adulterated articles of food and to make their sale illegal. There are many alum baking powders put up in cans, under some name or brand, in addition to those sold in bulk, the sale of all of which cautious dealers will probably be unwilling to continue.

Better Pay Asked.

The following petition to Congress is being circulated in several seaports, and has received the signatures of many master mariners, vessel owners, and merchants interested in shipping:

We, the undersigned, respectfully request that the salary of the keepers of the life saving service be increased to $1000 a year, and the pay of the surfmen of said service be raised to $75 per month. We are satisfied that the life saving crews are not sufficiently paid for service rendered, and that the increase of pay is necessary in order to secure and retain good and experienced men in the service.

Secretary Chandler Sustained.

A decision has been rendered by the court of claims sustaining the legality of Secretary Chandler's action in discharging, with one year's pay from June 30th, 1885, about forty cadet midshipmen who had served a six years' course at the naval academy and at sea, but for whom no vacancies existed in the service at the time of their graduation. The question arose on the suit of Eugene M. Harmon for salary as a cadet midshipman from the date of his discharge up to the time of filling his claim, Nov. 1st, 1887. The court held that the secretary acted with full authority of law in the matter, and dismissed the case.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Washington's Birthday.

Principal Pickard of the High school having previously announced to the parents and friends of the scholars, that there would be exercises to commemorate the birthday of Washington, and arranged extra seats, there were at ten o'clock Monday morning about seventy-five visitors in the school room. The exercises were as follows:

1. Singing, "O, Wake!" by the school.
2. Recitation, "Washington, by Phillips," Miss Agnes Fernald.
3. "Early Life of Washington," Miss Emily I. Hoyt.
4. Declamation, "Laying the Cornerstone of the Monument," Ralph Sweetser.
5. "Washington in the French and Indian War," Ralph Cox.
6. Singing, "Saw You My Hero," by the school.
7. "Washington in the Revolution," Clinton Leach.
8. Declamation, "The Greatness of Washington," Perry M. Riley.
9. "Washington as President," Miss Mabel B. Cotton.
10. Singing, "The Star Spangled Banner," by the school.
11. "Washington's Visit to Portsmouth," Miss Josephine Carpenter.
12. Declamation, "Washington to the Present Generation," Morris Schwartz.
13. "Last Years of Washington," Miss Ella Furber.
14. Singing, "To Thee, O! Country," by a choir.
15. "Washington as a Private Citizen," Miss Mary Montgomery.
16. Declamation, "The Influence of the Character of Washington," Henry Washburne.
17. "The Habits and Character of Washington," Miss Sadie deRochemont.
18. "The Monument at Washington," William Johnston.
19. Singing, "America," by the school.

The programme was carried out finely, and was one of the most interesting of the kind we ever had the pleasure to witness. The young ladies' numbers were very finely rendered, the recitation by Miss Agnes Fernald being worthy of special mention. Of the young gentlemen we can name no particular one, but all were fine, and they were as much applauded as were the young ladies. We wish we had the space to mention each one separately.

After the above exercises were through, Principal Pickard invited the visitors to the gymnasium, where the boys gave exhibitions in club-swinging, tug-of-war, on the horizontal bar, etc. The boys have a fine gymnasium, where they can go at recess and every afternoon,—for which thanks are due to Mr. Pickard, who started it. Those who attended were much pleased with the exercises, and went away fully satisfied that they had spent a forenoon to their advantage.

NOTES.

Those who took part were all of the class of '88, which graduates next June. It is one of the largest classes for a number of years past, having in all thirty-five members.

The singing was excellent, and shows that the scholars all take an interest in this one—and not the least important—of their studies. The singing of "To Thee, O! Country," was very fine. The choir consisted of Misses Parker, Carpenter, Boynton, Jarvis, McIntire, Cotton, Montgomery, Gerrish, Snow and Currier, Masters Fernald, Riley and Curtis, and Mr. Whittier, the music teacher.

The class of '88 will probably send a large number of representatives away to different schools and colleges. Ralph Sweetser, William Johnston and Tobias Burke will go to the Institute of Technology, Boston; Ralph Cox to Dartmouth; and Morris Schwartz and Henry Washburne will also go away to further pursue their studies. Miss Mattie Kimball, Miss Sadie deRochemont and Miss Emily Hoyt, and probably others, will go abroad to represent the girls of the class of '88.

The class may well be proud to look back in after years to this occasion which was carried out so well and in which all tried so hard to do their part. E. L. M.

"Keep It Dark."

George Hoey's musical comedy, "Keep It Dark," certainly fulfils the aim of its author, in that it furnishes a continuous fund of amusement from beginning to end, and the large audience last night was loud and liberal in applause. The company presenting the piece is a good one, and Mr. W. T. Bryant, Miss Lizzie Richmond and Miss Julia Wilson deserve special mention.—Washington Star.

Church Burned at Rye.

The Christian church at Rye Centre took fire near the furnace about midnight, Saturday night, and with its contents was wholly consumed. But few of the townspeople heard the alarm sounded by the town hall bell, and many members of the society first learned of the disaster on their arrival to attend service on Sunday. In tearing down a shed to prevent the spread of the fire, the structure fell on account of the snow and ice on the roof, and several persons were severely but not dangerously bruised, among them being Thomas W. Rand and Albion D. Parsons. The house of William J. Walker was in so much danger that the furniture was taken out, but the building was saved.

The church was a large and fine one, and was thoroughly repaired and refurnished a few years since at an expense of $3000. The loss is a heavy one to the society, there being no insurance. The pastor has been authorized to call a general meeting of the citizens of Rye for Saturday evening, the 25th inst., to take action looking to the immediate rebuilding of the church.

Seats for the P. A. C.'s second performance will go on sale at Goodrich's this morning at nine o'clock.

Coal freights from Baltimore at the close of last week were quoted at $1.60 per ton to this port, $1.50 to Boston or Portland.

P. A. C. parquet admission tickets will be on sale at Music hall one hour previous to the entertainment. Plenty of standing room.

Don't miss the great sale of men's all-wool pantaloons at $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 at H. C. Hewitt & Co's., No. 32 Congress street. This lot comprises 200 pairs of those dark gray pin-head check pantaloons at $1.50, (usually sold at $2.50,) celebrated for their wear.

P. A. C. gallery admission tickets will be on sale at Music hall one hour before the performance. Plenty of seats.

There were forty sail of fishing vessels at the wharves on Monday afternoon, they having come in out of the wet.

The warm rain of Monday carried off the snow and ice a good deal faster than all the street commissioner's men and teams could do it. There was a great rush of rivulets along the streets and sidewalks in the evening.

Advices from Concord on Monday reported Col. J. Horace Kent to be steadily failing, and that there was little hope left of his recovery.

It was reported on Monday afternoon that a fishing skipper who that day cashed a check for $92 at one of the city banks, received $920 therefor.

Don't fail to attend the first grand performance of the P. A. C. minstrels and athletes on Wednesday evening, Feb. 22d, Washington's birthday.

Mr. William P. Tanton of this city is in attendance at the Holderness school, Plymouth, N. H.

Union Rebekah Degree Lodge, No. 3, I. O. O. F., will celebrate the 17th anniversary of its organization by an entertainment and supper at Odd Fellows' hall this (Tuesday) evening, to which all members are invited. Members are requested to furnish cake for the tables.

The out-of-doors workmen at the navy yard made but half a day on Monday, having to cease work at noon on account of the rain.

John H. Yeaton of New York was in town a few hours on Sunday, to visit his sister, who is in very poor health.

The cases of Pay Inspector Stevenson and Lieut. Emery H. Taunt of the navy, and Lieut. H. C. Fisher of the marine corps, were directed by Secretary Whitney to be prepared for submission to the president for executive action, on Thursday of last week.

In accordance with a widely expressed desire, the P. A. C. Minstrels and Athletes will repeat their great amusement festival on Monday evening, Feb. 27th. The unparallelled sale of seats for their first performance indicates that the public realize that this entertainment will prove the event of the Music hall season, and we predict a great demand for tickets to the "return engagement."

Mr. Barnard, who has for several years lived on the Eben Seavey farm at Rye, recently purchased by Mr. Charles P. Wendell, is putting in good repair the old Seavey house on the road to Odiorne's point, which has been many years untenanted, and will occupy it as a residence.

The Times has arranged to hereafter receive the despatches of the associated press, up to the time of commencing to print in the afternoon. The new arrangement was commenced on with the issue for Monday evening.

The body of the man who was found dead on the track of the Boston & Maine railroad near the North Berwick station on the morning of the 9th inst., has been identified as that of a man named Palmer, who was on the way from Gardiner, Me., to Washington, D. C., with a carload of horses. He had been to Gardiner in the employ of the Knickerbocker Ice Co.

Harry P. Evarts, of Salem, Mass., twenty-nine years old, married and having one child, was run over by a freight car and literally cut in two at Salem on Monday, his feet slipping as he was attempting to step between two cars of a moving train. He was foreman of the day shifters.

The Boston & Maine station at Maplewood, Mass., on the eastern division, was entered Sunday night after midnight, and the safe blown open, but the thieves got nothing.

It was rumored on Saturday afternoon that the boiler of the engine used in working one of the pile-drivers at the Dover point bridge, blew up while the men were at dinner, and demolished the car on which it was placed. It was working away all right on Sunday, as was also the other pile-driver, the urgency of the work of course permitting no stop on account of the day.

Mr. William H. Kennard of Boston left on Wednesday of last week to join Mrs. Kennard and son at the Ponce de Leon hotel at St. Augustine, Florida, and bring them home with him on his return.

E. O. Emerson of Titusville, Pa., was at York, Me., on Sunday.

The Origin of a Common Saying.

"The divinity student's broke out again," said the young man that boards on South Division street. "We were sitting at dinner today, and Miss Staggs she up and says one of her pupils will never set the river on fire. The divinity student looked up and said: 'I see that you, like other good people, are in error occasionally.' 'What do you mean?' said Miss Staggs, getting red in the face. 'I mean,' said the divinity student, 'that when you talk about setting the river on fire you are using an old saying that's got off the track. It used to be, "He'll never set the Thames on fire," and people when they said it had in mind the river Thames; on the contrary it means a miller's sieve, called a temse, which was used in the old wind and water mill days. This temse had a wooden rim, which slid back and forth in a wooden frame. If the man that worked it was energetic in his work he sometimes set the temse on fire from friction. Hence it was said of a dull, slow person that he would never set the temse on fire, and the saying has been corrupted to its present form.'"—Buffalo Courier.

The Venezuelan's National Weapon.

The machete, a broad sword or knife, about two or three feet long, and carried without a sheath, is the universal arm of Venezuela and Central America. In the southern states of this country the principal use for the machete is for cutting sugar cane, but in South America it replaces the pocket knife, the axe and the sword. The llanero or haciendero is never seen without it. He cuts bread with it, peels sugar cane, cuts bananas and other fruit from the trees, chops wood, cuts his way through the primeval forests, slaughters hens or pigs and defends himself against the attacks of wild beasts and serpents. There is no better arm against the serpents than a machete, for with a single stroke the native will cut them in two.—E. De Hesse Wartegg.

The Unselfish Japanese.

Go where you will you can find nowhere such a bright, good tempered, laughter loving and innately polite people as these Japs. They are full of jokes and are as unselfish as human nature can be; generous, trustful and faithful, patient, gentle and brave. They have a strong pride, too, that is nowhere more clearly shown than in the fact that though a Jap seldom passes a beggar without giving him something, yet there are comparatively few in the country. If you are annoyed by being followed about by a curious, but not a respectful, crowd, you have only to hold out a coin and they melt away like shekels at a church fair; they feel hurt at being taken for mendicants.—Tokio Cor. New York Tribune.

Montreal's Bad Boy.

"Why, what's the matter, Johnny?" inquired a fond Montreal mother, as her 4-year-old came into the house crying bitterly.

"N-nurse says th-that if I aint a b-b-better boy the boodlers will c-catch me."—The Epoch.

The Lebanon mills at Pawtucket, R. I., were burned on Sunday night; loss $150,000; insurance $98,000.

Ducks charge everybody with being a "quack," and there are but few who are exempt from the gosling accusation. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is certainly an exception to the rule, as it is no doubt the greatest remedy offered to a suffering people.

It is asserted that while the striking miners at Shenandoah, Pa., were starving, the striking railroaders were living high on the contributions sent for fair division.

It is a good rule to accept only such medicines as are known to be worthy of confidence. It has been the experience of thousands that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine ever used for throat and lung diseases.

Rev. Dr. George Leon has consented, at the request of the church, to suspend his resignation as pastor of the Center church of Hartford, Conn., and is to have an assistant in the pastorate.

They begin to soothe and absorb the pain the moment you apply one. Hop Plasters.

In the national house last week, the urgent deficiency bill was passed; also the bill for the relief of the McKay heirs. The bill abolishing compulsory pilotage was defeated in committee.

No Woman

Is beautiful with a bad skin, covered with pimples, freckles, moth or tan. I have been asked many times what will remove these unsightly blemishes. No face paints or powders will remove them, as they are caused by impure blood. The only sure remedy I have ever seen is Sulphur Bitters, and in hundreds of cases I have never known them to fail.—Editress Fashion Gazette.

A young man has been arrested in Chicago, and confesses that he watched outside the house of A. J. Snell, the millionaire, while Wm. R. Tascott went in to rob the place, and murdered Snell on being detected.

Those unhappy persons, who suffer from nervousness and dyspepsia should use Carter's Little Nerve Pills, which are made expressly for sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic sufferers. Price twenty-five cents.

Many of the striking miners have resolved not to resume work in the Shenandoah coal mines, and the Reading railroad men have resolved to continue their strike to the end. As the railroad managers have given notice that none of the strikers will be taken back on any terms, their resolution does not have much bearing on the case.

Women with pale, colorless faces, who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills, which are made for the blood, nerves and complexion.

Helping the Right Side.

To help the right side is not only commendable in a general point of view, but is judicious and prudent when that help is enlisted in behalf of the right side of the body, just over the lower ribs in the region of the liver. The most efficient help is afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an anti-bilious medicine of incomparable efficacy. Inaction of the liver is accompanied by constipation, sick headache, furred tongue, nausea, occasional vertigo, an unpleasant breath, yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye. The author of these symptoms, liver complaint, routed by the Bitters is accompanied by them in its flight. Fever and ague, which always involves the liver, dyspepsia, rheumatism, debility and kidney troubles are all maladies to the early relief and final cure of which this standard medicine is adapted. Don't use it by fits and starts, but systematically, that its full effects may result in a perfect restoration to health.

Mrs. Nicholson, editor and proprietor of the New Orleans Picayune, is also a poet, writing under the name of "Pearl Rivers." The New York Home Journal calls her "the poet-laureate of the bird and flower world of the south."

Everybody needs a spring medicine. By using Ayer's Sarsaparilla the blood is thoroughly cleansed and invigorated, the appetite stimulated, and the system prepared to resist the diseases peculiar to the summer months. Ask for Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Take no other.

Florence Nightingale says: "Half the trouble in women's lives comes from their excepting themselves from the rules of training considered necessary for men."

Two great enemies—Hood's Sarsaparilla and impure blood. The latter is utterly defeated by the peculiar medicine.

—Florida strawberries are a drug in the market at $2.50 a quart.

If you would have a desirable head of hair, use Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, the most wonderful discovery of modern times for the hair and scalp.

—"Queen Victoria must be nearly two thousand years old," remarked little Johnny McSwilligen. "Where do you get that idea?" asked his mamma. "Why, I often see Victoria, B. C., in the papers."

Be Your Own Doctor.

It won't cost you one-half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2 cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its causes and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

—Small boy (near the window of restaurant)—"Jest smell dat soup, Jimmy. Hain't dat fine?" Jimmy (holding his nose)—"I ain't smellin' soup terday, it 'ud spile me appetite fer de roas' chicking."

"Their name is legion," may be applied to those who die annually of consumption, although science has of late years sensibly diminished their number. It is gratifying to know that the general use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is largely instrumental in attaining this end.

—"What is a carat?" was one of the questions asked on an examination paper in a New York city school. The answer came back—"Something you put in soup."

In General Debility, Emaciation,

Consumption and wasting in children, Scott's Emulsion is a most valuable food and medicine. It creates an appetite, strengthens the nervous system and build up the body. "Have been highly pleased with it in consumption, scrofula and wasting diseases, bronchitis and throat troubles.—A. Jones, M. D., Gernersville, Tenn.

—Two New York electricians have invented a flying machine. As both of the inventors are still alive, of course they have not yet practically tested their contrivance.

Something that will quiet the nerves, give strength to the body, induce refreshing sleep, improve the quality of the blood, and purify and brighten the complexion, is what many persons would be very glad to obtain. Carter's Iron Pills are made exactly for this class of troubles, and are remarkably successful in accomplishing the ends desired, as named above. They are useful for both men and women. Price fifty cents a box.

—How the architect of the pyramids would grin if he could take a look at the cracking state houses in Albany and Boston!

Hop Plasters applied to the chest cure coughs and colds quicker than any cough syrup.

—These is a young lady in a girl's school in Georgia who goes by the nickname of "Postscript." Her real name is Adoline Moore.

Smartweed and belladonna, combined with the other ingredients used in the best porous plasters, make Carter's S. W. & B. Backache Plasters the best in the market. Price twenty-five cents.

—In the theatre—"But why do you weep? The acting is certainly not so touching." "Excuse me, I am bewailing the money I paid to come in."

What Ails the Weather?

TERRIBLE

are Kidney and Liver diseases, and when once they have occured a firm hold on the human system there is no time to be lost if life is to be saved. Backache, pain in the side, sallowness, weariness, and headache, are often symptoms of these fearful diseases. Athlophoros, in connection with Athlophoros Pills, will give speedy relief. RECOLLECTIONS

As when a player, weary of the day,
Takes up his instrument and plays along,
First aimlessly, until auto some song,
Heard long ago, his fingers find their way—
The old tune bringing memories which lay
Deep buried in the past, once glad and strong—
He feels again those joys around him throng,
And weeps erewhile to think they cannot stay;
So I, a-weary with the passing hours,
In musing fell upon the same of one,
Now dead and gone, who once was dear to me,
And recollection sweet as summer showers
Came back, swift as the first faint gleams that run
At dawn, across a great gray waste of sea.

"FIRST WATER" DIAMONDS.

What the Term Means—Variations in Quality and Value.

The term "first water" is varied in meaning according to the class of goods carried by the dealer using it. It is now, however, intended to refer to a diamond that is absolutely free from all trace of color, blemish, flaws or other imperfections, and whose brilliancy is perfect. It is almost impossible to value a diamond by its weight. Color, brilliancy, cutting and the general character and perfection of the stone are all to be taken into account. Of two stones, both flawless and of the same weight, one may be worth $600 and the other $12,000. Exceptional stones often bring fancy prices, whereas off colored stones sell for from $60 to $100 a carat, regardless of size. The poorer qualities have depreciated so much that some are worth only one-tenth to one-quarter of what they were twenty years ago. This is especially true of large stones of the second or third quality. As an instance of the depreciation of colored stones we remember the famous Dewey diamond, found near Manchester, Va., in 1856, on which the late John Morrissey loaned $6,000. This stone weighed eleven carats after cutting, but it would scarcely bring as many hundreds today, except for associations.

To be really fine, a diamond should be cut neither too deep nor too shallow (spread, as it is termed), but should be mathematically perfect in its proportions. A dealer usually buys either a deep or a spread stone for as much less than the price of the perfect stone which can be cut from it as will pay the expenses and the risk of recutting. For example, a three carat spread or deep stone may furnish only a two and a quarter carat stone of perfect shape, and is, therefore, worth the price of the latter, less the risk and cost of recutting, and not as much, or more than a three carat, simply because it spreads over more surface. Very often Brazilian gems, the very finest as regards purity, and brilliancy and perfection of cutting, yet containing some almost microscopic carbonaceous fragment or some slight flaw, may be rejected by a person who wishes absolute perfection; but this same person may select a stone that, though perfect in every way, lacks that essential feature of a fine diamond, brilliancy, and is almost lustreless when compared with the stone that be had rejected.

There are as many different qualities in diamonds as in horses. Diamonds may be round, oval-oblong, rounded square or square; the cuttings may be mathematically correct, fine, fair or poor. A diamond may be of the proper depth or it may be too deep; it may be shallow or spread; it may be perfect; it may be slightly flawed, contain black spots, be brilliant or medium brilliant. Its color may be pure white, milky, steel blue or it may be off color, tinted or bye-water; in fact, there can be many hundreds of differences in a one carat stone.

As Jefferies, the diamond dealer and authority, said in 1730, the fine diamond should be as clear as pure rock water, perfect in shape, and not only pure white, but lively, showing fire, as it is called. Any undecided tint of brown, yellow, gray or other color is a positive blemish. But when the tint is decided, as blue, pink or green, in which case the colors are called "fancy," they are held in high estimation.—New York Mail and Express.

Buyers of Diamonds.

The American public are the most critical judges of diamonds, and hence buy the largest percentage of fine diamonds. Russia, Mexico and the Spanish speaking countries buy the yellow and those of second quality. Paris and New York receive the best assortment of brilliants and perfectly matched pairs.—George F. Kunz in New York Mail and Express.

Illustrating a Sermon.

During Dr. Huntington's Christmas sermon in Grace church an incident occurred that was to those who saw it, a striking illustration of the point made by him a few minutes before, that the deference with which woman is treated has greatly increased in Christian countries during the Christian era. A lady who had evidently been late in starting to church, and who appeared to have gone to several churches in the vain hope of finding a seat, entered at the northwest door and looked wearily about her. Every pew and every chair in the aisles was filled, the seats against the wall in rear of the side pews were crowded, and several men were standing. A young man occupying a seat on the side bench caught the solitary lady's eye, motioned to her to take his seat, and arose. A fashionably dressed man who had been standing, and who had not noticed the lady's arrival, moved quickly toward the vacated place before the lady could get near it. The young man quickly touched his arm, and pausing to look around he saw the lady making for the seat. A profounder bow of apology than was made by the fashionably dressed man has seldom been seen within the walls of a church.—New York Sun.

Eliot Items.

ELIOT, ME., Feb. 21st.

The sociable held in the Congregational vestry on Tuesday evening, Feb. 14th, as a Valentine party, was a grand success. There were $9 worth of very handsomely arranged valentines, all hand-painted by Mr. C. E. Foye. The proceeds go to the building fund of the Eliot Library Association, which organization is giving entertainments once a fortnight for the same end, and very profitable entertainments they are, too.

The Piscataqua river has not contained so much ice for the past twenty-five years, as this winter. An earnest of its thickness and weight was given in the partial destruction of the Dover point bridge, on which a large gang of men are now at work, to make it passable for trains. It is said that not only will the part actually knocked out of place be rebuilt, but that it will be greatly strengthened throughout its entire length—a job that will take several months to complete, although train and highway travel will be impeded for only a short time.

The records of the navy yard show that there were never so many "ball days" in the same period before, as within the last few weeks; there have been five last week and this, up to this date.

The meetings in the Advent chapel are to continue through this week.

Samuel Dixon has unloaded another cargo of potatoes at Portsmouth, this one being of about 3500 bushels. Mr. Dixon has been fortunate with his cargoes this winter, as they have sold rapidly, turning out of the vessels in good condition, and people have been glad of the chance to buy them.

Dr. E. H. Dixon will go into business in Portland with Dr. F. J. Bonney, dentist, the first of March. It is to be wished that we could have Dr. Dixon remain here, but no doubt it is for his interest to go elsewhere, and secure a wider field of labor. He is a skillful dentist, and his work done in this town has given the highest satisfaction.

The weather is very mild and pleasant, after the heavy rain of yesterday and last evening. It is all right overhead, but the roads are in a terrible condition.

There was a highly enjoyable and largely attendnd entertainment given in the Congregational church by the Eliot Library Association this evening, the central attraction being a lecture by Charles C. Coffin, Esq., the well known war correspondent, "Carleton," of the Boston Journal, the subject of Mr. Coffin's discourse being the appropriate one of "George Washington and his times." Gen. Washington was represented at the entertainment by a military costume which was worn during the evening. There were readings and songs, the whole making a most interesting and pleasing programme of exercises. Mr. Coffin has given to the Eliot library 100 nice books, and we feel greatly indebted to him for his liberality toward the people of this place.

More Trouble at the Mines.

There was a general resumption of work in the Reading collieries on Monday, but intense excitement was created among the miners by a general discharge of engineers and others prominent in the late strike, in defiance of the company's agreement not to discriminate in any way against them. Master Workman Lewis, who ordered the men to resume work, says: "If the statements contained in the telegrams are found to be true, and I have no doubt of their accuracy, work will be stopped in the entire Schuylkill region within three days, and should it come to this the order will include not only the miners, but engineers, firemen, pumpmen and everybody connected with the mines. The agreement between myself and Mr. Corbin was made in good faith, and the company must live up to it to the letter." Mr. Lewis has full authority to order the men out again.

The U. S. S. Pensacola Ashore.

Telegraphic information was received in Washington late last Saturday afternoon that the United States steamship Pensacola had run aground ten miles off Cape Charles, bound in for Hampton Roads. The Pensacola was detached from the European squadron, of which it had been the flagship, several weeks ago, and ordered to proceed at once to the United States. It was expected that she would arrive at Norfolk before the 7th of this month. Since then the friends and relatives of those on board have been anxiously awaiting news of her arrival. The commandant of the Norfolk navy yard earnestly requested the secretary of the navy to send immediate help to pull the vessel off the dangerous reef on which she had grounded. Seamen who are acquainted with the capes and their surroundings were of the opinion that the Pensacola would not be easily put afloat again.

Fit to be a Judge.

Chief Justice John A. Peters of Maine, who is presiding at the trial of Stain and Cromwell for the Barron murder, is possessed of common sense as well as legal learning. At the opening of the trial, while the opposing counsel were attending to the selection of a jury, the judge strongly objected to the counsel "bringing up so many questions regarding the reading of the daily papers, as he considered no man capable of serving upon any jury unless he was well enough educated and took enough interest in public affairs to read the papers." After that the selection of jurors went on more smoothly. Judge Peters evidently thinks it not necessary for a man to be a stupid blockhead in order to be an honest man and a good juror.

Matters in York.

YORK, ME., Feb. 20th.

The winter term of school in district No. 1, taught by Mr. C. C. Smith of Ashland, N. H., was brought to a pleasant close on Friday last. The school has been a very successful one, pleasing alike to tutor and pupils, and is spoken very highly of by the school committee.

On the last day of school there were recitations and speaking, and the teacher was presented with a very elegant shaving set, a gift from the scholars. Miss Carrie Banks and Edna Moody were the recipients of handsome prizes for perfection in spelling—not having missed a word during the term. Charles I. Moulton, Robert L. Thompson, Louis Goodwin, Geo. A. Smiley, Ruth Putnam, Carrie Banks, Lizzie W. Titcomb and Edith Goodwin, each received a "Roll of Honor" for perfect attendance, not having missed nor been tardy during the term. Miss Alice Stevens received the prize for the best speaking. The prize for the best writing was won by Miss Ruth Putnam.

Mr. Smith left town on the afternoon train, and the scholars all went to the station to see him off, and bid him Godspeed on his trip to Lewiston, where he has gone to enter college. C. I. M.

AGAMENTICUS, YORK, Feb. 20th.

Rufus Ramsdell had his feet badly frozen while chopping in the woods recently.

Mrs. Rhoda Ramsdell, who died a few days ago at the almshouse, belonged in this section of the town. She had lived on the town farm twenty years; her husband died about fifteen years ago. She was the mother of eleven children, only one surviving her, the wife of Deacon George Moulton. She has been a member of the Methodist church for many years, and we believe has always been true to her profession, strictly religious, just and generous in all her dealings with her neighbors, and always ready to speak a word of comfort to the weak ones of the flock.

Melvin Plaisted is on the sick list.

Calvin Plaisted is around among us, making his home wherever night overtakes him.

Mrs. Annie Moore is visiting her father, George Fitzgerald, for a few days.

All work in the woods has been suspended on account of the deep snow.

Newbury Welch, who has been sick a year or more, has regained his health again, and is able to work; he has been under the treatment of Dr. Hall of Wells.

J. F. Plaisted has killed the most pork of any one in York this season; he has slaughtered twenty-six hundred and seventy-five pounds of his own feeding, and has got two more to kill that are one year old, which he is still keeping.

Miss M. F. Caswell is visiting friends at Ground Root hill.

Valentines are still flying thick and fast in this vicinity.

Many persons have lost their potatoes in this place, in the recent cold weather.

George Hooper's youngest child recently got burnt badly by falling on the hot stove.

At a prayer meeting held in the schoolhouse last Thursday evening, twenty-two persons came from York village, fourteen coming on one team; the meeting was conducted by Rev. W. Flanders of the Christian church at the village, and quite an interest was manifested.

J. F. Plaisted & Son are selling groceries at reduced prices; call and see for yourself.

We think there must be an advance on cattle; Albert Junkins is around. F.

YORK BEACH, Feb. 21st.

George Colby has been awarded the contract to build the freight house at the York Beach station of the York Harbor & Beach railroad.

Frank Bowden has the contract to build a new stable in Concordville, for Mr. George Gordon of Suncook, N. H.

The comedy "Partners for Life" was very successfully played at York village on the evening of the 14th; the parts were all admirably sustained, reflecting much credit on the young amateur performers. The company were greeted with a crowded house. A special train was run from York Beach, to accommodate all who wished to attend. Dancing was participated in after the play, the grand march being led by Mr. Fred Ellis and Miss Florence Pierce.

Building has been very brisk here all winter, regardless of the cold weather. A large number of cottages will be built the coming season.

Wm. Wentworth and wife have returned from Dover, where they have been spending a few weeks. SUB.

The Davis Shoe company of Kennebunk, whose factory at Richmond, Va., was recently destroyed by fire, have transferred their orders from that factory to the one at Kennebunk, and will largely increase the number of employes in every department. It is expected that more work will be done in the Kennebunk factory this year than at any time since it has been located there.

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

No. Four's Ball.

The fourth annual ball of Moses H. Goodrich S. F. E. Co., No. 4, in Franklin hall on Tuesday evening, was as brilliant and successful an affair of the kind as has been known in this city. It was preceded by a largely attended and very pleasing concert in Music hall by the orchestra of the 8th Regiment band of Salem, Mass., Ralph L. Reinewald leader, which also furnished superior music for the ball. At the close of the concert the people swarmed into Franklin hall, and ninety-three couples took part in the grand march, which was led by Chief Engineer Herbert A. Marden and wife, and was a very pleasing feature of the ball, the intricate movements being gone through with without the least confusion, notwithstanding the large number on the floor. At the end of the march a circle was formed, and a very handsome silver tea service having been placed on a table in the centre, Chief Engineer Marden was addressed as follows by Asst. Engr. Charles L. Hoyt, who is also foreman of No. 4:

Chief Engineer Marden, I am, in behalf of Moses H. Goodrich steam fire engine company, No. 4, and its honorary members, assigned the pleasant duty of presenting you this silver service as a token of the high appreciation in which you are held by the members of that company, who will each hold in remembrance the valuable and efficient service you have rendered the Portsmouth fire department in a long and honorable career, which we hope may be extended for many years to come.

To this address Mr. Marden made the following response:

Mr. Engineer Hoyt, officers and members of Steamer Co. No. 4: Taking me by surprise as you do, I must say I feel at a loss at this time for words to suitably express my deep gratitude to you for this handsome and costly gift. I feel proud of the kind feelings of friendship and regard you have shown toward me, through this beautiful present, and I assure you I shall always keep and cherish it as a token and remembrance of this evening's pleasure. Gentlemen, from the bottom of my heart I thank you.

At the close of the chief's response there was hearty applause, and dancing was at once commenced. At intermission an elaborate and appetizing supper was served at the Kearsarge house, and the party did not disperse until a late hour in the morning.

Foreman Hoyt was floor director, with Stacy G. Moran as assistant director, and Messrs. Banks, Lydston, Carpenter, Eaton, Holmes, Burnham, Kehoe, Grover and Kenison as aids. The badges worn by the members of the company were the handsomest yet seen here. Everything passed off finely, and Four's 4th annual ball was a grand success.

"Keep It Dark."

Of this musical comedy, which so convulsed an audience at Music hall with mirth a few weeks ago, and is to do it again at the same place next Friday evening, the Philadelphia Bulletin says:

The situations are effectively managed. "Keep It Dark" possesses the additional merit of being clean, which, unfortunately, can not be said of all productions of its class. There is in it nothing that could offend the most fastidious taste. Mr. Bryant personated Jasper, and his quaint humor and characteristics kept the audience in the very best of spirits until the end of the performance. His dance at the close of the second act was a remarkable exhibition of human vibration, and was received with tumultuous applause. It was certainly one of the funniest features of the show. Miss Richmond, Clementina, acted the part with merit and consistency, and dressed it to perfection, notwithstanding that her costumes "are not made in Paris, but in our country." She has decided dramatic ability. In fact all did well. Entertaining airs were introduced here and there, each act closing with a medley chorus by the entire company.

Tickets now on sale at Goodrich's; see advertisement.

Personal.

Mrs. Evans of Louisville, Ky., arrived in this city on Tuesday on a visit to her parents, Mr. Augustus W. Odiorne and wife.

Mrs. Whiton-Stone and daughter, of South Boston, were guests at Mrs. Dahlgren's large reception in honor of Cardinal Gibbons in Washington, Monday night of last week.

Mr. George H. Yeaton of Hantsport, Nova Scotia, brother of Mr. James R. Yeaton and Miss Sarah C. Yeaton of this city, is with his son, John C. L. Yeaton, visiting Miss Yeaton on Richards avenue. Mr. Yeaton went to Nova Scotia from this city twenty-seven years ago.

Mr. De Forest Davis, representing Miller & Freeman's circus and menagerie, was in this city on Tuesday, making arrangements for the securing of grounds, license, etc., for the appearance here of the circus next July. Judging from the advance agent, the show must be a good one; the proprietors know enough to select a gentleman to represent them on the road, at least.

A Brilliant Tragic Event.

What is anticipated as the greatest tragic engagement seen in Portsmouth in years, will be the appearance at Music hall next Tuesday evening, of America's brilliant young tragedian, Robert Downing, under the management of Mr. Joseph H. Mack. Mr. Downing will appear as "Spartacus," in Dr. Bird's sublime tragedy "The Gladiator," which will be presented here in all its magnitude as seen during the innumerable productions at the Star theatre, New York, and the Boston theatre, Boston. Over a car load of magnificent historical scenery, gorgeous costumes, armor, properties and implements of Roman warfare is carried by the company, forming in all the most elaborate tragic pageant that is now being produced in America. "The Gladiator," it will be remembered, is the famous tragedy that was wriirten by Dr. Bird especially for Edwin Forrest, and afterward played by John McCullough. After the latter's death it was purchased from his estate by Manager Mack, who paid $10,000 for the play, while $15,000 was invested in the magnificent scenery, costumes, etc., used in its production.

Hon. Frank Jones of this city was before the house committee on rivers and harbors on the 20th inst., and made an argument in favor of continuing the improvements of Portsmouth harbor.

The funeral of Miss Annie W. Plumer took place at the Middle street church on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Alden officiated, and hymns were sung by the same choir that was at the church while Miss Plumer was organist there, three of them having come from Boston for the purpose. The floral tokens of affection were numerous and very beautiful.

A quantity of snow and ice fell from the roof of a building adjoining Trafton's store on Congress street, about eleven o'clock Tuesday forenoon, and capsized a butcher's pung at the corner of State and Washington streets. The slide hit the fire-alarm wire and sounded several strokes of an alarm, and one of the city teams, in turning from Washington street into State on a gallop to get to the engine house, hit the hind part of the pung and knocked it galley west, scattering the butcher and his wares around promiscuously. The butcher held to the reins and prevented his horse from running away.

P. A. C. gallery admission tickets will be on sale at Music hall one hour before the performance. Plenty of seats.

A Florida correspondent of the New York Times writes: "It is rumored that Frank Jones of New Hampshire and Col. Charles A. Sinclair are prominently interested in a scheme to erect palatial hotels at attractive points in this state. For a shore resort there can well be no more desirable location in the state than what is locally known as the North Shore."

Don't fail to attend the first grand performance of the P. A. C. minstrels and athletes on Wednesday evening, Feb. 22d, Washington's birthday.

"Keep It Dark" is full of comical situations and clean fun. The humor is exquisite.—Philadelphia News.

The piece is clean and abounds in honest fun, and the musical features were brought out with uncommon excellence. —Springfield Republican.

There will be a clam chowder in the Christian church at Hampton on Wednesday evening, Feb. 29th, and a lecture by Rev. J. A. Hainer, pastor of the Christian church of this city.

The house of representatives, before passing the urgency deficiency bill last week, on the recommendation of the naval committee added to it an item appropriating $100,000 for lengthening the dry dock at the Brooklyn navy yard. A similar appropriation should have been made to properly complete the repairs on the dry dock at the Portsmouth navy yard, but it wasn't; Secretary Whitney wants all the money to be spent at the New York and Norfolk yards, where it will be of some service—in the election.

The conductors on the Concord railroad have been supplied by the corporation with medicine chests, which are to be carried always on the trains.

An entertainment for the benefit of the Christian society of Rye, whose place of worship was recently destroyed by fire, will be given in the town hall at Rye on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. Admission twenty cents; dialogues, recitations, readings, and a farce will form an interesting attraction.

Maritime Notes.

Monday morning at six o'clock, thirty fishing vessels sailed from the lower harbor in a bunch, bound for the trawling ground in Ipswich bay. There was considerable sea and a good deal more breeze than was needed, most of the schooners carrying reefs, and the larger number of them bore up for a harbor again without finishing the dead beat of eighteen or twenty miles to the fishing grounds. Of those which kept on to the end, the Cosmos, Capt. Orrin W. Caswell, led the fleet, the Grace Choate, Capt. William Randall, being a good second. As soon as they reached the grounds they all turned and ran in again, it being out of the question to attempt doing anything with the trawls; but they had a mighty good race, anyway.

Capt. Charles Harty, of the Gloucester fishing schooner I. J. Merritt, Jr., has challenged the Boston fishing schooner John H. McManus, champion of the fishing fleet, to a triangular race of forty miles in Boston bay, or twenty miles to windward and return, between the 15th and 25th of May, for $100 to $1000 a side, the challenged boat to name the race and stake. Capt. Harty has deposited $25 with the yachting editor of the Globe, as an earnest of his intention to race. If the John H. McManus declines, the challenge is extended to the Sarah H. Prior, another crack Boston fisherman.

Gov. Ames of Massachusetts and Hon. Frank Jones of this city are among those who will be owners in a new schooner to be built at Waldoboro, Me., the coming season. The schooner will be of greater tonnage than any vessel ever built in Waldoboro. She is to be of 230 feet keel, fifty feet beam, and 22 1-2 feet depth of hold.

The steamer Berks, Adams master, one of the smallest of the Reading Co.'s colliers, arrived at this port on the 21st inst. from Perth Amboy with 600 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker.

The ship Gov. Goodwin, Capt. Lester, from Hong Kong arrived at New York Feb. 20th.

The report that a syndicate of speculators have bought a large tract of land on the coast of York, and propose to put up at least twenty cottages the coming season, is contradicted by residents of York who would be very likely to know of anything of the kind, and who say there is no ground at all for the statement.

The Dover & Eliot bridge comes in quite handy just at present for persons in this city who wish to drive to Dover, or vice versa; the Dover point bridge is closed to all except foot travel, but teams get around it by using Portsmouth bridge and the one between Eliot and Dover.

MRS. BROWN AND MRS. GREEN.

Said Mrs. Brown to Mrs. Green,
What makes your garments look so clean?
No speck or dirt on them is seen
To mar your linen's glossy sheen;
Your woolen dress that was so soiled,
I thought that it was surely spoiled,
Now looks as spick and span as though
It never had been spattered so!
This fine old lace is firm and white;
Your silk hose keep their colors bright;
Your shawl, your gloves, are spotless, too;
That old print gown seems really new!

In vain my laundress boils and rubs
The clothes, and labors at her tubs;
My newest garments soon look worn,
Get streaked and lusterless and torn.
Said Mrs. Green, in turn: My dear,
Poor soap has spoiled your clothes I fear,
Compelled your laundress first to boil,
Then spend her days in fruitless toil.
My laundress uses IVORY SOAP,
And in its cakes for you there's hope;
What in my clothes so pleases you,
To IVORY SOAP is wholly due.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Feb. 21st.

The sun is shining brightly to-day, and the wind is blowing half a gale. The roads are all ice. There are very few vessels in the harbor to-day.

The Kittery Fish Co. have been very busy the past week. Yesterday they shipped forty-eight boxes of fish.

The little daughter of Edward Jamieson, who is connected with the Kittery Fish Co., died of typhoid fever last week, and was buried in Portsmouth. The wife of his brother, Joseph Jamieson, is reported to be very ill at the home of her parents in Portsmouth.

The assistant lightkeeper at Boon island is in for a few days. He says the people on the island are all well, and have not had a cold this winter. It has been the coldest winter known for years out there, but on the coldest day the thermometer was only five below zero. He brought in two hundred pounds of nice fish, and they were all sold as soon as he landed.

We see that the young men of our place are doing their best to make up the losses we have sustained as our daughters are leaving our midst to make them homes in other places. One young man has brought home a wife from Eliot, and another has a bride from Boston. We wish them a long and happy life.

Rev. L. W. Phillips of Rye preached at the Christian chapel in this place last Sunday. The Christian church at Rye was burned last Saturday night. The society have our deepest sympathy for the great loss they have sustained.

Rev. J. H. Mugridge will assume the pastoral care of the Christian church at the Point next Sunday. Preaching service at 10:45, and Sabbath school at 12:30. Elder Mugridge will be present at the Friday evening prayer meeting, and part of the time Sunday evening.

The Ladies' Circle will meet with Mrs. Frank Boyd, Thursday evening of this week.

Capt. Horace Seaward has remained on shore this trip, and the mate, Mr. Chas. Sawyer, sailed as captain, with Mr. Chas. Tobey as first mate.

Capt. Richard H. Seaward spent a few days at home last week, while his vessel was unloading in Boston.

AUNT MOLLY.

KITTERY, ME., Feb. 21st.

The annual reunion of the Free High school occurred on Friday evening last in Trefethen hall; over two hundred were in attendance, including many of the ex-scholars, the class of nearly every term since the school was established being represented by one or more of its members. An hour or more was spent socially, after which dancing was indulged in by those who wished, music for which was furnished by the Music Hall orchestra of Portsmouth. It must be very pleasing for both teachers and scholars to meet annually at these gatherings to talk over old school days; and Mr. Rowell and his able assistant, Miss Abrams, may justly feel proud of the record of this school, and of the representatives it has sent out into the higher walks of life.

The Second Christian church will have a fair and festival in Trefethen's hall, Thursday and Friday evenings of this week.

Mr. Thomas Abrams, second engineer of the ocean tug Knickerbocker, is passing a day or two at his home in this town.

It is high time for the itinerant catamount, lion, bear and wolf combination—the famed "wild creeter" of the past—to make his annual appearance. We have anxiously looked for him in our travels, but to no avail, and the returns come in very slowly. Why so tardy? Surely he cannot have passed us by; he has fared too well feasting on the fat oxen and other good things in this vicinity, to do that. SUB ROSA.

Death of Hon. Oliver Pillsbury.

Hon. Oliver Pillsbury, state insurance commissioner of New Hampshire, died in Concord, Feb. 22d, at the age of seventy-one years. He had held the office continuously since his appointment by Gov. Stearns in 1869.

Diphtheria at Rochester.

Dr. Irving A. Watson, secretary of the state board of health, has made an official visit to Rochester to examine into the circumstances attending the prevalence of diphtheria there. He says there are numerous cases, mainly in one section of the place, and that there is danger of the disease becoming epidemic. One house on Summer street has been closed to outside communication, and Dr. Watson is of the opinion that a portion of the place will have to be quarantined in order to stop further spread of the disease. The members of the local board of health are doing all they can to keep the sickness within its present limits. The appearance of the disease is attributed to defective drainage.

Helping the Right Side.

To help the right side is not only commendable in a general point of view, but is judicious and prudent when that help is enlisted in behalf of the right side of the body, just over the lower ribs in the region of the liver. The most efficient help is afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an anti-bilious medicine of incomparable efficacy. Inaction of the liver is accompanied by constipation, sick headache, furred tongue, nausea, occasional vertigo, an unpleasant breath, yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye. The author of these symptoms, liver complaint, routed by the Bitters is accompanied by them in its flight. Fever and ague, which always involves the liver, dyspepsia, rheumatism, debility and kidney troubles are all maladies to the early relief and final cure of which this standard medicine is adapted. Don't use it by fits and starts, but systematically, that its full effects may result in a perfect restoration to health.

The striking lasters at North Adams, Mass., are reported to be lacking the necessaries of life.

Women with pale, colorless faces, who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills, which are irade for the blood, nerves and complexion.

The Maine republican clubs have formed a state league, with Colonel F. N. Dow as president. Colonel Dow is one of the shrewdest political organizers in the state.

"Their name is legion," may be applied to those who die annually of consumption, although science has of late years sensibly diminished their number. It is gratifying to know that the general use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is largely instrumental in attaining this end.

The United States supreme court is not to render the telephone decision for five or six weeks at the earliest.

It is a good rule to accept only such medicines as are known to be worthy of confidence. It has been the experience of thousands that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine ever used for throat and lung diseases.

GOVERNMENT EXPERT'S REPORT

Concerning Gems and Precious Stones Found in the United States.

The report of George F. Kunz, the expert in gems, which has just been issued by the geological survey, contains much interesting information relating to the discovery of precious stones in the United States. The list of accidental finds throughout the country is large enough to be inspiring. Mr. Kunz calls them accidental, and then says that at Salida, Colo., over a ton of garnets have been picked up during the year. They find garnets of the same sort in Lewiston, Idaho. Some of the pure, clear quartz, when it comes in big chunks, is quite valuable. They found some very large masses in Virginia early in the year. They were reported as transparent crystals of quartz, one weighing 642 pounds, another 340 pounds. When these reached New York, however, they proved not to be crystals, but veins of translucent quartzite, with crystalline markings of a group rather than of a single crystal, and the clear spaces, which were only observed on these crystalline sides, would not afford a crystal ball more than one inch in diameter. The larger part was almost white with flaws. "Such would do, however, to sell to tourists," says Mr. Kunz, naively.

Some amethysts have been found during the past year at Deer Island, Me.; also a few amethysts are found at Burrville, R. I. A precious stone of much interest is an opaque white hydrophane discovered in Colorado. The finder has named it "magic stone," because, as usual with this mineral, it possesses the property of becoming absolutely transparent if water is dropped slowly on it from one to three minutes. It is so porous that it will absorb its own weight of water. It quickly recovers its opacity. A beautiful pink chalcedony has been found at Cisco, Utah. It admits of a high polish, but it has not yet been introduced in any quantity.

T. F. Lamb and G. C. Hatch mined for a time at the Mount Apatite locality, near Auburn, Me., and found tourmaline gems and minerals to the value of $500. This locality will be further worked. Quite a large number of the yellow, green and white beryls found in Litchfield county have been nicely cut and extensively sold. The cut gems sold during the past year are valued at $5,000, but a large part of this sum probably represents the cutting and other necessary expenses. The Marion Bullion company, at Marion, N. C., does not make a business of digging for gems, but Col. Deming has found so many garnets there that it paid him to sell them in quantities to manufacturing jewelers. There was also one fine amethyst of a magnificent purple color and over one inch across, fine aquamarines from one to six carats in weight and some beautiful chloritic inclusions in quartz, which, when polished, show very fine landscape effects.—Washington Cor. New York Sun.

Fluctuations of Rainfall.

Of all current meteorological phenomena, rainfall is the most irregular, both as to time and place. The rainfall of one year may be double or treble that of the year before or the year following. At any one station these fluctuations are ordinarily so great as to thoroughly mask any secular change. It may vary greatly from place to place, even though the distance be small, while the change of the location of a gauge from the ground to the top of a house may make it give very different indications. For these reasons it is apparent that reliable results, in regard to a general increase or decrease of rainfall, are to be obtained only by combining a large number of observations scattered over many years and over the greatest possible variety of conditions.—Henry Gannett in Science.

Fruit from Across Water.

Philadelphia, next to New York, receives more fruit from across the ocean than any other port. When the regular season begins two or three steamers arrive every week, each containing from 20,000 to 30,000 boxes of oranges and lemons, making an average of 60,000 boxes of fruit received weekly.—Chicago Times.

Nothing New.

It is a mistake to think Volapuk is a new language. The brakemen on passenger trains in this country have used it for years to call out the names of stations.—Peoria Transcript.

Under the Sphinx' Eye.

Farther on is the desert; on the right is the desert; in front is the desert; all around is a vast plain, now golden, now red, now in part black, now gray, changing as the sun changes, as the great shadows of the pyramids are projected upon it, or as the moon comes with its pale light and tones down the grand chromatic display. The only variation in the wondrous expanse comes from the mounds of sand here and there. These last change agreeably to the whims of the wind. Like draught animals, at one moment they seem to be resting and waiting for their call to labor. Then the airy messenger comes and gives the word. At once the sand begins to rise in slender spirals. Body and strength are gathered as it continues whirling and ascending, until it towers aloft like a great black column. Now it is joined by a wild company impelled by the wind, and all hasten across the plain—all rising higher and higher, all wavering, spinning with awful velocity, until, their destination reached, they flare at the top like water spouts, break and burst high in the air, and are diffused—a terrible storm—upon the plain below. Woe be to man or camel on whom descends the awful weight! As far as the eye can see southward lies Egypt, the silvery Nile creeping along between the bands of emerald. Within view are over forty pyramids.—Scribner's Magazine.

How a Dying Child Was Saved!

CICERO, HAMILTON CO., IND., Sept. 19, 1887.—The following is a true account of what your S. S. S. has done for our little daughter, Hazel, now four years old. When 12 months old a lump appeared on her heel, which slowly grew larger. The family physician thought it was caused by a piece of broken glass or needle, but failed to bring anything to light. The child became feebler all the time, seeming to lose the use of her leg, and finally quit walking entirely. The middle finger and thumb of either hand became enlarged, the flesh becoming hard. The hip joints became involved, so that when seventeen months old she could not stand, having lost the use of leg and arm. Partial curvature of the spine also followed. The nervous system was wrecked, muscles contracted, and there was general wasting of flesh and muscle. At eighteen months of age she was placed under the treatment of a prominent physician of Boston, Mass., but at the end of ten months she had declined to such a degree that she was in a dying condition. This was in April, 1886. We took the child away not knowing what to do. In this dreadful dilemma we were over-persuaded by friends to try "one bottle" of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC, which we did, and before it had all been taken we saw a change for the better in her symptoms. We kept it up, and have done so to this day, and will keep it up, if the Lord wills, for many days to come, for it has brought our dying Hazel to life, to vigor, to strength and health again. The ashen hue of her cheeks has changed to a rosy tint. She is able to walk anywhere, her languor and melancholy have passed away, and she is now a blithe, cheerful, happy romping child. Should you wish to increase your testimonials of proof of the virtue of S. S. S., our names and what we have said is but a portion of what we owe to you, should you wish to use them.

Kindly yours,
BEN. F. SWIFT.

Democratic National Convention.

The democratic national committee have fixed upon June 5th as the date for holding the national convention of the party, and St. Louis, Mo., as the place. It took a good many ballots to decide on the place, and a decision was not reached until the second day of the committee's session.

When we consider, if we may rely upon the assertions of the leading democrats, that all the democratic national convention will have to do next summer will be to nominate Mr. Cleveland and proclaim a broad-built platform of free-trade, with the selection of a candidate for vice president who will be agreeable as far his political associations are concerned, to his excellency, the wonder is why the place for holding the convention should be a question of so much contest.

The free-traders are by no means to have entire control of the convention. The "saloon in politics" will be there. The movements of the anti-saloon republicans in New York state have been regarded with no small degree of anxiety by the Whitney men. This element will require certain guarantees from the democracy in national politics, in the same manner they are freely offered in state elections, and its influence has not only been felt in the designating of the place, but will be in much of the management of the party machinery.

The Proposed Treaty.

The full text of the fisheries treaty as agreed upon by the commissioners, has been published. Some of the fishermen, and some of the fishing firms, are pleased with it, and others are much displeased. Some call it a victory, and some a surrender.

Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury, who is an authority par excellence upon the rights of our fishermen, considers the new treaty as a surrender. He says the commission and the administration do not seem to have comprehended the real issues between this country and Great Britain, neither have they removed the bones of contention between the two nations. The judge thinks the senate will not ratify it.

A despatch of Feb. 23d to the Boston Journal says the treaty will fail of ratification, and it is doubtful if it will get even a majority vote.

Reconstructed Boston.

One after another the ancient and familiar landmarks of Boston are removed, to give place to some architectural monstrosity which as much offends by its uncouth proportions as the removed structure once occupying its site gratified the beholder. The Albion in Tremont street is being demolished, to be succeeded by some colossal dry goods shop or some aggravated Cheap John where bargains will be struggled for by crowds of country customers. The Tremont house has been sold by Mr. Millionaire Sears to Mr. F. L. Ames, to be used, some say, for a depot for the West End railway. Alas! for the old Tremont, where Dickens and Thackery put up, where our respected fathers used to spend their ducats when their ships came home from the Indies, and in whose cafe now is the best lunch to be had in town. Old Boston will soon be owned by a trust combination, which perhaps may permit us to have views of its former structures very much as we can visit the cyclorama of Bunker Hill, and find, after an exhaustive search, the pictures of the gallant [illegible] from this region with the captured powder from Fort William and Mary at our harbor's entrance, which was such a factor in turning the tide of a contest upon which Boston took out a perpetual patent right as if it were a mere local fact.

Blaine and Harrison, and Protection.

The New York Tribune publishes the following:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 18th.

Editor of the Tribune: Why should Mr. Blaine not be nominated? His letter does not preclude a nomination, and now that the issue of Free Trade vs. Protection is to be sharply drawn, who is better fitted to lead the protection side than he? In my opinion it would be the height of ingratitude to refuse to nominate him now that we are about to achieve victory on that issue. Certainly he above all others deserves to reap the glory of such a victory, for he has been for years head and shoulders above every one else in advocating protection, and forcing the democrats to show their free-trade hands.

Again, he is undoubtedly the most available candidate, for with him the Pacific slope is assured beyond a peradventure, and the manufacturing states of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut are strongly republican when their protected interests are at stake. I want to see the Tribune urge his nomination, for with him at the head of the ticket we shall surely win. Blaine and Harrison could not be beaten. That ticket would sweep the country. We are still for James G. Blaine up here.

YOUNG REPUBLICAN.

The secretary of war, in compliance with the Boutelle resolution, has transmitted to the house a long-winded report on the battle-flag business. Boiled down, it amounts to saying that the attempt of the president and his secretary of war to manufacture political capital by illegally returning the flags to the ex-confederates who had not asked for them, was abandoned before any of them had been returned, on account of the storm of indignation aroused by the proposition. For this the secretary thinks he and his boss deserve great credit.

The Montreal Herald declares the fisheries treaty to be an ignominious surrender of every Canadian claim to the exigencies of an American presidential election. This means, if it means anything, that England is very anxious to secure President Cleveland's re-election, and is willing to do a good deal in furtherance of that matter.

Who are the anarchists? What is their doctrine? Why would they overthrow society and government, and what do they wish to substitute? These are questions frequently asked by thoughtful citizens. An article by Z. L. White, in the March number of "The American Magazine," will answer such inquiries, and show the depth and virulence of the disease of which the Haymarket murders were only a symptom.

A late issue of the "American Architect & Building News" contains a double-page illustration of the new Senter house which is now in process of construction at Centre Harbor. The hotel is to be one of the largest and most perfect summer-resort houses in the United States, and judging from its picture, one of the most handsome as well. It occupies the same site as did the old house, and will be under the same capable management which made that house so popular.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered:

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time established her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to giving time."

J. Castagna, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

"Keep It Dark."

As a laughing success "Keep It Dark" is way ahead of most of the farce comedies of the day. The music is bright, and the dialogue sparkling with wit.—Cincinnati Telegram.

"Keep it Dark" is a hit—a palpable hit.—New York News.

"Keep it Dark" was written for fun only, and it largely fills the claim.—New York Times.

These statements will be heartily endorsed by all who saw the piece played in Music hall when the company was here before; it is full of fun, and does not lack for bright and pleasing music. At Music hall this evening; tickets at Goodrich's bookstore.

The P. A. C. Entertainment.

The third annual minstrel and athletic show of the Portsmouth Athletic club, in Music hall on the evening of Washington's birthday, was a more positive success than even the preceding two. Every seat was filled, and nearly every foot of standing room was occupied.

The stage setting was the handsomest ever seen in Music hall, and called forth universal applause on the rising of the curtain. The olio included many original and amusing features, and a variety of songs, both comic and sentimental, were well sung and warmly applauded. The athletic part of the exhibition was very fine all through, the club swinging by Fred E. Hasty and Joseph P. Connor being especially pleasing. The numerous encores made the performance a long one, and it was some time after eleven o'clock before it closed.

One very pleasant feature of the entertainment was the presentation early in the evening of a very beautiful and elaborate floral piece, standing nearly four feet high and bearing the inscription "Friendship," from the Nonpareil Associates.

The gross receipts were about $700, and though the expenses were large the club will have several hundred dollars to cover into the treasury.

The entertainment will be repeated next Monday night, with improvements the boys say.

Navy Yard Notes.

Twelve shipwrights were discharged from the gang employed on the repairs of the dry dock, Thursday evening, on account of the shortness of funds. A gang of about a dozen caulkers will go on this morning, under charge of Master Carpenter Fernald.

First Lieut. W. P. Biddle, U. S. M. C., has been detached from duty at the League island navy yard, and ordered to the Portsmouth navy yard, and to command the marine guard of the U. S. S. Swatara on March 1st. Lieut. A. Reynolds is ordered from the Washington navy yard, Ensign J. H. Shipley from the receiving ship Franklin, and Ensign B. O. Chace from the naval observatory, to the Swatara. Lieut. Wm. C. Strong is ordered to the Swatara.

The U. S. S. Pensacola, Capt. George Dewey commanding, late flagship of the European squadron, before reported as having grounded near Cape Charles on Saturday, Feb. 18th, arrived at the Norfolk navy yard on the 20th. Capt. Dewey was at the navy department, Washington, on the 21st, and reported the vessel as having sustained no damage. The secretary of the navy on the 21st ordered the inspection board of which Rear Admiral Jouett is president to meet at Norfolk on the 23d, for the purpose of inspecting the Pensacola.

A Washington despatch says: "Commodore Melville, engineer-in-chief of the navy, has has returned to this city from Portsmouth, N. H., where he has been inspecting the Swatara and the Kearsarge. The latter vessel will be ready in about six months. The commodore is enthusiastic over the performance of the Swatara, her engines developing 1500 horse-power while under but two-thirds presure." We doubt the Kearsarge being ready, or anything near it, in six months.

Municipal Affairs.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Feb. 23d:

Present the full board; Mayor Hodgdon in the chair:

Petition of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union for use of the south ward-room was referred to the committee on city lands and buildings, with power.

Petition of the committee of arrangements on the dedicatory services of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, was referred to the special committee appointed to draw up the annual appropriation bill.

The board voted to continue the use of the steam gong at the Portsmouth Brewing Co.'s brewery, provided the cost is not to exceed $200 a year.

The committee on accounts reported bills to the amount of $1350, which were ordered to be paid.

The mayor and Aldermen Urch and Ayers were appointed a special committee to draw up and report the annual appropriation bill.

Hoist With His Own Petard.

Mr. John Shaw of Newburyport, one of the dynamiters employed by the Boston & Maine road to blow to pieces the ice fields between the Dover point bridge and Great bay, had a somewhat surprising experience one day the first of this week. He and his gang were working on one side of the river, and Mr. Carroll of this city with a gang on the opposite side, and Shaw had just put a dynamite cartridge down through a hole in the ice, when it was exploded by the concussion of a discharge by Carroll on the other side, and the ice on which Shaw stood, and for twenty feet around, went into the air and fell back into the water in pieces. Mr. Shaw caught hold of the battery wire, and held on until his assistants arrived and pulled him out, wet but unhurt.

Maritime Notes.

Ship Granite State, of this port, Ross master, arrived at New York on Feb. 21st, from China.

Ship Thomas Dana, Capt. Gerrish, sailed from New York for Batavia, Java, Feb. 21st.

The steamer Pottsville, Ritson master, from Baltimore with 1627 tons of coal, and the schooner King Philip, Coombs master, from Newport News with 1830 tons, arrived at this port Feb. 23d, both to J. Albert Walker. The A. Adams, Haskell master, from Hoboken, with 1136 tons of coal for Mr. Walker, also arrived the same day.

The schooner United States, Archibald master, bound from Eastport for Boston with eighty barrels and 11,000 boxes of herring, sprung a leak and was run ashore at Oaks point, Kennebunk, on the morning of Feb. 23d. Vessel and cargo a total loss; crew saved.

William B. Church of Taunton, Mass., who already owns several of the largest schooners in the world, has decided to have built a five-masted schooner of about 3000 tons burthen, to be steered by steam, and costing about $70,000. She will constructed by Rogers & Co., of Bath, Me., and will have eight feet between decks, instead of six feet, as the other mammoth schooners have, the idea being to strengthen the lower part of the vessel by placing the knees lower. Four of her masts will be of Oregon pine, each 115 feet long—the longest sticks ever used on this coast, and which were brought from Oregon to Bath for the schooner Sarah W. Lawrence of Taunton, but arrived too late for use in that vessel. This immense schooner is intended to bring coal to deep-water ports like Portsmouth. The tendency in coal carriage is to have it shipped in sailing vessels of large capacity, which can compete with the Reading steamers.

Hon. L. F. McKinney, member of Congress from this district, gives notice that he has an appointment to make of a cadet at the naval academy, and of one at West Point. A competitive examination, open to all of proper age, will be held in Manchester early in April, and those desiring to compete will receive the necessary instructions on applying to Mr. McKinney.

J. Albert Walker drops the price of coal half a dollar on a ton to-day, and further reductions will be made as soon as the wholesale prices and freight rates will allow.

The beautiful silver tea service presented to Chief Engineer Marden by the firemen on Tuesday evening of this week was put on exhibition in Hutchinson's window on Thursday. It is handsomely inscribed as follows: "Presented to Herbert A. Marden, Chief Engineer Portsmouth Fire Dep't, by the active and honorary members of M. H. Goodrich S. F. E. Co., No. 4, Feb. 21, 1888."

Persons holding admission tickets for the P. A. C. entertainment of Feb. 22d, can exchange them on payment of difference for seats on Feb. 27th, the date of repetition; or persons so desiring, can have their money refunded. Remember, admission tickets for the first entertainment do not admit to the second.

Mr. Albion S. Carroll says that some of the ice blown to pieces above the Dover point bridge was twelve feet thick, in places along the shore. This heavy ice was probably formed by a thickness being frozen to the bottom at low tide, other layers forming above it at high water, to rest upon and freeze to the one below with the next ebb.

While a train from Boston for Portland over the western division of the Boston & Maine railroad was rounding a curve near the Madbury station, Wednesday forenoon of this week, a spring on the mail car broke, letting the car cant over on that side. By careful running the train reached Dover in safety, and there the car was jacked up and then taken to North Berwick, where the broken spring was replaced by a new one. The eastbound mail was taken to Portland on the eastern division.

The night freight train on the Nashua & Rochester railroad ran off the track at Isinglass bridge in Barrington early in the morning on the 22d inst. Seventeen cars left the rails, and some of them were considerably stove up. Cause of accident, a broken rail. No person was injured.

Orrin Hamilton, who was for several years conductor on the Boston & Maine railroad, is now very sick at his home in Great Falls. Some little time ago a large collection was taken up among the runners who knew Hamilton when on the road, to be given to the veteran, but up to Monday night of this week, when a committe from the subscribers called upon Mrs. Hamilton, the money had not been received.

The republicans of Biddeford on the evening of Feb. 22d nominated Gilman P. Littlefield for mayor.

UNCERTAINTIES.

Her lines bonnet,
Pink cotton gown,
Roses printed on it,
Hands burnt brown.
Oh! blithe were all the piping birds, and the golden belted bees,
And blithe sang she on the doorstep, with her apron full of peas.

Sound of scythe and mowing,
Where buttercups grew tall;
Scent of red kine lowing
And early milkmaid's call.
Sweet she sang on the doorstep, with the young peas in her lap,
And he came whistling up the lane, with the ribbons in his cap.

"You called me a bad penny
That wouldn't be sent away—
But here's good-by to you, Jenny,
For many and many a day.
There's talk of cannon and killing—
Nay, never turn so white!
And I've taken the king's shilling—
I took it last night."
Oh! merry, merry piped the thrushes up in the cherry tree,
But dumb she sat on the doorstep, and out through the gate went he.

Scent of hay and summer;
Red evening sky;
Noise of fife and drummer;
Men marching by.
The hay will be carried presently, and the cherries gathered all,
And the corn stand yellow in the shocks, and the leaves begin to fall.

Perhaps some evening after,
With no more song of thrush,
The lads will stagger, their laughter
And the maids their clatter hush;
And word of blood and battle
Will mix with the sound of the flail,
And lowing of the cattle
And clink of the milking pail;
And one will read half fearful,
A list of names aloud,
And a few will stagger, tearful,
Out of the little crowd.
And she, perhaps half doubting,
Half knowing why she came,
Will stand among them, pouting,
And hear, perhaps, his name—
Will weep, perhaps, a little, as she wanders up the lane,
And wish one summer morning were all to do again.

—Mary Probyn in Macmillan's Magazine.

To Straighten the Form.

Persons troubled with a tendency to stoop, and who are becoming round shouldered, are advised to walk with the palms of the hands forward, the thumbs outward. It will do wonders toward straightening a bent form, as any soldier will testify.—New York Sun.

According to The Musical Courier, the number of pianos manufactured in this country in 1887 has been 52,000, requiring 4,576,000 keys, as many hammers, 200,000 casters, over 12,000,000 tuning pins and some 1,500,000 brass agraffes.

During the last few years the growth of the towns on the Pacific coast has been very remarkable.

MESSRS. PROCTER & GAMBLE, CINCINNATI, O.

GENTLEMEN:—Although a stranger to you, and my testimonial entirely unnecessary, as it certainly is unsolicited, yet I take great pleasure in testifying to the excellence of your IVORY SOAP, and thanking you for putting it on the market at so low a price.

It has entirely supplanted the use of Castile and other fine soaps in my household for several years past, being in no way inferior and from fifty to seventy-five per cent. more economical.

A good test I find for the purity of a soap is to try it with a brush for cleansing the teeth, and the taste of the Ivory so used is perfectly sweet and clean.

Very Respectfully Yours, W. S. BAKER, M.D.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

The Origin of a Common Saying.

"The divinity student's broke out again," said the young man that boards on South Division street. "We were sitting at dinner today, and Miss Staggs she up and says one of her pupils will never set the river on fire. The divinity student looked up and said: 'I see that you, like other good people, are in error occasionally.' 'What do you mean?' said Miss Staggs, getting red in the face. 'I mean,' said the divinity student, 'that when you talk about setting the river on fire you are using an old saying that's got off the track. It used to be, "He'll never set the Thames on fire," and people when they said it had in mind the river Thames; on the contrary it means a miller's sieve, called a temse, which was used in the old wind and water mill days. This temse had a wooden rim, which slid back and forth in a wooden frame. If the man that worked it was energetic in his work he sometimes set the temse on fire from friction. Hence it was said of a dull, slow person that he would never set the temse on fire, and the saying has been corrupted to its present form.'"—Buffalo Courier.

The Venezuelan's National Weapon.

The machete, a broad sword or knife, about two or three feet long, and carried without a sheath, is the universal arm of Venezuela and Central America. In the southern states of this country the principal use for the machete is for cutting sugar cane, but in South America it replaces the pocket knife, the axe and the sword. The llanero or haciendero is never seen without it. He cuts bread with it, peels sugar cane, cuts bananas and other fruit from the trees, chops wood, cuts his way through the primeval forests, slaughters hens or pigs and defends himself against the attacks of wild beasts and serpents. There is no better arm against the serpents than a machete, for with a single stroke the native will cut them in two.—E. De Hesse Wartegg.

The Unselfish Japanese.

Go where you will you can find nowhere such a bright, good tempered, laughter loving and innately polite people as these Japs. They are full of jokes and are as unselfish as human nature can be; generous, trustful and faithful, patient, gentle and brave. They have a strong pride, too, that is nowhere more clearly shown than in the fact that though a Jap seldom passes a beggar without giving him something, yet there are comparatively few in the country. If you are annoyed by being followed about by a curious, but note, a respectful, crowd, you have only to hold out a coin and they melt away like shekels at a church fair; they feel hurt at being taken for mendicants.—Tokio Cor. New York Tribune.

Montreal's Bad Boy.

"Why, what's the matter, Johnny?" inquired a fond Montreal mother, as her 4-year-old came into the house crying bitterly.

"N-nurse says th-that if I aint a b-b-better boy the boodlers will c-catch me."—The Epoch.

The Portland Advertiser is amusing itself and the public by copying from the democratic Argus of that city the pretty things it said about Neal Dow at the time he was a candidate for mayor of Portland in 1855. Then Gen. Dow was the prohibition candidate, and the Argus was against him. Now he is the prohibition and democratic candidate, and the Argus is for him.

Helping the Right Side.

To help the right side is not only commendable in a general point of view, but is judicious and prudent when that help is enlisted in behalf of the right side of the body, just over the lower ribs in the region of the liver. The most efficient help is afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an anti-bilious medicine of incomparable efficacy. Inaction of the liver is accompanied by constipation, sick headache, furred tongue, nausea, occasional vertigo, an unpleasant breath, yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye. The author of these symptoms, liver complaint, routed by the Bitters is accompanied by them in its flight. Fever and ague, which always involves the liver, dyspepsia, rheumatism, debility and kidney troubles are all maladies to the early relief and final cure of which this standard medicine is adapted. Don't use it by fits and starts, but systematically, that its full effects may result in a perfect restoration to health.

The story is current in New York that the congressmen who were the authors of the Reading strike investigation sold the stock short. In the meantime the Reading company settles with its miners, and the congressmen are caught on the advance to 67 1-2. Thinking to get even, they then "go long," but another strike is threatened, the stock declines, and the honorable gentlemen are once more caught.

Don't Get Caught

This spring with your blood full of impurities, your digestion impaired, your appetite poor, kidneys and liver torpid, and whole system liable to be prostrated by disease—but get yourself into good condition, and ready for the changing and warmer weather, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stands unequalled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general spring medicine.

The empress of Austria, having been forced to give up hunting, has taken up fencing for exercise.

Women with pale, colorless faces, who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills, which are made for the blood, nerves and complexion.

The former school commissioner of Oswego county, N. Y., was ousted by the men of the county at the last election, they giving three hundred majority for Miss Ida L. Griffin. He then claimed that she could not legally hold the office, because she was a woman. He has now abandoned the contest as hopeless. Miss Griffin is in full and undisputed possession of the office.

It is a good rule to accept only such medicines as are known to be worthy of confidence. It has been the experience of thousands that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine ever used for throat and lung diseases.

Divorces were granted to a mother and her daughter on the same day in the circuit court at Gladwin, Mich.

They begin to soothe and absorb the pain the moment you apply one. Hop Plasters.

It is not always the umpire who suffers in base ball disputes. At Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 22d, the university students played a game, and J. C. Johnson, aged twenty-one years, was killed by the umpire, Ben Magill, who smashed his skull with a bat for disputing a decision.

Colorado women are trying to secure the establishment of a state industrial school for boys and girls.

Everybody needs a spring medicine. By using Ayer's Sarsaparilla the blood is thoroughly cleansed and invigorated, the appetite stimulated, and the system prepared to resist the diseases peculiar to the summer months. Ask for Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Take no other.

Mme. Barrios, widow of the late president of Guatemala, is engaged to be married to an English nobleman of high rank. She is worth several millions of dollars, is a wonderful beauty, is well under forty, and has eight fine sons.

Something that will quiet the nerves, give strength to the body, induce refreshing sleep, improve the quality of the blood, and purify and brighten the complexion, is what many persons would be very glad to obtain. Carter's Iron Pills are made exactly for this class of troubles, and are remarkably successful in accomplishing the ends desired, as named above. They are useful for both men and women. Price fifty cents a box.

AMONG THE KANAKAS.

What a Visitor Saw in Tahiti—A Joyous Occasion—Open Air Dancing.

"Band night" is a joyous occasion, dear to the memory of all visitors to the island. On Thursday nights the French garrison band plays before the government house in a little plaza carpeted with turf and bordered with spreading trees. On one side are venders of beer and liquors—miserable stuff—on another women sell fruit and flowers, and in the center is the brilliantly lit band stand. As the band strikes up the people grow wild with joy. Around the stand skip men and girls, singly, in pairs and in rows, heads up, eyes bright, teeth showing, clasping each other by waist or shoulder, laughing and calling to each other, while the dust fairly chokes the puffing, blowing musicians. If a dancer falls in the mad whirl a scream of excitement rises and only dies away when the prostrate one rises and dances on. Between the selections they refresh themselves with beer or fruit, while the officers or young men of the town buy flowers and wreaths for the girls, as happy with their "leis" as a debutante with her bouquets. A tall young globe trotter advances to a group of dusky beauties, holding high the finest lei he can purchase. There is a scream of delight from a dozen pretty mouths, a dozen rounded arms are thrust at the prize as the garlanded heads bob up and down, and then there is a rush and he is overwhelmed. They climb upon his head and shoulders and pluck the wreath to pieces, leaving him disheveled and overcome by such a whirlwind of arms and legs.

Then the band strikes up and away they all go again. At last the bandsmen form in the street, the torchlight tradesmen disappear with the remnant of their wares, and the crowd gathers in line before and behind the band. The street being darker than the plaza, even those whose dignity and respectability kept them from joining the dancers around the stand, are now found in the ranks. Officers from foreign men of war, yachtsmen, townspeople, globe trotters, away they all go, nymphs and satyrs, in wild Bacchanalian dance down the dimly lit street, under the trees meeting in an arch overhead, now to the right, then back across the street, each line at its own sweet will. Dignity falls to the ground when a smile and a glance from a flower decked maiden comes bearing an invitation to clasp hands or waists and "follow the band." The "Pied Piper of Hamelin" could lead away these people any time.

The band halts for some reason and we get ahead of it, a line of us across the street. On my right is a young lady with a wreath of yellow flowers on her black tresses, another around her neck. I don't believe she can speak a word of English, and don't try to make her do so—there is no need. Beyond her there is a man and then another girl—there are twelve in the line. The band strikes up behind us and everybody begins dancing. We can take any step we like; we are off the ground most of the time; and down the street we go. Suddenly my arm is grasped by a strong hand which slips through and I have on my left a big Kanaka dressed in waistcloth and coat, with head thrown back and laughing for pure joy. Away we go, running and dancing against the people ahead of us, breaking into the lines, first one and then another, until we bring up against a row of figures clad in dark blue, a party of sailors. We try to break this line, too, but the stalwart fellows stop altogether and back up the whole procession, digging their heels into the ground and bracing themselves against the attacking lines. There is a wild uproar and they dart forward with all the rout in pursuit, only to repeat the performance later. Meanwhile the right wing of our line pulls out to the side, and off we dance up the side of the street to get nearer the band, which has been left far in the rear. We come into line with a swing, and I play "crack the whip" with my Kanaka friend and bang him here and there into the midst of dancing rows.

No one thinks of getting angry, and you can do as you please, so down we go through the lines ahead of us till we strike again that stout row of sailors having their watch ashore to-night. Out again to the side, a dance back to the band—and all repeat. A street light has shown me that my young lady on the right has a pretty face and is enjoying herself hugely. She stands the "cracking the whip" and the breaking lines with perfect ease. At last the band turns into the market place and ceases playing; the wild, fascinating dance is over. We mop, pant and walk away to a friendly home, where we drink tea and eat bread and jam with our host and hostess till long past midnight.—Papeete (Tahiti) Cor. New York Tribune.

The Rogue's Latest Device.

The latest London rogue's device is to drive a hansom, and from that elevated position to pick out from the roofs of four wheelers such articles of luggage as seem most promising. These he places on the roof of his own cab, and drives away with them, presumably to some railway station. The proceeding is of the neatest kind, and every precaution is taken that forethought can suggest. In order that the spectacle of luggage on an empty cab should not excite suspicion, a temporary fare is provided, called a "buck;" he has nothing to do but look as if he owned the property over his head, though in reality he knows nothing about it, and is speculating in his own mind as to whether it is a carpetbag or a portmanteau.—The Argonaut.

At the mouth of the Congo there is a remarkable submarine valley. Just at the mouth of the river it is 1,403 feet deep, and it can be distinctly traced for 100 miles out to sea.—New York Sun.

SAVED HIS LEG!

SCROFULA OF THE BONE CURED!

LITHONIA, Ga., August 11, 1887.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—I have been afflicted with ulceration of the legs ever since I was a child, the disease manifestly being hereditary, as my mother suffered from scrofulous symptoms. As I advanced to manhood my affliction increased until the malady became harrassing and painful beyond the power of words to describe. My right leg particularly became fearfully involved, the left leg being less painfully affected. Finally, about fourteen years ago, the ulcers on my right leg had eaten through the flesh into the bone. In order to save my life the doctors determined to amputate my leg below the knee. The operation was successfully performed by Dr. W. F. M. Miller, of Atlanta, and Dr. W. F. Bond, of Lithonia. But the loss of my leg gave me only temporary relief. The poison was still in my system and soon began to show itself again. In a short time after large ulcers appeared on my left leg, covering it from the knee to the instep. Frequently while at work I could be tracked by the blood which oozed from the huge ulcers, and the sores and rotting holes were so offensive that my fellow-workmen could not stand the stench and would move away from me.

Last winter I was persuaded to try S. S. S. As a last effort I consented to do so, and about seven months ago I began taking the specific. I soon began to feel the good effects of the medicine, the offensive running began to grow less and less and finally ceased, the ulcers healed, my flesh became firm and solid, and to-day, after using twenty one bottles, I am as sole and stout a man of my age as there is in Georgia. I am seventy-one years old, but feel now younger and stronger than I did when I was twenty-five. I weigh about 190 pounds. Nothing is to be seen of the terrible disease, or to remind me of the torture I suffered for so many years, except the scars of the perfectly healed ulcers.

I want the world to know of the almost miraculous cure effected on me by S. S. S., and I call upon those who wish to know the particulars directly from me to write, and I will consider it a pleasure as well as a duty to answer their letters. I refer to Dr. W. F. Bond, of Lithonia, as to the truth of my statement. Very gratefully yours,

B. DRAKE.

They Don't Like it.

Secretary Maddocks of the National Fishery Association has received many telegrams from prominent New England men in regard to the proposed fishery treaty, among them the following:

From Charles Levi Woodbury, Boston; "Mr. Chamberlain deserves a peerage; his victory is complete; the treaty is more of a shameful surrender in the day of our national power than was that of 1818 extorted in time of our national weakness and peril, making no indemnity for the past outrages, and the Senate would cover the Union with shame should it ratify these articles of capitulation to a power whose conduct the late Secretary Manning declared was brutal. Can't go into details, I fear it is a sad mistake."

From R. S. Spofford, Boston, "The treaty offers no idemnity for the spoliations of 1886 on our trade and vessels. It surrenders fishing rights guaranteed us by former treaties; it gives our flag or our fishermen no new advantages, it admits that the Canadians were right and we were wrong in past discussions; it not only cancels our commercial rights, but robs the United States of large and valuable fishing areas, both in bays and deep seas. Thank God that the American Senate is still extant and that it is no inconsiderable part of the treaty making power."

From George Steele, president of the American Fishery Union, Boston: "The proposed treaty is liable to do a great deal more harm than good to American fishermen; it involves submission to the efforts now being made by Great Britain to destroy both the American and the French fisheries upon the banks, and this, in a national point of view, is to be deplored by every progressive democrat and every patriotic republican. There will be no division of opinion in Gloucester. I trust you will set your face like flint against it."

They Do Like It---And Why Shouldn't They?

The Ottawa, Ont., Journal says: "It is with feelings of intense satisfaction that Canadians will read the text of the fishery treaty. It is not going too far to say that the treaty is a signal triumph for the Dominion. Every important contention made by her in the dispute has been admitted. The new treaty will be an eye-opener to New England fish pirates, and ten to one there will be a howl from Gloucester and kindred places against its ratification."

The Ottawa Gazette says: "This is a step toward that reciprocity which the Canadian government have long been anxious to obtain, and have often been blamed by their opponents for not obtaining. The whole treaty, we think, can be regarded with satisfaction, both as a definition of Canada's rights, as a provision for reciprocity in an important industrial product, and chiefly as removing the cause of dissatisfaction with our nearest neighbor."

The London Times evidently sees a Canadian cat under the commission's meal. It remarks: "We shall be surprised if a majority of the Canadians do not appreciate the fisheries settlement highly. We are certain that the compromise will appear the more skillful the more closely it is examined."

A London despatch of Feb. 23d is as follows: "Mr. Phelps, the American minister, had a long interview with Lord Salisbury on the subject of the fisheries treaty, the text of which was before them. Lord Salisbury expressed approval of the substance and form of the document."

The Nasby Letters.

David Ross Locke, "Rev. Petroleum Vesuvius Nasby," whose death and interment took place at Toledo, Ohio, last week, wielded an immense power on the right side during the civil war. He was editor of the Findlay Jeffersonian, at the commencement of that great conflict, and in its columns appeared the first numbers of the renowned "Nasby" letters, the first bearing the date of April 21, 1861. These letters were dated at "Confederate X Roads, wich is in the Stait uv Kentucky." It is said that the first of these letters were composed as Locke stood at his composing case. In these letters the republican—that is, the Union—cause was treated in a manner that really placed the confederate cause in a ridiculous attitude, although pretending to uphold it. So firmly was it believed in the south that some over-zealous disciple of Jefferson was writing these letters, that many letters were received from that section asking the proprietors of the paper not to publish them, as they really injured the southern cause.

These political satires sprang at once into tremendous popularity. They were copied into newspapers everywhere, quoted in speeches, read around camp-fires of Union armies, and exercised enormous influence in molding public opinion in the north in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war. Secretary Boutwell declared in a speech at Cooper Union, New York, at the close of the war, that the success of the Union arms was due to three causes, viz.: "The army, the navy, and the Nasby letters." Charles Sumner declared: "Unquestionably they were among the influences and agencies by which disloyalty in all its forms was exposed, and public opinion assured upon the right side. It is impossible to measure their value. Against the devices of slavery and its supporters, each letter was like a speech, or one of those songs which stir the public." These letters were greatly appreciated and highly enjoyed by President Lincoln, who was not only entertained by their keen and cutting satire, but saw how great was their real value as a support of the Union cause.

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

More Generous Than Patriotic.

President Cleveland's proclamation suspending the collection of tonnage dues from German vessels arriving at American ports, so long as the German government reciprocates by exempting United States vessels from port charges, is one of those strokes of diplomacy and statesmanship peculiar to this administration. Taking into consideration the condition of the merchant marine of Germany and that of the United States, it is practically paying a subsidy to German vessels—a discrimination against American shipping interests. For instance, of 1,107 steamers which carried grain from New York to Europe last year, only one was of American register, and of seventy-four grain-carrying sailing vessels, only one was an American ship. This is one of the outcomes of a free-trade policy.

1000 Keystone Organs for $39 each. Upright Pianos 7½ octave, $196 each. Send for Circulars. DICKINSON, 10 E. 14th St., N. Y. d,w,f,o1mo25

A Kentucky girl glories in a head of hair which is seventy inches long and very thick, but our chief glory is the number of cures made recently by the use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the best remedy for coughs and colds.

An attempt was made on Thursday last to set fire to the Sprague block in Providence, R. I., the largest wooden building the state. It is suspected that most of the recent great fires in Providence have been set.

Don't Get Caught

This spring with your blood full of impurities, your digestion impaired, your appetite poor, kidneys and liver torpid, and whole system liable to be prostrated by disease—but get yourself into good condition, and ready for the changing and warmer weather, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stands unequalled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general spring medicine.

Ainsworth R. Spofford, the librarian of Congress, who is noted for his wonderful memory, is sixty-three years of age. He has held the position twenty-three years.

Backache is almost immediately relieved by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters Try one and be free from pain. Price twenty-five cents.

Big Dinners.

Every day in this city thousands of persons eat too much at dinner, and, as a consequence, suffer from sour stomach, heartburn, indigestion, dyspepsia, etc. If these will take just one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after eating, they will be surprised by the entire absence of those unpleasant feelings which daily distress them, and may continue in their improper course of eating big dinners without fear. Only one little pill, remember.

Clarence Whitney, the accomplice of "James Foster," in the Bennett robbery at East Newport, Me., at Bangor on Friday retracted his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty.

Almost miraculous are some of the cures accomplished by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In the case of R. L. King, Richmond, Va., who suffered for forty-seven years with an aggravated form of scrofula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected astonishing results.

Judge Frost of Dover has recovered the horse stolen from him six months ago. The animal was found in a livery stable at Manchester.

Peter Shaw, of West Winfield, N. Y., was afflicted with a severe cough, with pain in the side and lungs and general depression, causing himself and friends great alarm. He tried many remedies with no good results. One bottle of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry completely cured him.

Fifty-one thousand deaths from smallpox are reported to have taken place in Cuba during the present epidemic; the authorities are letting things run themselves.

Sensible people use sensible remedies —Hop Plasters quiet and allay pain instantly. Use one.

OH! MY HEAD.

The pain from Neuralgia and its companion disease Rheumatism is excruciating. Thousands who could be quickly cured are needlessly suffering. Ath-lo-pho-ros will do for others what it did for the following parties:

Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 8, 1887.

Having been afflicted with neuralgia for the past four years, and trying almost everything, but in vain, I finally heard of Athlophoros. After taking one bottle I found it to be helping me, and after taking four bottles of Athlophoros and one of Pills, I found that I was entirely well. I think the medicine is positively a sure cure.

CHAUNCEY B. RENDICK.

Mt. Carmel, Ill., Dec 26, 1887.

I have used Athlophoros in my family and find it to be the greatest medicine for neuralgia in existence and having had its fangs fastened upon me for the past 3 years I know whereof I speak. MRS. JULIA CHILTON.

Writer and Reader.

When the discovery is once made that, even apart from any merit of one's own, there is an audience provided in advance by the energy of publishers and editor, the sense of responsibility becomes very great, and with it the feeling that perhaps, even if what one writes is not very good or important, it may assume a certain merit through reaching some one who needs just that word. A clever woman once said that an orator must speak with much more confidence to an audience of five thousand than to one of a hundred, because among the hundred there might be no one who cared for the particular thing he was saying, whereas among the larger multitude there would probably be at least one. Thus the writer for any journal that circulates by the hundred thousand may feel that there is a reader always awaiting him somewhere, and who knows but what he says may fit the precise need of that one?

Now, to have one reader each week is really a great thing when we consider how much some stray scrap in a newspaper, perhaps not in itself especially wise, has occasionally influenced our own lives. Nothing encouraged me more to undertake these papers than a remark of my friend, Mr. James Parton, who told me that the one part of his literary life of whose usefulness he felt absolutely certain was the series of papers that he contributed weekly during many years to The New York Ledger. He rarely heard from them again, he said—it seemed a good deal as if they had been written and thrown into the sea—yet it was on them that he relied to satisfy himself that he had been of some real and permanent use to somebody, in his long career as a writer.—"T. W. H." in Harper's Bazar.

Catching Dairy Fed Fish.

Some miles beyond Burney falls, from the brow of a hill, we looked down hundreds of feet on Crystal lake, a glassy sheet of water more than a mile in length, now all ablaze with sunshine. We followed a steep road that led below to the meadows, green as English ones that poets sing of, that skirt the reed-edged waters to where a dairy stands, its low roofs trailed across by clinging hop vines. Just here the lake leaps over stony steps a bottle feet in height, and pours its foaming floods into a rapid stream that hurries on to Hat creek. These mimic falls span 150 feet, and circle many a tiny isle of richest grass and flowers. The mistress of this dairy stands on her steps in leisure moments and feeds her fishes curds. They crowd by hundreds open mouthed and eager. She takes advantage of their hunger and drops a hook among them. She draws a prize every time and throws it into a tank to be convenient for the frying pan. That morning she had hooked twenty.

"And how do you catch them again?" I said, watching the pretty creatures dart to and fro in their narrow prison.

"That's just what I'll show you now, as I'm going to let you folks take them all home." And seizing a pole with an iron point on the end this relentless woman speared her fish with every dash, flinging it out on the wet floor, where it wriggled and panted for a moment, and when it became quiet was carefully stowed away in a basket by Mrs. Charley. The lake had plenty more, and the mistress never found any trouble catching all they could possibly use.—Ninetta Eames in Overland Monthly.

A Troublesome Staple.

Cotton is the most troublesome staple of the world's commerce. From the hour of picking until the moment it passes out of the loom as a fabric it is susceptible of a million changes, each one of which affects its value on the market. A bale of cotton is so sensitive to heat and moisture that the weight varies every minute of the day, as you will find by actual experiment. On this account buyers and sellers are represented at the compresses by men who are styled "weighers," but whose duties are something more than recording weights or checking off receipts. On their judgment the value of a shipment or consignment can be increased or diminished by several hundred dollars, hence factories are careful to place only their clearest headed and most reliable men at the scales. A daub of mud at one corner of a bale may justify rebates with one package, while on another the seller's representative would not consent to any deductions. The deleterious effects of exposure to weather can be estimated at a glance by a skillful man, but, nevertheless, the process of weighing is accompanied by more frequent contention than any other part of the business. Then you must remember that if any crooked work has been done, a bale of cotton can be traced all the way from the mill through a hundred hands until you finally reach the planter who sold it in the first place.—Globe-Democrat.

Volapuk the Fad in New Orleans.

The study of Volapuk is the current fad with New Orleans ladies. It is possible that not all of them could give a tangible reason for learning a language that appears to be a hash up of all others, that has no literature and which no poets, or essayists or orators use, and which apparently offers a store of practically useless information. It is not certain that all of these students will stick until they acquire the language, although it is believed that a fair knowledge of it may be acquired in less than a half a dozen months. Volapuk, however, makes an original fad, and the study of it is very good training, that may lead to something better, more pleasant and more fruitful of good.—New Orleans Picayune.

At the mouth of the Congo there is a remarkable submarine valley. Just at the mouth of the river it is 1,452 feet deep, and it can be distinctly traced for 100 miles out to sea.—New York Sun.

These troubles can be soon relieved and cured by taking Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs, entirely removing these difficulties.

Cured his boy of Croup.

C. M. BROOKS, Lowell, Mass., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific as a cure for Coughs, Colds, and Croup. I used it in my family last winter with the best results. Two or three doses cured my little boy of Croup, for which I am very thankful."

You can cure that Cough in a short time. You can cure your Catarrh if you persist in its use, as it will stop the secretion of Catarrhal matter in the head; it will relieve Croup in from three to five minutes.

"The best medicine for Coughs and Consumptive Complaints that ever I saw is Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific," so says JOHN MCLAUGHLIN, of Boston.

An Irate Statesman.

Secretary Bayard is indignant at the hostile criticisms upon the fisheries treaty. He says they are due either to ignorance or malice. No intelligent man having even a superficial acquaintance with the questions involved can, in Mr. Bayard's judgment, read the treaty through without seeing that it is an excellent settlement of the disputes and difficulties of a century. From this it is evident that Mr. Bayard has very nearly a monopoly of the intelligence of the country. If he knew a little less, but knew something American, he would make a much better secretary of state for the United States.

Naval Intelligence.

The papers in the court martial cases of Lieut. Emory H. Taunt, U. S. N., and Lieut. Fisher, U. S. M. C., were put in official shape for the action of the president by Col. Remey's office on Feb. 17th, but did not reach the White House before the president's departure for Florida. At least another week will therefore elapse before these two cases are disposed of. The Stevenson case is also hung up for at least another week. It is stated that the court of inquiry in the Brooklyn navy yard matter finds that the transactions which brought Pay Inspector Stevenson before it involves nothing worse than negligence by which the government has suffered pecuniary loss. A reprimand is said to be recommended.

Carpenter D. W. M. Nash is ordered to the Swatara, which vessel is to go into commission at this navy yard March 1st. Gunner T. B. Watkins and Boatswain Francis A. Dran are detached from the receiving ship Wabash, and ordered to the Swatara.

Gunner John A. McDonald is ordered to ordnance duty at the New York navy yard.

Gunner William Wilson is ordered from the New York navy yard to the receiving ship Vermont.

Acting Boatswain Stephen McCarthy is detached from the receiving ship New Hampshire, and ordered to the Galena.

Boatswain Xavier Perrimond is ordered from the receiving ship Franklin to the New Hampshire.

Boatswain John H. Brown is ordered to the Franklin.

Lieut. Col. John L. Broome, U. S. M. C., is detached from command of the marine barracks at Boston on March 1st, and ordered to await retirement on March 8th.

"Ben Burton, the Slatepicker," by Harry Prentice. No. 6 of the "Boy's Home Library." Paper 12m. Price twenty-five cents. Published by A. L. Burt, 162 William street, New York.

The extraordinary popular success of the "Boy's Home Library" has been due to the most excellent quality of the stories which have appeared in the series. Such men as Horatio Alger, Jr., Harry Castleman, Edward S. Ellis, James Otis and others have each contributed stories in their best vein, and there are no better written for boys. The success of this "Boy's Home Library" proves that parents want good literature to put into their boy's hands, and these publications at a popular price exactly fill the demand. No. 6, just issued, is "Ben Burton, the Slatepicker," a capital story of the Pennsylvania coal mines, full of pathetic interest and stirring adventure. It is for sale at Goodrich's.

Says the Dover Democrat: "The Cleveland ones are crowing lustily over the election to fill a vacancy in Congress from the 11th district of Michigan, which the republicans always carried and have done it again now. It is true that there is a large reduction in their majority. The New York Herald says it was 8000 in 1884, but now it is only about 500, and that Cleveland's popularity and his stand on the tariff question are what did it. But the most authentic information squarely contradicts this view of the case. The democratic candidate was a man named Breen, a true democrat, but an open and avowed protectionist and an enemy of Cleveland's whole policy; while Seymour, the republican candidate, was nominated in face of the most bitter opposition of his own party, led by Jay Hubbell, the well known republican leader. It was openly charged that he got the nomination by smuggling a lot of democrats into the convention to vote for him. He was so unpopular, owing to his mugwump proclivities and frequent expressions favorable to Cleveland and his policy, that thousands of republicans voted against him, and for Breen, the anti-Cleveland democrat. That explains the whole business."

The United States has been enlarged so far as the house of representatives goes, by the passage of a bill which "extends the laws of the United States over the unorganized territory south of Kansas and Colorado and between Colorado and New Mexico," commonly called "No Man's Land." The senate has also passed the bill.

Montezuma and Tacoma are the names which the bill for the admission of the proposed new states recommends the people of two of them to adopt, instead of New Mexico and Washington. Montezuma is a grand name. Tacoma is good, but nothing like so grand. The people who had a chance to call their state Montezuma, and deliberately called it New Mexico, would not deserve to be admitted to the union as a state.

The following are among the recent transfers of real estate in York county, as left for record in the office of the register of deeds: South Berwick—Fred T. Nealley to South Berwick Building Co, real estate for $200; Napoleon Normandreau to Timothy D. Flynn, real estate for $450. Wells—Jotham L. Littlefield of York to Jedediah M. Perkins of Wells, land and buildings in Wells for $24.

On motion of Senator Frye, the senate bill to provide for an international marine congress for securing greater safety for life and property at sea, was taken from the calendar and passed last Thursday.

The Bath, Me., Times says that Mike Burns has again appeared in that city, and opened a shop for the purpose of selling imported liquors.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

The New York Tribune says that there is trouble in the camp of Jake Sharp's lawyers. Mr. Sharp has made a horizontal reduction of about fifty per cent in their bills, except in the case of Bourke Cockran, who won the old man's heart, as well as his case before the court of appeals, and got all he asked for. Among those who are left disconsolate are some of the most eminent legal luminaries of the city. It is rumored that they are to form a legal trust or combine to bring Jacob to terms if possible.

A New Counterfeit.

The banks have received official notification of the circulation of a new and dangerous counterfeit $5 silver certificate. It is upon the issue authorized by the act of Congress of August 4th, 1886, and known as "Department Series 1886," W. S. Rosecrans register of the treasury, James W. Hyatt treasurer of the United States, Check letter A—2023. The general appearance of the note is excellent, the color of treasury number and seal being good. The notch of the key in the seal of the counterfeit is simply a perpendicular line, however, while in the genuine it takes the shape of a "T." The bust of General Grant in the frame in the counterfeit has a scratchy, soiled look, with two white patches on the lower lip near the left corner of the mouth; otherwise the printing and engraving are very fair. The paper on which the bill is printed is lighter than the genuine, and has no parallel silk threads, and in addition is shorter than the genuine certificate.

The Children's Home.

We learn from the report of the trustees of the Chase Home for Children, which has just been published, that the number of children at the home at the time of the previous annual report, Feb. 1st, 1887, was fifteen; admitted during the year, nine; dismissed, three; making the number at the home on Feb. 1st, 1888, twenty-one, the largest number ever in the home at the time of any annual report.

Did Not Get Left.

Mike Welch, an alleged thief who formerly lived in Dover, was arrested in that city last week on a charge of stealing $65 worth of goods from a boarding house in Boston. While in the lockup he pried off one lock and picked another, and was just making his exit into the open air when he was discovered by an officer, who rushed him back into another cell. On Friday morning he was being escorted to the Boston train by Officer Stevens of Dover, and as it appeared to the officer that he was hanging back with the intention of missing the train, Mike was surprised by being suddenly thrown across one shoulder of the policeman, who troted into the station with his load just in time to deposit it in a car. The officer did not get left—neither did Mike.

At the 1877 session of the New Hampshire legislature a petition was presented by the Woman's Temperance League of this city for the privilege of changing the name of the organization to Haven Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The privilege having been granted, it is announced that the two societies known formerly as the Woman's Temperance League and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union are united, and will hereafter be known as the Haven Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the change dating from Feb. 23d. The next meeting will be held in the Congregational vestry on Middle street, March 2d.

The ship South American, Capt. Geo. Wallace Tucker, from Hong Kong for New York, passed St. Helena prior to Feb. 13th.

One hundred and eighty-five men cross the river from this city to the navy yard every morning, and return at night. We wish the number were ten times as large, even through the men might all be good, solid old democrats.

The Boston Sunday Globe of Feb. 26th says that "Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kennard and their son, Mr. Parry Kennard, have returned from St. Augustine, Fla., where they have been sojourning at the famous Ponce de Leon hotel."

The great mass of snow and ice on the roofs of the buildings of this city a week or so ago, and which it was feared would do great damage in melting, through the backing in of water under the eaves, has nearly all disappeared, going so quietly as to do little if any harm.

Among the most numerously attended and greatly enjoyed receptions in Boston during the winter have been those of Mrs. Thomas S. Nowell, whose parlors in her residence on Commonwealth avenue have been visited weekly by the elite and beauty of the Back Bay region.

Frank J. Leonard of Lynn, Mass., for the past two seasons manager of the Manchester base ball club, was in this city last week with a view to the organization of a salaried base ball club here, to compete for the championship of the state during the coming season.

"Harvard Reminiscences," by our former townsman, Rev. Dr. Peabody, recently published by Ticknor & Co., is, if we may judge from its concluding chapter printed in the Christian Register, one of the most entertaining books of the season. It of course will have an immense sale.

Senator Chandler has reported favorably from the committee on naval affairs the claims of the officers and men of the U. S. S. Tallapoosa for reimbursement for the losses incurred by them in consequence of the wreck of the Tallapoosa in Vineyard sound in August, 1884, while on the passage from this station to New York, by collision with a coal-laden schooner.

Rev. Wm. H. Alden, D. D., on Sunday last closed the twentieth year of his pastorate with the Middle street Baptist church of this city—a season of much harmony in the society, and of kindly feeling between pastor and people. Dr. Alden is very much the senior in length of service of the Portsmouth ministers, and has held the position much longer than any other pastor of that church.

Miss Florence H. Dimick, daughter of Mr. John E. Dimick, station agent in this city of the Concord railroad, started on Thursday last for Orlando, Fla., where she will remain until May as a guest in the family of Arthur Odlin, Esq., of that place. She makes the trip in company with Major Lewis Simons and wife and Major Darwin A. Simons and wife, of Manchester.

Mr. Fred H. Gorham, who has been acting as night telegraph operator at Conway Junction for the past six months, has been appointed station master at Sawyer's Mills on the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, in place of W. A. Cushing, resigned. Mr. Thomas C. Lecky, late operator for the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph Co. at their office in this city, has taken Mr. Gorham's place at Conway Junction.

From an article in the Chicago Evening Journal descriptive of the "Men on Terry's Staff," we take the following. "Second side: Capt. G. F. Towle, 19th Inf. He was with Gen. Terry in January, 1865, when Fort Fisher was captured, and shared with his chief the thanks of Congress for gallantry and skill exhibited in that memorable attack. He received three brevets for services at Fort Wagner, Russell's Mill and Fort Fisher, and has been in the 19th Inf. twenty-two years."

Sheriff Coffin arrived home on Friday evening last from a trip into Massachusetts in search of evidence against Richards, the alleged burglar. He brought with him the tools taken from Tilton's harness shop by Richards the Sunday he departed. Richards will be brought before Judge Batchelder again this forenoon.

The entertainment and sale of fancy and useful articles given in Trefethen's hall at Kittery village on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week by the Ladies' Circle of the 2d Christian church, was well patronized and very successful, the net receipts amounting to about $100. Mrs. Annie Hobbs, Miss Minnie Paul and Mr. Walter Ball, had charge of the stage exercises.

The warning signals for a southeast storm were hoisted on the staff in Daniel street on Saturday, and the warning was justified when the storm got here; along in the afternoon it was a howler, the snow which fell at one time turned to a drenching rain, and the streets and sidewalks were turned to rivers or lakes. Few farm teams were to be seen after noon, and in the evening the streets and stores were deserted. It was a poor day for trade. After the custom of southeasters, this one soon blew itself out, and at midnight there was very nearly a calm.

There was more water on the sidewalks, Saturday evening about seven o'clock, than we ever saw before. The snow had blocked up the sewer inlets quite generally, and the pouring rain stood on the walks in some places to the depth of a foot, and in many places to the depth of six inches or more. The warm rain water soon dissolved the snow, however, and before nine o'clock most of the lakes had disappeared.

Obituary.

Mr. Andrew H. Jones, formerly for many years a well known livery stable keeper of this city, but long retired from active business, died at his home, No. 71 Islington street, last Friday evening at nine o'clock. His age was eighty years and nine months. He leaves two sons and a daughter; his wife died many years ago.

Downing as "Spartacus."

The appearance of Robert Downing at Music hall on Tuesday evening in the grand production of "The Gladiator," will be the greatest dramatic event known here for a long time. The New York Herald says of him: "Although others claim the mantle worn by Forrest and McCullough, the phenomenal success that Robt. Downing is meeting with proves him to be the worthy successor. He was repeatedly called before the curtain. The applause was incessant. He has a singularly fine voice, imposing presence, and delicacy of feeling.

The Boston Herald says: "He was given an ovation, such as is seldom accorded an actor in this city."

The Boston Globe says: "Last night's reception of Spartacus was a verdict to be proud of. Mr. Downing was successful to a remarkable degree."

The tragedy will be produced here with over a car-load of scenery, as seen at the Star theatre, New York, and the Boston theatre, Boston.

The attendance on the Sunday evening services at the headquarters of the Young Men's Christian Association at Concord, is so large that an additional room has been rented.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

"Stretched" Miles.

The railroad committee of the Massachusetts legislature last week gave a hearing on the complaint of H. R. Bartlett of Newburyport, who complained that the Boston & Maine railroad had refused to carry passengers according to the terms of its contract on coupons. The coupons were for two cents a mile, and one was to be detached for every mile travelled. After the coupons were out the railroad arbitrarily counted more miles than existed between stations, and detached coupons accordingly, so that patrons could not get to Boston on the terms of the contract. This was especially true on the line of the road beyond Salem. The recommendations of the railroad commissioners in the case have been neglected by the road, and its patrons appear to have no redress outside of legislative interference. At the hearing before the railroad commissioners, the road's attorney had admitted that they charged for "stretched" miles. Mr. N. M. Jones said it was but a little to each man individually, but it was a large sum for all Newburyport. The road charges between Newburyport and Salem for two miles more than exist. Hon. Stephen H. Phillips of Danvers told of a case where the road charged nine miles where only four miles existed, and that a person who bought the coupons paid about two cents a mile more than if he bought regular tickets. He urged that power be given to the railroad commissioners to enforce their own decrees. He would have the findings of the commissioners prima facie evidence before any judicial tribunal, and would have the law cover much more than questions of fares and freights. Mr. Wyman of the committee regarded the proposition as one of the most revolutionary which had been proposed this session. Mr. Phillips implied that he would in the future have the railroad commissioners made a judicial body, though he would not go to that extent now. Commissioner Crocker thought the law regarding the board should be left where it is, with the obligation on the part of the legislature to look out for cases in which the recommendations of the commissioners are disregarded.

We learn that the Seaman's Friend Society has at last, from among numerous applicants, engaged Mr. John Hodgkin of Jefferson, Me., to take charge of its home and coffee room. He is of a family of Christian workers. One sister has been for twenty years at the Home for Little Wanderers in Boston, and a brother-in-law is superintendent of the Mariners' Home, where Mr. Hodgkin has occasionally served. We may well congratulate the society on securing such a man as we take him to be. We bid him welcome to Portsmouth.—Journal.

BECAUSE it is so unusually handsome and attractive in appearance, many persons think the IVORY SOAP is intended for toilet use only. While it may be used for the toilet with pleasant and satisfactory results, it is a laundry soap in all that the name implies. Prof. Silliman, of Yale College, says: "As a laundry soap the IVORY has no superior."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

THE DIFFERENCE OF HEIGHT.

Inhabitants of Limestone Regions Taller Than Those of Granite Districts.

When we see races of tall and well developed negroes living close by the regions occupied by such dwarfed races as the Akkas and Obongos we perceive that the difference of height must be due to difference of race, not to peculiarities in the place of abode. But there are cases where a marked difference of height is certainly due to difference in the conditions of life, for it shows itself in one and the same race. Dr. Pritchard, for example, long time since remarked on the change which the race of short, plump, round faced farmers of England underwent when they settled in Virginia and Carolina, the race becoming tall, lank, gaunt and otherwise remarkable. Still more striking is the evidence afforded within the comparatively narrow limits of Switzerland and the Tyrol, where it has been found that inhabitants of limestone regions are measurably taller than those living in granite or schistose districts. M. Durand confirms the statement of Dr. Albespy that by liming the lands in the non-calcareous portions of the Aveyron the average height of the inhabitants has been raised in some parts by three-fourths of an inch, in others by one and one-eighth inches, and in others by more than an inch and a half.

In the limestone regions of Ireland, as Pritchard long since noted, men of remarkable stature are often seen, though all the British isles derived their stock of inhabitants from the same sources, despite the ideas commonly entertained in the Emerald Island respecting the racial difference between themselves and "the base, bloody and brutal Saxon." But the evidence given by Kentucky in this respect is perhaps more striking than any other. For there, over the whole limestone region, the average height of men has increased until the size of Kentuckians has become proverbial, and has given rise to innumerable jokes—sufficient evidence, despite the absurdity of some of them, of the superior height of the average Kentuckian. It was a Kentuckian who was afraid to walk abroad at night in England lest he should fall off the little island; the Kentuckian invariably requires at least five chairs to sit upon, and so forth. Now, that the lime has something to do with this exceptional height (for these standing jokes are not wholly lying ones) is proved by the circumstance that cattle also partake in the unusual development. What had been noticed on a small scale in the well known experiment of La Camargue, in which case a breed of horses was immeasurably increased in height through careful feeding, is seen throughout Kentucky and in all kinds of cattle.

I think we may fairly conclude from the evidence, imperfect though it is, that stature may be increased by judiciously selected food, and probably that lime should in one form or another be given in increased quantity in the food where growth is to be encouraged. Yet such measures ought to be carefully guided by medical experience; for the same evidence which shows that special conditions may encourage abnormal growth shows also that they may cause abnormal growths—which is a very different thing. For instance, it has been shown that goitre is chiefly prevalent in regions where lime prevails largely as a geological formation. This is not only noticed in Switzerland, which might almost be called the native home of goitre, but in England, where goitre occurs spasmodically in Derbyshire only, the most calcareous point of the island.—Professor Richard A. Proctor.

A Paper Chase in France.

"Speaking of aristocratic sport," said a Frenchman visiting here, "reminds me to say that our sport is mostly of that character. Such great games as we have are played mainly by the titled persons and the military. The leading one I think of is a paper chase on horseback, conducted in very much the same way that the English and Americans play hare and hounds. With us two of the most intrepid horsemen start from a given point at a set time and mark their course by scattering bits of paper as they go. They stop not for barriers of any description and disdain roads. The pack also on horseback pursues them and catch them if they can. This game is always accompanied by a considerable concourse of spectators in carriages, who keep up with the pursuit as best they can by driving along the roads. It is a great game and calls for the exercise of no little nerve and vigor. The courses are from fifteen to twenty miles in length."—New York Cor. Philadelphia Times.

Didn't Know Her.

"Why didn't you get up and give her your seat or permit me to give her mine?" said a woman to her husband. They had just got off a car. The woman's face expressed great anxiety of mind. "Why should we give her a seat?" the husband asked. "Just because she was so richly dressed, I supposed," he added. "Is it possible that you did not know her?" the wife exclaimed. "Of course; I am not supposed to know every well dressed woman who comes along." "Oh James, she is our cook, and I am afraid she will treasure up against us our lack of courtesy." "Why didn't you tell me?" the husband exclaimed. The woman did not reply, but, trembling violently, leaned heavily upon his arm.—Arkansaw Traveler.

That Highway of Nations,

The broad Atlantic, is ever a stormy thoroughfare. Yet blow the winds ever so fiercely, and ride the waves ever so loftily, seamen must man the good ships, tourists will brave the passage, and commercial travelers and buyers must visit the centres of foreign trade and manufacture. That atrocious malady, seasickness, together with colicky pains and much inward uneasiness is often endured when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters would have fortified the voyagers against them. Sea captains, and in fact all old salts and veteran travelers are acquainted with the protective value of this estimable preventive and remedy, and are rarely unprovided with it. Emigrants to the far West should use it as a safeguard against malaria. Seek the aid of the Bitters for dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney troubles, and all ailments that impair the harmonious and vigorous action of the vital powers.

There are many forms of nervous debility in men that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness, night sweats, etc., should try them.

An Imperative Necessity.

What pure air is to an unhealthy locality, what spring cleaning is to the neat housekeeper, so is Hood's Sarsaparilla to everybody, at this season. The body needs to be thoroughly renovated, the blood purified and vitalized, the germs of disease destroyed. Scrofula, salt rheum, and all other blood disorders are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the most popular and successful spring medicine.

A purgative medicine should possess tonic and curative, as well as cathartic properties. This combination of ingredients may be found in Ayer's Pills. They strengthen and stimulate the bowels, causing natural action.

The improvements being made in the Baptist church at Hudson will require an outlay of about $3700.

That Highway of Nations.

The broad Atlantic, is ever a stormy thoroughfare. Yet blow the winds ever so fiercely, and ride the waves ever so lofily, seamen must man the good ships, tourists will brave the passage, and commercial travelers and buyers must visit the centres of foreign trade and manufacture. That atrocious malady, seasickness, together with colicky pains and much inward uneasiness is often endured when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters would have fortified the voyagers against them. Sea captains, and in fact all old salts and veteran travelers are acquainted with the protective value of this estimable preventive and remedy, and are rarely unprovided with it. Emigrants to the far West should use it as a safeguard against malaria. Seek the aid of the Bitters for dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney troubles, and all ailments that impair the harmonious and vigorous action of the vital powers.

Franklin Stamp, serving a sentence for passing counterfeit money, attacked a guard in the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary with a hammer, Saturday morning. The guard shot and killed him.

Evans McKean of New Durham was arrested Feb. 27th on a charge of robbing and burning the house of Mrs. Lydia Colbath in that town one night in January. McKean and his wife were in charge of the house when it was burned.

At Detroit, Mich., Feb. 24th, the jury in the case against one Frank Herbert for cohabiting with a daughter of Andrew T. Gray, she being under the age of fourteen years, brought in a verdict of guilty. Judge Swift immediately imposed the severest penalty of the law, imprisonment at Jackson for life. This was the first conviction under the new "age of consent" law in Michigan.

Charles D. Burrill, a lawyer, was fatally injured Saturday by falling over a railing in the county court house at Hartford, Conn. He fell twenty feet to a marble floor, and fractured his skull.

Big Dinners.

Every day in this city thousands of persons eat too much at dinner, and, as a consequence, suffer from sour stomach, heartburn, indigestion, dyspepsia, etc. If these will take just one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after eating, they will be surprised by the entire absence of those unpleasant feelings which daily distress them, and may continue in their improper course of eating big dinners without fear. Only one little pill, remember.

Peter Shaw, of West Winfield, N. Y., was afflicted with a severe cough, with pain in the side and lungs and general depression, causing himself and friends great alarm. He tried many remedies with no good results. One bottle of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry completely cured him.

MAKING A MAN OVER.

A "Formulator" Gives Away Some of the Secrets of His Art.

"Formulating done here," read a sign on One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street over a store. A reporter who was ignorant of the meaning ventured in to ask. He went into a close, dark apartment on the second floor of the building, and as he entered he heard the remark: "If they were not as vain as women I wouldn't be here today." The speaker was a little, stubby man, with small, gray eyes, full, red beard and an unctuous, flabby face. Scattered around him on the bench on which he sat and about the floor were pieces of silk, satin and serge, bundles of horse hair and packages of half open cotton. The little man was busily stitching a blue satin quilted article that looked like a cushion of a baby carriage.

"Yes, I am what tailors term a formulator," he continued, in a thin, squeaky voice. "The word is indicative of my trade, or rather profession. The occupation is truly the latter, inasmuch as it is an art—the art of improving, embellishing or modifying the masculine figure, as the case demands.

"Padding? Yes, some might term it that. Didn't you know that men pad, eh? Why, bless your soul, they have been doing it since the day of Joseph. There is a trite saying among our craft that his 'coat of many colors' was made by a formulator.

The speaker separated a thread with a finger nail close to the garment. Then he held the pad toward the light, scrutinizing it critically, seized his tape line and began measuring the garment, referring constantly to a small piece of paper with the measurements on it.

"The man I refer to is a creature of dissatisfaction. Nothing about his own personality or make up contents him. He is essentially a being of observation. If he has a friend who is short and fat, while he himself is tall and thin, he forms the idea that he, too, would like to be stumpy and adipose.

"A tailor can do little for him, but we can. Liberal but discriminating padding will make him corpulent, and if his make up is expertly perfected it will give him the appearance of being considerably shorter than when in his normal state. His friends will remark how well he is looking, ask how he has grown so fleshy, and the artful deceiver will launch into such a dissertation of gastronomy that the horse hair appliances in his artificial chest will shrivel up into a double bow knot with surprise.

"These forms are not limited entirely to the trunk of the subject. The calves, hips and knees all come in for its benefit. You know that the knee of a man's trousers in less than a month after they are made become "baggy." This necessitates any amount of running to the tailor's and having the garment pressed, if the wearer desires to be well dressed. Although constant tending of the knee is in part the cause of this eyesore to men, the construction of the member is the principal reason of such a state of things. Now look here," and the little man stretched one of his fat legs straight out before him. "Feel my knee; you see the knee cap sits like a hillock over the points. Below it the limb swerves in. Now how are you going to make a trouser leg sit smoothly here without catching? Can't say? Then I'll tell you; use forms below and above the cap, and the trousers will fit like a glove and won't bag.

"You see the form being stitched to the lining of the garment makes it stiff and prevents the cloth straining. You may have noticed that the cloth never stretches at the knee cap, but above and below it. A little dressing about the too large calf and a little doctoring at this member itself is a valuable aid to the fit of the leg casement.

"You can imagine how extensively padding is carried on with professionals. Of course, the ballet is a whole collection of 'fats,' but as it is composed more or less of the fair sex, it is not my province to comment on them in my talk with you. But actors—tragic, comic and melodramatic—nearly all pad.

"'Fats' are made of a variety of materials and worn in a variety of ways. Chest and spinal articles are made like a sleeveless jacket of one continuous piece of material. There is a hole for the head and the garment is slipped on by extending the arms upward and perpendicularly and letting the article fall on. Over the muscles of the chest the garment is padded to any extent desired. The small of the back is also touched up as necessity dictates. The body of the article is of silk or chamois. The chest pads in cold weather are always worn next to the skin. By this arrangement the effect is natural and consistent, and it is almost impossible, even by feeling, to discover the artificiality of the padder's figure. Why, there is no limit to our possibilities. A good many of our business men wear padded undergarments, not particularly for the effect, but because the clothing fits more comfortably."—New York Star.

Type Made from Paper.

Type made from paper is the latest novelty. A process has been patented in England by which large type used for placards can be made from pulp. Such letters are at present cut on wood. The pulp is reduced to a powdered or comminuted state, after which it is thoroughly mixed with a water proofing liquid or material, such as a paraffine oil or a drying linseed oil, for instance. The mixture is then dried and subsequently pulverized. In its pulverized state it is introduced into a mold of the requisite construction to produce the desired article—type or block—and then subjected to pressure to consolidate it and heat to render tacky or adhesive the water proofing material. Finally, the type is cooled while in mold, so as to cause it to retain its shape and solidity.—Chicago News.

THE INCURABLE CURED!

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., Feb. 24, 1887.

Gentlemen—Seven years ago a sore developed on my nose from a fingernail scratch. I tried a few simple remedies, but the sore would not yield. It grew worse every year for seven years. Many thought I had a cancer. Over a year I continuously taking S. S. S., and two dozen bottles entirely cured me. When I began with S. S. S. Specific I was in very poor health, and could hardly drag about. After I had finished the course of S. S. S. I was strong and buoyant, and had a good appetite. I regard it as a most valuable medicine for ladies in weak, delicate health. It is a household medicine with me. Yours respectfully,

MRS. R. W. WILSON.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 2, 1887.

Gentlemen—For twenty years I have had a sore on my left cheek. It had gradually been growing worse. The many physicians whom I had consulted were unable to do me any good. Last fall a year ago I began using S. S. S. At first it inflamed the sore, and it became more virulent than ever; so much so indeed, that my family insisted that I should leave off the medicine. I persisted in using the S. S. S. At the end of two months the sore was entirely healed. Thinking that it evil was out of my constitution, I left off the medicine; but in November, ten mos. after, a very slight breaking out appeared. I at once began again on S. S. S., and now this is sure disappearing. I have every faith in S. S. S. It has done me more good than all the doctors and other medicines I ever took. Yours truly,

A. R. SHANDS.

WESTON, N. C., April 12, 1887.

Gentlemen—Two or three years ago a cancer came on my face. It soon grew to be quite large. It were on me, and my general health was very poor. Last September I began a course of S. S. S., which I have continued to the present time with the happiest result. The cancer has entirely disappeared, there being no evidence or symptom of a cancerous character left. My general health is good now, and my appetite better than it has been in years. I am 52 years old, and today I am working in the field planting corn. Yours truly, JOSIAH LAMBACH.

Gentlemen—Had a sore on my upper lip for eight years. Seven different doctors attempted in vain to heal it. One gave me a small vial for five dollars, which was a "certain cure." It is needless to say that it did me no good. About two years ago I became quite uneasy, as people thought I had a cancer, and I took a course of eighteen bottles of S. S. S. The result has been a complete cure. The ulcer or cancer healed beautifully, leaving scarcely a perceptible scar. From that day I have been in excellent health. the Specific having purified my blood thoroughly, increased my appetite and perfected my digestion. In a word, I feel like a new woman, and, best of all, the eight year ulcer is gone entirely. Yours sincerely,

MRS. W. P. CANNON.

The Modern "Trust."

NO CONSPIRACY OF CAPITAL.

The more heard about the formation of "trusts" is to increase the suspicion and opposition demonstrated at their initation. It is most unfortunate that at a time when the relations of capital and labor are of a delicate nature, and when the public feeling has been educated to look with caution upon labor movements and organizations that sought to disturb the industrial interests and harmony, that the trust epidemic should have broken out. When capital conspires to force up prices, and prevent competition at home, and to control the natural laws of supply and demand within our own borders, it goes counter to every principle of public policy that this country has taught. It affords the labor agitator the best ground for his continual antagonism to the capitalist, and places the body of consumers it taxes for its own profit against the combination. As the subject is ventilated it becomes more obnoxious, and unless the conspiracy is crushed out by law or by public opinion, it will eventually lead to the most disastrous consequences. It is the duty of the press to raise the warning voice at the alarming proportions the "trust" treason to the community has assumed, and to denounce at all times the methods by which this peril to the common welfare is pushed. There is no doubt but that the sense of the people will put an end, and that quickly, to a scheme that has greed for its motive, and unjustifiable arrangements for its processes. The doom of the "trust" is certain.—Boston Traveller.

"TRUSTS" MUST GO.

What is the use of any new labor-saving invention, any discovery of science, any improvements in arts or cheapening of transportation, if the trusts are to be allowed to put up prices and crowd down wages indefinitely? Even if free trade were all that its most zealous advocates claim, of what avail would it be to abolish tariffs if international trusts can corner the world's supply of the necessaries of life and fix their own prices? The sugar refiners form a trust, and the consumers must hand over $50,000,000 a year, more or less, in the shape of exorbitant profits. The rubber manufacturers form a trust, and every wearer of rubber shoes and user of hot-water bottles must pay the penalty. The copper mine owners form a world-wide trust, and whether there is protection or free trade, high-tariff prices rule, with the difference that the tariff is levied by the trust instead of by the government. The people are plundered, and the end is not yet. The power of the trusts must be broken.—Boston Globe.

The Traveller is stalwart in its devotion to republicanism and protection; the Globe is equally as strong for democracy and democratic "tariff reform;" but as will be readily seen from the foregoing extracts, they occupy common ground in their unqualified condemnation of this "trust" business. The New York Times, which masquerades as an independent republican paper, but supports the democratic ticket right along and is strong for free trade and everything else British, is just as much opposed to trusts, and has done most excellent work in showing them up. The "trust" is, in brief, a combination by which a few wealthy men in some given line of business, having destroyed all competition by buying out or crushing all small establishments, are able to absolutely control production, and to fix their prices and consequently their profits, at whatever figures they may desire, regardless of the legitimate cost. The people are rapidly awakening to the peril involved in allowing the business and industrial interests of the country to pass wholly into the control of these irresponsible and grasping rings, and the demand for their suppression will soon be too loud and too general to be disregarded. If there is no law that will reach them, then let one be made, and the sooner the better.

Twenty-Two Hours Enough.

From Tuesday, June 5th, the date of the meeting of the democratic national convention at St. Louis, until Tuesday, November 6th, the date of the presidential election, is twenty-two weeks.

That will be a long campaign. A canvass of twenty-two weeks is long enough, and more than long enough, to make sure the election of a candidate of the united democracy on a platform that will carry New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

Twenty-two weeks, moreover, will be long enough to make sure the defeat of a free-trade candidate standing upon a free-trade support in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. In fact, twenty-two hours would answer quite as well.

If certain gentlemen within the democratic party who are ambitious to try the experiment, doubt the truth of this proposition, let them apply for information to the managers of the Hancock canvass in 1880.

This is cold truth, and it is very properly tendered before the hot weather sets in.—New York Sun.

THE ALUM BAKING POWDERS.

Action of the Massachusetts State Board of Health.

The Names of the Alum Brands Published — The Methods by which they are Sold - Necessity for a National Pure Food Law.

The Massachusetts State Board of Health, like the State Food Commission of Ohio, publishes the names of the alum powders found on sale within its jurisdiction and the most effective way to prohibit the use of what it classes as a detrimental article of food.

The report names twenty-seven brands of alum baking powders detected, many of which will be recognized by housekeepers who have been using them under the representation that they were pure and wholesome cream of tartar baking powders.

Being cheaply made these goods are sold to the retail dealer at a price that affords him a large profit, and the retail dealer, probably unaware of their nature, is induced to push their sale in place of pure powders upon which the profits are smaller. In this way they are being placed in considerable quantities into the hands of consumers who have not a suspicion of their real character.

Alum baking powders have been legally declared adulterated articles of food in the State of New York, and several parties have been convicted of violating the Food adulteration laws in selling them.

The prevalent method of disposing of these goods where it is not prohibited by law, is by accompanying each package with a gift or lottery ticket. In several States acts have been passed making this a misdemeanor. In such localities manufacturers of alum baking powders who regard the law have been compelled to reduce the price from 30 or 40 to 20 cents per pound, at which rate they are now generally sold without a gift. As an illustration of the low value of the alum baking powders, the fact is stated that one of them, no worse than the others, is sold at 5 cents a pound. The extent to which the poorer classes, who are their chief users, are imposed upon when they are charged from 20 to 40 cents for a similar article is quite apparent.

The following are the names of the alum baking powders as given by the reports of the Massachusetts State Board of Health:

ALUM BAKING POWDERS:

Davis's,	A. & P.
Henkle's,	State,
Silver Star,	Silver King,
Ne Plus Ultra,	Welcome,
Enterprise,	Old Colony,
Can't Be Beat,	Crystal,
Eureka,	Centennial,
International,	Gem,
Puritan,	Windsor,
Albany Favorite,	Sovereign,
Golden Sheafe,	Daisey,
Burnett's Perfect,	Geo. Washington,
Forest City,	Fleur de Lis,

Feather Weight.

While many of the alum baking powders named are only known locally, others are found in almost all sections of the country. Those of largest sale are made in New York and Ohio. An avoidance of the brands named by the Ohio and Massachusetts State authorities, will not insure against the use of the objectionable articles altogether, for the manufacturers when the fact is published that a particular brand contains alum, will simply change the name, and the sale goes on as before. Large quantities of these goods are also sold in bulk, by weight, while there are hundreds of different brands put up by small dealers in different parts of the country where the public analyst is not yet known.

Official examinations like those by the Massachusetts and Ohio authorities, which give reliable information as to the real qualities of articles of food and furnish a guide by which consumers can determine the pure and wholesome from the impure and dangerous without chance of mistake, are of great public benefit.

The Massachusetts analysts have tested the various cream of tartar and phosphatic baking powders sold in the State, and their report that the Royal baking powder is superior to all others in purity and wholesomeness, and contains nearly 20 per cent. more strength than any other, is quite as important to consumers as the information relating to the alum powders. The exact determination as to strength of the several brands was as follows, the figures representing the number of cubic inches of leavening gas from one ounce of powder: Royal, 126.15; Cleveland's, 107.7; Congress, 81.2; Horsford's, 95.1.

A very earnest effort is being made to secure the passage by Congress of a law that shall foster the trade in pure food. The proposed law provides for the examination of manufactured articles of food, drink and drugs, and for the publication, in the manner already adopted in Ohio and Massachusetts, of the names of those brands found adulterated or injurious to health. A law of this character, that shall impose suitable penalties upon importers and manufacturers of such commodities, will be of vital importance to the whole country.

A Pitiful Free Trade Trick.

This administration could long ago have brought the imperious Canuck government to its knees if it had posessed the courage and patriotism to use the retaliatory weapons which Congress forged and polished for it and put it into its hands. Having neither patriotism nor courage, and being controlled in its foreign policy by a secretary of state who cares more for pleasing Englishmen than for serving his fellow-countrymen, it has declined to maintain the honor of the flag, declined to enforce the rights of American citizens, declined to do anything except to whimper and now to set forth a treaty which settles nothing, effects nothing, and amounts to nothing further than as it attempts to bribe the American people into a repeal of tariff legislation by the offer of the right to buy bait, if we will do so.—New-Haven Palladium.

Eliot Items.

ELIOT, ME., Feb. 27th.

Quite a gathering met at the house of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Freeman on Friday evening, Feb. 24th. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Moulton, with their boy, Roy Hill, who during the evening's entertainment won the admiration of all, in speaking pieces, doing himself and parents great credit for a child only six years old.

Fred L. Rowe, who was laid up the most of last summer with a carbuncle on his hand, was visited last Friday night by quite a number of people, mostly from No. 1 district, who left him and his family a good supply of groceries, dry goods, etc.; it was a generous and worthy act, and much credit is due to Joseph and Henry Butler, who acted on the committee of arrangements.

Everett Worcester, son of J. F. Worcester, has been very sick with lung fever, but we are happy to say that through the skill of Dr. J. L. M. Willis he will soon be out again.

Sturgeon creek has afforded a good trotting course for the past week, and almost every pleasant day could be there seen some of Eliot's best trotters. Among the number of drivers were John N. Mathes with his youngest colt, Sylvia Allen, and Willard E. Raitt with his colt Scrub; they are two very handsome colts, and bid fair to make good records.

Mrs. Ham, wife of Capt. Albert Ham of Dorchester, Mass., is in town, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tucker.

Miss Lorette M. Nason has been in Dover, N. H., for the past two weks, visiting her sister, Mrs. John Dame.

Mr. John H. Bartlett of Worcester, Mass., was in town and stopped over Sunday with his father, Capt. William Bartlett.

Miss Annie Freeman and her cousin, Miss Nellie Freeman of Cape Neddick, have been the guests of Mrs. Capt. Freeman for the past two weeks.

Miss Nellie F. Mathes, who has been at home for a few days, returned again last Monday to Alfred, where she is engaged in copying deeds. RIVERSIDE.

Matters in York.

YORK CORNER, ME., Feb. 27th.

Since March 2d, 1887, Mr. Alden Gilchrist has freighted (by horse) over two hundred tons of hay from York to Portsmouth, and in the same time has freighted return loads of over seventy-five tons for Geo. F. Plaisted at York Corner. Mr. Gilchrist is a true Christian gentleman, and implicit coefidence is, and can safely be, placed with him—hence his sales.

A. A. Thompson, the renowned fruit and provision merchant, has been confined to his house for the past three weeks by slow inflammatory difficulties, but under the skillful treatment of Dr. Hazen, he is able to be about. Some of the non medical fraternity of that borough thought Dr. Hazen too hasty in introducing a drainage tube. The doctor hopes, if a similar case comes up, to have the assistance of the "home talent."

Capt. Daniel Currier of Cape Neddick, for many years master of Cape Neddick coasters, and withal a very good, honored citizen, now aged seventy-nine years, lies very ill at his home. He, too, is attended by Dr. Hazen.

Moses Adams, a young man of some thirty-five years, living in York near the Wells line, was on Wednesday last, by our board of selectmen, adjudged insane, and by them orders were issued for his commitment to the insane asylum at Augusta. Mr. C. W. Junkins, one of the board, with an an assistant, accompanied him to Augusta.

Howard Plaisted, or rather his wife, has got seven and one-quarter pounds of female Cleveland stock, born Sunday. Uncle "Jut" is now "Great-grandfather," to his great joy.

Sunday at four o'clock P. M., Coroner Geo. F. Plaisted was called upon to go to Ogunquit to hold an inquest upon the body of one Charles Brooks, aged about twenty years, there lying dead. Coroner Plaisted directed his warrant to Daniel C. Goodwin, Esq., constable of York, who, uncer virtue of said warrant, summoned Moses Webber, James Brooks, J. Howard Junkins, Albert P. Webber, Lorin A. Cole and Dr. J. W. Gordon, as jurors. Said jurors being charged and sworn by the coroner to inquire for the state, how, when, and by what means the deceased came to his death; upon their oaths say that the deceased came to his death by his own hand, by means of a 32-calibre revolver held by him in his right hand on the 26th day of February, 1888.

The young man was somewhat despondent and down-hearted. His mother, with whom he lived and with whom he has watched faithfully during her recent, and not recovered, sickness of pneumonia, still remains in a very poor state of health. Dr. Gordon of Ogunquit, who seems to be the good-man-of-all in that section, has been a faithful attendant in this family. P.

The Constitution of Atlanta, Ga., the most influential democratic paper in the south, is not respectful to one of the foremost democrats in congress. It says: "The Hon. Roger Quixote Mills, of Texas, is the most glittering ass that ever graced the halls of Congress." The Constitution is strong for protection to American industries.

Rev. A. K. Gleason closed his pastorate with the Second Congregational church of Wells on Sunday last. A committee has been appointed by the parish to see to the supplying of the pulpit until another pastor is secured.

Downing as "Spartacus."

We understand Manager J. H. Mack's intentions are not to add "Coriolanus" to Mr. Downing's repertoire this season, as has been stated by the press, the great success of "The Gladiator" having made this unnecessary for another year. Mr. Downing is not, as many people imagine, a novice. Although but thirty years of age, he has been on the stage twelve years, and began his career as bell-boy at Ford's theatre in Baltimore, and has played since that time nearly every line of business, including leading parts, with Mary Anderson, Joseph Jefferson and other well known stars. His present status is, without doubt, among the stars of great magnitude, and his future would seem to be the highest round of the ladder. It is conceded by the critics that he has every requisite of talent and physique to carry him as high as his ambition may lead him. His appearance at Music hall to-night is anticipated with much pleasure, and is expected to prove the grandest production of tragedy Portsmouth has seen. Mr. Mack will mount the tragedy in spectacular form, making the arena scene very realistic with athletic and gladiatorial contests.

Agricultural Meetings.

The State Board of Agriculture will hold meetings in this county as follows: At Fremont on Wednesday, March 7th; at South Hampton on Thursday, March 8th. Afternoon and evening sessions will be held, commencing at two and 7:30 o'clock.

The afternoon sessions will be devoted to discussions of corn raising, and the co-operative canning industry. At the evening sessions, dairying and potato culture will be discussed. The subjects will be presented by members of the board, and others who have given them study and investigation. A general discussion will follow, and an invitation will be extended to those present to participate by remarks or questions. Both ladies and gentlemen are invited to be present.

Obituary.

One of the oldest ladies of Portsmouth passed away at nine o'clock this (Monday) morning at her residence 83 Congress street. We refer to the widow of the late Hon. William H. Y. Hackett. Her maiden name was Olive Pickering, the second daughter of Joseph Warren Pickering, a prominent resident and a descendant of John Pickering, who settled at Portsmouth previous to 1636.

Mrs. Hackett was born August 5, 1799 in a house belonging to her father that stood on the site of her late residence, so that her death presents the rare instance of a person dying on the site where she was born more than eighty-eight and a half years ago. When a child the family removed to the house on Summer street (next to the Catholic church,) where her older sister Miss Lydia Pickering recently died at an advance age. Here on the 26 December, 1826, she was married to Mr. Hackett, then a young lawyer. Fifty years later they celebrated their golden wedding at their home on Congress St. Mr. Hackett died in August 1878.

Mrs. Hackett came of a long lived family, and to the end of her days she retained an activity that was truly remarkable. She possessed all her faculties to a degree that indicated not the slightest impairment, so that a stranger would inevitably take her to have been twenty years or more younger than she really was. She had an even disposition, and a marked cheerfulness that rendered her society agreeable to all that had the privilege of meeting her.

Her memory of the early days was perfectly distinct, and a conversation with her would easily revive the society of Portsmouth of more than half a century ago. To the young she was peculiarly attractive, and many young and old will feel a sense of personal bereavement in her departure. Her illness was free from symptoms of disease or pain, and her end was simply the ceasing of life's machinery.

Mrs. Hackett was a member of the South parish. She leaves two sons, William H. and Frank W., and two daughters, Mrs Robert C. Peirce and Mrs. E. M. Stoddard. The funeral services, we understand, will be held on Wednesday, at noon.—Times.

Maritime Notes.

The wreck of the schooner United States, bilged on Oakes rocks off Kennebunkport last Thursday, was sold at auction, Friday afternoon, for $45, to J. B. Maling. The schooner's boat was sold for $4. The landed smoked herring brought 3 1-2 cents a box, and the pickled herring, in lots, $1 50 to $2 02 per barrel; some junk, an anchor and chain and freight in the hold, sold "sight unseen," for $11 in the lump, and several thousand boxes of herring in like condition brought for the lot $5.

Capt. R. F. C. Hartley and other Saco parties are building a 130-ton schooner in Bath, to be used in transporting bricks between Saco and Boston. Capt. Coleman of this city will be in command, and he has charge of the building of the vessel. She will arrive at Saco as soon as the river opens in the spring.

The schooner Nellie Bowers, Spear master, of Camden, Me., bound from a coal port to Rockport, Me., with a cargo of coal, went ashore on the rocks at Richmond's island, off Cape Elizabeth and about ten miles from Portland, in the heavy southest gale of Saturday night, and soon went to pieces. The captain, two mates and cook, were drowned; four seamen escaped with their lives after a hard pull. The Nellie Bowers was built at Camden in 1867, and registered 282 tons.

Mr. George Remick of Rye one day last week, while looking seaward with a glass, discovered five or six miles away to the south-east an object which he could not make out, and going to it in a boat found it to be the topmast of a schooner, floating keel up, and evidently fast by the rigging to a sunken wreck, probably that of the collier sunk a few weeks ago by the fishing schooner Anna H. Mason. The mast had been broken off, possibly by some schooner striking it.

The life-saving crew at Rye beach have been working at the fishing vessel recently wrecked on Sunk rocks, off Rye, and have succeeded in taking from her a sail and a few ropes, but the lot is of little value.

Coal freights at Baltimore, at the close of last week, were reported to be $1.50 per ton to this port, $1.40 to Boston or Portland.

Rev. A. J. Patterson, D. D., on Sunday last read a letter resigning the pastorate of the First Universalist church of Roxbury, Mass., after a harmonious and and prosperous pastorate of nearly twenty-two years, following a pastorate of nearly ten years over the Universalist church in this city. The resignation is due to ill health, and is to take effect June 1st, or at any previous time if the church will waive the three months' notice.

The ladies of the sewing chapter of St. John's guild will hold a sale of useful and fancy articles at the guild rooms, next Dr. Langdon's residence on Pleasant street, on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 29th, at three o'clock.

There was a fair audience at the P. A. C. performance in Music hall on Monday evening, and an excellent entertainment was given.

Mr. Albion S. Carroll is still at work for the Boston & Maine railroad, blowing to pieces the ice in Great bay with dynamite.

The effect of the recent heavy rain is seen in the discoloration of the river on the ebb tide, caused by the large influx of fresh water from the tributaries.

Newton Johnston, Esq., has recovered from the illness which recently confined him to his home, and again appears on the streets.

"Woodcock's Little Game" and "The Dumb Belle" are to be played in North Berwick on Friday evening by the dramatic club of the Unitarian society of Saco, for the benefit of the Rebekahs of North Berwick.

Horatio O. Smith of South Newmarket has been granted an increase of pension.

Navy Yard Notes.

Twelve men employed in the department of yards and docks at the navy yard were discharged Saturday evening. They had been working on the repairs of the dry dock.

An order has been received at the navy yard from the department in Washington, for an estimate of the expense for wire standing rigging for the U. S. S. Constellation; and also an order to fit the rigging for the Kearsarge.

Col. W. H. D. Cochrane, pension agent at Concord, has been appointed an aide-de-camp on the staff of Gen. John P. Rea, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R.

The expenses of the English commission in the recent fisheries negotiations at Washington were £3900.

Says the New York Sun: "An amusing example of red tape at Washington is instanced by United States Marshal McMahon. He foawarded a bill for a tug which he had hired to go to the relief of a burning United States vessel. He was immediately informed from Washington that he should have advertised in the newspapers for a certain number of days for bids before hiring the tug. Now he protects himself against personal loss by not paying bills out of his own pocket; he waits until they are approved at Washington."

Speaking of the Bayard fishery treaty business, Senator Frye of Maine says that we ought to secure three points not secured by the treaty. First, the right to purchase bait, provisions, ice, seines, lines and all outfit for an outgoing fishing voyage, not with which to get home, but with which to go on the banks; second, permission to ship men in Canadian ports to complete short crews; third, the right to land and transport the catch in bond by rail to the United States.

President Huntington of the Central Pacific railroad charges the government with having caused many of the difficulties now surrounding the company.

At Ennis, Ireland, last week, Mr. Lloyd, the English home rule delegate, was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment under the crimes act for inciting tenants not to pay rent.

Great Strike of Railroaders.

In consequence of a dispute between the managers of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, and the engineers and firemen of the road, a strike was ordered by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, to commence at four o'clock Monday morning. There are about 1600 engineers and firemen on the road; including other classes of workmen, the total number affected by the strike is about 11,000. The striking engineers and firemen of the Reading railroad, who are Knights of Labor, and whose places have been filled by members of the brotherhood, are flocking to Chicago to take the places of the strikers on the C., B. & Q.

Mr. Gilman C. Berry of Rye has some chickens which were hatched on the 17th of September last year. One of the pullets commenced laying Feb. 23d, when but a few days over five months old.

Forests of Alaska.

The southeastern part of the territory, from being the most accessible, is the most frequently visited and the most commonly referred to as "Alaska" as a consequence, though really less of Alaska than Alaska is of the United States. Fully four-fifths of this part is quite densely wooded, and the other fifth is composed of water, which winds in innumerable channels like so many rivers crossing each other at all angles, but connecting with the sea; their waters are salt, and ocean steamers can ply their devious ways. For this reason "Alaska" (i. e. southeastern Alaska) has secured the reputation of being a well wooded country, when, in fact, for every acre of land the summer traveler has seen in this part, densely crowded with timber, there are square miles of untimbered tracts in the vast Arctic part termed tundra, that have never seen plant life larger than the leaves of moss upon it, with perhaps an exception here and there along the low water courses of a stunted willow a few inches high that the whole family of Salix would repudiate as black sheep in the fold, while there are square townships elsewhere of land so sparsely forested, or with such indifferent timber, that from all ordinary useful standpoints they might have almost been tundra, and give a little more grazing land to the reindeer thereby.—Frederick Schwatka.

Colds and Nerves.

A timid woman comes home one night pale and ghastly with fright, having encountered a specter clad in white, which she calls a "ghost." In a day or two she develops a cold, for which she cannot in any way account. Fear acts as a depressant to the nervous system, crippling its powers of resisting the action of cold, hence the phrase, "shivering with fear." Similarly, innumerable events of daily life tend to irritate, depress, or excite the nerves, and render them unfit for maintaining the body temperature against the fluctuations of weather and climate. During these unguarded moments a trifling exposure to cold or damp is sufficient to induce catarrh.—Contemporary Review.

Proprietary Medicines.

New York leads the list in the number of proprietary medicine manufacturers. It has 108 factories, with an invested capital amounting to $3,512,430. Ohio is second with 61 factories, Pennsylvania has 53; Massachusetts, 40; Maryland, 34; Missouri, 27; Illinois, 22; California, 22; Michigan, 20; Rhode Island, 20; Connecticut, 13; New Jersey, 12; Virginia, 12; Georgia, 12; Kentucky, 12, and Vermont, 10. Nebraska, North Carolina and Colorado have only one each. The total amount of capital invested is $10,020,880. About 5,000 hands are employed, and nearly $2,000,000 yearly are paid to them. The value of materials used is $6,704,729, and the value of products is $14,682,494.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The trouble with most people who believe that charity begins at home is that they never allow it to go outdoors for exercise.—Baltimore American.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Great Fire in Great Falls.

Four buildings in Great Falls, belonging to Thomas Marston, J. W. Bates, H. C. Gilpatrick and Charles Sanborn, were burned Feb. 28th, with their contents, the total loss being $55,000; well insured.

That Highway of Nations,

The broad Atlantic, is ever a stormy thoroughfare. Yet blow the winds ever so fiercely, and ride the waves ever so lofitly, seamen must man the good ships, tourists will brave the passage, and commercial travelers and buyers must visit the centres of foreign trade and manufacture. That atrocious malady, seasickness, together with colicky pains and much inward uneasiness is often endured when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters would have fortified the voyagers against them. Sea captains, and in fact all old salts and veteran travelers are acquainted with the protective value of this estimable preventive and remedy, and are rarely unprovided with it. Emigrants to the far West should use it as a safeguard against malaria. Seek the aid of the Bitters for dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney troubles, and all ailments that impair the harmonious and vigorous action of the vital powers.

The Manchester & Lawrence railroad, through its solicitors, Charles H. Burns, James F. Briggs and Oliver E. Branch, on Tuesday, Feb. 28th, filed a bill in equity in the supreme court for the county of Hillsborough against the Concord railroad, and against Frederick Smyth, Walter M. Parker, Joshah Minot, Benjamin M. Kimball, John H. Pearson, John A. White and A. Pillsbury, directors in said road. The bill is for an accounting and discovery, and is one of the most important railroad suits that has ever come before the New Hampshire courts.

A cod-fish weighing fifty pounds, in a fare bought by Robinson & Woodbury, doing business at Union wharf, on being opened Tuesday was found to have a fatty tumor weighing about ten pounds attached to the intestines. None of the fishermen who saw it had ever seen anything of the kind before. The fish was thrown on the garbage heap.

Almost miraculous are some of the cures accomplished by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In the case of R. L. King, Richmond, Va., who suffered for forty-seven years with an aggravated form of scrofula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected astonishing results.

Rev. Henry S. Hill, an assistant of Francis Murphy in evangelizing Buffalo, N. Y., is locked up there for an alleged assault on a domestic.

Peter Shaw, of West Winfield, N. Y., was afflicted with a severe cough, with pain in the side and lungs and general depression, causing himself and friends great alarm. He tried many remedies with no good results. One bottle of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry completely cured him.

At Dover, Tuesday, the jury in the libel suit of Breen & Berry, saloon keepers of Farmington, against the Dover Times, claiming $5000 for alleged libel, returned a verdict for the defence.

No Woman

Is beautiful with a bad skin, covered with pimples, freckles, moth or tan. I have been asked many times what will remove these unsightly blemishes. SOME DOCTORS honestly admit that they can't cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Others say they can but—don't. Athlophoros says nothing but—cures. That's the secret of its success. Years of trial have proved it to be a quick, safe, sure cure.

Concord, N.H., Sept. 5, 1885.

In my own family Athlophoros was used as a last resort, the user having suffered from rheumatism for years and having been treated for the disease by different physicians in this State and Massachusetts without even temporary relief. Upon my recommendation scores of people have used this remedy with the same results claimed for it. C. H. WILSON.

AMONG THE KANAKAS.

What a Visitor Saw in Tahiti—A Joyous Occasion—Open Air Dancing.

"Band night" is a joyous occasion, dear to the memory of all visitors to the island. On Thursday nights the French garrison band plays before the government house in a little plaza carpeted with turf and bordered with spreading trees. On one side are venders of beer and liquors—miserable stuff—on another women sell fruit and flowers, and in the center is the brilliantly lit band stand. As the band strikes up the people grow wild with joy. Around the stand skip men and girls, singly, in pairs and in rows, heads up, eyes bright, teeth showing, clasping each other by waist or shoulder, laughing and calling to each other, while the dust fairly chokes the puffing, blowing musicians. If a dancer falls in the mad whirl a scream of excitement rises and only dies away when the prostrate one rises and dances on. Between the selections they refresh themselves with beer or fruit, while the officers or young men of the town buy flowers and wreaths for the girls, as happy with their "leis" as a debutante with her bouquets. A tall young globe trotter advances to a group of dusky beauties, holding high the finest lei he can purchase. There is a scream of delight from a dozen pretty mouths, a dozen rounded arms are thrust at the prize as the garlanded heads bob up and down, and then there is a rush and he is overwhelmed. They climb upon his head and shoulders and pluck the wreath to pieces, leaving him disheveled and overcome by such a whirlwind of arms and legs.

Then the band strikes up and away they all go again. At last the bandsmen form in the street, the torchlight tradesmen disappear with the remnant of their wares, and the crowd gathers in line before and behind the band. The street being darker than the plaza, even those whose dignity and respectability kept them from joining the dancers around the stand, are now found in the ranks. Officers from foreign men of war, yachtsmen, townspeople, globe trotters, away they all go, nymphs and satyrs, in wild Bacchanalian dance down the dimly lit street, under the trees meeting in an arch overhead, now to the right, then back across the street, each line at its own sweet will. Dignity falls to the ground when a smile and a glance from a flower decked maiden comes bearing an invitation to clasp hands or waists and "follow the band." The "Pied Piper of Hamelin" could lead away these people any time.

The band halts for some reason and we get ahead of it, a line of us across the street. On my right is a young lady with a wreath of yellow flowers on her black tresses, another around her neck. I don't believe she can speak a word of English, and don't try to make her do so—there is no need. Beyond her there is a man and then another girl—there are twelve in the line. The band strikes up behind us and everybody begins dancing. We can take any step we like; we are off the ground most of the time; and down the street we go. Suddenly my arm is grasped by a strong hand which slips through: and I have on my left a big Kanaka dressed in waistcloth and coat, with head thrown back and laughing for pure joy. Away we go, running and dancing against the people ahead of us, breaking into the lines, first one and then another, until we bring up against a row of figures clad in dark blue, a party of sailors. We try to break this line, too, but the stalwart fellows stop altogether and back up the whole procession, digging their heels into the ground and bracing themselves against the attacking lines. There is a wild uproar and they dart forward with all the rout in pursuit, only to repeat the performance later. Meanwhile the right wing of our line pulls out to the side, and off we dance up the side of the street to get nearer the band, which has been left far in the rear. We come into line with a swing, and I play "crack the whip" with my Kanaka friend and bang him here and there into the midst of dancing girls.

No one thinks of getting angry, and you can do as you please, so down we go through the lines ahead of us till we strike again that stout row of sailors having their watch ashore to-night. Out again to the side, a dance back to the band—and all repeat. A street light has shown me that my young lady on the right has a pretty face and is enjoying herself hugely. She stands the "cracking the whip" and the breaking lines with perfect ease. At last the band turns into the market place and ceases playing; the wild, fascinating dance is over. We mop, pant and walk away to a friendly home, where we drink tea and eat bread and jam with our host and hostess till long past midnight.—Papeete (Tahiti) Cor. New York Tribune.

The Paradise of Dolls.

Saxony and Thuringia are the home and paradise of dolls. The annual production of dolls' stockings alone in Saxony is 35,000 dozen. Thousands of shoemakers find constant employment in making dolls' shoes. The export of dolls to England, France and America is very large, and increasing every year.—New York Tribune.

A monkey exhibited at a museum established at Tacubaya, Mexico, was condemned to be shot under judicial sentence. It seems that the animal bit a man, who died from the results of the bite. The family of the deceased brought complaint before a judge, who was foolish enough to institute criminal proceedings against the monkey and sentenced him to be shot. Luckily the manager of the museum brought influence to bear and succeeded in obtaining a change of the sentence to perpetual imprisonment. The monkey is now enduring the punishment of his crime behind the bars of an iron cage at the museum.—Chicago Herald.

COLDS,

In nearly every instance, go to the kidneys before they leave the system. Hunt's Remedy will absolutely drive out any cold in the kidneys and thus prevent Bright's Disease, suffering and possibly death. Sold by all apothecaries and dealers.

BILIOUSNESS.

THIS very common complaint, which is caused by a dormant or inactive liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

MRS. DUDLEY CHANDLER, of Melrose, Mass., says: "I had suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the pulsations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and earnestly recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

HANOVER, Feb. 27th.

Dartmouth was represented by four delegates at the convention of college Young Men's Christian Association in Boston.

The college has offered a prize of $100 for the best Dartmouth song, open until June 1st. It is hoped that the competitors for this prize will be numerous, for the song should be a glorious one.

At the meeting of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association, held at Boston, it was voted to hold the coming field-meeting at Worcester, Mass.

The freshmen and Sophomores held their class suppers at the Van Ness house, Burlington, Vt., the former on Washington's birthday, the latter on the preceding Friday. Both classes report an excellent time, and can not speak in too high praise of the University boys for the generous way in which they were treated during their short stay in the city.

HAMPTON, Feb. 27th.

The Sabbath bells and mild weather of yesterday called out a goodly number, but only with great efforts people were able to reach the churches, pedestrian and rider alike struggling to get through the streets filled with water.

In this town at the milk stable there is a horse formerly owned by the late Gen. Grant, after which Secretary Robeson owned and brought him to Little Boar's Head in North Hampton; not wishing to take him back he gave him to a man of that town, desiring that he should be killed when he had no use for him.

The ninth and last lecture of the lyceum course will be delivered by Mrs. Mary A. Livermore on Tuesday evening, March 6th.

An article will be put in the warrant for town meeting, to have gates at the railroad crossing; if the citizens were wide awake there are other things that ought to be attended to, of vital importance.

The snow having settled, the echo of the woodman's axe is again heard, and teamsters are seen in every direction with logs for the mills, or cord wood for their homes and the market.

The fair which was held in Goodwin's hall at Cape Neddick on the evening of the 22d, was a decided success. The proceeds amounted to $78.40, which was more than enough to pay the church debt. The committee wish to extend their most hearty and sincere thanks to the non-residents, and all, who so generously contributed articles for the fancy and apron tables, and to the gentleman of Farmington, N. H., who contributed the greenback; also to their beach friends, who so kindly furnished the instrumental music. While it would take too much time to individualize, they would extend thanks to one and all who aided in making the fair a success. SUE.

Kindergarten for the Blind.

The ladies' visiting committee appeal to a people never appealed to in vain for any good cause, to aid in endowing the Kindergarten for the Blind, in Boston. They say: "Much has been already done in behalf of this work. A site has been procured, a building erected and furnished, and all fully paid for, leaving no debt or encumbrance whatever. But the means for carrying on the kindergarten and providing for the company of little boys and girls now gathering in it, are still wanting, and will be wanting until an endowment of one hundred thousand dollars, the interest of which will meet all ordinary current expenses, is obtained. A visit to the kindergarten and a glimpse of the brightness and joy to be seen there among these sightless children, will do more than any words of ours to bring this enterprise before the hearts of our people. We ask earnestly for contributions to the endowment fund. The treasurer, Edward Jackson, No. 178 Devonshire street, Boston, will receive and acknowlege all sums, large or small, that may be sent to him."

Lieutenant D. L. Brainerd, 2d U. S. Cavalry, and bride seem to have captured all hearts at their recent marriage at Walla Walla, Washington territory. The Statesman of that city says: "The bride is a daughter of one of our most honored and respected citizens, who is one of the first of our pioneers of empire, who has seen and helped our country from its earliest infancy to its present high degree of progress. She was born and raised here, and is popular by reason of her intelligence and pleasant ways. The groom is one of the heroes of the nineteenth century, and has made a name that will descend to posterity as the foremost of all the brave and gallant Arctic explorers who have risked and sacrificed their lives in the interest of science and civilization. He is one of the few survivors of the ill-fated Greely expedition, whose deeds and sufferings caused thrills of admiration and sympathy throughout the world wherever the English language is spoken. He has the glorious record of being the only living man whose foot has trod the highest point in the mysterious Arctic circle! That they may live a long, happy, and blessed life is the heartfelt wish of all who know them."

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Thieves entered the Boston & Maine railroad station at Melrose Highlands, Mass., early last Saturday morning, by breking open the ladies' room window. They entered a room in the ticket office, bored several holes through the safe, and used an explosive, but could not gain an entrance to it. They forced open a money draw and secured several dollars in change and several small articles, and escaped. The noise of the explosion was heard by a Mr. Mansfield, who dressed himself and went over to the station, but as two men, supposed to be the thieves, met him on the platform and pointed a revolver at him, threatening to shoot him if he did not leave, he left at once.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

TUESDAY, Feb. 28th.

Jacob Donelley, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90; county farm in default of payment.

Jack Ross, formerly of Gloucester, Mass., now alleged to be of the "Bay View" on Bow street, this city, was called up on a complaint of assault. Mr. Ross, though represented by counsel, pleaded guilty to the charge—a rather unusual proceeding in the police court, when counsel is employed by the accused, as any one can make that plea without legal aid. In order to graduate the penalty to the gravity of the offence, the magistrate enquired into the circumstances of the case, and learned that the assaulted party was an Italian band of three, and that Ross assailed them at once on their entrance into a Water street saloon. Had they commenced to play, there might have been some provocation for the assault, but they had not produced a single tone at the time. Ross was fined $8, costs $8.04, and paid up.

Tribute From a Neighbor.

[From the Newburyport Herald.]

Sometimes a community is blessed with a ministering angel whose unselfish devotion to the cause of suffering humanity is expressed in that practical and self-sacrificing help in smoothing life's pathway that is illustrated in the parable of the Good Samaritan, and which makes more than anything else toward the coming of the Master's kingdom on earth. Such an one was Mrs. H. M. Junkins, widow of the late Nathan Junkins, who departed this life last Saturday. Ever ready, at whatever inconvenience to herself, and without other reward than the gratification of noble impulse, to answer the call of distress in cases of birth, sickness, death, or trouble or grief of every nature, with healing sympathy and indispensable kindly offices, her memory cannot fade with hundreds to whom she has ministered. The gratitude in their hearts is too deep to be uncovered for expression in words, and almost seems to forbid even this brief acknowledgment from

A NEIGHBOR.

Navy Yard Notes.

Twelve employes in the department of yards and docks at the navy yard were discharged on Monday evening — the fourth discharge within two weeks. If a dozen men are dropped from the rolls of that department every third evening, the list of employes will soon be a short one.

Mr. Peter Pray, formerly foreman of the tin shop on the navy yard, has been "called" on the yard as a workman in that shop.

An Error.

The ladies of St. John's guild do not hold a sale at their rooms this (Wednesday) afternoon, as has been stated.

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY, ME., Feb. 28th.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Fannie Hill is quite sick at her home with tonsilitis.

There seems to be quite a local boom in real estate. J. E. Chase has bought the Rev. Mr. Hutchinson house, and it is reported that Mr. John McIntire of York has bought the Adam Lutts house and the Edward Duncan house.

Messrs. Charles and Paschal Langton of West Kittery have just returned from eastern Maine with twelve working oxen, which they are prepared to sell to anyone desiring such, at reasonable prices.

The X. L. C. R. dramatic club gave a very enjoyable entertainment on Monday evening at the 2d Methodist church, it being entirely managed by the ladies, who conducted the exercises with much credit. About twenty-five dollars were realized.

SUB ROSA.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Feb. 28th.

It is clear and cold here to-day. There are but few vessels in the lower harbor. The fish business has not been very brisk for two days past.

Mrs. Jesse Frisbee is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Nelson, in Dover.

Mr. William C. Williams returned to Boon island last Friday.

Miss Bertha Paul goes to Haverhill, Mass., to visit her aunt this week.

Mrs. Cobb is spending a few days in Portsmouth with her sister, Mrs. Benj. Mugridge.

It has been unusually healthy here this winter. Very few persons have been seriously ill. It has been laughingly remarked by some that the fish firm may have something to do with the fact. Be that as it may, pure cod-liver oil is more plentiful here than ever before.

We received a piece of wedding cake from Portsmouth last week. We hope the lives of the happy couple may contain as much beauty and sweetness as that wedding cake.

We recently heard a little boy trying to impress upon his kitty the importance of observing George Washington's birthday. He got slightly "mixed up," as he says, and proceeded to instruct the kitten: "Now, kitty, you must be awful good tomorrow, 'cause it's George Washington's wash-day."

The farmers are improving the opportunity to obtain a top dressing for their land from the fish house. Teams come from York and North Kittery every day.

AUNT MOLLY.

Some of the officers and members of Washington Chapter, R. A. M., of this city, visited St. Albans Chapter of Exeter on Tuesday evening, by invitation, to witness the work in the Royal Arch degree, the occasion being the annual visit of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of the state.

A sparring match and other athletics were given in Music hall, Boston, Monday evening. In the feather-weight class but two men appeared, Jefferson Johnson of the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium, of Boston, and Daniel F. Sullivan, of the Portsmouth Athletic club. The judges not being able to agree as to the winner in three rounds, a fourth one was ordered, and then a fifth; and Sullivan not coming up for the latter, Johnson was declared the winner, taking a gold medal, Sullivan taking a silver medal as second.

Forty-five persons came to this city from York on Monday evening to attend the P. A. C. entertainment at Music hall, in a special train run over from Union Bluff, returning after the close of the performance.

Mr. Loring L. Jones of New York, a native of Portsmouth, was in this city on Tuesday.

Capt. A. R. Yates has been ordered to command the Pensacola.

A meeting of the members of the Christian society of Rye was held Tuesday evening in the town hall, to consider plans and proposals for rebuilding their place of worship, recently destroyed by fire. We hear of intended liberal donations for this purpose, which it is said will take substantial form within a very short time.

Gustavus A. Abbott, formerly of this city, but of late years a resident of North Easton, Mass., has been "required" on the navy yard as a caulker, to work on the dry dock

Capt. John S. Hontvet of Salem, Mass., formerly of Portsmouth, arrived in this city on Monday to oversee the fitting out of the schooner Clara E. Simpson, in readiness for engaging in the spring coal trade.

Capt. Freeman of Eliot, master of the schooner Clara B. Kennard, was in this city on Tuesday on business connected with the fitting out of the schooner for the opening of the brick-carrying season.

Read the advertisement in another column, of ranges, stoves refrigerators, etc., at C. W. Taylor's kitchen furnishing store, Market street,—where also plumbing, gas fitting, tin and copper work can be contracted for.

There was a quite large and highly refined audience at Music hall on Tuesday evening, to witness the splendid presentation of the tragedy "Spartacus, the Gladiator."

Russell Jarvis, a well known citizen of Claremont, died last week. His wife was the daughter of the late Capt. William A. Rice of this city. Mr. Jarvis was United States marshal for the district of New Hampshire from Oct. 22d, 1886, to March 21st, 1867.

We cheerfully give space in another column to an appeal by the ladies' visiting committee of the Kindergarten for the Blind in Boston. The object is a most commendable one, and appeals strongly to the charitable.

Of the 1600 engineers and firemen on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway system, every one left his work on Monday morning, with the exception of a single engineer at Galesburg, Ill. The president of the road says the average pay of its engineers has been $115 per month, which is from $15 to $25 more than the average paid to engineers on New England roads. The secretary of the general executive board of the Knights of Labor says that no order has been issued for engineers belonging to that order to take the places of striking engineers belonging to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and none will be; the district assembly to which the striking engineers of the Reading railroad belong can issue such an order to its own members, but no general order will be made by the central authority.

Mr. Blaine's latest interviewer at Florence has discovered that the statesman has had an attack of rheumatic gout. Possibly that may be a reason why he cannot "run" for president.

The Boston Record observes: "What free trade has done in England for the working classes can be told in a few lines. The pauper class in England numbers 7,000,000, in a population of 34,000,000; or one in nearly every five is counted as a pauper. 14,500,000 persons receive less than $2.50 per week. Most laborers have but four days' employment in a week. Agricultural wages were never lower, and there are millions in England who have fresh meat upon their tables only once a week or once a fortnight."

Gaudaur will row Teemer on Decoration day at Point of Pines, Mass.

Deputy Sheriff Coy of Texas killed four bandits by whom he was attacked.

Berlin medical experts give the crown prince of Germany less than three months' lease of life.

It is reported that the prince of Wales, on the occasion of his silver wedding banquet, will announce the betrothal of Prince Albert Victor to his cousin the Princess Alexandra of Greece, and the betrothal of Princess Victoria to the duke of Sparta, the crown prince of Greece.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Peculiar Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence.

PRISCILLA, spinning long ago, sighs as she thinks how soon her linen
Will lose its glossy luster when, the wash, it once or twice has been in.
She does not know that in the soap the evil lies that makes her suffer,
Its great excess of alkali, which cuts the fiber, makes it rougher.

Our modern maidens need not sigh since IVORY SOAP has been invented
Containing no free alkali—by which this ruin is prevented.
For linen washed with IVORY SOAP in snowy beauty'll ne'er diminish,
But always, while it lasts, preserve its pristine gloss and lustrous finish.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Boston exporters of cured meats have filed a protest at Washington against the pending bill providing for government inspection of their products.

Dyspepsia in its worst forms will yield to the use of Carter's Little Nerve Pills, aided by Carter's Little Liver Pills. They not only relieve present distress but strengthen the stomach and digestive apparatus.

Arabs attacked the Scotch mission at Lake Nyassa, Dec. 18th, burned the building and beseiged the whites in a mud fort, but were beaten off after a five days fight.

There are many forms of nervous debility in men that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness, night sweats, etc., should try them.

A French bark, Ile Marthe, careened at New Orleans, and the vessel and the dock sank; loss $53,000.

The selectmen of Ludlow, Vt., are charged with crooked work in connection with the town liquor agency.

A great many people have used no other kind for years. Hop Plasters give satisfaction.

The ferry steamer Julia blew up at South Vallejo, Cal., Monday, and between thirty and forty lives were lost.

The Union Square theatre and Morton house, New York, were burned Tuesday; loss $250,000.

A purgative medicine should possess tonic and curative, as well as cathartic properties. This combination of ingredients may be found in Ayer's Pills. They strengthen and stimulate the bowels, causing natural action.

A despatch of Tuesday, Feb. 28th, from West Medford, Mass., says that Captain Robert Dixon, a retired naval officer aged sixty-three years, dropped dead the previous evening in the Lowell depot in that place. There is no Capt. Dixon, and no officer named Robert Dixon, mentioned in the Navy Register. The deceased was no doubt Carpenter John A. Dixon, retired, and a resident of West Medford.

The March Winds Soon Will Blow.

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. William Waldorf Astor, late U. S. Minister to Italy, Mark Twain, the great humorist, Hon. Judah P. Benjamin, the famous jurist, and hundreds of others who have all been his pupils, besides classes the largest on record, as 1087 at Baltimore and 1005 at Detroit, &c., &c. The system is also taught by correspondence. Address Professor Loisette, 237 Fifth Avenue, New York, for prospectus.

Guatemalan insurgents are reported to have invaded Mexico in force.

Tom Forsythe, a deputy sheriff, and son of the sheriff of Panola county, Texas, has been arrested for the murder of County Treasurer Hill. Forsythe has confessed his guilt. The widow of the murdered official is insane, and the mother of young Forsythe is lying at the point of death from the shock.

Joseph C. Knight, sixty-five years old, for thirty years book-keeper in the Manufacturers' National bank at Philadelphia, and for twenty-four years a thief of its funds, has been sentenced to imprisonment for seven years and five months, and to pay $500 fine. He stole over $72,000.

That Highway of Nations.

The broad Atlantic, is ever a stormy thoroughfare. Yet blow the winds ever so fiercely, and ride the waves ever so lofty, seamen must man the good ships, tourists will brave the passage, and commercial travelers and buyers must visit the centres of foreign trade and manufacture. That atrocious malady, seasickness, together with colicky pains and much inward uneasiness is often endured when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters would have fortified the voyagers against them. Sea captains, and in fact all old salts and veteran travelers are acquainted with the protective value of this estimable preventive and remedy, and are rarely unprovided with it. Emigrants to the far West should use it as a safeguard against malaria. Seek the aid of the Bitters for dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney troubles, and all ailments that impair the harmonious and vigorous action of the vital powers.

Victoria, British Columbia, has thirteen opium factories. As one of them can produce more than the whole Dominion uses, it is supposed that at least nine-tenths of the total product is smuggled into the United States.

Backache is almost immediately relieved by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Try one and be free from pain. Price twenty-five cents.

Five of the Albany street (Boston) gang of burglars have been sentenced—Drohan and Evans to twenty years, the Coakley and Wilson girls to five, and the old woman Mary Mackay to seven years, in prison.

Almost miraculous are some of the cures accomplished by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In the case of R. L. King, Richmond, Va., who suffered for forty-seven years with an aggravated form of scrofula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected astonishing results.

Peter Shaw, of West Winfield, N. Y., was afflicted with a severe cough, with pain in the side and lungs and general depression, causing himself and friends great alarm. He tried many remedies with no good results. One bottle of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry completely cured him.

The French Transatlantic Steamship company has furnished its large fleet with a complete apparatus for dropping oil on the waves during bad weather. The company states that it only adopted the use of oil after repeated trials in bad weather. It was invariably followed by success.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Big Dinners.

Every day in this city thousands of persons eat too much at dinner and, as a consequence, suffer from sour stomach, heartburn, indigestion, dyspepsia, etc. If these will take just one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after eating, they will be surprised by the entire absence of these unpleasant feelings which daily disturess them, and may continue in their improper course of eating big dinners without fear. Only one little pill, remember.

DON'T SCOLD

a man for groaning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—oughtn't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he wont use Ath-lo-pho-ros, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

"The skill of five physicians could not cure me of Rheumatism which had settled in the hips, neck and shoulders. So intense was the pain that sleep was almost impossible. The first dose of Athlophoros gave me relief, and the third enabled me to sleep for four and a half hours without waking. I continued its use, and am now well."

MANNERS OF THE DOCTOR.

The Physician as a Social Factor—Confidences of Patients—Experience.

The young, unmarried physician in society, if he has thoroughly prepared himself for the serious duties of his profession in his earlier years, will find much time he can spare from his books and the care of his few patients to devote to social duties and pleasures. These will prevent the formation of slovenly habits in dress and manners, and at the same time permit the people of his own age and culture to estimate his character at his true value. This is all the more important as it is from this class that his future patrons are to come and insure those ever widening relations which are to be the support of his advancing years. The impression that he is thus able to produce will be of incalculable value as the years go by. An accomplishment of some sort will be found of the greatest service. Music, dancing, reading or oratory, as his tastes incline him, should be cultivated, and the conversational powers, so often deficient at the present day, should receive all possible encouragement. This, of course, implies much reading and thought outside of professional matters, but it will be found that general information of the most varied kind may be easily obtained if reading is pursued in a methodical way, that a scientific training renders less difficult than one would find it who had never been thus instructed.

The inference that a man who has excellent information on a large number of different subjects must also be well versed in his own particular department is usually just. With few exceptions, this will generally be found a good criterion by which to judge of the acquirements of a physician. There are, however, a few exceptions. These are the enthusiasts, to whom the study of anything besides the favorite science seems a waste of time, or worse, a desecration of the temple of knowledge. Even these must know that there is no item of knowledge without its uses to the true physician. There are many obvious reasons why the young doctor should marry early—as soon as his practice will enable him to surround a wife with the comforts of a home. Some one has said that "the married man has given hostages to fortune for his future good behavior." It is certain that the confidence of heads of families is secured more easily by the married than by the unmarried physician.

A pledge of secrecy regarding everything observed concerning an individual ill of any disease is implied by the mere fact of the pursuit of the medical profession. This pledge is a part of the Hippocratic oath, which dates 500 years before our era, and, in a modified form, is administered to graduates, in many medical colleges of our time, at the time the diploma is conferred upon the successful candidates. The duty of keeping professional secrets inviolate is taught from the beginning to the close of the years of study and probation through which the student must pass before he can proudly affix the title of M. D. to his autograph. In many states, Missouri among them, the doctor is forbidden to reveal such secrets even on the witness stand. The knowledge of this fact is calculated to inspire the people with a confidence such as is felt only toward a spiritual adviser. In fact, the priest and physician stand upon equal ground in this regard. Should any medical man so far forget his duty in this relation as to make the troubles or diseases of those who had consulted him a matter of gossip from house to house or among his associates, some means ought to be devised to expel him from a profession whose honor he has disgraced. If this cannot be done, he should incur the contempt and enmity of every honorable physician, as well as of the public at large.

This same qualification—if it can be thus termed—brings many a tale of sorrow, suffering and shame to the notice of the sympathetic physician. Many a wrong has been righted, many a blot upon the fair fame of woman has been erased, and many a burdened conscience relieved by restitution, under the careful guidance of the physician who has been made the confidant of facts which are carefully concealed from the inspection of the world. The good, the benefits which can be conferred upon society by the careful and conscientious physician, in the manner just hinted at, cannot be overestimated.

The making of a will in proper form is sometimes of great importance. In cases of accidents especially is it necessary that some one should know the technicalities which govern the validity of such instruments. Frequently the physician is the only person present of sufficient education to draw up such a paper, but if he does not know the rules regarding the signatures of two witnesses who saw the testator sign it as his last will and testament, and of the necessity of each signature being written in the presence of the testator and the other witness, the doctor's knowledge in the premises is incomplete and the will without value.

In the fullness of time the physician becomes "the old doctor" in his locality. This is too frequently a title earned by length of years, not by meritorious service, in the cause of humanity. It is a title longed for by many before age gives them a right to the distinction. Men of less than 55 years have been known to argue that the "old doctor" distinction belonged of right to them. After 55 years it would seem proper to advance the surviving members of a graduating class of thirty years ago to this proud distinction. Age in the profession should be considered rather than number of birthdays. It may seem rather odd to devote any time to this question, but every practitioner knows that the compliment, "How young you look!" has no mollifying influence over the ordinary practitioner. If you would please your family physician, remark on the gravness of his beard and the baldness of his pate. This may make him replace some old fashioned nauseous dose by some modern elegant pharmaceutical preparation when next he has the option.—Globe-Democrat.

THE INCURABLE CURED!

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., Feb. 24, 1887.

Gentlemen—Seven years ago a sore developed on my nose from a finger nail scratch. I tried a few simple remedies, but the sore would not yield. I grew worse every year for seven years. Many thought I had a cancer. Over a year ago I commenced taking S. S. S., and two dozen bottles entirely cured me. When I began with Swift Specific I was in very poor health, and could hardly drag about. After I had finished the course of S. S. S. I was strong and buoyant, and had a good appetite. I regard it as a most valuable medicine for ladies in weak, delicate health. It is a household medicine with me. Yours respectfully,

MRS. R. W. WILSON.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 2, 1887.

Gentlemen—For twenty years I have had a sore on my left cheek. It had gradually been growing worse. The many physicians whom I had consulted were unable to do me any good. Last fall a year ago I began using S. S. S. At first it inflamed the sore, and it became more virulent than ever; so much so, indeed, that my family insisted that I should leave off the medicine. I persisted in using the S. S. S. At the end of two months the sore was entirely healed. Thinking that the evil was out of my constitution, I left off the medicine; but in November, ten months after, a very slight breaking out appeared. I at once began again on S. S. S., and now that is also disappearing. I have every faith in S. S. S. It has done me more good than all the doctors and other medicines I ever took. Yours truly,

A. H. SHADOX.

WINSTON, N. C., April 12, 1887.

Gentlemen—Two or three years ago a cancer came on my face. It soon grew to be quite large. It worried me, and my general health was very poor. Last September I began a course of S. S. S., which I have continued to the present time with the happiest result. The cancer has entirely disappeared, there being no evidence or symptom of a cancerous character left. My general health is good now, and my appetite better than it has been in years. I am 52 years old, and to-day I am working in the cotton planting corn. Yours truly, JONAS LEHLBACH.

Gentlemen—I had a cancer on my nose for eight years. Seven different doctors attempted in vain to heal it. One gave me a small vial for five dollars, which was a certain cure." It is needless to say that it did me no good. About two years ago it became quite uneasy, so people thought I had a cancer, and I took a course of eighteen bottles of S. S. S. The result has been a complete cure. The sore or cancer healed beautifully, leaving scarcely a perceptible scar. From that day I have been in excellent health. the Specific having purified my blood thoroughly, increased my appetite and perfected my digestion. In a word, I feel like a new woman, and, bear off, the eight year ulcer is gone entirely. Yours gratefully,

MRS. M. P. CANNON.

BILIOUSNESS.

THIS very common complaint, which is caused by a dormant or inactive liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

MRS. DUDLEY CHANDLER, of Melrose, Mass., says: "I suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the pulsations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and earnestly recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

Democratic Denunciation.

At a meeting of the common council of Gloucester, Mass., on the evening of Feb. 28th, the following resolutions were introduced by Councilman Sanford, and adopted by a rising vote, only four members voting, all democrats; the republicans remained silent.

Resolved, That the city council of Gloucester earnestly protest against the adoption of the so-called fishery treaty which is now before the United States senate for ratification, believing that it will be a great injury to the fishing interests of the country.

Resolved, That the senators and members of Congress representing the state of Massachusetts be requested to use all their influence to prevent the adoption of this treaty, to the end that the fishery industry of the country may not be sacrificed.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to United States Senators Hoar and Dawes, also to each Massachusetts member of the house of representatives, and that his honor Mayor Robinson be requested to transmit the same at once.

They Favor Public Schools.

Rev. T. D. Phillips, an Episcopal clergyman, has been expelled from the British-American association of Chicago, Ill., because he expressed opposition to the American public school system. The association is an organization for the purpose of naturalizing British subjects.

Shortly after one o'clock Tuesday forenoon fire was discovered in the Morton house, Fourteenth street, Broadway, New York. And in a few moments the Union square Theatre was also discovered to be on fire.

A chambermaid first discovered fire coming through the crevices in the doors of the main hallway. She was too nervous for fully five minutes to give an alarm, and by that time smoke was pouring into the hotel. Her cries brought a score of chambermaids and guests to where she was, when all rushed frantically down the stairs, and not a few of them were bruised by the trunks that were flung down at the same time. The confusion for a time was great and much valuable time was lost.

The work of the firemen was much hindered by a scarcity of water, and before a good stream could be gotton on the fire, all possibility of saving the theatre was past. The firemen then cleared the Morton house of guests and attaches and devoted their efforts to saving the hotel.

When the burning of the theatre became known throughout the city the excitement was great, and it was intensified every moment by special ambulance calls being sent out. The flames started in the rear rooms of the top floor of the theatre, and were fanned by a brisk southeast wind. The dry woodwork of the building blazed like shavings, and it was not long before the thin sheet iron partition between that portion of the hotel and the theatre was melted and the mass of living coals dropped on to the stage of the theatre. The scenery and curtains flashed up, and where the members of the "Henrietta" company a few minutes before finished their morning rehearsal, was a roaring furnace.

In a few moments the roof fell in and the flames shot upward. The fire became so hot that the firemen were forced so far from the building that their efforts were almost useless. The Star theatre was in constant danger, but the firemen finally saved it. Manager Hill of the Union Square was in his office in the building, and with him was Treasurer Hall of the Casino. They escaped with difficulty. The damage will amount to about $250,000.

The play of the "Henrietta" was running at the Union Square this week. Its costumes and scenes, that were entirely destroyed, were worth $8000. J. M. Hill, the manager of the Union Square, had expended a good deal of money fitting it up a year ago, and it is probable that $50,000 is a fair estimate of the loss on the theatre property.

Nice Work for Young Women.

The very best occupation for young women who have been delicately reared, but who are compelled by changes in the mill wheel of fate to earn a livelihood, is to clean bric-a-brac in the great mansions of New York. They are called bric-a-brac cleaners and have brushes made expressly for their duties. Not every young woman can become expert at the business. It requires a delicate touch, the greatest care in handling the treasures, and the knowledge how tastefully to arrange the dainty ornaments in a way that is most pleasing to the owners. The work is refined, and just such as a refined young woman would like.—New York Sun.

Singular Use of Photography.

Kosmos announces a singular adaptation of photography. It is well known that under the microscope steel is found to be an agglomeration of crystals, and that upon the difference in these crystals the quality of the steel can be more or less determined. M. Wedding, to make the observation more complete, heated steel to whiteness, and as the use of the microscope under such circumstances was impossible, he photographed the metal and subjected the negative to microscopic examination.—Photographic News.

Persian Trades Organizations.

There are no trades' unions in Persia, but there is something which suggests it in the partial system of guilds and apprenticeships, although this is by no means universal, not distinctly organized and formulated. For example, the merchants or large traders of Teheran represent a body that has a head called the Malsk-i-Tojah, a man of wealth and ability, who in cases of need represents their cause before the shah.—Detroit Tribune Letter.

DEATH OF COMMODORE PICKERING.

Commodore Charles W. Pickering, United States navy, retired, of this city, died at St. Augustine, Florida, Feb. 29th.

He was appointed a midshipman in the navy from this state on the 1st of May, 1822, and his first service was in the sloop-of-war Cyane on the coast of Africa in 1822-23, when she lost fifty of her officers and crew by fever. In June, 1833, he was promoted to passed midshipman; and on Dec. 8th, 1838, was commissioned a lieutenant. In 1854 he served as executive officer of the Cyane, which took out the Darien expedition under Lieut. Strain, who lost seven of his men by starvation. Lieut. Pickering, in charge of the relief party, was within four hours' march of the headwaters of the Chaquenaque river when an Indian runner brought news of the arrival of Lieut. Strain and the survivors of his expedition on the Pacific coast. After landing Lieut. Strain and his party in New York, the Cyane was ordered to Greytown, Nicaraugua, to redress grievances of American citizens, and in a four hours' bombardment reduced the town to ashes, one house only being left standing. In 1855, '56 and '57 he was on duty at the Portsmouth navy yard, being promoted to be commander in 1855. He was commissioned as a captain July 15th, 1862, and sailed from this port as the first commander of the U. S. S. Kearsarge, from which command he was transferred in 1863 to the command of the steam-sloop Housatonic, which was destroyed off Charleston, South Carolina, on the night of Feb. 17th, 1865, by a torpedo boat, many of her crew, and all the crew of the torpedo boat, losing their lives. As soon as he recovered from the injuries he received at the destruction of the Housatonic, he was appointed to the command of the steam frigate Vanderbilt, which vessel participated in the capture of Fort Fisher. He was detached from the Vanderbilt in August, 1865, and ordered to the Portsmouth navy yard, from which he was detached in February, 1867, and placed on the retired list at his own request, having then been in the service forty-five years. He was commissioned a commodore Dec. 8th, 1867. Had he lived until the first of next May he would have completed sixty-six years of service in the navy; he was about thirteen years old when he entered the service, and was in his 80th year at the time of his death.

The Fire-Alarm Test.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 29th.

Thomas Jamieson, for an assault on Wm. G. Horton, was fined $5, costs $6.90, which he paid. It was a barroom fight in which Jamieson came out ahead.

Caught Him.

Henry Fisher, a colored man giving his residence as this city, was caught in a very suspicious situation on the night of Feb. 27th by Franklin H. Downs, a boarder in James H. Wood's private boarding house at Lynn, Mass. Mr. Downs was going home, and was astonished by the appearance of a man on the balcony of the second story of his boarding house. He immediately shouted to him. The fellow dropped over the balcony rail to the porch below, and ran around to another side of the house. Downs gave chase, and as the man slid to the ground collared him. A desperate fight ensued, the man struggling hard to escape. Joseph Y. Knight, hearing the noise, went to Downs' assistance, and the burglar was overpowered. He was taken into the house and held till the arrival of the police wagon. He had but a few cents in his pocket. It was said by the Lynn police that he is a professional thief, and the capture an important one.

Henry Fisher was discharged by the police magistrate in Lynn on Wednesday morning, Feb. 29th, the government failing to establish that any burglary had been accomplished or attempted by the prisoner.

Do Likewise.

The judicious act of Miss Clara M. Fowler and her brother, in giving a portion of the fortune inherited from their honored father, the late Asa Fowler of Concord, for the purpose of erecting a public libary building at their former home, is especially noteworthy. These generous donors bid fair to live for many years in the enjoyment of the contemplation of the results of their timely benefaction.

Gifts of this nature are ofttimes far better used and more economically disbursed while the donors can see for themselves that the outlays are made in accordance with their own good judgment. In fact, it is the better way for persons of means to make this kind of donations while in full life, instead of having them occur after their decease, when possible disputes may arise as to the construction of the terms of a bequest, or the funds be expended by executors or trustees with less interest and perhaps less judgment than the giver possessed. We hope this example, so worthy of being in vogue everywhere, may be followed in Portsmouth, and that some of our wealthy and liberal residents may be induced to give a fund for our much-needed public library building, and live to witness the beneficial results of the gift.

Ten shipwrights employed on the repairs of the dry dock were discharged on Wednesday evening.

The barque Antioch, Hemingway master, bound from Singapore for Boston, was spoken about 164 miles east of Sandy Hook on Feb. 27th.

The U. S. S. Leyden. Commander Frank Wildes commanding, left this navy yard at nine o'clock Wednesday evening, Feb. 29th, for Boston, to bring around to this station from the receiving ship Wabash, at Boston, the crew for the U. S. S. Swatara.

The late Andrew H. Jones of this city, whose obsequies occured this week, was in 1847 a contractor with the late Sewall F. Belknap in building the Portsmouth & Concord railroad.

The two copper boiling kettles in the new building of the Jones brewery weigh sixteen tons each, and when filled will weigh fifty-seven tons each. The copper work is being done by Mr. Streiter of Boston The massive foundations for these huge boilers have been put in under the superintendence of Mr. Josiah H. Morrison; they are founded on the solid rock, and the iron pillars and girders are of such immense strength that there seems to be no possible chance of any yielding. The new elevator, it is said, will hold over 1000 tons of malt.

The repairs on the Dover point bridge will be completed about Thursday of next week, after which trains will be run over the Portsmouth & Dover railroad as usual.

The tug Clara Batemen came off the marine railway at Kittery on Wednesday forenoon, Feb. 29th, and was towed across the river to Sise's wharf by the Cocheco. The schooner Katie Mitchell was hauled on the beach near the railway on Wednesday, and pumped out, in readiness to go on the ways to-day.

At a meeting of the members of the Christian society of Rye, held Tuesday evening of this week in Rye town hall, it was voted to rebuild the church on the site of the one recently burned, operations to be commenced as soon as the weather and the condition of the ground will permit. The pew holders of the old church pledged themselves liberally for funds for the construction of the new edifice.

The schooner William H. Stuart, of Richmond, Me., 559 tons register, built in 1884, is given up for lost by her owners. She left Pascagoula for Boston on the 2d of January with about 500,000 feet of hard pine lumber, and has not since been heard from. A vessel of about her size and answering her description was seen off the capes of Delaware on the 30th of January, bottom up, with large quantities of yellow pine timber floating about, such as her deck load was composed of.

Caroline E. Hastings has been elected a member of the Boston school board, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John C. Crowley, the thief. She is a graduate of the old Boston Medical college, was for several years professor in the medical school of Boston University, and has taught in a number of the public schools of Massachusetts.
